This Report on Form 6-K contains a news release issued by Vodafone Group Plc on July 24, 2006, entitled SENIOR MANAGEMENT CHANGE .

24 July 2006

SENIOR MANAGEMENT CHANGE

Vodafone Group Plc today announces that Bill Morrow has decided to leave the business to return to the US for family reasons. Bill Morrow has held a number of senior executive roles in the Vodafone Group over the last 10 years, including Chief Executive of Vodafone UK and most recently President of Vodafone Japan. In this role he led the sale of Vodafone's business in Japan to Softbank earlier this year. He will leave Vodafone at the end of this month.

Bill Morrow will be succeeded, on an interim basis, by Fritz Jousen currently Chief Executive of Vodafone's business in Germany. An international search for a permanent successor for Bill Morrow has started but in the meantime the Chief Executive, Arun Sarin, will be working closely with Fritz Jousen to deliver on the revenue generation and cost reduction strategy for the European region.

Commenting on Bill Morrow's decision, Arun Sarin said "We are sorry that Bill has had to make this decision so shortly after announcing our new organisational structure. He has made an outstanding contribution to the success of Vodafone over the last 10 years and has taken on some of the most challenging roles in the Group and has always delivered. He has also been a committed member of my Executive team. Whilst the timing is regrettable, I respect the decision he has made to return to the US to be with his family."

Bill Morrow said: "I have thoroughly enjoyed serving our customers and working with our employees over the past decade. I am confident about the prospects for Vodafone going forward and am excited about the plans Arun has put in place for the business. It is only after a great deal of careful consideration and with deep regret that I must urgently leave Europe and Vodafone to support my family in our home state of California. Having worked closely with Arun over many years, I will miss working with him and I wish nothing but great success for him and my fellow executive committee members."
