NOTES:

1 Basis of preparation

The unaudited condensed interim consolidated financial information is prepared in accordance with Hong Kong Accounting Standard ("HKAS") 34, "Interim Financial Reporting" issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants ("HKICPA") and Appendix 16 of the Listing Rules issued by the Hong Kong Stock Exchange ("HKEx").

The unaudited condensed interim consolidated financial information should be read in conjunction with the 2005 annual financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2005.

The unaudited condensed interim consolidated financial information was approved by the Board of Directors for issue on August 23, 2006.

2 Significant accounting policies

The accounting policies adopted are consistent with those of the annual financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2005, as described in the 2005 annual financial statements.

The following new standards, amendments to standards and interpretations which are applicable to the Group are mandatory for financial year ending December 31, 2006.

- * Amendment to HKAS 19, "Actuarial gains and losses, group plans and disclosures", effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2006. This amendment has no material impact to the Group's accounting policy;
- * Amendment to HKAS 39, Amendment to "The fair value option", effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2006. This amendment does not have any impact on the classification and valuation of the Group's financial instruments classified as at fair value through profit or loss prior to January 1, 2006 as the Group is able to comply with the amended criteria for the designation of financial instruments at fair value through profit or loss;

Edgar Filing: ALUMINUM CORP OF CHINA LTD - Form 6-K

- * Amendment to HKAS 39 and HKFRS 4, Amendment "Financial guarantee contracts", effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2006. The Group has reviewed its financial guarantee contracts. The management considered the adoption of the amendment will not result in a material effect on the Group's 2006 consolidated financial statements;
- * HKFRS 6, "Exploration for and evaluation of mineral resources", effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2006. This amendment has no material impact to the Group's accounting policy;
- * HK(IFRIC)-Int 4, "Determining whether an arrangement contains a lease", effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2006. The Group has reviewed its contracts. Some of them are required to be accounted for as leases in accordance with HKAS 17, "Leases". However, these leases are operating leases, and their reclassification has had no impact on the expense recognized in respect of them;
- * HK(IFRIC)-Int 5, "Rights to interests arising from decommissioning, restoration and environmental rehabilitation funds", effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2006. This interpretation does not have material impact on the Group's 2006 consolidated financial statements.

The following new standards, amendments to standards and interpretations have been issued but are not effective for 2006 and have not been early adopted:

- * HK(IFRIC)-Int 8, "Scope of HKFRS 2", effective for annual periods beginning on or after May 1, 2006. Management is currently assessing the impact of HK(IFRIC)-Int 8 on the Group's operations;
- * HK(IFRIC)-Int 9, "Reassessment of Embedded Derivatives", effective for annual periods beginning on or after June 1, 2006. Management believes that this interpretation should not have a significant impact on the Company's accounting policies as the Group already has assessed whether embedded derivative should be separated using principles consistent with HK(IFRIC)-Int 9;
- * HKFRS 7, "Financial instruments: Disclosures", effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2007. HKAS 1, "Amendments to capital disclosures", effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2007. The Group assessed the impact of HKFRS 7 and the amendment to HKAS 1 and concluded that the main additional disclosures will be the sensitivity analysis to market risk and capital disclosures required by the amendment of HKAS 1. The Group will apply HKFRS 7 and the amendment to HKAS 1 from annual periods beginning January 1, 2007.

The Company intends to use the net proceeds for the funding of possible acquisitions of domestic primary aluminum projects and for general working capital purposes.

For the six months ended June 30, 2005 and 2006, the Company and its subsidiaries did not appropriate any amounts into the statutory surplus reserve.

The statutory public welfare fund can only be utilized on capital items for the collective benefit of the Company's employees. Titles of these capital items will remain with the Company. This fund is non-distributable other than in liquidation. Starting from January 1, 2006 onward, the Company is prohibited from providing further appropriation out of net profit to statutory public welfare fund pursuant to the revised Company Law. The balance of statutory public welfare fund as at December 31, 2005 is converted into discretionary surplus reserve fund.

SIGNIFICANT DIFFERENCES BETWEEN ACCOUNTING PRINCIPLES GENERALLY ACCEPTED IN HONG KONG AND IN THE UNITED STATES

The condensed interim consolidated financial information has been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Hong Kong ("HK GAAP") which may differ in various material respects from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States ("US GAAP").

Major and significant differences, which affect net income and equity, include the following:

- (a) Revaluation of property, plant and equipment

Under HK GAAP, property, plant and equipment transferred from Chinalco to the Group were accounted for under the acquisition accounting. As a result, the Group's property, plant and equipment were revalued at fair value under HK GAAP. Under US GAAP, the new cost basis for the property, plant and equipment was not established for the Group as the transfer was a transaction under common control. When an asset is transferred from the parent to its wholly-owned subsidiary, the subsidiary records the asset at the parent's carrying value.

- (b) Revaluation of mining rights

Under HK GAAP, mining rights acquired are capitalized and stated at acquisition cost less accumulated impairment losses. Amortization of mining rights is calculated on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives of not more than 30 years. Under US GAAP, the new cost basis was not established for the Group as the transfer was a transaction under common control.

- (c) Minority interest

Under HK GAAP, minority interest is presented on the face of the profit and loss account of the portion of profit and loss attributable to the minority interest and to the equity holders of the Company and presented as a component of equity. Under US GAAP, the allocation amounts are not presented as a component of net income or loss and minority interest is not presented as a component of equity.

(d) Income tax effect of US GAAP adjustments

Under US GAAP, a deferred tax liability relating to the addition of the interest capitalization effect and deferred tax assets relating to the reversal of the property, plant and equipment revaluation, goodwill amortization and mining rights are recognized.

The net effects on net income attributable to the equity holders of the Company and basic net income per share of the Group for the six months ended June 30, 2006 and equity as of June 30, 2006, after taking account of the above differences and related income tax effect, are a net increase in net income of approximately RMB103,371,000 (six months ended June 30, 2005: RMB103,371,000), an increase in basic net income per share of approximately RMB0.01 (six months ended June 30, 2005: RMB0.01) and a net decrease in equity of approximately RMB4,131,984,000 (as of December 31, 2005: decrease of RMB3,421,172,000) respectively. In computing the net effects, the Directors are required to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the estimates of revenue and expenses. Accounting estimates have been employed to determine reported amounts, including realizability, useful lives of tangible assets and income taxes. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

INTERIM DIVIDEND

The Board proposes an interim dividend of RMB0.188 per ordinary share in respect of the six months ended June 30, 2006, totaling RMB2,190,177,000, calculated on the basis of 11,649,876,153 shares as at June 30, 2006. The proposed interim dividend will be considered at the special general meeting of shareholders to be held on October 13, 2006. The interim dividend is expected to be distributed on or before October 31, 2006.

MARKET REVIEW

PRIMARY ALUMINUM

Both international and domestic aluminum markets saw an increase in the first half of 2006 as a result of investment by funds, increases in production cost and rising consumption demand. In May, the three-month aluminum futures price on the London Metals Exchange ("LME") reached US$3,310 per tonne, whilst the aluminum spot price on the Shanghai Futures Exchange ("SHFE") rose to RMB23,800 per tonne, both reaching historic highs. However, since mid-May, aluminum prices experienced an adjustment as the impact of the rising US dollar and inflation led to decreases in prices of basic metals, oil and gold. At the end of June, the three-month aluminum futures prices on LME and SHFE fluctuated around US$2,500 per tonne and RMB19,500 per tonne respectively. In the first half of 2006, the average three-month aluminum futures price on LME was US$2,561 per tonne, representing an increase of 39.1% over the same period last year; the average price on SHFE was RMB20,773 per tonne, representing an increase of 24.9% from the same period last year.

The global production and consumption of primary aluminum remained steady for the first half of 2006, and amounted to 16,440,000 tonnes and 16,730,000 tonnes respectively, representing increases of 5.9% and 7.4% respectively over the same period last year. As a result of rising aluminum prices, domestic production of primary aluminum increased by 17.5% to 4,290,000 tonnes over the same period last year, while the consumption of primary aluminum rose to 4,000,000 tonnes, representing an increase of 27.0% over the same period last year.

ALUMINA

In the first quarter of 2006, alumina prices continued to increase. While the alumina FOB price in the international market reached a high of US$630 per tonne, the spot retail price of imported alumina in China rose to RMB6,500 per tonne, both reaching historical new highs. Due to rapid growth of domestic-made alumina and reduced purchases from the international spot market, the international alumina spot price began to decline in the second quarter of 2006. At the end of June, the alumina FOB price in the international market dropped to US$500 per tonne while the spot retail price of imported alumina in China fell to below RMB5,000 per tonne. In the first half of 2006, the average spot price of alumina of the Company was approximately RMB5,332 per tonne.

In the first half of 2006, global alumina production amounted to 32,970,000 tonnes with a consumption of 32,180,000 tonnes, representing year-on-year increases of 9.2% and 5.8% respectively. During the period, alumina supply increased due to the establishment of a number of domestic alumina enterprises that are not related to the Group. Notwithstanding the contribution of such new enterprises, demand continued to exceed supply by 32%. In the first half of 2006, China produced 5,950,000 tonnes of alumina, representing a year-on-year increase of 49%; the consumption of alumina amounted to 8,710,000 tonnes, representing a year-on-year increase of 14.3%. In the first half of 2006, China imported 3,330,000 tonnes of alumina, representing a year-on-year decrease of approximately 10%.

OVERVIEW

The Group is engaged principally in alumina refining and primary aluminum smelting. The Group organizes and manages its operations according to the following business segments:

- * Alumina segment, which consists of mining and purchasing bauxite and other raw materials, refining bauxite into alumina, and selling alumina both internally to the Group's primary aluminum smelters and externally to customers outside the Group. This segment also includes the production and sales of alumina chemicals (including alumina hydrate and alumina chemical products), and gallium.
- * Primary aluminum segment, which consists of procuring alumina and other raw materials, supplemental materials and electricity, production and selling of almost all primary aluminum to external customers. In addition, this segment includes production and sales of carbon products and small amount of aluminum-fabricated products.
- * Corporate and other services segment, which includes the headquarter's operations, research conducted by the Group's research institutes, provision of the Group's research and development services and product sales to third parties.

RESULTS OF OPERATION

The Group's net profit amounted to RMB6,744 million in the first half of 2006, representing an increase of RMB3,190 million from RMB3,554 million for the same period last year.

Revenue

The Group's turnover increased from RMB17,849 million in the first half of 2005 to RMB27,401 million in the first half of 2006, representing an increase of RMB9,552 million or 53.5%. The increase was primarily due to the increase in external sales volume and the increase in selling prices of alumina and primary aluminum.

In the first half of 2006, the Group's sales volume of primary aluminum reached 683,100 tonnes, representing an increase of 257,300 tonnes or 60.4% from 425,800 tonnes of the first half of 2005. The increase was primarily attributable to the commencement of operation of primary aluminum in Shanxi-Huaze Aluminum Power Co., Limited ("Shanxi Huaze"), the increase of output of primary aluminum due to the acquisition of Huasheng Aluminum and Fushun Company, and the increase of production efficiency through technological renovation of existing production lines. The increased sales volume of primary aluminum led to an increase of approximately RMB4,524 million in revenue.

The external sales volume of alumina increased from 2,691,800 tonnes in the first half of 2005 to 2,942,100 tonnes in the first half of 2006, representing an increase of 250,300 tonnes or 9.3%. The increase was mainly attributable to the increase of output resulting from the commencement of operation of the 800,000 tonnes-capacity alumina production line in phase III of Shanxi and the 700,000 tonnes-capacity alumina production line in Henan in 2006. The increased external sales volume of alumina led to an increase of RMB991 million in revenue.

Due to the increase in selling price of primary aluminum, the Group's average external selling price of primary aluminum increased by RMB3,354.68 per tonne or 23.6% from RMB14,227.25 per tonne (tax excluded, similarly hereinafter) in 2005 to RMB17,581.93 per tonne in the first half of 2006. The increase in selling price led to an increase of RMB1,428 million in revenue.

In the first half of 2006, the Group's average external selling price of alumina reached RMB3,961.31 per tonne, representing an increase of RMB740.07 per tonne or 23% from RMB3,221.24 per tonne. The increase of selling price led to an increase of RMB1,992 million in revenue.

Revenue of the Group's alumina chemicals, carbon and other products increased by approximately RMB500 million in the first half of 2006 compared to the corresponding period for the prior year.

Cost of Sales

The Group's total cost of sales increased by RMB4,504 million or 38.3% from RMB11,772 million in the first half of 2005 to RMB16,276 million in the first half of 2006. The total cost of sales increased due to the growth in sales volume of alumina and primary aluminum, and the increased unit production costs.

Selling and Distribution Expenses

The Group's selling and distribution expenses increased by RMB91 million or 28.5% from RMB319 million in the first half of 2005 to RMB410 million in the first half of 2006, which was primarily attributable to the increase in loading and packing fees due to the growth in sales volume of primary aluminum and alumina.

General and Administrative Expenses

General and administrative expenses increased by RMB400 million from RMB607 million in the first half of 2005 amounting to RMB1,007 million in the first half of 2006, representing an increase of 65.9%. The increase was mainly due to an increase of expenses of RMB94 million from the commencement of the operation of Shanxi-Huaze and newly established mining branch, Huasheng Aluminum and acquisition of Fushun Aluminum Company; an increase of RMB110 million in taxes other than income tax payable as a result of the increase in operating revenue; an increase of RMB96 million in expense relating to maintenance of roadways and infrastructure in factory and residential area; and increased expenses incurred from continued efforts to strengthen the internal control system and information system of the Group.

Research and Development Expense

Research and development expenses decreased by RMB11 million or 21.2% from RMB52 million in the first half of 2005 to approximately RMB41 million in the first half of 2006.

Other revenues and gains, net

The Group's other net revenue in the first half of 2006 was RMB186 million, an increase of RMB93 million or 100% from RMB93 million in the same period of 2005. The increase of other net revenue was attributable to the fact that Chalco International Trading ("Chalco Trading"), a subsidiary of the Company, hedged some of the primary aluminum products in the futures market, resulting in an increase in other gains.

Operating Profit

As a result of the foregoing, the Group's operating profit increased by RMB4,662 million from RMB5,192 million in the first half of 2005 to RMB9,854 million in the first half of 2006, representing an increase of 89.8%. The Group's operating profit as a percentage of sales of goods was 29.1% in the first half of 2005 and 36.0% in the first half of 2006.

Finance Cost

The Group's finance cost increased by RMB141 million or 77.9% from RMB181 million in the first half of 2005 to RMB322 million in the first half of 2006. The increase was primarily due to the commencement of production and operation upon completion of Shanxi Huaze smelting projects at the end of 2005, so that during the first half of 2006 related interest expense in the amount of RMB94 million was recognized as finance cost, rather than being capitalized as in the first half of 2005; and RMB34 million of finance costs pertaining to entities acquired or newly-established during the first half of 2006 whose results are being consolidated with the Group.

Income Taxes

The Group's income tax expenses increased by RMB1,229 million or 92.1% from RMB1,334 million in the first half of 2005 to RMB2,563 million in the first half of 2006. The increase of income tax was mainly attributable to the increased profit of the Company. The Group's average effective tax rate was 26.8% in the first half of 2006, essentially unchanged from 26.6% for the first half of 2005. The Group's effective tax rate was lower than the statutory tax rate of 33.0% mainly because three branches of the Company situated in Guizhou, Guangxi and Qinghai in the western region of the PRC were entitled to a preferential income tax rate of 15.0%.

Minority Interests

Minority interests increased from RMB129 million in the first half of 2005 to RMB258 million in the first half of 2006 primarily due to the increase of the minority interests after the establishment and the acquisition of Huasheng Aluminum and Zunyi Aluminum, respectively and increased profits recorded in the Company's existing subsidiaries.

Profit for the Period

As a result of the foregoing, profit attributable to equity holders for the period increased by RMB3,190 million from RMB3,554 million in the first half of 2005 to RMB6,744 million, representing an increase of 89.8%.

Revenue from the external sales of alumina in the first half of 2006 increased by RMB3,512 million or 31.6% to RMB14,620 million as compared with RMB11,108 million for the same period of 2005. This was mainly attributable to the increase in the Group's external sales volume of alumina and increase in the selling price of alumina.

Revenue from sales of alumina to the Group's smelters increased by RMB2,722 million from RMB2,299 million in the first half of 2005 to RMB5,021 million in the first half of 2006, primarily as a result of increased selling price and total demand of alumina for use in production due to increased output of primary aluminium.

Cash Flows from Investing Activities

Net cash used in investing activities in the first half of 2006 was RMB2,223 million, which was a decrease of RMB2,642 million from the RMB4,865 million of 2005. This was mainly due to the decrease in the cash purchase of property, plant and equipment of the Group.

Risk of Foreign Exchange

The Group's revenues are primarily denominated in Renminbi ("RMB"). We use foreign currencies principally to purchase raw materials and equipment and to pay dividends on our H Shares. Because applicable foreign exchange regulations have already significantly reduced the Government's foreign exchange controls, we are able to make payments for current account transactions without prior approval from exchange control authorities. There is no assurance that such policies will continue.

However, our operations may be exposed to the effect of fluctuations in the exchange rates of RMB against other currencies. We believe that, since the price of domestic alumina is determined with reference to the price of imported alumina, the appreciation of the RMB will influence on the price fluctuation of the domestic aluminum market as well as affect prices in the domestic spot market of alumina and increase the Company's competition pressure in the international market. In respect of product cost, the appreciation of the RMB brings benefits to the import of raw materials, equipments and overseas investments.
