BITSTREAM INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (Unaudited)

SEPTEMBER 30, 2005

(1) Significant Accounting Policies

Bitstream Inc. (Bitstream) and its subsidiaries (collectively, the Company) comprise a software development company that enables customers worldwide to render high-quality text, browse the Web on wireless devices, select from the largest collection of fonts online, and customize documents over the Internet. Its core competencies include font technology, browsing technology, and publishing technology. Visit Bitstream on the Web at <http://www.bitstream.com>.

(a) Basis of Presentation

The consolidated financial statements of the Company presented herein, without audit, have been prepared pursuant to the rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the SEC) for quarterly reports on Form 10-Q and do not include all of the information and footnote disclosures required by generally accepted accounting principles. The balance sheet information at December 31, 2004 has been derived from our audited consolidated financial statements. These statements should be read in conjunction with the consolidated financial statements and notes thereto for the year ended December 31, 2004 included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K, which was filed with the SEC on March 29, 2005. The balance sheet as of September 30, 2005, the statements of operations for the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2005 and 2004, the statements of cash flows for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 and 2004, and the notes to each are unaudited, but in the opinion of management include all adjustments necessary for a fair presentation of the consolidated financial position, results of operations, and cash flows of the Company for these interim periods.

The results of operations for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 may not necessarily be indicative of the results to be expected for the year ending December 31, 2005.

(b) Revenue Recognition (in thousands)

We derive revenue from the license of our software products, and from consulting and support and maintenance services. License revenue is recognized when persuasive evidence of an agreement exists, the product has been delivered or services have been provided, the fee is fixed or determinable, and collection of the fee is probable.

We receive and recognize licensing fees and royalty revenue from: (1) Original Equipment Manufacturer (OEM) and Independent Software Vendor (ISV) customers for font rendering and page composition technologies; (2) direct and indirect licenses of software publishing applications for the creation, enhancement, management, transport, viewing and printing of electronic information; (3) direct sales of custom design and consulting services to end users such as graphic artists, desktop publishers, corporations and resellers; and (4) sales of fonts and publishing applications to foreign customers primarily through distributors.

Certain OEM and ISV customers pay royalties only upon the sublicensing of our products to end-users. License revenue is recognized when persuasive evidence of an agreement exists, the product has been delivered or services have been provided, the fee is fixed or determinable, and collection of the fee is probable. Revenue from guaranteed minimum royalty licenses is recognized upon delivery of the software license when no further obligations of the Company exist, while revenue on pay-as-you-go licenses is recognized in the period when sublicenses to end users are reported to us by our OEM or ISV customer. In certain guaranteed minimum royalty licenses, we will enter into extended payment programs with creditworthy customers. Revenue related to extended payment programs is recognized when payment becomes due to the Company.

We recognize license revenue from the resale of our products through various resellers. Resellers may sell our products in either an electronic format or CD format. Revenue is recognized if collection is probable, upon notification from the reseller that it has sold the product, or for a CD product, upon delivery of the software.

Revenue from end user product sales is recognized upon delivery of the software, net of estimated returns and allowances, and when collection is probable. Revenue related to extended payment programs is recognized when payment becomes due to the Company. End user sales include e-commerce revenue generated from our Web sites from the licensing of Bitstream fonts, and subscription licenses for the ThunderHawk browser, licensing of fonts developed by third parties and from fees received from referring customers to other sites for which we have referral agreements. Referral revenue is recognized at the net amount received by Bitstream and for the three months ended September 30, 2005 and 2004 was $4 and $3, respectively. There are minimal costs associated with the Referral Fee program, and primarily represent the time to load copies of the fonts provided by each participating foundry for addition to the MyFonts.com database. We expense those costs as incurred.

We recognize revenue under multiple-element arrangements using the residual method when vendor-specific objective evidence of fair value exists for all of the undelivered elements under the arrangement. Under the residual method, the arrangement consideration is first allocated to undelivered elements based on vendor-specific objective evidence of the fair value for each element and the residual amount is allocated to the delivered elements. Arrangement consideration allocated to undelivered elements is deferred and recognized as revenue when the elements are delivered, if all other revenue recognition criteria are met. We have established sufficient vendor-specific objective evidence for the value of our consulting, training, and other services, based on the price charged when these elements are sold separately. Accordingly, software license revenue is recognized under the residual method in arrangements in which software is licensed with consulting, training or other services.

Professional services include custom design and development and training. We recognize professional services revenue under software development contracts as services are provided for per diem contracts or by using the percentage-of-completion method of accounting for long-term fixed price contracts. Provisions for any estimated losses on uncompleted contracts are made in the period in which such losses become probable.

We recognize revenue from support and maintenance agreements ratably over the term of the agreement.

Deferred revenue includes unearned software maintenance revenue and advance billings under software development contracts and page layout technology licenses.

Cost of revenue from software licenses consists primarily of royalties paid to third party developers and foundries whose products we sell, and costs to distribute the product, including the cost of the media on which it is delivered. Cost of revenue from services consists primarily of costs associated with customer support, consulting and custom product development services.

We generally warrant that our products will function substantially in accordance with documentation provided to customers for approximately 90 days following initial delivery. We have not incurred any expenses related to warranty claims.

(c) Stock-Based Compensation

We account for our employee stock plans using the intrinsic value method. SFAS 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation, as amended by SFAS 148, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation Transition and Disclosure an amendment to Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123, disclosures include pro forma net income and earnings per share as if the fair value-based method of accounting had been used. Stock issued to non-employees is accounted for in accordance with SFAS 123 and related interpretations. The following table sets forth the pro forma amounts of net income (loss) and net income (loss) per share that would have resulted if the Company accounted for its employee stock plans under the fair value recognition provisions of SFAS 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation (in thousands, except per share amounts):

	Three Months Ended September 30,		Nine months Ended September 30,

For purposes of computing pro forma net income (loss), we estimated the fair value of all options and warrants granted to employees as of September 30, 2005 using the Black Scholes option pricing model prescribed by SFAS No. 123. Assumptions used and weighted average information are as follows:

Table of ContentsBITSTREAM INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES*NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS - (Continued)*(d) Off-Balance Sheet Risk and Concentration of Credit Risk

Financial instruments that potentially expose the Company to concentrations of credit risk consist primarily of cash and cash equivalents and trade accounts receivable. We place a majority of our cash investments in one highly-rated financial institution. We have not experienced significant losses related to receivables from any individual customers or groups of customers in any specific industry or by geographic area. Due to these factors, no additional credit risk beyond amounts provided for collection losses is believed by management to be inherent in our accounts receivable. One customer accounted for 15% of our accounts receivable at September 30, 2005. We do not have any off-balance sheet risks as of September 30, 2005. At December 31, 2004, no customer accounted for 10% or more of our accounts receivable. No single customer accounted for 10% or more of our revenue for the three or nine month periods ended September 30, 2005 or September 30, 2004.

(e) Goodwill and other intangible assets (in thousands)

Goodwill consists of the following:

	September 30, 2005	December 31, 2004
Acquisition of Type Solutions, Inc.	$ 228	$ 228
Acquisition of Alaras Corporation.	499	499
Total Goodwill	$ 727	$ 727

We follow the accounting and reporting requirements for goodwill and other intangible assets as required by SFAS No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets. Under SFAS No. 142, goodwill and indefinite-lived intangible assets are not amortized, but are required to be reviewed annually for impairment, or more frequently if impairment indicators arise. Separable intangible assets that have finite lives are amortized over their useful lives. We have determined that we do not have separate reporting units and thus goodwill is combined and valued based upon an enterprise-wide valuation.

In connection with its adoption of SFAS 142, we reassessed the useful lives and the classification of our identifiable intangible assets and determined that they continue to be appropriate.

The components of our amortized intangible assets follow:

(f) Reclassifications

Certain prior year account balances have been reclassified to be consistent with the current year's presentation.

(g) Recently Issued Accounting Standards

In October 2004, the American Jobs Creation Act (the Act) was signed into law. The Act contains provisions that might affect our future effective tax rate. We have begun our evaluation of the effects of the Act, but do not expect to be able to complete this evaluation until after the U.S. Treasury Department or Internal Revenue Service provide additional clarifying language on key elements of the Act. The Internal Revenue Service has stated publicly that it expects to release this guidance by the end of the calendar year. We expect to be in a position to complete our evaluation, and to record any resulting income taxes by the end of this fiscal year. While we are currently uncertain as to the impact of the Act on our annual tax rate, we do not anticipate the impact, if any, to be material.

In December 2004, the FASB issued SFAS 123(R), Share-Based Payments, which replaces FASB Statement No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation, and supersedes APB Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees. SFAS 123(R) will require all share-based payments to employees, including grants of employee stock options, to be recognized in the statement of operations based on their fair values. SFAS 123(R) offers alternative methods for determining the fair value. In April 2005, the SEC issued a new rule that allows companies to implement Statement No. 123(R) at the beginning of the next fiscal year, instead of the next reporting period, that begins after June 15, 2005. As a result, we will implement SFAS 123(R) in the reporting period starting January 1, 2006. See Stock-Based Compensation above for the pro forma net income and net income per share amounts, for the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2005 and 2004, as if we had used a fair-value-based method similar to the methods required under SFAS 123R to measure compensation expense for employee stock incentive awards. Although we have not yet determined whether the adoption of SFAS 123R will result in amounts that are similar to the current pro forma disclosures under SFAS 123, we are evaluating the requirements under SFAS 123R and expect the adoption to have a significant adverse impact on our consolidated statements of income and net income per share.

Table of ContentsBITSTREAM INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES*NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS - (Continued)*(2) Income (Loss) Per Share (in thousands)

Basic earnings or loss per share is determined by dividing the net income (loss) by the weighted average number of shares of common stock outstanding during the period. Diluted earnings per share reflect the effect of the conversion of potentially dilutive securities, such as stock options and warrants, based on the treasury stock method. In computing diluted earnings per share, common stock equivalents are not considered in periods in which a net loss is reported, as the inclusion of the common stock equivalents would be antidilutive. A reconciliation of basic and diluted weighted average shares outstanding for basic and diluted earnings per share is as follows:

	Three Months Ended		Nine Months Ended
	September 30,		September 30,
	2005	2004	2005	2004
Weighted average shares outstanding	8,676	8,551	8,655	8,495
Dilutive effect of options	964		823
Dilutive effect of warrants
Shares used to compute diluted net income (loss) per share	9,640	8,551	9,478	8,495

If we had reported a profit for the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2004, potential common shares would have increased the weighted average shares outstanding by 1,800 and 684, respectively. In addition, there were warrants and options outstanding to purchase 419 and 542 shares for the three months and nine month periods ended September 30, 2005, respectively, and 96 and 564 shares for the three months and nine month periods ended September 30, 2004, respectively, that were not included in the potential common share computations because their exercise prices were greater than the market price of our common stock. These common stock equivalents are antidilutive even when a profit is reported in the numerator.

(3) Accrued Expenses, (in thousands)

Accrued expenses consist of the following:

	September 30,	December 31,
	2005	2004
Accrued royalties	$ 149	$ 324
Payroll and other compensation	486	678
Accrued professional and consulting services	195	158

We attribute revenue to different geographical areas on the basis of the location of the customer. All of our product sales for the three months ended September 30, 2005 and 2004 were shipped from our headquarters located in the United States. Revenue by geographic area is as follows:

* If revenue attributable to a specific country is greater than 5% in any period, revenue attributable to that country is disclosed for all periods. E-commerce revenue is all included as attributable to the United States.

All of our long-lived tangible assets are located in the United States of America.

(5) Commitments and contingencies (in thousands):Lease Commitments

We conduct our operations in leased facilities. In August 2003, we entered into a six-year lease agreement and moved our corporate offices. The new lease agreement commenced on September 1, 2003 and obligated us to make minimum lease payments plus our pro-rata share of future real estate tax increases and certain operating expense increases above the base year. This lease agreement also required us to obtain a Letter of Credit in the amount of $250, which resulted in $250 in cash being classified as restricted on our Balance Sheet. This amount was reduced to $200 on the second anniversary and will be further reduced to $150 on the fourth anniversary of the lease.

Royalties

We have certain royalty commitments associated with the shipment and licensing of certain products. Royalty expense is primarily based on a dollar amount per unit shipped or a percentage of the underlying revenue. Royalty expense is recorded under cost of license revenue on our consolidated Statement of Operations.

Guarantees

We enter into standard indemnification agreements in the ordinary course of business. Pursuant to these agreements, we indemnify, hold harmless, and agree to reimburse the indemnified party for losses suffered or incurred by the indemnified party, generally business partners or customers, in connection with any U.S. patent, or any copyright or other intellectual property infringement claim by any third party with respect to our products. The term of these indemnification agreements is generally perpetual any time after execution of the agreement. The maximum potential amount of future payments we could be required to make under these indemnification agreements is unlimited. We have never incurred costs to defend lawsuits or settle claims related to these indemnification agreements. As a result, we believe the estimated fair value of these agreements is minimal.

Legal Actions

On June 24, 2003, Monotype Imaging Inc. (formerly Agfa Monotype Corporation) and International Typeface Corporation filed a complaint in the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois Eastern Division claiming that we, through our TrueDoc software, infringe trademarks and copyrights and violate the Digital Millennium Copyright Act. Judge Amy J. St. Eve of the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois Eastern Division ruled in our favor on all counts. In her opinion issued on July 12, 2005, the Court found that we were not liable under any claims of contributory infringement, contributory trademark infringement, or infringement under the Digital Millennium Copyright Act. Previously, on April 21, 2005, the Court held that we were not liable under claims for direct copyright or trademark infringement or for vicariously infringing Monotype Imaging, Inc.'s and International Typeface Corporation's copyrights. As a result of these two decisions, the Court entered judgment for Bitstream Inc. We have been notified that Monotype Imaging has filed a Notice of Appeal with the Court.

From time to time, in addition to the infringement case identified above, we are subject to legal proceedings and claims in the ordinary course of business, including claims of infringement of third-party patents and other intellectual property rights, commercial, employment and other matters. In accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, we make a provision for a liability when it is both probable that a liability has been incurred and the amount of the loss can be reasonably estimated. This provision is reviewed at least quarterly. As of September 30, 2005, no liability has been recorded. Litigation is inherently unpredictable and it is possible that our financial position, cash flows, or results of operations could be affected in any particular period by the resolution of one or more of these contingencies or the costs involved in seeking the resolution of these contingencies.

The increase in license revenue for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 as compared to the nine months ended September 30, 2004 was due to increases in sales to all customer classes; OEM, direct, and reseller. The increases were due to the acquisition of new customers, as well as from new sales and continuing royalties from existing customers across all product lines. Direct sales, including e-commerce sales increased

$577 to $2,261 for the three months ended September 30, 2005 as compared to $1,684 for the three months ended September 30, 2004, and $1,568 to $6,301 for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 as compared to $4,733 for the nine months ended September 30, 2004. OEM license revenue increased $374 to $736 for the three months ended September 30, 2005 as compared to $362 for the three months ended September 30, 2004 and $517 to $2,026 for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 as compared to $1,509 for the nine months ended September 30, 2004. License revenue from resellers decreased $63 to $216 for the three months ended September 30, 2005 from $279 for the three months ended September 30, 2004, and increased $158 to $882 for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 from $724 for the nine months ended September 30, 2004. The decrease in reseller revenue during the third quarter was primarily due to decreases in revenue from our font resellers. The decrease in reseller sales of fonts is primarily a result of the increase in direct e-commerce sales. We expect our revenue levels to continue to grow and that the resulting cost of revenue and gross profit as a percentage of revenue will approximate the above percentages for the year.

The increases in revenue from services for the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2005 were primarily due to increases in revenue from support contracts and consulting services associated with our publishing product line. We expect this revenue trend to continue and that the resulting cost of revenue and gross profit as a percentage of revenue to approximate the above percentages for the year.

Table of Contents

We recognize license revenue from direct sale of our products and products licensed from third parties including e-commerce sales made via our Web sites, from licensing agreements with OEMs and ISVs, and from the resale of our products through various resellers. Reseller revenue is recognized if collection is probable, upon notification from the reseller that it has sold the product or if for a physical product, upon delivery of the software. E-commerce sales include revenue from the licensing of Bitstream fonts and font technology, the licensing of the ThunderHawk browser, the licensing of fonts and font technology developed by third parties and from fees received from referring customers to other sites for which we have referral agreements. Referral revenue is recognized at the net amount received by us and was $4 and $3 for the three months ended September 30, 2005 and 2004, respectively, and $12 and $10 for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 and 2004, respectively. There are minimal costs associated with the referral revenue, which primarily represent the time to load copies of the fonts provided by each participating foundry for addition to the MyFonts.com database. We expense those costs as incurred.

The increases in cost of license revenue for the three months ended September 30, 2005 as compared to the three months ended September 30, 2004 were due to increased royalty, shipping, and credit card processing expenses in connection with our increased sales in all product lines. These included increases in e-commerce related costs of $246 and $760 for the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2005 as compared to the same periods ended September 30, 2004. The increases in cost of services revenue for the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2005 as compared to the same periods ended September 30, 2004 was primarily due to increases in customer consulting resources for the publishing product line of $63 and $199, respectively. Our cost of revenue includes royalties and fees paid to third parties for the development or license of rights to technology and/or unique typeface designs, costs incurred in the fulfillment of custom orders, costs incurred in providing customer support, maintenance, and training, and costs associated with the duplication, packaging and shipping of product.

Marketing and selling (M&S) expense consists primarily of salaries and benefits, commissions, travel expenses and facilities costs related to sales and marketing personnel, as well as marketing program-related costs including trade shows and advertising. The increase in M&S expense for the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2005 as compared to the same periods ended September 30, 2004 was primarily the result of increased headcount and higher sales commissions of $31 and $97, respectively, due to increased sales, as well as an increase in marketing activity including trade show participation of $96 and $122, respectively. Due to the increases in M&S headcount and marketing program activities we expect M&S expense to remain higher throughout 2005 as compared to 2004.

Research and development (R&D) expense consists primarily of salary and benefit costs, contracted third-party development costs, and facility costs related to software developers and management. The increases in R&D expense for the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2005 as compared to the same periods ended

September 30, 2004 were primarily the result of an increase in outsourced engineering consulting services which were primarily related to our need for expertise with Asian languages in connection with our font product line. We expect future R&D expenditures to moderately increase commencing during the fourth quarter of 2005 when we plan to add additional R&D resources.

General and administrative (G&A) expense consists primarily of salaries, benefits, and other related costs including travel and facility expenses for finance, human resource, legal and executive personnel, legal and accounting professional services, provision for bad debts and director and officer insurance. G&A expenses increased primarily due to increases in professional service costs and corporate filing fees, which increased $99 and $290 for the three and nine months periods ended September 30, 2005 as compared to the same periods in 2004. These costs included an increase in legal costs to defend against certain trademark infringement lawsuits of $63 to $92 for the three months ended September 30, 2005 as compared to $29 for the three months ended September 30, 2004, and $190 to $426 for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 as compared to $236 for the nine months ended September 30, 2004. In addition, G&A expenses increased $60 for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 as compared to the nine months ended September 30, 2004 due to a $60 bad debt write-off expensed during the three months ended March 31, 2005. For the fiscal year ending December 31, 2005 we expect G&A expense as a percent of revenue to approximate the percentage for the nine months ended September 30, 2005.

The gain from the investment in DiamondSoft, Inc. for the nine months ended September 30, 2004 represents the release of our portion of an escrow account that was established at the time of sale to cover any claims arising from certain representations made in connection with the sale of our equity investment in DiamondSoft, Inc. on June 30, 2003 to Extensis, Inc. Interest and other income for the three month and nine month periods ended September 30, 2005 and 2004 includes interest income earned on cash and money market instruments net of interest expense. In addition, interest and other income for the nine months ended September 30, 2004 includes a realized gain on foreign currency related to the

The provision for income taxes consists of foreign income taxes. Foreign taxes vary with royalties from customers in countries who have signed tax conventions with the United States including Japan, Korea, and Poland.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES (in thousands, except share amounts)

We have funded our operations primarily through the public sale of equity securities, cash flows from operations, cash received from the sale of our MediaBank and InterSep OPI product lines to Inso Providence Corporation in August of 1998, and cash received from the sale of our investment in DiamondSoft to Extensis in July of 2003. As of September 30, 2005, we had net working capital of $3,717, an increase of $386 as compared to $3,331 at December 31, 2004.

Our operations provided $448 in cash during the nine months ended September 30, 2005, while we used cash of $217 to fund our operations during the nine months ended September 30, 2004. Not including changes in operating assets and liabilities, our operating results generated $444 in cash for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 and used $546 in cash during the nine months ended September 30, 2004. Changes in operating assets and liabilities provided cash of $4 for the nine months ended September 30, 2005. Changes in operating assets and liabilities resulted in a cash savings of $329 for the nine months ended September 30, 2004 primarily due to the collection of accounts receivable and the resulting decrease in the receivable balance during the nine month period then ended. Our investing activities for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 and 2004 used cash to acquire additional property and equipment and intangible assets of $205 and $108, respectively. In addition, our investing activities for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 provided cash of $50 through the reduction of restricted cash, which is pledged as security for a letter of credit relating to our lease of its corporate offices. Our investing activities for the nine months ended September 30, 2004 included a gain related to our sale of our investment in DiamondSoft of $91. Our financing activities provided cash of $101 and $120 for the nine months ended September 30, 2005 and 2004, respectively, from the exercise of stock options.

We believe our current cash and cash equivalent balances will be sufficient to meet our operating and capital requirements for at least the next 12 months. There can be no assurance, however, we will not require additional financing in the future. If we were required to obtain additional financing in the future, there can be no assurance that sources of capital will be available on terms favorable to us, if at all.

As of September 30, 2005, we had no material commitments for capital expenditures. From time to time, we evaluate potential acquisitions of products, businesses and technologies that may complement or expand our business. Any such transactions consummated may use a portion of our working capital or require us to issue additional equity securities or incur debt.

We conduct our operations in leased facilities. In August 2003, we entered into a six-year lease agreement and moved our corporate offices. The new lease agreement commenced on September 1, 2003 and obligated us to make minimum lease payments plus our pro-rata share of future real estate tax increases and certain operating expense increases above the base year. This lease agreement also required us to obtain a Letter of Credit in the amount of $250, which resulted in $250 in cash being classified as restricted on our Balance Sheet. The amount was reduced to $200 on the second anniversary and will be further reduced to $150 on the fourth anniversary of the lease.

We have entered into certain agreements to pay royalties based on the shipment and licensing of certain products. Royalty expense is primarily based on a dollar amount per unit shipped or a percentage of the underlying revenue. Royalty expense is recorded as cost of license revenue on our consolidated Statement of Operations.

Edgar Filing: BITSTREAM INC - Form 10-Q

We enter into standard indemnification agreements in the ordinary course of business. Pursuant to these agreements, we indemnify, hold harmless, and agree to reimburse the indemnified party for losses suffered or incurred by the indemnified party, generally business partners or customers, in connection with any U.S. patent, or any copyright or other intellectual property infringement claim by any third party with respect to our products. The term of these indemnification agreements is generally perpetual any time after execution of the agreement. The maximum potential amount of future payments we could be required to make under these indemnification agreements is unlimited. We have never incurred costs to defend lawsuits or settle claims based on these indemnification agreements. As a result, we believe the estimated fair value of these agreements is minimal.

RECENT ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENTS

In October 2004, the American Jobs Creation Act (the Act) was signed into law. The Act contains provisions that might affect our future effective tax rate. We have begun our evaluation of the effects of the Act, but do not expect to be able to complete this evaluation until after the U.S. Treasury Department or Internal Revenue Service provides additional clarifying language on key elements of the Act. The Internal Revenue Service has stated publicly that it expects to release this guidance by the end of the calendar year. We expect to be in a position to complete our evaluation, and to record any resulting income taxes by the end of this fiscal year. While we are currently uncertain as to the impact of the Act on our annual tax rate, we do not anticipate the impact, if any, to be material.

In December 2004, the FASB issued SFAS 123(R), Share-Based Payments, which replaces FASB Statement No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation, and supersedes APB Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees. SFAS 123(R) will require all share-based payments to employees, including grants of employee stock options, to be recognized in the statement of operations based on their fair values. SFAS 123(R) offers alternative methods for determining the fair value. In April 2005, the SEC issued a new rule that allows companies to implement Statement No. 123(R) at the beginning of the next fiscal year, instead of the next reporting period, that begins after June 15, 2005. As a result, we will implement SFAS 123(R) in the reporting period starting January 1, 2006. See Stock-Based Compensation above for the pro forma net income and net income per share amounts, for the three and nine month periods ended September 30, 2005 and 2004, as if we had used a fair-value-based method similar to the methods required under SFAS 123R to measure compensation expense for employee stock incentive awards. Although we have not yet determined whether the adoption of SFAS 123R will result in amounts that are similar to the current pro forma disclosures under SFAS 123, we are evaluating the requirements under SFAS 123R and expect the adoption to have a significant adverse impact on our consolidated statements of income and net income per share.

ITEM 3. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

Derivative Financial Instruments, Other Financial Instruments and Derivative Commodity Instruments.

As of September 30, 2005, we did not participate in any derivative financial instruments or other financial and commodity instruments for which fair value disclosure would be required under SFAS No. 107. All of our investments are short-term money market accounts and bank deposits that are carried on our books at fair market value. Accordingly, we have no quantitative information concerning the market risk of participating in such investments.

Primary Market Risk Exposures

Our primary market risk exposures are in the areas of interest rate risk and foreign currency exchange rate risk. Our investment portfolio of cash equivalent and short-term investments is subject to interest rate fluctuations, but we believe this risk is immaterial due to the short-term nature of these investments. Our exposure to currency exchange rate fluctuations has been and is expected to continue to be modest due to the fact that the operations of our international subsidiary when it is active are almost exclusively conducted in their respective local currencies. Our international subsidiary is currently inactive and the impact of currency exchange rate movements on inter-company transactions was immaterial for the nine months ended September 30, 2005. International subsidiary operations, if resumed, will be translated into U.S. dollars and consolidated for reporting purposes. Currently, we do not engage in foreign currency hedging activities.

ITEM 4. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

Based on the evaluation of our disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended) as of September 30, 2005, each of Anna Chagnon, Chief Executive Officer, and James Dore, the Chief Financial Officer of the Company, have concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures were (1) effective to ensure that information required to be disclosed by us in this quarterly report on Form 10-Q was recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the Securities and Exchange Commission rules and forms and (2) designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed was accumulated and communicated to the Company's CEO and CFO to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

There were no changes in our internal control over financial reporting that occurred during the quarter ended September 30, 2005 that have materially affected or are reasonably likely to materially affect our internal controls over financial reporting.

Our management, including our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, does not expect that our disclosure controls and procedures or our internal controls will prevent all error and fraud. A control system, no matter how well conceived and operated, can provide only reasonable, not absolute, assurance that the objectives of the control system are met. Further, the design of a control system must reflect the fact that there are resource constraints, and the benefits of controls must be considered relative to their costs. Because of the inherent limitations in all control systems, no evaluation of controls can provide absolute assurance that all control issues and instances of fraud, if any, within the Company have been detected. Our CEO and CFO have determined that the disclosure controls and procedures are effective at the reasonable assurance level.

PART II OTHER INFORMATION

ITEM 1. LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

On June 24, 2003, Monotype Imaging Inc. (formerly Agfa Monotype Corporation) and International Typeface Corporation filed a complaint in the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois Eastern Division claiming that we, through our TrueDoc software, infringe trademarks and copyrights and violate the Digital Millennium Copyright Act. Judge Amy J. St. Eve of the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois Eastern Division ruled in our favor on all counts. In her opinion issued on July 12, 2005, the Court found that we were not liable under any claims of contributory infringement, contributory trademark infringement, or infringement under the Digital Millennium Copyright Act. Previously, on April 21, 2005, the Court held that we were not liable under claims for direct copyright or trademark infringement or for vicariously infringing Monotype Imaging, Inc.'s and International Typeface Corporation's copyrights. As a result of these two decisions, the Court entered judgment for Bitstream Inc. We have been notified that Monotype Imaging has filed a Notice of Appeal with the court.

From time to time, in addition to the infringement case identified above, we are subject to legal proceedings and claims in the ordinary course of business, including claims of infringement of third-party patents and other intellectual property rights, commercial, employment and other matters. In accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, we make a provision for a liability when it is both probable that a liability has been incurred and the amount of the loss can be reasonably estimated. This provision is reviewed at least quarterly. As of September 30, 2005, no liability has been recorded. Litigation is inherently unpredictable and it is possible that our financial position, cash flows, or results of operations could be affected in any particular period by the resolution of one or more of these contingencies or the costs involved in seeking the resolution of these contingencies.
