MANAGEMENT REPORT

The management of Vivo Participações S.A. (Vivo Part), the company that comprises the assets of the Telefónica-Portugal Telecom Joint Venture, in compliance with legal and statutory provisions, hereby submits the Management Report and Financial Statements of the company, with the Report of the Independent Auditors and of the Statutory Audit Council, for the fiscal year ended on December 31, 2007.

1 – Political and Economic Situation

In 2007, Brazil's foreign accounts showed new improvements in relation to the previous year. The financial flows into the country showed a significant increase with direct foreign investments being estimated at US$ 36 billion and the portfolio investments (long term bonuses and Brazilian companies' stocks) of approximately US$ 34.5 billion, both figures being historical records. The trade balance remained at a robust level with a surplus of US$ 40 billion. These good results added up to an increase of US$ 95 billion in the country's international reserves which have now reached a figure around US$ 181 billion. This has strengthened the Brazilian economic capacity to face financial volatility in the international market.

As a result of the export growth and accumulation of international reserves, the country's foreign solvency indicators continued to improve, further raising its international credit rating. The Emerging Markets Bond Index Plus (EMBI+), which had closed 2006 with 192 basis points, dropped all over the first half of 2007 and reached 139 basis points, the lowest level since the beginning of this measurement in 1994. However, it rose again during the second half of the year as a result of the risk aversion in the international financial market and closed 2007 at 221 basis points. During the year, the main international credit rating agencies (Moodys, S&P and Fitch) raised the position of Brazil which is now just one level below the investment grade.

With the strengthening of the country's foreign trade balance and the upgraded credit rating, the Brazilian currency continued being appreciated, a trend that had started in 2004. The average exchange rate in 2007 was R$/US$ 1.95 against R$/US$ 2.18 in 2006. That is, in nominal terms, the Brazilian currency appreciation reached 10.5%, an increase that benefited consumers with a cut-down in price of imported goods and stimulated imports. This currency evaluation not only reduced the cost of inputs and capital goods for the industrial segment but also helped complement the domestic supply of consumer goods, thus preventing inflationary pressures that, otherwise, would result from the added demand expansion. The broad consumer price index (IPCA) increased by 4.46% in 2007, a figure close to the Central Bank's established goal of 4.50%. This index variation was higher than that of 2006, which reached 3.14%, as a result of an increase in food prices, reflecting the international commodities price increases, which started to affect the market in the second half of 2007.

The favorable evolution of inflation enabled the Central Bank to continue cutting down the basic interest rate, a process started in second half of 2004. In 2007, this rate (Selic) was cut down by 200 basis points, closing the period at 11.25% a year.

This monetary policy loosening has imparted vigor to the country's economic activities. In the labor market, the unemployment rate closed 2007 at 7.4% against 8.4% at the end of 2006. The workers' average income actually increased by 3.2% in 2007, with a more intense generation of jobs and the formalization of existing informal jobs. The wage mass had an actual increase of 6.3% in the same comparison. Retail sales, which had been following an increasing trend since mid-year 2003 increased by 9.7% in the first 11 months of 2007, in a comparison with the same period in 2006. The credit expansion and its economic stimulation should also be pointed out. The credit share in the GDP jumped from 30.7% at the end of 2006 to 34.6% at the end of 2007.

The domestic demand has also been driven by the positive evolution of the national income distribution. According the Brazilian Institute for Geography and Statistics (IBGE), this rate has been improving for the eighth year in a row. The income of lower classes has been increasing proportionally more than that of the upper classes. It should be noted that in the lowest economic level segments, the elasticity of demand for telephone services is greater with respect to the income level increases.

All these elements help explain the country's economic dynamism. In the third quarter of 2007, Brazil's Gross Domestic Product growth reached 5.7% over the third quarter of 2006. The families' consumption rate was even greater - with a 6.03% increase - this has been reflected on the service industry expansion. In the third quarter of 2007, the Gross Domestic Product of the service industry increased by 4.8% with regard to the same period in 2006.

The World Cell Phone Market

The world mobile phone market follows its own path of evolution. The total number of mobile phone users was 2.17 billion in 2005, increased to 2.70 billion in 2006 and reached 3.12 billion in the third quarter of 2007. According to estimates by Informa Telecoms & Media Research Company in November 2007, more than 3.3 billion people already owned a cell phone, the world penetration reaching 50%.

The greatest demand continues being from expanding markets, such as India, China, African and Latin American countries.

Till the third quarter of 2007, Brazil ranked 5th in the number of cell phones in the world, following China, the USA, India and Russia, in that order.

The 3G market - with 73.4 million cell phones in 2005 and 154 million in 2006 - reached 241 million in the third quarter of 2007. In Europe, the replacement of the GSM by the WCDMA/HSDPA technology has accelerated. In the first quarter of 2007, GSM showed a negative growth for the first time, the 3G (WCDMA) accounting for more than 100% of the net additions. The larger variety of models available and lower prices are the alleged factors for driving this trend.

The Cell Phone Market in Brazil

* Referring to 3Q07, source: Teleco

The year 2007 continued to feature a considerable growth of the Brazilian mobile phone business, particularly because of the strong competitive pressure among the operators, which led to a drop in the entrance barrier and the service prices.

In December 2007, Brazil had 120,98 million users of cell phones and a density of 63.59 handsets/100 inhabitants, a figure 21% higher than that of December 2006, which showed 99.91 million and a penetration rate of 10.3% higher than in 2006 (53.24%). In 2007, 21 million cell phones were added to that number.

Out of the total of cell phone lines in Brazil, the prepaid segment has an 80.66% share. Regarding the technology used, GSM cell phone users account for 78.46% of the total number.

At the end of 2007, the main mobile phone operators in Brazil purchased the 3G frequencies. The expectation is that a behavior in this case will be similar to the one of developed markets, such as Europe and some Asian countries. Driven by the diversity of solutions and applications provided by access to data on the 3G cell phone service, the demand for data services and added value are expected to grow significantly in 2008.

Regulatory Environment

The highlights of 2007 were: the continuation of controlling actions by Anatel; the issue of Public Inquiries and Resolutions by the Agency, with regulation changes focused on enhancing competition and consuming rights; and the holding of public biddings for L-band radio frequencies, remainders of the D and E bands and the M band, and the F, G, I and J bands.

An outstanding inquiry is Public Inquiry No. 799 whose period for submitting manifestations ended in September 2007. It proposes the implementation by Anatel of a methodology to determine the Weighted Average Cost of Capital (WACC), applicable to each Business Area of the telecom service operators.

Among the Resolutions published by Anatel in 2007, the following should be highlighted:

a) Resolution 460 related to the implementation of the numeric portability, which will allow the users to move from a service operator – fixed-line or mobile operator - keeping their own phone number unchanged.

b) Resolution No. 477 related to the new Mobile Personal Service (MPS), which introduced several regulatory obligations.

c) Resolutions No. 480 and 483 related to the establishment of dates for submission of documents on the cost calculation model for network usage fees introduced in 2005.

In September 2007, Anatel held a public bidding for the 1900 MHz band (L band) and other MPS bands (remainders of D and E bands, M/1800 MHz band and 900 and 1800 MHz extension bands). Vivo purchased all L-band lots covering the whole country, except for the municipalities of Londrina and Tamarana in the state of Paraná, and the five states of the Northern Region.

On December 7, 2007, Vivo signed the Instruments of Authorization for the Mobile Personal Service (MPS) and L-band radio frequencies. Vivo also signed three MPS Instruments of Authorization for geographical areas where Vivo has no operation. They grant Vivo the right to use radio frequencies for 15 years, renewable once for the same period of time. At the same time, eight Statements of Rights of Use of L-band radio frequencies (1900 MHz) were signed, just for the remaining time of the current frequency on 800 MHz for the coverage area where Vivo is already operating. These instruments do not cover the two lots in the State of Minas Gerais awarded to Vivo, which shall be signed later. The resulting bid amount reached R$ 50.35 million, an amount which does not include the Minas Gerais lots which amount to approximately R$ 19.66 million.

In December 2007, Anatel held a bidding for the standard 3G (third generation) bands (1900 – 2100 MHz) I, G, J (with a 10+10 MHz band width) and F (15 + 15 MHz) in the 11 areas covered by the Mobile Personal Service (MPS). Vivo was awarded all the lots in which it was interested, that is, those of the J-band. It should be pointed out that the J-band is adjacent to the L-band and the operator awarded this band in the bidding would have the prerogative of requesting the realignment of the L-band with the 3G standard. Regarding the two lots that corresponded to the State of Minas Gerais (area originally covered by Telemig Celular and CTBC Telecom), Telemig Celular was the J-band winner. Vivo shall pay the total amount of R$ 1.147 billion for the purchased lots with a 92.5% premium over the minimum price established. Telemig Celular shall pay approximately R$ 53.5 million - a 36.4% premium over the minimum prices established for the two J-band lots in Minas Gerais.

On November 8, 2007, Anatel published Act No. 68.401 of November 6 in the Federal Official Gazette, making official the prior authorization to transfer the indirect control of Telemig Celular to Vivo. The agency's decision covers only Telemig Celular's share assignment.

One of the important events in 2007 was also the fact that the service operators continued to mutually agree on the remuneration for use of mobile networks (VU-M). In July 2007, Anatel certified the adjusted rates of VC-1, VC-2 and VC-3 calls of local and long distance operators. As a result, there was a VU-M rate adjustment for all fixed-line to mobile phone calls covering said Public Switched Telephone Service (PSTS) operators and all MPS operators.

2 – Marketing Strategy

In the context of a heated economy and growth in the cell phone industry, the competition among operators remained tough in 2007 with aggressive efforts to win high-value customers and new market layers. The segmented acquisition of customers and the search for value generation through profitability have also characterized the main actions by Vivo and its competitors.

Vivo's marketing strategy has also been based on projects aimed at increasing competitiveness and the search for excellence in the provision of services as a way to ensure effectiveness in customer management and business results. These principles led to great achievements in 2007:

- The implementation of the GSM network allowed the broadening and increased attractiveness of the cell phone model portfolio and offer aggressiveness, besides strengthening the domestic and international roaming services provided by Vivo.
- Investments in network to ensure that Vivo may be in a position to offer the best connection service quality among all the Brazilian operators.
- Fighting cloning fraud by reducing the number of occurrences to practically zero, generating greater satisfaction for customers and lower costs for the operator.
- Billing quality with the system unification and launch of a new invoice, more simple and clear to the consumer.
- Aggressive customer loyalty programs and, consequently, churn control with continued actions of relationship and encouraged change of cell phone models.
- Customer profitability through actions that encouraged the use of services and migration to the new plan portfolio.
- The segmented acquisition of premium customers with aggressive offers.
- Capillary increase in the number of recharge points by means of partnerships with new business establishments improving channel competitiveness.
- Convergence of offers and actions to encourage the long distance dialing code "15" by increasing offer competitiveness and generating more interconnection income.

The year 2007 was also marked by the company's new positioning in the market based on the service quality concept. The new "Quality Signal" signature adopted by the company attempted to highlight the better connection differential offered by Vivo. This was accompanied by aggressive offers and the market's most economical and flexible plans.

As a result, Vivo acquired 4 million additional customers in 2007, achieving an excellent commercial performance and increasing its market share on the main celebration dates: Mother's Day and Christmas. The Company kept its market leadership as shown in the rising trend of the high share and the churn reduction to the lowest level in the market.

Corporate Segment

The channel expansion and diversification strategy adopted in the previous years placed Vivo Empresas in a leadership position in the Brazilian corporate market in Vivo's service area and in the customer acquisition share. Net earnings in 2007 increased by 142% with regard to 2006, a 16% increase in the number of cell phone lines at the end of the year (a volume of net additions 25.3% higher and volume of churn 15.8% lower).

Having consolidated this objective, Vivo Empresas targeted their efforts at further improving their customer relationship by means of actions target at increasing satisfaction:

- The launch of the new plan and service portfolio.
- Expansion and diversification of solutions and data devices
- Trying and Tasting Corporate Solutions
- Launch of a corporate service provider at a Vivo's own shop
- Expansion of customer relationship and service channels

The advent of the GSM coverage in parallel with the CDMA network further increased the wide range of data solutions offered to customers. The sales focus on PDAs and Smartphones, combining voice and mobile e-mail services showed a high ARPU per customer and a 65% increase of these devices during the year. The launch of modems with USB Interface (Pen USB) resulted in a sales increase of over 80% for mobile Internet solutions over the CDMA 1x and CDMA/EV-DO network.

Providing the customer with the experience of using and getting to know these products is so much important as creating new solutions and making them available. This concept led to the creation of the Vivo Empresas Experience, a space designed only for current and potential customers interact and taste the various corporate solutions.

Besides an increase in the number of the company's own shops, the number of customers served by the Relationship Consulting Channel (group responsible for serving a specific and exclusive portfolio of customers) has also increased and a customer service island for dealing with and correcting problems immediately has been implemented (First Call Resolution - Call Stars). Moreover, the VOL EMPRESAS service channel via the Internet has been given new functionalities.

With all these actions, besides reinforcing its leadership position in the corporate market and fulfilling its vocation to launch innovative products and services, Vivo Empresas restate its commitment to achieving maximum satisfaction for every one of its corporate clients, regardless of their sizes or market segment.

Vivo Brand

With less than four years on the market in 2007, Vivo was once again awarded a prize for being the most valued mobile telephony brand in Brazil according to a study carried out by the British consulting firm Brand Finance, reaching the expressive value of R$ 2.25 billion.

This achievement was again possible thanks to the evolution movement involving the brand new positioning in 2007.

With the company's proposal to provide quality services, the new positioning was supported by four pillars - Better Connection, Relationship, Price and Innovation - and focused on the differentiation with relevance by choosing important attributes from the consumer's point of view.

The new "Vivo. Quality Signal" signature with a creative idea much valued in surveys, reinforced the operator's differential in coverage area and signal quality, but also reiterated the assurance and reliability given to the customer for having chosen Vivo.

The Vivo brand was awarded outstanding prizes in 2007, including the ADVB's Top de Marketing, Marketing Best, About Prize for Integrated Communication, Intangibles Prize and the Modern Consumer Prize. Vivo has also been chosen for the fourth year in a row as Brazil's most reliable brand in the cell phone category with the approval of the Brazilian Institute of Public Opinion and Statistics (IBOPE), keeping a leadership position in their study and increasing to 8 percentile points its advantage over the second ranked.

Plans and Campaigns

Media Campaigns

Based on a strategy whose efforts were laid on what is more important to the customer - talk where and when desired, be well served and be fairly billed - the company's media campaigns in 2007 were successful in strengthening the brand reputation. With a communication language based on credibility and commitment, the service quality position permeated all the company's campaigns that reached the public.

It was also around this topic that the company developed retail campaigns to generate more communication consistency. The first of these campaigns was held on Mother's Day, an important business date for the Brazilian retail market. At the time, Vivo launched a new communication format, which was different in its category by using a transparent and easy-to-understand language.

The year's sales campaigns were supported by a communication combining the offer of a portfolio of prepaid and postpaid plans with the launch of the new generation, exclusive and innovative cell phone models. Several of these models were covered by segmented campaigns focused on high-value customer or aimed at the young public, according to their characteristics, or shipped with exclusive contents.

The prepaid customers also received recognition and were valued in those campaigns. In August, a specific communication format was launched specifically for this public with simple and direct messages focused on benefits. At the initial stage, the campaign brought the various structural advantages that Vivo offers to its customers and the "1 minute = R$1 bonus" promotion was launched.

In the corporate segment, the communication strategy adopted for 2007 sought to add synergy with positioning and consistency, using easy-to-understand messages involving speed, practicality and connectivity concepts. As a result, the communication priorities adopted by Vivo Empresas were the corporate solutions and the launches of new multifunctional devices.

The regional peculiarities were also contemplated by the communication campaigns. Campaigns produced specially for the states of Paraná and Santa Catarina were developed in the 4th quarter and dealt with attributes such as connection quality, coverage, structural and promotional pricing.

Events and Sponsorships

During the XV Pan-American Games, a multi-sport event held in Rio de Janeiro, Vivo launched an international roaming campaign using airport media. A big movie picture project was also developed on Copacabana beach: "Vivo Cinema Panamericano", a film show with the presence of a public from various segments with special focus on partners from the third sector.

Regionally, cinema was also the target of initiatives such as supporting the Gramado Cinema Festival and the opening of the Vivo Gávea (a movie theater complex in Rio), besides traveling outdoor cinema projects providing free entertainment to several Brazilian towns.

Another outstanding initiative, in line with the company's strategy to reinforce the brand and promote relations with different publics, is the co-sponsorship of the Cirque du Soleil's Alegria Show in Brazil lasting through mid 2008. Other significant sponsorships were the international attractions of the "Jazz Divas" series which brought Lauren Hill and the "Police Show" to stage at the Maracanã Stadium.

The presence of Vivo in the musical arena was also the result of the continued partnership with the Vivo Rio show house, a place of intense musical presentations during 2007.

Offers, Loyalty and Profitability 2007

The offers in 2007 were aimed at a selective growth, particularly in segments with a greater potential of value generation, searching for an improvement in the price perception and strengthening the company's market leadership. In addition, most of the retail sales campaigns in 2007 were based on segmentation, benefiting customers with a greater value in the granting of minute-based progressive bonus according to their plans or recharge amounts paid. They were provided with an exclusive portfolio gathering together innovation, differentiated contents and multimedia devices. A multiple format was adopted to meet the requirements of the various segments and drivers developed by Vivo.

During the whole year, Vivo's campaigns privileged the benefits granted in promotions with the creation of attractive offers. At the same time, they favored the development of customers' consumption habits with incentives and discounts.

Edgar Filing: Vivo Participacoes S.A. - Form 6-K

The main benefits granted were intranet local call bonuses, promotional fees for intranet calls (local and long distance calls using Telefonica's CSP (15) and selective reduction in the handset price, among others.

The first promotion in the year was "Por Conta da Vivo", an offer to leverage the sales increase in the postpaid premium segment: granting of a bonus of up to 2,500 minutes for local calls to any Vivo subscriber. The communication theme suggested the conversion of the minute benefit into time. The promotional film pointed out the importance that time has in the life of people, stating that Vivo gives more time for people to talk free.

In the same period, the "Up to a thousand reais" promotional campaign aimed at making the prepaid service more profitable and stimulated the recharge purchase by offering bonuses up to R$1,000 to talk to any Vivo subscriber for up to 6 months in local calls.

Campaigns developed for Vivo Empresas, such as the promotion of the "service package" offer highlighted the productivity and mobility provided to the customers, allowing them to have access to documents, send and receive e-mails or have access to the Internet wherever they are. Another campaign launched Vivo Flash, a service providing mobile access to the Internet in more than 1,900 cities through a portable wireless modem connected to a desktop computer. It is an excellent alternative of access to the Internet in places not served by other technologies and an innovative solution to those in search of convenience and practicality.

It is worth emphasizing the various launches of handsets and equipment - cell phones, smartphones, boards and modems available for the GSM and CDMA technologies. The large number of innovations launched helped reinforce the company's image of communication focused on corporate solutions by means of innumerable multifunctional devices.

March was a remarkable month for Vivo's communication area with the launch of a campaign for brand repositioning based on the understanding of what the customer perceives as quality. With the "Vivo. Quality Signal" signature, the institutional campaign was developed in three steps. The first step aimed at providing the consumers with a rendering of accounts on Vivo's initiatives in its first four years of life. It was aired as a teaser, for the first time, on March 11 during the Consumer's Week.

The campaign film stars were Vivo's employees. Besides creating a great internal motivation climate, the "Antenas" film was created to show the customers the commitment of the people who work for Vivo to improve the quality of the services provided. The second step of the campaign, at the end of March, further reinforced the new brand positioning.

During the months of April and May, opening the third phase of the brand repositioning campaign, Mother's Day, a date with great relevance for the retail sales market, Vivo presented its "Talk for Free" promotional campaign with results aimed at being better in what matters, geared to the interests of the customers (customer centric) with a focus on the services provided and making the benefits available to the customer base and the new customers. With the expression "low cost cell phones with better connection quality", Vivo assumed the hard sell line in a campaign fully committed to the new positioning:

- Keep the commitment of providing better quality with best opportunities.
- Simplify the offers and enhance the impact of the "Talk for Free" campaign
- Act before and after the dates, always taking actions before.
- Highlight the offers with an aggressive and differentiated campaign.

The "Talk for Free" campaign (up to 2,500 minutes for Vivo Postpaid and R$ 1,000 in recharges for Vivo Prepaid) was designed to leverage the acquisition of new customers and foster customer loyalty with the replacement and purchase of new handsets. This benefit of granting postpaid and prepaid bonus was used to make the volume of received bonus comply with the profile of each individual customer. These bonuses were valid for local VIVO-to-VIVO calls.

On Brazil's Valentine Day, the main focus was on the 180 Vivo Choice Plan campaign, offering 1000 additional minutes every month to talk to another Vivo's subscriber by choosing the "Favorite" advantage. Since the prepaid and postpaid offer was kept, the "Talk for Free with a Better Connection Quality" approach continued and permeated all the campaign pieces and their deployment.

The return of the Vivo Choice Plan campaign reinforced the communication of the structural benefits of Vivo's prepaid and postpaid plans and made the "Favorite" advantage known to the public. By choosing this advantage available at the time, after the Vivo's 180 Choice Plan was implemented, customers would win 1000 minutes every month to talk to a preferred Vivo's number.

In July, on Father's Day, the "Zero Centavo" promotional campaign started. Vivo continued its previous promotional campaign by offering bonuses for postpaid and prepaid plan subscribers. Because of the good results achieved, this offer remained in force for the remaining months of the year, including Christmas time.

The "Come to Vivo" campaign started at the end of August and was designed to capture customers from competitors. To bring high-value customers to its subscribers' base, Vivo bet on an extremely aggressive offer: the free-of-charge handsets. It was the first time that Vivo dared to offer the market free cell phone handsets through a mass media campaign. This campaign was aired during the whole period that preceded the Christmas campaign, that is, it was a retail campaign in the intercrop period.

In September, Vivo held a promotional campaign focused on the benefits of the Scored Point Program, a customer loyalty program for Vivo's postpaid plans in which the calls made are converted into points. When reaching a score of 15,000 points, customers can change their handsets. Depending on the model chosen, the new cell phone handset can be delivered free of charge. More than 2 million customers have already made their replacements since this program was launched.

Towards this convergence, Vivo held the "Vivo 3 in 1" campaign in October, driven by Vivo's 90 Choice Plan, which made up a combo with local minutes for cell phones, fixed-line phones and access to the Internet. The customer could choose from three ways to have access to the Internet: from a desktop computer, from a notebook or the smartphone at promotional prices.

Vivo closed the year with a campaign to promote its aggressive Christmas offers, granted bonus to allow its customers to make local calls at zero centavo, either to fixed-line phones or Vivo's cell phones, at any time, for six months. Vivo made available to its customers a portfolio with handsets starting at R$ 10 for contracted Vivo's Choice 90 postpaid plans. New customers, changes of handsets or activation of new lines had a free-of-charge share in the offer. The customers who were already included in the installed base could participate by paying the contracting fee. For all the situations, the customers were required to contract the service through the *9000 number using their own cell phone.

To summarize, most of the year 2007 was marked particularly by the maintenance of the offered bonuses through a progressive table in postpaid and prepaid plan segments. This was possible because the results, both from customer acquisitions and recharges, were very positive in the various campaigns, such as Mother's Day, Valentine's Day, Father's Day and Christmas. In addition, this promotion has a great synergy capacity for customer acquisition, loyalty and profitability, reducing communication costs and trade marketing by simplifying IT developments and improving the customer's memory with regard to the promotion. The prepaid segment results showed a 21.8% net recharge increase with regard to the year 2006. Among all the actions aired during the year, the "Receive and Win" campaign was a strong contribution to these results. It consisted of a R$ 1 bonus offered to the prepaid plan customer for each minute spent in any cell phone or fixed-line phone call received.

3 – Business Performance

Vivo Part is the holding company that controls the operator Vivo S.A., a wholly owned subsidiary authorized to provide personal mobile telephone services in the states of São Paulo, Paraná, Santa Catarina, Rio de Janeiro, Espírito Santo, Bahia, Sergipe, Rio Grande do Sul, Acre, Amazonas, Amapá, Goiás, Maranhão, Mato Grosso, Mato Grosso do Sul, Pará, Rondônia, Roraima, Tocantins and in the Federal District.

Operating Performance

At the end of 2007, VIVO boasted 33,484 thousand customers and a 36.7% market share. It maintained its lead position in its area of operation.

The figures below show Vivo's operating performance:

The ARPU (average revenue per user) of R$30.2 posted in 2007 was 11.0% higher than in 2006. Total MOU (average monthly minutes of use by customer) recorded in 2007 was 76 minutes.

SAC (subscriber acquisition cost) was R$108 in 2007, down 8.5% when compared to 2006, which reported R$ 118. The decrease is due to a reduction in subsidies, commissions and advertising, despite an intense business activity due to the implementation of the GSM technology.

Infrastructure – Network

In 2007, VIVO continued to implement the GSM/EDGE network in its entire area of operation. In the end of the year, it had 622 municipalities covered in São Paulo, 357 in Rio Grande do Sul, 414 in Paraná and Santa Catarina, 170 in Rio de Janeiro and Espírito Santo, 247 in Bahia and Sergipe and 508 in the Center-West and North regions, totaling 2,318 municipalities that have this technology available to them.

On the other hand, its CDMA network was available in 2,321 municipalities in December 2007: 622 in the state of São Paulo; 414 in the states of Paraná and Santa Catarina; 247 in the states of Bahia and Sergipe; plus another 521 in the Center-West and North Regions; 170 in the states of Rio de Janeiro and Espírito Santo and 347 in the state of Rio Grande do Sul. In addition, at the end of 2007, EV-DO technology was available in capital and main cities within the VIVO concession area, such as: São Paulo, Rio de Janeiro, Salvador, Vitória, Porto Alegre, Brasília, Curitiba, Florianópolis, Campinas, and Campos do Jordão.

At December 31, 2007, VIVO's mobile telephone network, which worked on digital TDMA, CDMA, GSM/EDGE and analog technologies, covered 64.9% of the municipalities, or 92.0% of the population living in its concession area.

During the year, VIVO enhanced the capacity of its GSM network, in order to meet traffic growth. At the same time, it assured excellent results in the Anatel network indicators.

Distribution network

On December 31, 2007, VIVO boasted a total 296 of its own sales outlets, being 294 stores and kiosks, 1 national virtual store and 1 national telemarketing service. The own stores and kiosks were distributed as follows: 89 in São Paulo; 49 in the states of Rio de Janeiro and Espírito Santo; 32 in the state of Rio Grande do Sul; 35 in the states of Paraná and Santa Catarina; 25 in the states of Bahia and Sergipe; and 64 in the states that make up the Center-West and North Regions. The Virtual Store, which operates 24 hours/day in all the States in which Vivo operates, started to operate nationwide in October, reaching the last 7 States where it was not yet present (Acre, Amapá, Amazonas, Maranhão, Pará, Rondônia and Roraima). In the other states, the Virtual Store operated all year long. The 446% growth in sales through the Virtual Store in 2007, as compared to the previous year, is worthy of mention.

Adding the foregoing to its 7,962 points of its efficient accredited dealers network – retail and resale – Vivo maintained its lead position, with a total 8,258 points of sale.

Card recharging for prepaid plan subscribers was available at 365,798 locations, which included its own stores, accredited agents, lottery shops, physical and virtual card distributors such as small shops, drugstores, newspaper stands, book stores, bakeries, gas stations, bars and restaurants. Electronic recharging is also provided by several banks.

Information Technology

With the conclusion of the systems consolidation cycle in the first quarter of 2007, the company was provided with a new set of efficient solutions, which enables a most simplified and at the same time strong model of operation. This has significantly contributed for the availability and performance indexes recorded along the year.

One of the most important achievements in the year was the conclusion of the implementation of GSM technology, a strategic project for the company and developed within record time, despite its complexity. More than 15 work teams were dedicated to prepare specifications, developments, tests and production implementation.

Operating excellence, with attainment of goals above the availability and performance indicators for Vivo's main business solutions. Such performance lead VIVO to be ranked in first place in "Information Technology Category" in a research known as "Cuadro de Mando" within Telefonica Group.

Productivity increase and people qualification initiatives, which allowed 10% reduction in management structure and reduced dependence and third-party risks under Vivo's management .

Actions focusing transparency and IT governance, which generated evaluation of 153 control objectives and performance of several action plans for their implementation, were essential for compliance with Sarbanes-Oxley Act within the scope of information technology. Additionally, Vivo started the 1st Risk Diagnosis within IT environment.

Fraud and Cloning

Year 2007 represented the consolidation of fraud reduction, contributing to Vivo's results on a sustainable basis. In this period, cloning fraud was reduced by 96.51%, representing a history record for the matter. Subscription fraud detection processes have significantly improved, ensuring quick compliance with the pre-established goals and increased assertiveness of the activity.

The struggle against identity fraud has been also successful. The growth trend recorded in the beginning of 2007 was reverted, and Vivo closed the year with 88.04% reduction in relation to March of the same period.

4 – Customer Services

Right in the beginning of 2007, Vivo concluded the unification of assistance systems project. That is, all the regional offices of the company started working with the same systems, thus reducing training, control and maintenance costs.

The electronic channels showed outstanding figures in 2007. Vivo's Portal (www.vivo.com.br) recorded approximately 84 million visits and 176 thousand sales were made through the Virtual Store (www.vivo.com.br/lojavirtual), in addition to 65 million on-line transactions, of which more than 2 million were to corporate customers. A monthly volume 50 thousand e-mails was treated through our Fale Conosco channel. The self-service terminals available in the own stores recorded more than 10 million transactions.

At Vivo's Relationship Center, the most important project in the year was the structuring of the new customer assistance model, designed according to a segmentation strategy, in order to meet customers' profitability. Thus, Vivo's employees engaged in customer assistance were provided with differentiated knowledge, career plan, more attractive salary and enhanced autonomy for clearing up front line problems.

This enhanced autonomy led to 70% reduction in the processes going through the Back Office. This is translated into lower treatment cost and quicker customer assistance, with positive reflexes on customer satisfaction.

In order to ensure quality of the customer assistance process as a whole, something more is required than merely the Assistance Center working harmoniously. The company's processes must also meet the customer's needs. With such purpose, the Vivo Client program was expanded, by searching alternatives to minimize impacts arising out of technical failures or weak internal processes. Thus, the company gained agility to make more efficient decisions and actions.

The quality actions had a positive reflex on Anatel. Vivo, which started the year as the operator in 2nd place in terms of receipt of claims, ended 2007 in the 6th place, with a reduction of 36% in the number of claims.

5 – Economic and Financial Performance

Operating Revenue

The net operating revenue of Vivo Part grew 14.2%, increasing to R$ 12,492.5 million in 2007 against R$ 10,936.7 million in 2006, due, mainly, to the increase in the service revenue from services as a result of customer base growth.

The net service operating revenue grew 16.0%, totaling R$ 11,089.3 million in 2007, against R$ 9,560.2 in 2006. Such growth reflects the increase in all the items, as a result of the increase in the customer base in 2007, as well as the offer of new products and services.

The net handset revenue in 2007 was R$ 1,403.2 million, a 1.9% increase in relation to 2006, which recorded R$ 1,376.5 million. Such increase is related to the business activity in the year, although minimized by the implementation of the GSM technology, which provides better commercial agreements and consequently a reduction in the average price of handsets.

Operating Costs and Expenses

The operating costs increased by 12.2%, totaling R$ 9,359.7 million in 2007, mainly due to the increase in interconnection expenses resulting from the end of the partial Bill & Keep system in July 2006, offset by a reduction in selling costs, especially in the Provision for Bad Debtors – PDD, which recorded 49.2% reduction.

EBITDA

Edgar Filing: Vivo Participacoes S.A. - Form 6-K

The EBITDA (earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization) was R$ 3,132.8 million, 20.7% higher than in 2006. The EBITDA margin of 25.1% on the net operating revenue is 1.4 percentile point higher than the margin recorded in 2006. Such growth was a result of the increase in the company's revenues due to the increase in the customer base, as well as a strict cost control, despite the intense commercial activity recorded in the 4th quarter. In December, Vivo regained its lead position in terms of net additions share. Such evolution was also a result of maintaining the same level of cost of goods sold, due to the sales of GSM handsets, which are less expensive.

EBITDA is calculated as follows:

6 – Capital Expenditures – CAPEX

In its constant search for providing its customers with satisfaction and high-quality services, VIVO has not saved efforts, concentrating most of its investments in enhancing its GSM network capacity. Thus, support was ensured to the commercial action of data and voice traffic, allowing the company, also, to obtain a leadership position in the achievement of Anatel's quality goals.

In parallel, the unification of the systems in Bahia and Sergipe states was concluded, allowing cost reductions and time-to-market gains for launching of new products and services. Additionally, in order to obtain a better experience in customer assistance, with more simple, standardized and integrated processes, Vivo started the New Front-Office project, which monitors the business processes and makes common services available to all channels, thus optimizing the infrastructure in all points of contact with customers. Especially in the direct channels (Own Stores), the company continued the layout modernization and strengthened its initiative to standardize the indirect channels (dealers), with a view to broaden the capillarity of its physical channels and reinforce the presence of Vivo brand.

Still aligned to the quality and customer satisfaction strategy, the company acquired the right to provide a nationwide coverage (in the Northeast region and in Minas Gerais state), through the acquisition of a license to use L Band (1.9 GHz frequency) and the purchase of Telemig Celular.

Total R$ 1,919 million were invested during the year. Such total includes investment in GSM/EDGE network and in the current CDMA/EV-DO network.

9 – Research and Development

Being ahead of the market trends and requirements is of paramount importance for supporting a business in the technology industry. Investments in research and development make it possible to get in touch with the emerging technologies that will be impacting the future of mobile communication systems. It is an effort to envisage applications that will be part of our day-to-day activities in the years to come.

As the leading company in its market segment, Vivo has been investing in research and development programs with universities and research centers since 2001. During these years of work, several projects were implemented, enabling Vivo's technical team to develop and use innovative technologies to ensure the company's competitive differential. Vivo currently has agreements with the Federal University of Rio Grande do Sul (UFRGS) and the Pontifical Catholic University of Rio Grande do Sul (PUCRS). Such agreements allow VIVO laboratories to be created at the university premises, where new technology research and development projects are performed, providing support/stimulation to the company's technological innovation processes. Another such agreement was entered into towards the end of 2004 with the Research and Development Center (CPqD) in Campinas (SP) for assessments and studies of new technologies.

These initiatives contribute to the human and professional development of the employees involved in the process by allowing the development of interaction activities with new work groups, ideas and knowledge. In addition, Vivo has been further increasing its relations with the Brazilian society and scientific community by means of publications and the development of new technologies. As a result, innovative tools and processes have been generated and are helping the company keep its technological leadership.

Among its employees, Vivo has researchers, engineers and technicians to ensure its development and innovation process. These professionals are working in such areas as IT, Product Development and Network Technology.

10 – Human Resources

People, to Vivo, are the significant factor in the development of its strategies towards the accomplishment of differentiated results. Ultimately, they are responsible for the success of its products at the time of their purchase and use, for the correct invoicing and for the quality of customer assistance.

Talent Attraction and Retention

In order to retain talents and provide new career opportunities, the company implemented a formal in-house opportunities program, having recorded more than 1,000 vacancies filled in 2007. Vivo has also increased its trainee program, having provided access of university students to the organization, via web application, having formally offered a formation program for these young people, with training and on-line evaluation.

Professional Qualification and Development

The highly competitive market and the need to keep leadership have continued to demand efforts and investments from the company in providing continuous development for its professionals. In 2007, there were 1,711 employees trained in programs designed to develop leadership abilities, strengthen the internal culture, focusing on customer, and technical qualification.

Private Pension Plans

VivoPrev plan, approved in August 2007, was developed with the purpose of gathering all the qualities of the current pension plans. It was prepared as from a modern concept of Complementary Pension Plan, and is designed to meet the expectancies of different profiles of Vivo employees.

The plan was initially launched in the states of Paraná and Santa Catarina, which were not yet provided with such benefit, and following was offered to recently hired employees who had not yet chosen a complementary pension plan.

With VivoPrev, Vivo shows its concern with the employees' welfare, thus enhancing even more the already differentiated package of benefits offered by the company.

In-Company Environment

In 2007, Vivo improved the internal communication of results and intensified the actions for stimulating the involvement of its employees in the company's challenges. The customer-oriented principle and the achievement of results were the focus of attention for everyone. One of the key initiatives was the "Vivo para o Cliente" Program, which allowed employees who are not in contact with the "front line" to become aware of the daily reality of customer assistance at stores, call centers and corporate customers. In addition to inputting suggestions for improvement, this program enabled the participants to change their own attitudes and decisions which impact customers. In the end of the Program, participants and executive officers discuss their experience and suggestions.

The production of different corporate campaigns and quarter meetings by videoconference, in which the financial results are presented at firsthand to the employees, and the main external campaigns, are other trumps that have been contributed for the employees not only become aware of and committed to, but also to be proud of working in the company

In order to strengthen the internal culture of awareness of the company's business and commitment on the part of the employees with professional updating and self-development, Vivo launched "Vivo Mais", an interactive portal which stimulates the employees to become informed and updated on company's business issues, interact by taking part in communities and chats, rewarding the participants with points to be exchanged for prizes.

Labor Staff

The total labor count in the end of 2007 was 5,600, against 5,896 in December 2006. Such reduction was mainly due to the centralization of some activities and optimization of the company's processes.

The distribution per activity is as follows:

Area of Activity	2007	2006	% var
Technical and Operations	1,755	1,865	-5.9%
Marketing and Sales	1,957	2,167	-9.7%
Customer Assistance	308	382	-19.4%
Financial and Administrative Support	1,580	1,482	6.6%
TOTAL	5,600	5,896	-5.0%

Adhesion to the Private Pension Plans represented 64.12% of the total labor count, which means 3,591 workers (December 2007).

11 – Socio-environmental Responsibility

With new services geared to visually handicapped people and the production of Braille materials and audio books, Vivo has been advancing in inclusion activities. During the "Eu Vivo Cinema Pan-Americano", an event held on Ipanema Beach (RJ) during the Pan-American Games, Vivo promoted the Inclusive Night. The film "The Year My Parents Went on Vacation" was shown with audio description to visually impaired people with the cooperation of volunteers trained inside the company. Portuguese subtitles were also provided for hearing-impaired people.

In July, the presentation by ballet dancer Mikail Baryshnikov in Brazil was sponsored by Vivo. The company renewed its sponsorship of the Fernanda Bianchin Ballet Association for the Blind, an organization dedicated to the professional education of visually impaired ballet dancers in Brazil.

In September, Vivo ranked second in the first edition of the 2007 Senses Prize Award in the Honorable Mention category. This prize has highlighted the operator's actions related to the social inclusion of visually impaired people. These actions have been developed by the Vivo Institute with the Vivo Volunteer Program. The Senses Prize is awarded by the Association for Valuing and Promoting People with Disabilities (AVAPE), the Sentidos Magazine and Record TV Network. It is also supported by the HSBC Bank.

Combining social inclusion and the environment, Vivo produced and delivered to the Environment Departments of 17 Brazilian states and the Federal District copies of the Chart of the Land in Braille and in the audio book format. A total of 43 meetings were held by Vivo to promote relations with vice-governors, mayors, secretaries of state and municipal environmental departments, representatives of the Brazilian Institute for the Environment (IBAMA), other secretaries, the Brazilian Army, state house of representatives and municipal councils, besides 18 institutions for visually impaired people and 6 non-governmental institutions dealing with environmental issues.

13 – Independent Audit

The policy of Vivo Participações S.A. towards its independent auditors as regards the rendering of services not related to external audit is substantiated on principles that protect auditor's independence. Such principles are based on the fact that the auditor should not audit his own work, nor exercise management functions or act as a legal counsel for his customer.

In fiscal year 2007, Vivo Participações S.A. assigned to these auditors other works that were not directly related to the auditing of the financial statements, the amount of which did not exceed 5% of the total fees related to the independent audit services.

The independence of these auditors is ensured to the extent that the referred works were carried out by a staff acting independently in relation to the group in charge of the external audit works. Decision making about the adopted procedures was established by the company's Management.

Policies and Procedures:

The Company's and its controlled companies' policies prohibit their independent auditors to be retained for rendering services that entail conflict of interest or loss of objectiveness thereof. Additionally, any relationship between the Company (or its Directors/Officers) and the independent auditors causing loss of independence is forbidden.

14 – Outlooks and Future Plans

From a macroeconomic viewpoint, it is anticipated that Brazilian economy in 2008 will record a slightly lower or in the same level as the growth recorded in 2007, mainly due to the obscure international scenario (influenced by the mortgage crisis in the USA), offset by an increase in employment level and internal demand.

As far as cellular telephony is concerned, it is estimated that the growth will, once again, exceed the average growth of the economy. Among some highlights for 2008 which may generate changes in the market scenario is the possibility of mergers/acquisitions, beginning of the telephone number portability, continued strong competition scenario, beginning of 3G networks with the new radiofrequencies acquired at the last ANATEL bidding process in 2007, continuance of the focus on the data business, aiming at increasing the ARPU, search for synergies and scale economies, customer retention and fidelity campaigns and actions, in addition to convergent offers among fixed telephony, mobile telephony, data and media services.

Within this context, the Company intends to keep its leadership position on the Brazilian market, enhancing its actions towards achieving nationwide coverage, stimulating its growth, attempting to provide differentiated services marked by quality and excellence.

Current Taxes

At December 31, 2007, the noncurrent amount of R$168,850 (R$151,131 in 2006) of the long term liability refers to ICMS - Programa Paraná Mais Emprego (a program to increase the number of jobs) resulting from an agreement with the state of Paraná involving the postponement of the ICMS payment. This agreement establishes that ICMS payment falls due always in the forty-ninth month after that on which ICMS was determined.

Legal Liabilities - CVM Resolution 489/05

This includes the taxes that fall within the scope of Resolution No. 489 as of October 3, 2005, issued by the Brazilian Securities Commission (CVM), approved by IBRACON (Brazilian Institute of Independent Auditors) rule called NPC (Rules and Accounting Pronouncements) No. 22.

For financial statement purposes the amounts of judicial deposits of said taxes, if applicable, were offset against taxes, fees and mandatory contributions payable.

a) PIS and COFINS

Vivo S.A. in the state of São Paulo was assessed (lawsuit No. 19515,000,700/2003-97) for having offset COFINS, in January and February 2000, against credits derived from the excess of 1/3 of COFINS paid in 1999, after being offset against CSLL. Conservatively, management maintained the amount of R$24,671 on the accounts as of December 31, 2007 and 2006, having made an escrow deposit for the same amount.

Law N°9,718/98

On November 27, 1998, calculation of PIS and COFINS was amended by Law No. 9,718, which: (i) increased the COFINS rate from 2% to 3%; (ii) authorized deduction of up to 1/3 of the COFINS amount from the amount of CSLL and (iii) indirectly increased the COFINS and PIS due by the subsidiary, by ordering the inclusion of revenue in excess of billing in the calculation bases.

On November 9, 2005, the Plenary Session of the Federal Supreme Court took a position in respect of the unconstitutionality of the changes in the calculation bases of contributions to PIS and COFINS introduced by Law No. 9,718/98, which had been the object of innumerable lawsuits brought by taxpayers in general and by the parent company and its subsidiary.

In evaluating Extraordinary Appeals No. 357,950, No. 390,840, No. 358,273 and No. 346,084, it declared the unconstitutionality of paragraph 1, article 3 of the above-mentioned Law, which ruled that these contributions would be due not only on billing, but on “all income received by the corporate entity, irrespective of the type of activity exercised and the accounting classification used for the income”.

Due to the changes introduced by Laws No. 10,637/02 and No. 10,833/03, the subsidiary started to include income in excess of billing in the PIS and COFINS calculation bases.

Thus, the Company maintains accrued the relative values to exceeding income to the invoicing, argued judicially. On November 30, 2007, a final decision was issued related to one of the cases in discussion (Recurso Extraordinário No. 567,584 – Vivo in the state of Rio de Janeiro), resulting the reversion of the provision totaling R$52,109. At December 31, 2007 an amount of R$9,969 (R$58,511 in 2006) was still recorded on the Company’s books, having made escrow deposits of R$2,403.

b) CIDE

It refers to administrative and judicial discussion in order to avoid the taxation of CIDE on remittances of funds abroad, related to the technology transfer agreements, licensing of trademarks and software, etc. Conservatively, management maintained the amount of R$70,342 (R$55,466 in 2006) recorded as of December 31, 2007, having made escrow deposits amounting to R$44,345 (R$37,866 in 2006).

c) Other taxes, rates and contributions

On December 31, 2007, the subsidiary maintained the amount of R$3,250 (R$3,055 as of December 31, 2006) recorded, relative the files of legal documents of infraction of (i) ISS on movable asset rental services, support

c) ISS

c.1) ISS on Tariff for Use of the Mobile Network

On the understanding that assignment of the use of the telecommunications networks constitutes a communications service subject to ICMS, and not rental of movable assets, Vivo S.A. in the state of Bahia and Vivo S.A. in the state of Rio Grande do Sul were assessed by their respective municipalities, which are demanding payment of ISS on the tariff for use of the mobile network (TUM). On December 31, 2007, the amount involved is R$109,561 (R$102,614 in 2006).

c.2) ISS on Supplemental Service.

As of December 31, 2007, Vivo S.A. in the states of Amazonas, Mato Grosso, Mato Grosso do Sul, Paraná, Rio de Janeiro, Rio Grande do Sul, Roraima, Espírito Santo and São Paulo maintains discussions related to the ISS, amounting to R$34,386 (R$18,048 as of December 31, 2006), whose main object are: i) ISS on supplemental services of telecommunications, value added to the telecommunications, advertising, qualification, identification of calls and signature in telecommunications; ii) no retention of the ISS on consultant services provided by Telefónica International (TISA) to the Company .

Vivo S.A. in the state of Rio de Janeiro received tax assessments amounting to R$154,474, as of December 31, 2007 (R$210,449 in 2006), in respect of: i) the use of part of the negative CSLL (federal social contribution on income) calculation base determined by the Company in 1997, originated from a partial spin-off; ii) alleged underpayment of IRPJ (income tax) and CSLL, due to the fact that the inspectors did not accept the deductibility of certain expenses; iii) alleged underpayment of IRRF (withholding tax) on overseas remittances and iv) changes to the IRPJ and CSLL calculation bases resulting from the reduction in the Company's declared tax loss. The discussions above are in the administrative court.

e) IRRF, IOF and PIS

In May of 2007, the Company was mentioned in tax foreclosures totaling R$22,364, as of December 31, 2007, since tax authorities have not homologated (approved) the compensation of the negative balance of IRPJ (income tax) for the fiscal year 2000. The DRF – Delegacia da Receita Federal (Regional Brazilian Internal Revenue Service) did not approve some expenditures included in the Company's income tax return, therefore, cancelled the credit balance of IRPJ used for offset and still caused the accumulation of debt balance. Decision of first judicial instance is pending.

f) IRPJ

The Company assumed the assessments received by its subsidiary "TLE" amounting R$5,908 as of December 31, 2007 (R$5,438 in 2006) charged on underpayment, arising from the excess paid to FINOR, FINAN or FUNRES (tax incentives in Brazil), as calculated during the review of the Company's income tax return - excess of investment in tax incentives. Decision of second judicial instance is pending.

g) PIS, IRPJ and CSLL

In September of 2007, Vivo S.A. in the state of Pará filed a lawsuit aiming to cancel the several federal taxes payable on behalf of one of the merged companies called Norte Brasil Telecom S.A. These taxes were activated in the SIEF system (one of the Brazilian Internal Revenue Service systems) due to information provided in specific compensation tax returns (DCOMP – Declaração de Compensação and PER/DCOMP – Declaração de Compensação, which is sent electronically), which were not homologated by Secretaria da Receita Federal do Brasil (Brazilian Internal Revenue Service), totaling R$14,607, as of December 31, 2007. The discussion is pending for conclusion in the second judicial instance.

h) FUST

Through Precedent No. 7, of December 15, 2005, ANATEL expressed its understanding that: (i) revenues to be passed on to telecommunications service providers as remuneration for connection and for the use of network resources, among others, may not be excluded from the FUST calculation base; and (ii) revenues received from telecommunications service providers as remuneration for connection and for the use of network resources, among others, may not be excluded from the calculation base for contributions to FUST.

Since the second part of the Precedent is not in accordance with the provisions of Law No. 9,998, of August 17, 2000, article 6, sole paragraph, the subsidiary filed a writ of mandamus challenging the legality of this requirement, and obtained a favorable judgement in the first instance.

At December 31, 2007 the amount notified by ANATEL is of R$131,953 (R$64,772 as of December 31, 2006).

i) FUNTTTEL

The subsidiary petitioned mandamus directly to the Managing Chairman of the board of the FUNTTTEL and the Temporary Secretary of the Ministry of Communications in order to assure its right to calculate and to pay the contributions to FUNTTTEL, in the terms of Law No. 10,052, as of November 28, 2000, without the inclusion of amounts received as transfers, entitled as interconnection and use of the integrant resources of its network, as expressed in article 6, paragraph 4 of Decree n. 3,737, as of January 30, 2001. The Company obtained favorable judicial decision related to this issue. On December 31, 2007 the amount involved is R$68,249.

j) FISTEL

Vivo S.A. in the state of Rio de Janeiro and Vivo S.A. in the state of Distrito Federal hold two authorizations granted by the Brazilian Government through SMP (Personal Mobile Service), through the Authorization Document No. 013/2002: one to operate the Personal Mobile Service for an indeterminate period, and the other to use the radio frequency on a primary basis for the remaining term of the first license, renewable for a further 15 years.

In the case of Vivo S.A. in the states of Rio de Janeiro and Distrito Federal, the licenses for the remaining period (15 years) for use of the radio frequencies required to provide the Personal Mobile Service (SMP) have expired and procedures to extend them have been put in activity. However, in order to obtain the license documents with an appropriate validity date for the extension (a right already recognized and granted by Act No. 54,324, of November 28, 2005), the Companies were faced with the requirement, in their view uncalled for, to pay a further Installation Inspection Fee (TFI) for all their mobile and fixed stations and radio links.

The demand for the TFI, totaling R$148,888 for Vivo S.A. in the state of Rio de Janeiro and R$37,133 for Vivo S.A. in the state of Distrito Federal (R$134,924 and R$33,144 as of December 31, 2006, respectively), is due to ANATEL's interpretation that article 9, item III, of Resolution No. 255 applies in this case, so that the extension would constitute a taxable event for TFI. We do not, however, consider this interpretation of the law correct, and have, therefore, filed an administrative challenge. A new requirement appeared on December 20, 2007 against Vivo S.A. in the state of Rio Grande do Sul, had, equally, to the renewal of its license of use of stations. For Vivo S.A. (RS) the value of the TFI requirement is R$95,957, on December 31, 2007, which was object of administrative impugnation.

k) IRPJ and CSLL

Vivo S.A. in the state of Rio Grande do Sul was subject to a tax assessment relating to the collection of alleged IRPJ and CSLL debts of R$283,911, of December 31, 2007 (R$270,080 in 2006), for the allegedly undue amortization of the goodwill on acquisition of the interests of Companhia Riograndense de Telecomunicações (CRT) in fiscal years 1997 and 1998. Such requirement is pending of judgment in the administrative court.
