PART III NARRATIVE

State below in reasonable detail why Forms 10-K, 20-F, 11-K, 10-Q, 10-D, N-SAR, N-CSR, or the transition report or portion thereof, could not be filed within the prescribed time period.

As of March 1, 2018, the filing deadline for its Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2017, Bio-Rad Laboratories, Inc. (the Company) is unable to complete the filing of its Form 10-K without unreasonable effort or expense because the Company has not yet completed its assessment of the effectiveness of its internal control over financial reporting. In April 2017 the Company converted a substantial portion of its European operations to a new ERP system and business structure. During the quarterly period ended September 30, 2017, the Company identified and recorded adjustments to correct errors that related to the prior quarter resulting from data migration and system configuration control deficiencies. The Company disclosed that these control deficiencies represented a material weakness in its Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarterly period ended September 30, 2017. Since then, the Company has implemented enhanced controls and procedures designed to ensure accurate data migration and system configuration. When the Company completes that assessment, including the assessment of enhanced controls and procedures, KPMG LLP will complete its audit of the Company's assessment. The Company does not currently anticipate that its consolidated financial statements contained in the Form 10-K will differ materially from the fourth quarter and full year 2017 unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements reported in its earnings release furnished with the Form 8-K filed on February 27, 2018.

The Company anticipates that it will file its Form 10-K within the fifteen day grace period provided by Exchange Act Rule 12b-25.
