 SELECTED NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
 March 31, 2006

Note 1. Condensed Financial Statements:

The condensed balance sheet as of March 31, 2006, the statement of operations and cash flows for the periods ended March 31, 2006 and 2005 have been prepared by the Company, without audit. In the opinion of management, all adjustments (which include normal recurring adjustments and adjustments to revenues for compliance with the company's revenue recognition policy) necessary to present fairly the financial position, results of operations and changes in cash flows at March 31, 2006 and for all periods presented have been made.

Certain information and footnote disclosures normally included in financial statements prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles have been condensed or omitted. It is suggested that these condensed financial statements be read in conjunction with the financial statements and notes thereto included in the Company's December 31, 2005 audited financial statements filed on form 10-KSB.

Note 2. Revenue Recognition:

The Company derives revenues from the sale of systems, license and maintenance and services.

System sales: Revenue from systems that have been demonstrated to meet customer specifications during installation is recognized when the product has been installed, title and risk of loss have transferred to the customer and collection of the resulting receivable is probable.

System sales are accounted for as multiple-element arrangements. In transactions that include multiple products and/or services, the Company allocates the revenue to each element based on their relative fair value (or in the absence of fair value, the residual method) and recognizes the associated revenue when all revenue recognition criteria have been met for each element.

In 2005 a new category of sale was defined, a System Sale that included special programming with a customer acceptance clause and payable under an installment plan. Due to the Company not having a history of collection with this type of installment contract before, they are recognizing revenue as the contract is billed.

License and maintenance revenue: Software and maintenance revenue are recognized ratably over the contract period.

Service revenue: Service revenue is recognized after the services are performed and collection of the resulting receivable is probable.

Note 3. Customer Concentration: Ten casino customers comprised 100% of the Company's revenues for the three months ended March 31, 2006.

ITEM 2: MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Business Overview:

Table Trac, Inc. (the "Company" or "Table Trac") is a Nevada Corporation, formed on June 27, 1995, with principal offices in Minnetonka, Minnesota.

The Company has developed and patented (U.S. patent # 5,957,776) a proprietary information and management system (Table Trac) that automates and monitors the operations of casino table games. In addition to table games management, since 2000 Table Trac has been adding functionality developing related casino system modules for guest rewards and loyalty club, marketing analysis, guest service, promotions administration / management, vault/cage management and audit / accounting. All of these modules use Table Tracs simple to learn browser based interface.

In 2005, the Company launched new products in the areas of promotions administration and management, customer mailing for tiered pre-encoded promotional marketing, gaming machine on-line accounting and management, gaming machine vault cage operations, touch screen customer service kiosks, guest service paging and wireless handheld communications. The Company believes that this development has greatly enhanced their opportunities for new system sales in the marketplace.

Results of Operations:

Revenues for the three months ended March 31 decreased to $160,174 in 2006 from $165,745 in 2005. There were increased License and Maintenance revenues and sales of the new Kiosk product in the three months ended March 31, 2006 and one new system installation in the same period for 2005, which accounted for the revenues. Cost of sales for the three months ended March 31 increased in 2006 to $21,984 from $17,735 in 2005 as a result of the sale of new kiosk hardware purchased and installed for existing customers. Operating expenses for the three months ended March 31, 2006 increased to $153,055 from $114,401 in 2005. Payroll expenses rose by 6%, sales travel expenses increased 86%, other sales & marketing expenses went up 1650% and professional fees rose by 151%, and are primarily responsible for the increase in 2006 compared to 2005. The result was that there was net loss of $14,865 for the three months ended March 31, 2006 compared to net income of $33,608 for the three months ended March 31, 2005. The basic earnings (loss) per share was $(0.004) for the three months ended March 31, 2006, compared to $0.01 for the three months ended March 31, 2005.

Liquidity and Capital Resources:

Cash for the period ending March 31, 2006 increased to $245,552 from $19,776 at Dec 31, 2005 primarily due to collection of receivables outstanding at year end. There are no known trends, events or uncertainties that are likely to have a material impact on the short or long-term liquidity. The primary source of liquidity in both the short term and the long term will be system sales and the resulting License and Maintenance fees from existing systems. Management has been able to manage its expenses and cash flows for the swings in cash flows the Company has experienced so that monthly obligations are met by revenues from existing contracts. Management believes that the Company has adequate cash to meet its obligations and continue operations for both existing customer contracts and ongoing product development.

Safe Harbor:

The Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 provides "safe harbor" for forward-looking statements. Certain information included in this Form 10-QSB and other materials filed or to be filed by the Company with the Securities and Exchange Commission (as well as information included in oral statements or other written statements made or to be made by the Company) contain statements that are forward-looking, such as statements relating to plans for sales and marketing, liquidity, and other business activities and developments. Such forward-looking information involves important risks and uncertainties that could significantly affect anticipated results in the future and, accordingly, such results may differ from those expressed in any forward-looking statements made by or on behalf of the Company. These risks and uncertainties include, but are not limited to, dependence on a limited number of customers, general economic conditions, or changes in federal or state laws or regulations.
