EXPLANATION OF NON-GAAP FINANCIAL MEASURES

Sabre Holdings occasionally utilizes financial measures and terms not calculated in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles ( GAAP ) in order to provide investors with an alternative method for assessing our operating results in a manner that enables investors to more thoroughly evaluate our current performance as compared to past performance. We also believe the non-GAAP measures provide investors with a better baseline for modeling Sabre Holdings' future earnings expectations. Our management uses these non-GAAP measures for the same purpose. We believe that our investors should have access to, and that we are obligated to provide, the same set of tools that we use in analyzing our results. These non-GAAP measures should be considered in addition to results prepared in accordance with GAAP, but should not be considered a substitute for or superior to GAAP results. We have provided definitions below for the non-GAAP financial measure used in this Form 8-K, together with an explanation of why management uses this measure and why management believes that this non-GAAP financial measure is useful to investors. In addition, we have provided tables to reconcile this non-GAAP financial measure to the most directly equivalent GAAP financial measure.

Adjusted lastminute.com EBITDA

We define Adjusted lastminute.com EBITDA as GAAP operating income before depreciation and amortization, and excluding certain items as described in the reconciliation. Our management feels that reporting Adjusted lastminute.com EBITDA will help satisfy the requests of our investors for additional information regarding lastminute.com performance. Adjusted lastminute.com EBITDA is not a financial measure under GAAP. Accordingly, it should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for GAAP operating income for lastminute.com. When evaluating Adjusted lastminute.com EBITDA, investors should also consider the lastminute.com historical financial information and pro forma combined Sabre Holdings Corporation and lastminute.com plc financial information filed by Sabre Holdings today on Form 8-K/A. Because Adjusted lastminute.com EBITDA excludes some, but not all, items that affect operating income and adjusted EBITDA may vary among companies, the Adjusted lastminute.com EBITDA presented by Sabre Holdings may not be comparable to similarly titled measures of other companies.
