SELECTED NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
March 31, 2004

Note 1. Condensed Financial Statements:

The condensed balance sheet as of March 31, 2004, the statement of operations and cash flows for the periods ended March 31, 2004 and 2003 have been prepared by the Company, without audit. In the opinion of management, all adjustments (which include normal recurring adjustments and adjustments to revenues for compliance with the company's revenue recognition policy) necessary to present fairly the financial position, results of operations and changes in cash flows at March 31, 2004 and for all periods presented have been made.

Certain information and footnote disclosures normally included in financial statements prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles have been condensed or omitted. It is suggested that these condensed financial statements be read in conjunction with the financial statements and notes thereto included in the Company's December 31, 2003 audited financial statements filed on form 10-KSB. The results of operations for the period ended March 31, 2004 are not necessarily indicative of the operating results for the full year.

Note 2. Revenue Recognition:

The Company derives revenues from the sale of systems, license and maintenance and services.

System sales: Revenue from systems that have been demonstrated to meet customer specifications during installation is recognized when the product has been installed, title and risk of loss have transferred to the customer and collection of the resulting receivable is probable.

System sales are accounted for as multiple-element arrangements. In transactions that include multiple products and/or services, the Company allocates the revenue to each element based on their relative fair value (or in the absence of fair value, the residual method) and recognizes the associated revenue when all revenue recognition criteria have been met for each element.

License and maintenance revenue: Software and maintenance revenue are recognized ratably over the contract period.

Service revenue: Service revenue is recognized after the services are performed and collection of the resulting receivable is probable.

Note 3. Customer Concentration: Seven customers comprised 95% of the Company's revenues from installation and licensing fees from the installation of the Company's Table Trac(TM) system through March 2004.

ITEM 2: MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Business Overview:

Table Trac, Inc.'s patented real-time management system product automates and monitors the operations of casino table games (blackjack, craps, etc.) The Table Trac(TM) system (patent number 5,957,776) is available for an installation and monthly license fee from the Company. The system is operating in 7 Midwest casinos. The Company's primary mission is to provide a high level of support for its customers systems in the field. Continued efforts to expand the Company's sales through marketing are ongoing. Development to expand the products offered, and expand the functionality of existing products have been ongoing. Management believes that revenues from those research and development efforts on new product offerings will be realized before the end of 2004.

Results of Operations:

Revenues in the quarter ended March 31 increased to $274,390 in 2004 from $42,307 in 2003. There were 4 system installations and increased license and maintenance fees to account for the difference. The most significant portion, $209,931 was from the addition of 2 new casino customers and systems sales with existing customers purchasing upgrades to the latest product. Cost of sales in the quarter ended March 31 increased in 2004 to $18,885 from $853 in 2003 as a result of increased hardware costs to provide the new systems in 2004. Operating expenses in the quarter ended March 31 increased in 2004, to $81,449 from $42,796. The major changes were increased payroll, employee benefit and sales expenses in 2004 compared to 2003. The result was that there was a profit of $174,056 in the first quarter 2004 compared to a net loss of ($286) in the first quarter 2003. The net gain per share was $0.0454 in the first quarter 2004, with a net diluted gain per share of $0.423 compared to a net loss per share of $0.0000 in the first quarter 2003.

Liquidity and Capital Resources:

There are no known trends, events or uncertainties that are likely to have a material impact on the short or long-term liquidity. The primary source of liquidity in both the short term and the long term will be sales. Management has been able to manage its expenses and cash flows for the swings in cash flows the Company has experienced so that monthly obligations are now by revenues from existing contracts. Management believes that the Company has adequate cash to meet its obligations and continue operations for both existing customer contracts and ongoing product development.

Safe Harbor:

The Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 provides "safe harbor" for forward-looking statements. Certain information included in this Form 10-QSB and other materials filed or to be filed by the Company with the Securities and Exchange Commission (as well as information included in oral statements or other written statements made or to be made by the Company) contain statements that are forward-looking, such as statements relating to plans for sales and marketing, liquidity, and other business activities and developments.
