SUBJECT: Note from Charlie Ergen and Joe Clayton

DISTRO: All employees

Fellow Employees,

Today, we have announced a transformative proposal to merge DISH with Sprint. Our ability to make a proposal for an organization of Sprint's scale, with revenues in excess of $35 billion is a product of the hard work, patience, discipline and talent of the entire DISH team.

Let us say that again: our ability to pursue Sprint would not have been possible without the continued dedication and ability of all of our employees. To us, we could not ask for a better expression of Pride, Adventure and Winning.

That said, this is just the first step in the process and our success is by no means assured. As the process advances, we will do our best to keep you updated on our progress. In the meantime, we encourage you to visit our dedicated transaction microsite, www.CompleteDishSolution.com, which contains transaction details and provides a central forum where you can monitor developments.

Importantly, please remember that many people will be curious about our strategy and this proposal. Please do not provide any details other than to send them to the microsite above as it will have contact information for the appropriate spokespeople.

In the meantime, please stay focused on serving our customers and providing them with our industry leading service and technology. These events are exciting but can be distracting.

Here s to winning!

Charlie and Joe
