Between August 15, 2005 and the present, we received commitments for the sale of two million dollars of our 12% Convertible Promissory Notes ("Notes") with an initial maturity date of 90 days of which $1.3 million has been received by the Company. Mark Chandler, our Chief Financial Officer, purchased $100,000 of these Notes. The maturity date can be extended for an additional 90 days at our option. Interest is payable monthly. We have the right to prepay these Notes; however, holders of the Notes are required to receive no less than 90 days of interest payments. If we elect to extend the due date of the Notes for an additional 90 days, then the holders of the Notes are entitled to receive a minimum of 90 additional days interest even if the Notes are prepaid during the 90-day extension period. The holders of the Notes have the right to convert all or part of the Notes into shares of our common stock at a conversion price of $0.25 per share.

As an additional inducement, if a holder of a Note invests at least $500,000, that investor is entitled to receive a 20% additional equity consideration in the form of shares of our common stock. For example: An investment of $500,000 entitles the holder to 100,000 additional shares. We are required to register such shares on behalf of such investors along with the equity securities which we anticipate issuing in the future as part of future capital raising efforts. A form of the Promissory Note is attached as an exhibit to this filing.
