PRESS RELEASE

ARCADIS TO MODERNIZE POLISH RAIL

ARNHEM, THE NETHERLANDS, August 2, 2006 ARCADIS (NASDAQ: ARCAF, Euronext: ARCAD), the international consultancy and engineering company, announced today that its Polish operation, as a leader of a consortium, has been awarded the contract for the supervision and project management of the modernization of a 60 km long section of the railway from Skierniewice to Lodz, in Central Poland. The total construction sum for the project will be approximately 220 million. ARCADIS fees will amount to 3 million.

The project is part of the 127 km railway line between Warsaw and Lodz, two Polish urban areas with more than 3 million inhabitants. Modernization of the railway will enable increased speed for passenger trains to 140-160 km/h. A strong emphasis will be put on safety and the elimination of noise and vibrations. The project is to be completed in July 2008.

ARCADIS board member Michiel Jaski commented on the project win: "Because of our strong position and good growth opportunities, we have targeted rail infrastructure as a key strategic growth market and Poland as a target country, as a considerable investment will be made in Poland's rail infrastructure in the coming years. This project win shows that our strategy is yielding results and offers ARCADIS good prospects for further expansion in this region."
