- On May 19, Standards & Poor's attributed the credit ratings in international scale in foreign currency and domestic currency BB+/B (long and short term) to Bradesco. These ratings are one notch above the sovereign credit rating in foreign currency attributed to Brazil.
- On October 27, Moody's attributed to Bradesco, by means of the Grand Cayman branch, the investment grade classification for foreign currency long-term securities.

Asset Quality

In September 2006, AA-C rated operations accounted for 92.3% of our Loan Portfolio (92.4% in June 2006 and 93.1% in September 2005), evidencing the good quality of our assets. In this same period, the Financial System recorded an 89.6% ratio (89.5% in 2Q06 and 89.7% in 9M05), while private banks presented ratios of 91.3%, 91.5% and 92.2%, respectively.

The coverage ratio, which compares the total balance of Allowance for Doubtful Accounts to the Loan Portfolio balance overdue by more than 59 days, which does not accrue interest, stood at 159.8%, a percentage regarded as very comfortable, pointing out that Bradesco did not proceed to year to date in any securitization of overdue operations, which could eventually improve these ratios.

In the year, the R$ 1.486 million increase is in line with the 22.3% growth of the Loan Portfolio, highlighting the strong loan demand by individuals, of 27.0% .

Contingent Liabilities

In compliance with CVM Resolution #489, Bradesco records as labor and civil contingent liabilities all losses deemed as probable, which includes the supplementary provision for labor proceedings, recorded in this quarter, in the amount of R$ 309 million. When fiscal contingencies are taken into account, Bradesco does not have any proceeding deemed as probable losses. Proceedings classified as possible losses, in the amount of R$ 100 million, which do not require recording in the books, are disclosed in note 18. In addition, Bradesco is party in legal proceedings related to tax liabilities, named Legal Liabilities, the legality or constitutionality of which are being contested. Regardless of the evaluation of the probability of success, the total amounts related to these liabilities are fully recognized in the financial statements.

In the next chart we highlight the balance of such provisions:

Thus, the Capital Adequacy Ratio (BIS) stood at 16.2% in consolidated figures. Considering that the minimum ratio established in Brazil is 11%. Bradesco's potential to expand its Loan Portfolio reached R$ 92.7 billion, i.e. more than the double of the current loan portfolio.

Multimarket Funds

The Multimarket category (which searches for long-term profitability through investments in different asset classes, such as fixed income, equities and derivatives) reached net funding of around R$ 23 billion until September 2006, representing a 19.1% share of the total Investment Funds in Brazil. Both the reduction of interest rates and investors' higher disposition to take risks contributed to this result. Aware of the growth of this market segment, BRAM created a specific Department, comprised of a team fully focused on the management of this Fund category.

Adjusted Net Interest Income

For a better analysis, the Net Interest Income is presented adjusted by the effects of the sale of investments and hedge of equity abroad, as follows:

	R$ million
	9M06	9M05	Variation	3Q06	2Q06	Variation
Reported NII	15,073	12,852	2,221	4,852	4,961	(109)

% Adjusted over Average Assets	8.9%	8.3%	-	8.5%	9.1%	-

In the year, the R$2.848 billion Adjusted Net Interest Income growth was due to:

- R$2.266 billion increase in interest income operations, mainly driven by the expansion of loan operations; and
- R$582 million increase in non-interest income, mainly as a result of higher Securities and Treasury gains.

In the quarter, the R$84 million reduction was originated by:

- R$209 million increase in interest income operations, in line with the higher business volumes; and
- R$293 million decrease in non-interest income, mainly as a result of lower Securities and Treasury gains, related to the negative mark-to-market adjustment of the derivative financial instruments used to hedge the market risk of loan operations in Brazil.

Fee Income

The increase of this income was due to:

- increase in volumes;
- client base growth;
- the success of the segmentation process; and
- the consolidation of American Express Brasil;

In the year, the R$1.135 billion growth is mainly due to the following fees:

- Card Income of R$288 million, which includes the R$116 million American Express Brasil consolidation held in 3Q06;
- Checking Account - R$268 million;
- Loan Operations - R$191 million;
- Asset Management - R$163 million;
- Collection - R$47 million;
- Consortium - R$41 million; and
- Tax Payment and Collection - R$36 million

In the quarter, the R$252 million increase was mainly originated by the following fees:

- Card Income of R$160 million, which includes the R$116 million American Express Brasil consolidation held in 3Q06;
- Checking Account - R$22 million;
- Asset management - R$21 million; and
- Loan Operations - R$14 million;

Personnel Expenses

In the year, the R$ 522 million variation was due to:

- the increase in payroll resulting from the 2006 collective bargaining agreement (3.5%) which affected expenses in R$ 87 million: R$ 14 million of labor liabilities, R$ 63 million of supplementary profit sharing (PLR) and R$ 10 million of payroll increase;
- higher expenses with provision for labor proceedings of R$ 103 million;
- BEC/Fidelity/American Express Brasil consolidation of R$ 92 million;
- higher profit sharing expenses of R$ 59 million; and
- the increase in payroll resulting from the 2005 collective bargaining agreement (6%), benefits and other, of R$ 180 million.

In the quarter, the R$ 115 million variation was a result of:

- the 2006 collective bargaining agreement (3.5%), which affected expenses in R$ 87 million: R$ 14 million of labor liabilities, R$ 63 million of supplementary PLR and R$ 10 million of payroll increase; and
- higher expenses due to American Express Brasil consolidation of R$ 36 million.

Note: It does not include the constitution of supplementary provision for labor proceedings previously mentioned, in the amount of R$309 million.

Other Administrative Expenses

In the year, the R$ 496 million growth was mostly due to:

- the increase in the client base and in the volume of businesses;
- Banco BEC/American Express Brasil consolidation in 2006; and
- the investments in the improvement and optimization of the IT platform.

In the quarter, the R$ 132 million increase was due to:

- American Express Brasil consolidation of R$ 75 million;
- the increase in third-party services expenses of R$ 39 million;

Insurance, Private Pension Plans and Certificated Savings Plans

Bradesco Seguros e Previdência posted Net Income of R$1.591 billion (+29.9% in relation to 9M05). In the quarterly comparison, the result of R$ 550 million remained stable when compared to the previous quarter.

Until September 2006 the client base grew by 5.3% compared to September 2005, totaling 17.748 million clients.

Premiums from Private Pension Plans and Savings Bonds amounted to R$13.4 billion in September against R$11.7 billion reached in the same period of 2005, a 14.5% increase, representing a 25% market share (August/2006 market data).

Technical Provisions totaled R$45.7 billion, representing a 37.2% share of all Brazilian market Technical Provisions, according to Susep's figures (August/06 market data).

Combined Ratio:

The improvement in the combined ratio is due to:

- 1) The reduction in the claims of the Auto/RCF segment - resulting from the profile implementation, which completed one and a half year as well as in the Basic Line, due to the expressive growth of the residential insurance (with low claims ratios). Referring to the Health segment, the drop in claims resulted from the improved efficiency of operating controls/measures.
- 2) The reduction of administrative costs in the insurance group as a whole, which in nominal terms, are currently in the same levels presented in 2003.

Adjustments made in the nine-month period:

- (1) Partial result from derivatives used for hedge effect of equity abroad - which in terms of Net Income simply annuls the fiscal and tax effect (IR/CS and PIS/COFINS) of this hedge strategy - totaling R$580 million and R$280 million in the periods of 2005 and 2006, respectively;
- (2) Extraordinary provision in the amount of R$327 million was recorded in the Individual Health portfolio, to bring to the same level the premiums for insurance holders over 60 years of age whose health insurance plans are prior to Law 9,656/98 and for benefits related to fully settled plans whose holders are still entitled to their benefits (planos remidos), which was offset by a positive result verified in the partial sale of our R$327 million stake in Belgo-Mineira in the period of 2005;
- (3) Supplementary constitution of provisions for labor proceedings in the amount of R$309 million, in compliance with CVM Resolution #489, carried out in the 3rd quarter of 2006;
- (4) Activation of fiscal credits of previous periods in the amount of R$204 million; and
