News Release    Presseinformation*Qimonda announces pricing of convertible notes offering

Munich, February 7, 2008    Qimonda Finance LLC, a wholly owned subsidiary of Qimonda AG, announced today the pricing of its Senior Unsecured Convertible Notes due 2013 (the Notes ) in the aggregate principal amount of USD 217.6 million. Investor demand enabled Qimonda to increase the size of the offering of Notes so that they are convertible into a total of 30 million American Depositary Shares (ADSs) from the initially planned 25 million ADSs. The conversion price was fixed at USD 7.25 for each ADS, corresponding to a conversion premium of 35% above the reference share price of USD 5.37, subject to adjustments in certain circumstances. The Notes will pay interest semi-annually at a rate of 6.75% per annum. In addition, Qimonda Finance granted the underwriters an option to purchase up to an additional USD 30.4 million aggregate principal amount of the Notes to cover over-allotments, if any. Application is expected to be made for the Notes to be listed on the Open Market of the Frankfurt Stock Exchange. The transaction is expected to close on February 13, 2008, subject to the satisfaction of closing conditions. Concurrently with this transaction, Infineon Technologies AG, Qimonda's majority shareholder, entered into a share lending agreement with an affiliate of Credit Suisse, pursuant to which Infineon has agreed to lend Qimonda ADSs to the affiliate. Under the share lending agreement, the share borrower has sold 17.5 million of those ADSs in a registered public offering at a price per share of USD 4.97 to facilitate investors' hedges of their positions in the Notes. The affiliate of Credit Suisse will receive all of the proceeds from the sale of the borrowed ADSs; Qimonda will not receive any of the proceeds from these sales.
