1. The Company and its Business Environment

The Company operates through three business sectors. One sector focuses on the traditional business activities of the Company the education field. This sector includes the Company's research and development sections, the operations section, the marketing and sales of the Company's products as well as products manufactured by third parties to the training and education markets around the world and in Israel. The second sector includes the subsidiary YET, which is engaged in the development, manufacture and marketing of motion control products for the industrial market. The third sector comprises MemCall, a startup company that is developing new technology designed to shorten the length of time required to locate and retrieve information in computers and communications networks.

The Education Sector

In April 2003, RoboGroup's board of directors decided to change the management of the educational sector. The new management team of Mr. Rafael Aravot, RoboGroup's CEO, and Messrs. Haim Schleifer and Noam Kra-Oz, co-Managing Directors of RoboGroup, have continued to perform their other duties as officers in the Company. The former co-manager Mr. Eldad Cheresnia, has terminated his employment in the third quarter of 2003. Mr. Moshe Turner, former co-manager of the educational sector, has continued to serve as a vice president in RoboGroup.

During the third quarter of 2003, the Company decided to implement additional cost-cutting measures, including personnel cuts in the educational sector and consolidating related activities within the education sector, mainly due to their inability to meet the 2003 budget expectation in terms of the sales and business targets.

In November 2003, the Company received an order for training products in the amount of approximately U.S. $ 1 million. Revenues from this order will be reflected in our financial reports starting in 2004.

During the first half of 2003 the Company completed the delivery of e-learning products for an over US $4 million project that was received a year and a half prior to. In addition, the Company continued its substantial R&D efforts in developing its e-learning and distance learning line of products, named LearnMate and TrainNet.

The TrainNet product line was acquired from Mentergy Ltd in December 2002, and since then the Company has worked diligently on the system's development. The TrainNet products have contributed to the company's revenues from the beginning of the year 2003.

YET

During the year 2003 YET received approximately US $ 2,860 thousands for development services from YEC. During 2003, YET sold approximately US$ 300 thousands of its products.

According to the decisions of YET's board of directors, YET continued with the advanced stages of the development of XtraDrive (Advanced Server Driver) in 2003. YET started the development of XtraDrive in 2002.

During the year 2003 YET invested heavily in marketing activities around the world:

In November 2003, YET signed a distribution agreement with a European corporation, established together by YEC and additional European corporation for the distribution of YET's products in Europe.

In early 2003, it was made clear to YET that YEC would not distribute YET's products in the U.S. and that it would need to establish an independent marketing network in the U.S. Therefore YET began to develop marketing channels in the U.S. market. During 2003, YET established a fully owned subsidiary in the U.S. (YET US Inc.), whose main activity is to market and distribute YET's products in the U.S. In the last quarter of 2003 YET US Inc. hired a managing director and several additional employees for marketing and technical support. During 2003, YET continued its efforts to market YEC's product in Israel.

RoboGroup T.E.K. Limited

Directors' Report for the Year ended December 31, 2003

In October 2003, YET signed an agreement with RoboGroup to supply an e-learning system (synchronous and asynchronous) which includes both training content for YET's XtraDrive product, as well as LearnMate LCMS and LernMate live. The training products are intended for customers, agents and applications engineers. The order amounted to approximately US$ 850 thousands. The systems were supplied to YET in March 2004.

In May 2000, RoboGroup entered into a service agreement with YET under which YET pays RoboGroup for services and management fees. The payment amount is determined annually by mutual consent. In January 2003, a service agreement was signed by RoboGroup and YET for 2003, under which YET paid RoboGroup approximately NIS 0.9 million for services and management fees. In January 2004, a service agreement was signed by RoboGroup and YET for 2004, under which YET will pay RoboGroup approximately NIS 0.9 million for services and management fees.

MemCall

During the year 2003, MemCall invested significant efforts in negotiating with potential strategic partners (manufacturers and marketers in the global silicon market). MemCall conducted negotiations with several potential strategic partners, none of which matured into a contract. Accordingly, in December 2003 RoboGroup's Board of Directors decided to reduce the Company's continued investment in Memcall.

According to the said decision, MemCall has released most of its employees and will continue to employ a few employees on a limited scale. MemCall is primarily focused on maintaining its intellectual property rights and in efforts to attract strategic partners as well as potential customers or buyers for its technology. MemCall is searching for alternative ways to implement solutions (required by potential customers) without investing in the development of a full custom chip.

RoboGroup's investment in MemCall in 2003 amounted to approximately NIS 4.8 million (US$ 1.1 million). RoboGroup's aggregate investment in MemCall as of December 31, 2003, amounted to approximately US$ 4.45 million, of which US$ 2 million was invested in the form of equity and the balance (US$ 2.25 million) in the form of a convertible loan. All of the investments in MemCall are recorded by the Company as current expenses in the quarter in which they are made.

RoboGroup's Building

The space in RoboGroup's building in Rosh Ha Ayin that is not occupied by the Company and its fully owned subsidiaries is leased to three outside tenants. In 2003, the Company recorded a total of approximately US$ 525 thousand in rental payments from these tenants.

During the first quarter of 2004, the company entered into a five-year lease with a fourth tenant for a 650 square meter space. As a result, the building is now fully occupied.

Active Markets

The Education Sector

The majority of the products developed and manufactured by the education sector are for export. The sector markets such products through a network of sub-agents throughout the world. The agent for the U.S. and Canada is Intellitek. The Company markets its products and complementary products to the technological and scientific educational market in Israel through its subsidiary RTL.

The Company's e-learning products are marketed both to the educational sector, such as education ministries, school networks and universities, and to the private sector, such as companies and organizations that need to perform internal employees training.

YET

During the year 2003 YET invested heavily in marketing activities around the world:

In November 2003, YET signed a distribution agreement with a European corporation, established together by YEC and additional European corporation for the distribution of YET's products in Europe.

In early 2003, it was made clear to YET that YEC would not distribute YET's products in the U.S. and that it would need to establish an independent marketing network in the U.S. Therefore YET began to develop marketing channels in the U.S. market. During 2003, YET established YET US Inc, whose main activity is to market and distribute YET's products in the U.S. In the last quarter of 2003 YET US Inc. hired a managing director and several additional employees for marketing and technical support.

During the year 2003 YET continued its efforts to market YEC's product in Israel.

Customers and Risk Factors

The Education Sector

The main market for the Education Sector's products is educational institutions and research and development institutes, which purchase the products for educational purposes. The budgets of such institutions are influenced by decisions of external administrative bodies, such as government and local education authorities. In addition, the products developed by the Education Sector are directed at a narrow section of the educational market, i.e., the market for science and technology education.

The Education Sector operates in the hi-tech industry, which is characterized by technological innovation. In order to maintain the Company's position in this field, it must invest resources in upgrading existing products and developing new products, with the risk that other manufacturers, some of which have greater resources than the Company, will preempt the Company in the development of competitive systems.

RoboGroup T.E.K. Limited

Directors Report for the Year ended December 31, 2003

YET

YET is dependent on YEC, which holds 50% of YET's shares, for substantially all of its sales. We expect that the opening of new global marketing channels for YET's products will reduce this dependency. YET's Sales in Europe are dependant mainly on one distributor's performances.

Competition

The Education Sector

Competition in the Israeli market. To the best of the Company's knowledge, one other Israeli company competes with the Company with respect to certain of its independently-manufactured product lines. There is some competition for imported products exist in Israel.

In addition, there is one local company, trying to compete with the Company's business in Israel, and using ex-employees of the Company for such purpose.

Competition worldwide. The Company has competitors in all the markets in which it exports its products. The Company's competitors are mostly local manufacturers, although certain manufacturers who compete with the Company operate worldwide, some of which have greater financial resources than the Company.

The Company's ability to compete successfully is dependent on the quality and pricing of its products in comparison with those of its competitors, as well as the resources that are available to the Company for investment in development and marketing.

YET

Significant competition exists both in Israel and worldwide for the motion control products developed by YET from large competitors such as Siemens, Mitsubishi, Rockwell and others.

Suppliers

Products manufactured by the Company are adjusted to components made by various manufacturers (for example, motors, transmissions, electronic components, etc.). Should the prices of these components to which the Company's products have been adjusted increase significantly, or for some reason should the Company be unable to purchase them and be forced to effect changes in its systems to adjust them to new components, the Company believes this adjustment will not involve significant development costs.

YET is dependent on YEC as a supplier of components for its XtraDrive product.

Directors Report for the Year ended December 31, 2003

Exposure to and Management of Market Risks

a. Currency Risks

The majority of the Company's products are exported, and as a result, the bulk of the Company's income is received in foreign currency. As a result of the nature of the Company's operations, the Company is subject to risks from changes in the exchange rates of foreign currencies (mainly US$ and Japanese YEN). The Company undertakes the following precautions in order to limit its exposure:

1. Daily monitoring of changes in the exchange rates of the various currencies as well as factors that are bound to influence such currencies.
2. An evaluation of the Company's quarterly position with respect to the general exposure to changes in the various currencies.
3. Establishing foreign currency linked loans for the financing of its investments in its building.

Notwithstanding these precautions, the Company cannot insure full protection against foreign currency risks, and the Company is exposed to exchange rate fluctuations between various foreign currencies and between the foreign currencies and the Israeli shekel.

b. Interest and Index Risks

Although the majority of the Company's income is in foreign currency, the Company does not enter into specific hedging contracts against the exposure due to changes of interest and index rates. However, the Company is accustomed to investing a portion of its monetary balances in accordance with its periodic evaluations with respect to expectations in the areas of interest and index.

In 2003, the Company liquidated its investment portfolio. In the event the Company will decide to invest in securities in the future, it will be exposed to fluctuations in the prices of the securities in its investment portfolio.

Profit and Loss Development

The Company's revenues in 2003 totaled approximately NIS 56.1 million, compared with approximately NIS 86.2 million in 2002. 10. External Factors

A slowdown has been observed in the market for motion control products throughout the world. A more substantial slowdown was observed in the upper segment of the market (e.g. machines for the semi-conductor industries). YEC, which continues to be YET's principal customer, suffered a significant drop in sales of these product lines. This has also affected YET's business. Recently a slight improvement in the market has been observed. This improvement has not yet influenced YET's business.

A substantial slowdown was observed in the networking market, which is the principal potential market for MemCall's products. This has brought about a reduction in the potential market, a slower penetration of new technologies and products into the market, as well as a delay in investment activity in the market. The slowdown in the target markets for MemCall's potential products has had an adverse effect on MemCall's prospects.

In the global education market in general and in the U.S. market in particular, institutional investments in educational infrastructure declined as a result of the lack of economic resources for institutional entities generally and for educational institutions in particular, due to the slowdown in the world economy and the increasing investments in security and safety markets. The decrease in financial resources available for educational products has brought about a reduction in potential sales.

The security and economic situation in the State of Israel has had a detrimental impact on the Company's business. Due the security situation partners and customers from abroad are hesitating to visit Israel and to continue developing their businesses in Israel. The recession in Israel and the cutbacks in the education budget have depressed the potential market for the Company's products in Israel.

NOTE 2 - SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The principal accounting policies, which have been applied consistently with those of prior years, are as follows:

A. Adjusted Financial Statements

1. General

The financial statements are prepared on the basis of historical cost adjusted for changes in the general purchasing power of the Israeli currency, in accordance with an Opinion of the Institute of Certified Public Accountants in Israel. Amounts in the financial statements, including comparative amounts, have been adjusted for changes in the Israeli Consumer Price Index (hereinafter "CPI") according to the CPI published for December 2003. The term "cost" in these financial statements means cost in adjusted New Israeli Shekels (NIS). The adjusted values of non-monetary items do not necessarily represent their economic values, but merely show their historical cost adjusted for changes in the purchasing power of the Israeli currency. A summary of the Company's nominal figures, on which the adjusted financial statements are based, is given in Note 26. See Note 2T with respect to the discontinuance of the adjustment of financial statements to reflect changes in inflation in Israel beginning January 1, 2004.

A. Adjusted Financial Statements (Cont.)

a. Balance Sheets

Non-monetary items are adjusted for changes in the CPI from the month of the transaction to the month of the balance sheet. The following items are treated as non-monetary items: inventories; prepaid expenses; advances paid to suppliers, long-term investments; fixed assets; know-how and shareholders' equity.

Monetary items are presented in the adjusted balance sheet in the same amounts as in the nominal value financial statements.

The equity value of the investment in affiliated companies is determined according to the adjusted financial statements of those companies.

b. Statements of Operations:

Items in the statements of operations are adjusted for changes in the CPI as follows:

Amounts relating to non-monetary items (e.g. depreciation and changes in inventories) and certain provisions (e.g. liability for termination of employee/employer relationship) are adjusted on the same basis as the related balance sheet item.

Other revenue and expense items, except for financing items, are adjusted on the basis of changes in the CPI between the date of the transaction and balance sheet date.

Edgar Filing: ROBOGROUP TEK LTD - Form 6-K

The net financing item is separated from the other revenue and expense items and is expressed as real financing revenues and expenses, including the write-down of monetary items.

B. Convenience translation into US dollars

The adjusted consolidated financial statements as at December 31, 2003 and for year than ended, have been translated into US dollars purely for the convenience of non-Israeli readers. The translation was made according to the representative exchange rate of the US dollar to NIS on December 31, 2003 ($1 = NIS 4.379). the translation dollar amounts should not be construed as amounts receivable or payable in dollars or convertible into dollars.

C. Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the financial statements of the Company and those of its subsidiaries (consolidated companies). These financial statements also include the Company's portion (50%) of the assets, liabilities, income and expenses of companies owned jointly.

Significant inter-company balances and transactions between the Company and its consolidated companies or its proportionately consolidated company (including unrealized internal profits) have been eliminated for the purpose of consolidation.

D. Exchange Rates and Basis of Linkage

Balances in, or linked to, foreign currency are stated in the financial statements at the representative rates of exchange in effect at balance sheet date, as published by The Bank of Israel. Balances linked to the CPI are included in the balance sheets according to the latest index published prior to balance sheet date. Changes in monetary balances caused by changes in foreign currency exchange rate or from changes in the CPI are changed to the statement of operation as incurred.

Hereunder are details of the CPI and dollar exchange rates:

	Dollar Exchange Rates
	NIS	CPI Points
At December 31, 2003	4.379	112.9
At December 31, 2002	4.737	115.1
At December 31, 2001	4.416	108.1

Rates of increase (decrease) in the years	In percentage %
2003	(7.55)	(1.9)
2002	7.3	6.48

E. Cash and Cash Equivalents

(Adjusted NIS in Thousands, to December 2003)

I. Investments in Investees and Other Companies

The investments in Investee companies are stated in the Company's financial statements on an equity value basis. The excess of cost of the investment in an Investee company over its net equity value on acquisition, which is not directly attributable, represents goodwill and is amortized over a period of five years. Investments in other companies, held as long-term investments, are presented at cost.

J. Financial statement of consolidated companies abroad

Until December 31, 2001, all the consolidated companies operating abroad were an extension of the Company. Accordingly, their assets and liabilities have been translated into NIS at the exchange rates in effect on balance sheet date, except for non-monetary items which were translated at historical rates and adjusted for changes in the CPI. Revenue and expense items were translated at the average monthly exchange rate in effect at the time of the transaction and adjusted for changes in the CPI. Starting in 2002, because of changes in the nature of activity of a consolidated company abroad due to, among other things, the receipt of a commitment from banks in its jurisdiction to be given credit lines, and the growing trend an increase in the consolidated company's activities that refer to output not originating from the parent company, the consolidated company became, in practice, an autonomous entity, and the U.S. dollar became its functional currency. Therefore, the subsidiary's financial statements as from the year 2002 and thereafter have been translated according to closing rates. Translation differences caused by the difference between adjusting the investment according to the changes in the CPI to adjusting the equity of the subsidiary to the changes in exchange rates to the US dollars have been attributed to a translation of foreign currency differences of an autonomous entity capital fund in the shareholders equity.

K. Fixed Assets

Fixed assets are stated at cost (Demonstration equipment are valued at the cost of finished products of the same type less accumulated depreciation).

Financing costs of credit lines opened for financing the purchase of the building, in the period prior to its use, have been capitalized.

Depreciation is calculated according to the straight-line method at the following rates, which are considered to be adequate to the depreciation of the assets over the course of their estimated useful lives:

Machinery and equipment (mainly 20%)	10-20
Office equipment and furniture (mainly 6%)	6-10
Computers and computerized equipment (mainly 33%)	20-33
Vehicles (mainly 20%)	15-20
Building (mainly 2%)	2-4

Notes to Financial Statements

*(Adjusted NIS in Thousands, to December 2003)NOTE 2 - SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont.)M. Intangible Property

Intangible property includes mainly goodwill, know-how and rights to products. Goodwill represents the excess of cost of the investments in businesses and consolidated companies over their fair value at acquisition, amortized at annual rates over a period of five years. Know-how and rights to products are amortized according to the straight-line method on the basis of their estimated useful lifetime, which is approximately three years.

N. Deferred Taxes

Deferred taxes are computed in respect of temporary differences between the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and their tax basis and calculated according to the enacted tax rates and laws that is expected to be in effect when the differences are expected to be paid or realized. The Company recognizes tax benefits receivable where the expectation of realization according to management estimate, is more likely than not.

The Company and a proportionately consolidated company have accumulated earnings derived from tax exempt income as an approved enterprise . The distribution of a dividend out of such income would give rise to the imposition of corporation tax at the rate of 20% in respect to that income. If such dividends are distributed, tax expenses will be recorded in the statement of operations. It is the intention of the Company and the proportionately consolidated company to reinvest its tax-exempt income. Accordingly, there is no provision for deferred taxes in respect of tax exempt income.

In the calculation of deferred taxes, no deferred taxes were recorded in respect of investee companies, include in these to financial statements according to the equity method, because it is the Company s intention to hold these investments and because it is the Company s policy not to distribute dividends which would increase the group s tax liability.

L. Product Warranty

The provision is calculated specifically for the obligation relating to each individual product sold, usually for a period of one year from the date of sale.

O. Foreign Currency Hedging Transactions

The Company has in the past engaged in forward foreign currency transactions in order to minimize the risks inherent in changes in exchange rates in respect of commitments to sell products in currencies other than U.S. or Israeli. Profits or losses arising from such changes in exchange rates are recorded in the statement of operations, as incurred and the premium or discount resulting from such transactions is amortized over the term of the contract.

The Company has implemented the directives of FAS 133 and FAS 138, according to which any financial derivatives should be stated in the assets and liabilities of a balance sheet on the basis of fair value.

There has not been any material activity in any financial derivatives since FAS 133 and FAS 138 were implemented.

P. Options to Employees

The Company has adopted U.S. Opinion APB 25 for the accounting treatment for a share option program for employees and director-shareholders.

Accordingly, Note 27 gives proforma data had the Company chosen to adopt U.S. Statement FAS 123 for the accounting treatment of benefits inherent in the above mentioned program.

T. Impact of recently issued Accounting Standards

In October 2001 the Israel Accounting Standards Board issued Israel Accounting Standard 12 which deals with discontinuing the adjustment of financial statements and Israel Accounting Standard 13 concerning the effect of changes in the rates of exchange of foreign currencies. In December 31, 2002 the Israel Accounting Standards Board decided, in Standard 17, to defer the effective dates of Standards 12 and 13 to January 1, 2004.

Pursuant to Standard 12 and 17, the adjustment of financial statements to inflation in Israel will be discontinued as of January 1, 2004. As at December 31, 2003, the amount of the addition was approximately NIS 5.7 million (approximately $1.3 million).
- (d) Risk-life insurance, in addition to normal severance pay, in an amount of $1 million for each of the three full-time directors, and $333 thousand to other director including grossed-up benefits to directors. The amount of the indemnification under the letters of indemnification to all the recipients of the indemnification, cumulatively for a single event, will not exceed an amount in NIS equal to US$ 4 million. The Company has also provided its directors and officers indemnification letters according to which the Company will irrevocably indemnify each such director and officer (under Section 259 of the Companies Law), from liability for damages caused to the Company due to the breach of the officers or director's duty of care to the Company.

B. Contingent liabilities

1. Royalties and know-how

The Company, a consolidated company and a proportionately consolidated company are committed to pay royalties on products developed under projects supported by the Office of the Chief Scientist, at the rate of 2% 4.6% of the sale price, limited to the amount of grant received (linked to the US dollar). As of the balance sheet date the grant balance on which royalties have not yet been accrued amounts to US$ 3.3 millions in the consolidated statements.

In February 2004, the Company received a letter from the Office of the Chief Scientist, stating the Company is required to pay approximately 900 thousand dollars due to royalties payments differences for the years 1996-2002. The said letter was lacking any supporting documentation and the Company rejects the demand completely.

The Company, based on its legal advisors, does not project any additional payments to the Office of the Chief Scientist beyond the amounts included in the financial statements.

NOTE 28 - EFFECT OF VARIANCES BETWEEN ISRAELI GAAP AND U.S. GAAP IN THE CONSOLIDATED STATEMENTS

The significant differences between the Israeli GAAP and the U.S. GAAP relate primarily to the following matters:

A. Proportional Consolidation

According to Israeli GAAP, an investment in jointly held investee companies is presented according to the proportionate consolidation method. However, according to U.S. GAAP, such an investment is presented according to the equity method

Edgar Filing: ROBOGROUP TEK LTD - Form 6-K

B. Presentation of liability for termination of employee/employer relationship

According to the rules of generally accepted accounting principles in Israel, the sum of a funded provision in a provident fund is deducted from the related liability. Under U.S. GAAP, the offsetting of assets and liabilities in these circumstances is not acceptable.

C. Depreciation of goodwill
