Cinergy and Duke Energy file agreement to resolve merger review in Kentucky

CINCINNATI Cinergy and Duke Energy today filed with the Kentucky Public Service Commission (PSC) a proposal to resolve all issues related to the Commission's review of the companies' planned merger.

The agreement, which was reached with interested parties to the proceeding, including the Attorney General of Kentucky and the Kroger Company, has yet to be considered by the PSC. Key elements of the agreement include:

$7.6 million merger savings rate credit. Cinergy/ULH&P will credit to its gas and electric customers in Northern Kentucky a total of $7.6 million over a five-year period following the closing of the merger. Electric customers will receive a credit of $1.3 million and gas customers $183,000 in each of the five years.

Profit-sharing for off-system power sales. Cinergy/ULH&P will share profits from off-system sales; in 2006, the first $1.45 million of sales profits will be guaranteed to Cinergy/ULH&P customers.

Merger consistent with public interest. The agreement stipulates that the merger is consistent with the public interest, and the parties encourage the Commission to approve the planned combination. The parties also agree, and request the Commission to find, that the new Duke Energy is fit to own and operate ULH&P.

Edgar Filing: Duke Energy Holding Corp. - Form 425

This agreement demonstrates that the merger of Duke and Cinergy will have value for all of our stakeholders, including our customers in Northern Kentucky, said Greg Ficke, president of The Union Light, Heat and Power Co., Cinergy's Kentucky operating company. The parties worked together constructively to complete this agreement for the Commission to consider.

Also as part of the agreement, Cinergy/ULH&P provided a list of merger commitments designed to protect its customers from adverse impacts in retail customer service, customer satisfaction and reliability in achieving merger savings.

As noted in previous filings with the PSC, retail rates will not be impacted by the costs associated with the new Duke Energy acquiring Cinergy stock or any premium paid in the acquisition.

ULH&P serves approximately 145,000 customers in six Northern Kentucky counties and is an affiliate of Cinergy Corp. (NYSE:CIN), which has a balanced, integrated portfolio consisting of two core businesses: regulated operations and commercial businesses. Cinergy's regulated public utilities in Ohio, Indiana, and Kentucky serve 1.5 million electric customers and about 500,000 gas customers. In addition, its Indiana regulated company owns 7,000 megawatts of generation. Cinergy's competitive commercial businesses have 6,300 megawatts of generating capacity with a profitable balance of stable existing customer portfolios, new customer origination, marketing and trading, and industrial-site cogeneration. Cinergy's integrated businesses make it a Midwest leader in providing both low-cost generation and reliable electric and gas service.

Duke Energy is a diversified energy company with a portfolio of natural gas and electric businesses, both regulated and unregulated, and an affiliated real estate company. Duke Energy supplies, delivers and processes energy for customers in the Americas. Headquartered in Charlotte, N.C., Duke Energy is a Fortune 500 company traded on the New York Stock Exchange under the symbol DUK.
