Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement

On September 30, 2009, Nektar Therapeutics (the “Company”) entered into a Sublease (the “Sublease”) with Pfizer Inc. (“Pfizer”) for a 102,283 square foot facility located at 455 Mission Bay Boulevard, San Francisco, California (the “Mission Bay Facility”). The Mission Bay Facility is currently under construction and is scheduled to be completed in the second half of 2010. The Company secured the Mission Bay Facility in order to establish an R&D center with biology, chemistry, pharmacology and clinical development capabilities to compliment the Company’s research capabilities at its Huntsville, Alabama site, as well as additional R&D support operations in Hyderabad, India. As part of this facilities transition, when construction is completed, the Company will relocate all of its functions currently located in San Carlos, California, including its corporate headquarters, to the Mission Bay Facility.

Under the terms of the Sublease, the Company will receive the benefit of an approximately $15 million tenant improvement allowance included in Pfizer’s lease agreement with the landlord for the Mission Bay Facility. After the $15 million tenant improvement allowance is fully exhausted, the Company estimates that it will then spend approximately $15 million in 2010 to complete the tenant improvements for the Mission Bay Facility, including the build-out of biology, chemistry and pharmacology lab facilities and the associated infrastructure and equipment to support these research and development activities.

The Company will not pay base rent for the first four years following the Occupancy Date (as hereinafter defined). Following this four year period, the Company will then pay monthly base rent of $301,735. The monthly base rent escalates over the term of the Sublease at various intervals to $349,808 base rent per month in the final period of the Sublease term. In addition, throughout the term of the Sublease, the Company is responsible for paying certain costs and expenses specified in the Sublease, including insurance costs and a pro rata share of operating expenses and applicable taxes for the Mission Bay Facility. The Sublease includes various covenants, indemnities, defaults, termination rights, security deposits and other provisions customary for lease transactions of this nature and is subject and subordinate to Pfizer’s lease agreement with the landlord of the Mission Bay Facility. The “Occupancy Date” under the Sublease is the earliest to occur of (i) the Company’s substantial completion of the tenant improvements, (ii) the Company’s occupancy of the Mission Bay Facility, or (iii) August 1, 2010. The term of the Sublease commences on the Occupancy Date and terminates 114 months thereafter but in no event later than January 30, 2020.

The foregoing summary is qualified in its entirety by reference to the Sublease, which will be filed as an exhibit to Nektar’s Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the period ended September 30, 2009.

Item 2.03. Creation of a Direct Financial Obligation or an Obligation under an Off-Balance Sheet Arrangement of a Registrant

Please see the disclosure set forth under “Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement” which is incorporated by reference into this Item 2.03.

FORWARD LOOKING STATEMENTS

In this Form 8-K, Nektar makes certain forward-looking statements regarding the Sublease. These forward-looking statements involve substantial risks and uncertainties including but not limited to the timing of the move to, and the estimated costs of, the Mission Bay Facility are subject to a number of significant variables and risks, including that the build-out of the Mission Bay Facility could be delayed and actual costs could exceed planned estimates. Other important risks and uncertainties are detailed in Nektar’s reports and other filings with the SEC, including its most recent Annual Report on Form 10-K and Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q. Actual results could differ materially from the forward-looking statements. Nektar undertakes no obligation to update forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.
