On October 27, 2018, the Company elected Jesse Goodman, M.D., as a Class I director, with a term expiring at the 2020 annual meeting of stockholders.

Dr. Goodman is currently a professor of medicine at Georgetown University, where he directs the Center on Medical Product Access, Safety and Stewardship (COMPASS). As an attending physician in infectious diseases, he also is an active clinician and educator. Additionally, he serves as an independent non-executive director for GlaxoSmithKline plc.; as president and trustee of the U.S. Pharmacopeial Convention; and on the Regulatory Working Group of the Coalition on Epidemic Preparedness Innovation (CEPI). Dr. Goodman was chief scientist at the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) from 2009 through 2014, during which he led preparations for and responses to major public health threats, including emerging infectious diseases, disasters and terrorism. He previously also served as the FDA's deputy commissioner for science and public health and as director of Center for Biologics Evaluation and Research (CBER). Dr. Goodman has a bachelor of arts in biology from Harvard University; earned a master's in public health from the University of Minnesota; and received his doctor of medicine from the Albert Einstein College of Medicine. He completed his residency and fellowship training at the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania and at the University of California at Los Angeles. This option vests as to 33 1/3% of the total award one year after the date of grant and thereafter in substantially equal quarterly installments during the three years following the grant date, subject to continued service through such date, and becomes exercisable in full upon the occurrence of a change in control of the Company.

Also in connection with his election to the Board, Dr. Goodman will enter into the Company's standard form of indemnification agreement, a copy of which was filed as Exhibit 10.6 to Amendment No. 3 to the Company's Registration Statement on Form S-1 (File No. 333-210689) filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on April 27, 2016.
