Consolidated Financial Results

April 1, 2014 – June 30, 2014

July 30, 2014

In preparing its consolidated financial information, ORIX Corporation and its subsidiaries have complied with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

These documents may contain forward-looking statements about expected future events and financial results that involve risks and uncertainties. Such statements are based on our current expectations and are subject to uncertainties and risks that could cause actual results to differ materially from those described in the forward-looking statements. Factors that could cause such a difference include, but are not limited to, those described under "Risk Factors" in the Company's annual report on Form 20-F filed with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission.

The Company believes that it will be considered a "passive foreign investment company" for United States Federal income tax purposes in the year to which these consolidated financial results relate and for the foreseeable future by reason of the composition of its assets and the nature of its income. A U.S. holder of the shares or ADSs of the Company is therefore subject to special rules generally intended to eliminate any benefits from the deferral of U.S. Federal income tax that a holder could derive from investing in a foreign corporation that does not distribute all of its earnings on a current basis. Investors should consult their tax advisors with respect to such rules, which are summarized in the Company's annual report.

Economic Environment

Steady growth in global economy continues due in part to improvement in the U.S. economy and recovery of the European economy despite some signs of weakness in China and other emerging economies.

In the United States, quantitative easing (QE3) is on a tapering trend but continues to maintain stable growth with recovery in the employment market, increasing housing demand, and an increase in consumer spending.

The European economy continues to be on the path of steady recovery against the backdrop of fiscal policies including monetary easing, even though it still carries downside risks such as decelerating growth.

In Asia, while China is in the process of shifting the emphasis of its economic policy away from high growth and toward stable growth, other emerging economies are expected to maintain high growth due in part to economic resurgence among developed countries.

The Japanese economy also continues to show signs of steady growth with a stable employment level, due in part to monetary easing by the Bank of Japan and various economic measures despite a temporary negative impact on consumer spending and housing investment by the consumption tax hike that went into effect in April 2014.

Overview of Business Performance (April 1, 2014 to June 30, 2014)

Total revenues for the three-month period ended June 30, 2014 (hereinafter, the first consolidated period) increased 59% to ¥437,743 million compared to ¥276,072 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year. Compared to the same period of the previous fiscal year, revenues from asset management and servicing increased due to the consolidation of Robeco Groep N.V. (hereinafter, Robeco) which was acquired on July 1, 2013, other operating revenues and real estate sales increased due to factors including the consolidation of DAIKYO INCORPORATED (hereinafter, DAIKYO) which was acquired on February 27, 2014, contributions from subsidiaries acquired as a part of our private equity investments, and growth in our environment and energy-related business. In addition, brokerage commissions and net gains on investment securities increased due to the sale of shares of Monex Group Inc. On the other hand, interest on loans and investment securities decreased compared to the same period of the previous fiscal year due to a decrease in the average balance of installment loans.

Total expenses increased 59% to ¥351,341 million compared to ¥221,042 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year. Costs of real estate sales, expenses from asset management and servicing, and other operating expenses increased in line with an increase in revenues.

Edgar Filing: ORIX CORP - Form 6-K

Selling, general and administrative expenses also increased due to an increase in consolidation of acquired companies and strong fee business in the United States. Meanwhile, interest expense decreased due to a decrease in the average balance of borrowings.

Gains on sales of subsidiaries and affiliates and liquidation losses, net increased compared to the same period of the previous fiscal year primarily due to the recognition of gain on sale of partial shares of STX Energy Co., Ltd. (presently GS E&R Corp., hereinafter, STX Energy).

Table of Contents

As a result of the foregoing, income before income taxes and discontinued operations for the first consolidated period increased 80% to ¥111,316 million compared to ¥61,928 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year, and net income attributable to ORIX Corporation shareholders increased 52% to ¥68,605 million compared to ¥45,007 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year.

Segment Information

Segment profits increased 63% to ¥106,155 million compared to ¥65,253 million during the same period of the previous fiscal year. The Overseas Business, Retail, and Real Estate segments made significant profit contributions and the Corporate Financial Services segment also displayed strong performance, but profits from the Investment and Operation segment decreased and profits from the Maintenance Leasing segment stayed flat compared to the same period of the previous fiscal year.

Segment information for the first consolidated period is as follows:

Corporate Financial Services Segment: Lending, leasing and fee business

		Three-month period ended June 30, 2013	Three-month period ended June 30, 2014	Change	Year on Year Change
Segment Profits	(millions of yen)	5,246	5,852	606	12%

Segment Assets	(millions of yen)	992,078	994,839	2,761	0%

In Japan, we are seeing a steady growth in capital expenditures and continued improvement in corporate revenues, despite a temporary negative impact on consumer spending and housing investment by the consumption tax hike that went into effect in April 2014. We are also seeing an increase in lending by the financial institutions to small and medium enterprises (SMEs) in addition to large corporations, and we anticipate an increase in corporate capital expenditure as companies take advantage of the favorable funding environment. Meanwhile, the competition in lending continues to intensify.

Installment loan revenues decreased in line with a decrease in the average balance of installment loans. On the other hand, direct financing lease revenues remained robust due to an increase in the average balance of direct financing leases. Segment profits increased compared to the same period of the previous fiscal year due to robust fee business including solar panel and life insurance sales to domestic SMEs.

Segment assets were flat compared to the end of the previous fiscal year with an increase in investment in securities offsetting a decrease in installment loans.

Maintenance Leasing Segment: Automobile leasing and rentals, car sharing and precision measuring equipment and IT-related equipment rentals and leasing

In the automobile leasing industry, the number of new auto leases is on a recovery trend against the backdrop of Japan's steady economic recovery, despite some temporary negative impact from the consumption tax hike that went into effect in April 2014. Furthermore, in the car rental industry, we are seeing a shift toward expanding truck rental locations to respond to the increasing construction demand.

Table of Contents

Operating lease revenues and direct financing lease revenues increased due to the steady expansion of assets in the automobile business, and selling, general and administrative expenses and costs of operating leases increased in line with an increase in revenues. Segment profits remained at the same level as the same period of the previous fiscal year as a result of an increase in profits driven by the asset growth offsetting a decrease in gains on sales of used cars.

Segment assets increased compared to the end of the previous fiscal year due to steady increases in investment in operating leases and investment in financing leases mainly in the automobile business.

Real Estate Segment: Real estate development, rental and financing; facility operation; REIT asset management; and real estate investment and advisory services

		Three-month period ended June 30, 2013	Three-month period ended June 30, 2014	Change	Year on Year Change

Segment Assets	(millions of yen)	962,404	916,060	(46,344)	(5%)

Office rents and vacancy rates in the Japanese office building market are continuing to show signs of improvement. In the J-REIT market, property acquisitions are increasing as a result of new stock exchange listings and capital raising activities through public offerings. We are also seeing sales of large real estates and rising sales prices due to increased competition among buyers.

Rental and interest revenues decreased due to a decrease in asset balance and real estate sales decreased in accordance with a decrease in the number of condominium units delivered mainly by ORIX Real Estate. On the other hand, gains on sales of real estate under operating leases increased. In addition, segment profits increased compared to the same period of the previous fiscal year due to decreases in losses from inventory valuation which are included in costs of real estate sales and write-downs of long-lived assets.

Segment assets decreased compared to the end of the previous fiscal year as a result of asset turnover centered on rental properties.

Investment and Operation Segment: Environment and energy-related business, principal investment, and loan servicing (asset recovery)

		Three-month period ended June 30, 2013	Three-month period ended June 30, 2014	Change	Year on Year Change

In the environment and energy-related business in Japan, there has been ongoing, active investment in the power generation business, such as mega-solar projects. In addition, investment targets are expanding beyond solar power generation projects to include wind and geothermal power generation projects. In the capital markets, the fiscal year ended March 31, 2014 marked the fourth consecutive year of increase in the number of initial public offerings and we are seeing a continuation of the favorable environment into this fiscal year. In addition, M&A activities are increasing on the back of recovery in corporate profitability.

Segment profits decreased compared to the same period of the previous fiscal year due to a decrease in installment loan revenues in the loan servicing business despite solid profit contributions from the investees in the principal investment business and the environment and energy-related business.

Segment assets were approximately at the same level as the end of the previous fiscal year due to an increase in assets in the environment and energy-related business, despite decreases in installment loans in the loan servicing business and DAIKYO's inventories.

Although the life insurance business is being affected by macro factors such as a decline in the population, demand for medical insurance is increasing. In the consumer finance sector, we are seeing an increase in loan demand which may be attributed to an improvement in consumer confidence in line with Japan's economic recovery.

Segment profits increased significantly compared to the same period of the previous fiscal year due to an increase in installment loan revenues in the banking business, an increase in insurance premium income as a result of an increase in the number of policies in force in the life insurance business and recognition of gain on sale of shares of Monex Group Inc.

Segment assets decreased compared to the end of the previous fiscal year due to a significant drop in investment in securities and installment loans that were held for investment purposes in the life insurance business, as well as the sale of Monex Group shares, despite a steady increase in assets in the banking business.

Overseas Business Segment: Leasing, lending, investment in bonds, investment banking, asset management and ship- and aircraft-related operations

In the United States, quantitative easing (QE3) is on a tapering trend but continues to maintain stable growth with recovery in the employment market, increasing housing demand, and an increase in consumer spending. Fee revenues in the United States increased in addition to an increase in asset management revenues as a result of the acquisition of Robeco on July 1, 2013. Furthermore, we recognized a gain on sale of partial shares of STX Energy, which prior to the sale of partial shares was our consolidated subsidiary. Segment profits increased significantly compared to the same period of the previous fiscal year despite an increase in selling, general, and administrative expenses due to an increase in revenues.

Edgar Filing: ORIX CORP - Form 6-K

Segment assets decreased compared to the end of the previous fiscal year. Installment loans and investment in securities increased in the United States while other operating assets decreased due to the sale of partial shares of STX Energy, which as a result of the sale became an equity method affiliate from a consolidated subsidiary of the company.

In addition to the stable profits from our existing business operations established thus far, as indicated below, we believe that there are new growth opportunities in all of our segments and we aim to grow profits by embracing these opportunities in the fiscal year ending March 31, 2015.

The Corporate Financial Services segment aims to further expand its customer base and increase small-sized quality assets by strengthening cooperation with the Group companies. At the same time, the segment will accelerate the Finance + Services strategy through the expansion of fee revenues by providing products and services that meet the customer needs including environment and energy related demands. Furthermore, a progress in government's growth strategy will open up opportunities in new areas, and in such circumstance, the segment will aim to actively embrace those opportunities.

The Maintenance Leasing segment aims to increase new business volume and expand high value-added services in the automobile business, and capture demands in growth areas and expand peripheral services in the rental business. The segment expects stable profits from its existing businesses, and at the same time, aims to further expand its market share and develop new markets in both automobile and rental businesses.

(3) Changes in Accounting Principles, Procedures and Disclosures

In April 2014, Accounting Standards Update 2014-08 ("Reporting Discontinued Operations and Disclosures of Disposals of Components of an Entity" ASC 205 ("Presentation of Financial Statements")) and ASC 360 ("Property, Plant, and Equipment") was issued. This Update requires an entity to report a disposal or a classification as held for sale of a component of an entity or a group of components of an entity in discontinued operations if it represents a strategic shift that has (or will have) a major effect on an entity's operations and financial results. The Company and its subsidiaries early adopted this Update on April 1, 2014.

In accordance with this Update, the Company and its subsidiaries report a disposal of a component or a group of components of the Company and its subsidiaries in discontinued operations if the disposal represents a strategic shift which has (or will have) a major effect on the company and its subsidiaries' operations and financial results when the component or group of components is disposed by sale or classified as held for sale on or after April 1, 2014. The adoption did not have a material effect on the Company and its subsidiaries' results of operations or financial position.

This Update does not apply to a disposal or a classification as held for sale of a component or a group of components of the Company and its subsidiaries which have previously been reported in the financial statements. Accordingly, during the three months ended June 30, 2014, the Company and its subsidiaries continue to report gains on sales and the results of operations of subsidiaries, business units, and certain rental properties, which was classified as held for sale at March 31, 2014, as income from discontinued operations in the accompanying consolidated statements of income in accordance with ASC 205-20 prior to the early adoption of the amendments.
