Section 8 - Other Events

Item 8.01 Other Events

On August 25, 2009, Camelot Entertainment Group, Inc. (the “Company”) entered into a non-binding Letter of Intent to acquire all of the outstanding stock of a post-production film studio located in the United States (the “Target Studio”). Pursuant to the Letter of Intent, the Company has negotiated a total purchase price of $8,749,155 to be paid as follows: (i) $4,287,086 in cash, and (ii) $4,462,069 in the Company’s preferred stock. Furthermore, the Company has agreed to provide warrants to purchase up to $1,000,000 of the Company’s common stock, at a purchase price equal to the 90 day average bid price of the Company’s common stock immediately following the closing of a definitive agreement. In addition, there is a provision for the current executives of the Target Studio to receive an employment agreement and remain with the Target Studio for a minimum of five years. Lastly, the Company agreed to enter into a profit sharing plan with the executives of the Target Studio. There can be no assurances that this transaction will be consummated under these terms or at all. There is no material relationship between the Company or its affiliates and any of the parties, other than with respect to the Letter of Intent.

On August 29, 2009, the Company entered into a non-binding Letter of Intent to acquire all of the outstanding stock of a film and television distribution company located in the United Kingdom (the “Target Distribution Company”). Pursuant to the Letter of Intent, the Company has negotiated a total purchase price of $8,500,000 to be paid as follows: (i) $4,165,000 in cash, and (ii) $4,335,000 in a class of the Company’s preferred stock, which shall receive a fixed annual dividend of 8%. Furthermore, the Company has agreed to provide warrants to purchase up to $1,000,000 of the Company’s common stock, at a purchase price equal to the 90 day average bid price of the Company’s common stock immediately following the closing of a definitive agreement. In addition, there is a provision for the current executives of the Target Distribution Company to receive an employment agreement and remain with the Target Distribution Company for a minimum of five years. Further, the Company agreed to enter into a profit sharing plan with the executives of the Target Distribution Company. Lastly, in part due to the required valuation of the Target Distribution Company’s film library, the Company agreed to provide a non-refundable deposit of £30,000 for legal and accounting costs upon execution of a definitive agreement, which shall be credited toward the total purchase price. There can be no assurances that this transaction will be consummated under these terms or at all. There is no material relationship between the Company or its affiliates and any of the parties, other than with respect to the Letter of Intent.

On September 27, 2009, the Company entered into a non-binding Letter of Intent to acquire the film library of an entertainment company located in the United States (the “Library”). Pursuant to the Letter of Intent, the Company has agreed to negotiate a total purchase price to be paid as follows: (i) 49% in cash, and (ii) 51% in class of the Company’s convertible preferred stock, which shall receive a fixed annual dividend of 8%. Furthermore, the Company has agreed to provide warrants to purchase up to $500,000 of the Company’s common stock, at a purchase price equal to the 90 day average bid price of the Company’s common stock immediately following the closing of a definitive agreement. Lastly, in part due to the required valuation of the Library, the Company agreed to provide a non-refundable deposit of $30,000 for legal and accounting costs upon execution of a definitive agreement, which shall be credited toward the total purchase price. There can be no assurances that this transaction will be consummated under these terms or at all. There is no material relationship between the Company or its affiliates and any of the parties, other than with respect to the Letter of Intent.
