NOTE 1. Basis of Presentation

The accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles for interim financial statements and with the instructions to Form 10-Q and Article 10 of Regulation S-X. Accordingly, they do not include all of the information and footnotes required by generally accepted accounting principles for complete financial statements. In the opinion of management, all adjustments (consisting of normal recurring accruals) considered necessary for a fair presentation have been included. Operating results for the three- and six-month periods ended October 31, 2001 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the year ended April 30, 2002.

The balance sheet at April 30, 2001 has been derived from the audited financial statements at that date but does not include all the information and footnotes required by generally accepted accounting principles for complete financial statements.

For further information, refer to the consolidated financial statements and footnotes thereto included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended April 30, 2001.

NOTE 2. Inventories

The classification of inventories was as follows (in thousands):

	October 31, 2001	April 30, 2001

NOTE 3. FY 2001 Restructuring and Other Special Charges

In fiscal 2001, the Company implemented plans to reduce worldwide employment, discontinue product lines, and consolidate facilities as part of its overall strategic initiative to reduce costs. For further information, refer to the consolidated financial statements and footnotes thereto included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended April 30, 2001.

The following table displays a roll forward from April 30, 2001 to October 31, 2001 of the fiscal 2001 accruals established ($ in millions):

NOTE 4. Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets - Adoption of Statement No. 142

In July 2001, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 142 "Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets," which establishes financial accounting and reporting for acquired goodwill and other intangible assets and supersedes APB Opinion No. 17, "Intangible Assets." The Company early adopted SFAS No. 142 on May 1, 2001, the beginning of its fiscal year. SFAS No. 142 requires that goodwill and intangible assets that have indefinite useful lives not be amortized but, instead, tested at least annually for impairment. Accordingly, the Company ceased amortization of all goodwill, which is its only intangible asset with an indefinite useful life, on May 1, 2001. Intangible assets that have finite useful lives, consisting primarily of patents, continue to be amortized over their useful lives.

The standard also requires that goodwill be tested for impairment annually. In the year of adoption, the standard required a transitional goodwill impairment evaluation, which was a two-step process. The first step was a screen for whether there was an indication that goodwill was impaired as of May 1, 2001. To do this, the Company identified its reporting units and determined the carrying value of each by assigning the Company's assets and liabilities, including existing goodwill, to them as of May 1, 2001. The Company then determined the fair value of each reporting unit by using a combination of present value and multiple of earnings valuation techniques and compared it to the reporting unit's carrying value. As of October 31, 2001, the Company completed this first step, which indicated that goodwill recorded in the Ophthalmic Lens Processing and Sign Making and Specialty Graphics segment was impaired as of May 1, 2001.

In the second step, the Company compared the implied fair value of the affected reporting unit's goodwill to its carrying value to measure the amount of impairment. The fair value of goodwill was determined by allocating the reporting unit's fair value to all of its assets and liabilities in a manner similar to a purchase price allocation in accordance with SFAS No. 141 "Business Combinations." As of October 31, 2001, the Company completed this second step and measured and recognized a transitional impairment loss of $134.3 million as a cumulative effect of a change in accounting principle in its statement of earnings.

The circumstances leading to the goodwill impairment in the Ophthalmic Lens Processing segment, which amounted to $20.7 million, included softness in end sales of prescription optical lenses, consolidation in both the retail and wholesale segments of the ophthalmic industry, and global economic weakness for that segment's capital equipment products. These negative industry and economic trends had lowered the Ophthalmic Lens Processing segment's operating profits and cash flows over the last two fiscal years and the current year earnings forecast does not reflect improvement. The fair value used to determine the impairment was based on a strategic review conducted by the Company in last year's fourth quarter, which included a possible sale, merger, or partnership with another business.

Edgar Filing: GERBER SCIENTIFIC INC - Form 10-Q

The circumstances leading to the goodwill impairments for the European reporting units of the Sign Making and Specialty Graphics segment included an increase in competition for that segment's aftermarket supplies and weaker demand for sign making capital equipment caused by worsening global economic trends. These circumstances caused lower than expected operating profits and cash flows and are evidence that initial growth expectations assumed when the company was acquired have not materialized. The fair value used to determine the impairment loss in the Sign Making and Specialty Graphics segment, which amounted to $113.6 million, was based on a combination of earnings multiples and discounted cash flow valuation techniques.

The following table reflects the Company's comparative net earnings (loss) before the cumulative effect of accounting change and goodwill amortization under SFAS No. 142:

NOTE 5. Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities - Adoption of Statement No. 133

In June 1998, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 133, "Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities," subsequently amended by SFAS No. 137 and SFAS No. 138 (as amended, hereafter referred to as SFAS No. 133), which the Company adopted effective May 1, 2001. Under SFAS No. 133, all derivative instruments are recognized in the balance sheet at their fair values and changes in fair value are recognized in earnings, unless the derivatives qualify as hedges of future cash flows. For derivatives qualifying as hedges of future cash flows, the effective portion of changes in fair value is recorded temporarily in equity, then recognized in earnings along with the related effects of the hedged items. Any ineffective portion of changes in fair value of cash flow hedges is reported in earnings as it occurs.

The Company is exposed to fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates and interest rates. To manage certain of these exposures, the Company uses derivative instruments, which include forward exchange contracts and an interest rate swap. Derivative instruments used by the Company in its hedging activities are viewed as risk management tools, involve little complexity, and are not used for trading or speculative purposes. The counterparties to the forward exchange contracts were major international commercial banks. The Company continually monitors its open forward exchange contract position and does not anticipate non-performance by the counterparties.

Foreign Currency Risk

The Company's global presence and international sales and purchases expose it to fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates. Foreign currency exposures are identified and managed at the operating unit level. The Company has foreign currency forward contracts that are designated as hedges of the cash flow variability arising from forecasted foreign-currency denominated sales and purchases. Gains and losses on those derivatives are recorded in shareholders' equity to the extent they are effective as hedges and reclassified into earnings in the period in which the hedged transaction impacts earnings.

In addition, the Company hedges, from time to time, some foreign-currency denominated transactions that are firm commitments. The gains and losses on those derivative instruments are reported in earnings and largely offset the transaction gains and losses of the related balance sheet items. The Company also has foreign currency net asset exposures. Currently, the Company does not hold any derivative contracts that hedge its foreign currency net asset exposures but may consider such strategies in the future.

As of October 31, 2001, the Company was party to approximately $18.1 million in forward exchange contracts providing for the delivery of the various currencies in exchange for others over the succeeding 7 months. The fair value of the contracts outstanding at October 31, 2001 was a $0.1 million net liability.

Interest Rate Risk

In April 1999, the Company entered into a four-year interest rate swap contract with an initial notional amount of $62.0 million that decreases ratably to $32.0 million over the term. The Company designated this swap as a hedge of its exposure to variability in future cash flows attributable to the LIBOR plus applicable margin interest payments due on the U.S. dollar denominated portion of its multi-currency revolving credit facility. The interest differential paid or received under this contract is recognized as interest expense, reflecting that portion of interest expense at a fixed rate. The fair value of this swap was a $1.6 million net liability as of October 31, 2001.

Year to Date Activity

At October 31, 2001, the fair value of derivatives held by the Company was a $1.7 million net liability. The non-shareholders' changes in equity associated with hedging activity for the six months ended October 31, 2001 were as follows:

(in thousands)
Fair value -- May 1, 2001	$ ---
Transition adjustment	(756)
Cash flow hedging gain (loss), net	(1,489)
Net loss reclassified to income statement	507
Fair value -- October 31, 2001	$(1,738)

Of the amount recorded in shareholders' equity at October 31, 2001, a $0.7 million loss is expected to be reclassified into earnings in fiscal 2002.

Hedges of the Net Investment in a Foreign Operation

The net amount of losses on foreign currency denominated balances that were designated as, and were effective as, economic hedges of a net investment in a foreign entity were $0.2 million for the six months ended October 31, 2001. These gains were recorded in the cumulative translation adjustment, which is included in accumulated other comprehensive income (loss).

Goodwill amortization was not incurred for the three and six months ended October 31, 2001.

Edgar Filing: GERBER SCIENTIFIC INC - Form 10-Q

Segment profit (loss) for the six months ended October 31, 2000 included special charges of $0.8 million for the Sign Making and Specialty Graphics operating segment and $1.0 million for the Apparel and Flexible Materials operating segment. Net corporate expenses for the six months ended October 31, 2000 included special charges of $2.6 million. These expenses were not incurred for the six months ended October 31, 2001.

There were no material changes in segment assets, the measure of segment profit, or differences in the basis of segmentation since the Company's last Annual Report on Form 10-K.

GERBER SCIENTIFIC, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES

With respect to the unaudited consolidated financial statements of Gerber Scientific, Inc. and subsidiaries at October 31, 2001 and for the three- and six-month periods ended October 31, 2001 and 2000, KPMG LLP has made a review (based on procedures adopted by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants) and not an audit, as set forth in their separate report dated November 29, 2001 appearing on page 16. That report does not express an opinion on the interim unaudited consolidated financial information. KPMG LLP has not carried out any significant or additional audit tests beyond those which would have been necessary if their report had not been included. Accordingly, such report is not a "report" or "part of the Registration Statement" within the meaning of Sections 7 and 11 of the Securities Act of 1933 and the liability provisions of Section 11 of such Act do not apply.

INDEPENDENT ACCOUNTANTS' REPORT

To the Board of Directors and Shareholders of Gerber Scientific, Inc.

We have made a review of the consolidated statements of earnings of Gerber Scientific, Inc. and subsidiaries for the three- and six-month periods ended October 31, 2001 and 2000, the consolidated statements of cash flows for the six-month periods ended October 31, 2001 and 2000, and the consolidated balance sheet as of October 31, 2001 in accordance with standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. We have previously audited, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, and expressed our unqualified opinion dated May 30, 2001 on the consolidated financial statements for the year ended April 30, 2001 (not presented herein). The aforementioned financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management.

A review of interim financial information consists principally of applying analytical review procedures to financial data and making inquiries of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters. It is substantially less in scope than an examination in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion regarding the financial statements taken as a whole. Accordingly, we do not express such an opinion.

Based on our review, we are not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the accompanying consolidated statements of earnings for the three- and six-month periods ended October 31, 2001 and 2000, the consolidated statements of cash flows for the six-month periods ended October 31, 2001 and 2000, or the consolidated balance sheet as of October 31, 2001 for them to be in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Also, in our opinion the information in the accompanying consolidated balance sheet as of April 30, 2001 is fairly presented, in all material respects, in relation to the consolidated balance sheet from which it has been derived.

As discussed in Note 4 to the financial statements, the Company changed its method of accounting for goodwill and other intangibles beginning May 1, 2001.

ITEM 2. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

FINANCIAL CONDITION

The Company's short-term liquidity at October 31, 2001 was adequate for its requirements. The Company's ratio of current assets to current liabilities was 1.9 to 1 at October 31, 2001 and 2.1 to 1 at April 30, 2001. Net working capital at October 31, 2001 was $95.0 million, a decrease of $26.3 from the beginning of the fiscal year. Cash and investments totaled $13.3 million at October 31, 2001 compared with $20.9 million at the end of the prior fiscal year. The decrease in working capital and the ratio of current assets to current liabilities was primarily due to lower cash balances maintained at foreign locations, lower account receivable balances resulting from lower revenue and accelerated cash collection efforts, and the sale and leaseback of facilities previously held for sale. Lower accounts payable balances, due largely to the timing of vendor payments, were offsets to cash generation this fiscal year. The Company expects that available cash and its existing credit facility will be sufficient to meet its normal operating requirements over the near term.

Net working capital included $4.9 million and $21.4 million of assets held for sale at October 31, 2001 and April 30, 2001, respectively. On August 3, 2001, the Company completed the sale and leaseback of three facilities including its headquarters in South Windsor, CT. Net proceeds from this transaction of approximately $17.2 million were used to reduce the Company's long-term debt. The remaining amount represented the carrying value (adjusted to fair value) of certain facilities and land that the Company intends to sell outright. If successful, the Company will use the net cash proceeds from these asset sale transactions to reduce long-term debt.

The principal non-operating uses of cash in the first two quarters were for net repayments of long-term debt of $33.9 million and additions to property, plant, and equipment of $2.8 million. The Company anticipates capital expenditures for the current fiscal year will be in the range of $5.0 to $6.0 million, with no major capital projects planned.

The Company's total long-term debt at October 31, 2001 was $136.2 million, down $33.7 million from the April 30, 2001 balance of $169.9 million. Net debt (total debt less cash and short-term cash investments) was $122.9 million at October 31, 2001 compared with $149.0 million at April 30, 2001 and the ratio of net debt to total capital increased to 57.4 percent at October 31, 2001 from 40.0 percent at April 30, 2001. The higher ratio was caused predominantly by the cumulative effect of an accounting change recorded upon the Company's adoption of the new accounting standard for goodwill discussed below.

Covenants in the Company's revolving credit facility require it to maintain certain levels of net worth, certain ratios of total debt to EBITDA, and a minimum fixed charge coverage amount, as defined therein. At October 31, 2001, the Company was in compliance with the covenants. As long as debt exceeds two times EBITDA, the facility places restrictions on dividends and investments and requires the net cash proceeds from asset sales to be used to reduce debt and the banks' aggregate commitment. Borrowings under the credit facility are secured by substantially all the assets of the domestic subsidiaries and a 65 percent stock pledge of material foreign subsidiaries, as defined therein.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Consolidated revenue for the three-month period ended October 31, 2001 decreased $11.5 million (8.0 percent) and for the six-month period ended October 31, 2001 decreased $25.0 million (8.9 percent) from the prior year comparable periods. The decreases reflected lower product sales while service revenue was approximately the same as the prior year.

The lower product sales were caused by continued weak global demand for the Company's capital equipment products. Product sales were lower in each operating segment than the prior year comparable periods, with the most significant proportional declines occurring in the Apparel and Flexible Materials and Ophthalmic Lens Processing segments. Within product sales, aftermarket sales (consumable materials and spare parts) were comparable with both prior year periods and provided stability considering the lower equipment revenues.

On a geographic basis, the Company's volume of business was lower in each major geographic market versus both the three- and six-month comparable periods, except Europe which was roughly the same as last year's second quarter. The largest declines were in Non-European International markets, particularly Japan, Latin America, Australia, and Turkey, although North American markets continued to be suppressed. The Non-European International markets have been negatively affected by continued reduced demand from their North American business partners, particularly for apparel equipment products. Foreign currency translation did not have a material impact on revenue for the three-month period ended October 31, 2001, but lowered revenue approximately $5.4 million (2.1 percent) in the first six months compared with the prior year.

The consolidated gross profit margins in this year's three- and six-month periods ended October 31, 2001 were 35.5 percent and 35.4 percent, respectively, which were slightly below the prior year margins of 36.6 percent and 36.0 percent. Gross margins on product sales were lower and on service revenue were higher. From a business mix perspective, the lower equipment revenue continued to impact profitability and caused the Company's lower margin aftermarket revenue to represent a higher proportion of total revenue, which reduced the overall gross margin. Equipment sales (hardware and software) slipped to 35.9 percent and 35.8 percent of the Company's total revenues for the three- and six-month periods ended October 31, 2001, compared with 41.4 percent and 40.2 percent of sales in the prior year comparable periods. Competitive pricing pressure was also a factor lowering the gross margin. These margin effects were significantly offset by cost reductions realized from last year's initiatives as well as further spending control this year. The increases in the service gross margins this year were also caused by cost reduction initiatives implemented in last year's fourth quarter.

The impact of changes in foreign currency values had an insignificant impact on the gross margin in this year's second quarter and lowered the overall gross margin approximately $1.0 million (0.4 percentage points) in the first six months compared to the prior year periods.

Selling, general, and administrative (S,G,&A) expenses decreased $2.8 million (7.8 percent) in this year's second quarter and $6.7 million (9.3 percent) for the six month period from the prior year comparable periods, which was primarily the result of last year's cost reduction actions. Further cost control this year caused by the continuing decline in equipment volume also lowered S,G,&A expenses. As a percentage of sales, S,G,&A expenses were 25.2 percent in this year's second quarter and 25.4 percent for the first six months of the current year, compared with 25.1 percent and 25.5 percent in the prior year periods.

Research and development (R&D) spending decreased $0.4 million (6.0 percent) in this year's second quarter and $1.0 million (6.6 percent) for the first six months. As a percentage of sales, R&D was 5.4 percent in the second quarter and 5.6 percent for the first six months of this year compared with 5.3 percent and 5.4 percent in the prior year periods.

Effective May 1, 2001, the Company adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 142 "Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets." In accordance with this standard, the Company ceased amortization of all goodwill as of the effective date. This resulted in a favorable impact to pre-tax earnings of $2.2 million and $4.4 million for the three- and six month periods ended October 31, 2001, respectively, and to net earnings of $1.8 million ($.08 per diluted share) and $3.4 million ($.15 per diluted share) in the same periods.

The Company also completed the transitional review for goodwill impairments required under this new accounting standard. This review indicated that goodwill recorded in the Ophthalmic Lens Processing and Sign Making and Specialty Graphics segments was impaired as of May 1, 2001. Accordingly, the Company measured and recognized a transitional impairment loss of $134.3 million as a cumulative effect of a change in accounting principle in its statement of earnings. See further discussion of the impact of this statement under the caption "New Accounting Pronouncements" below and in Note 4 of the "Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements" of this quarterly report.

In last year's first quarter, the Company recorded a $4.4 million pre-tax special charge that consisted of provisions for severance of $1.9 million, provisions for anticipated losses on the sale of facilities of $2.3 million, and $0.2 million for other asset impairments. See Note 3 of the "Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements" of this quarterly report for further discussion of this special charge.

Interest expense decreased $0.2 million in the second quarter of the current year and was approximately the same for the six-month period ended October 31, 2001. The decrease in interest expense was principally due to lower levels of debt offset by higher interest rates due to changes required by the March 2001 amendment to the Company's bank credit facility. Substantially all borrowings were against the Company's bank credit facility.

The rate for income taxes was 26.9 percent and 24.3 percent for the three- and six-month periods ended October 31, 2001 compared with 37.4 percent and 32.0 percent in the comparable prior year periods and 27.1 percent for the full prior fiscal year. The lower tax rate this year is primarily the result of tax reduction strategies involving the Company's wholly owned foreign subsidiaries and the tax impact of adopting the new accounting standard for goodwill.

As a result of the above, net income in this year's second quarter was $2.2 million, or $.10 per diluted share, compared with net income of $1.8 million, or $.08 per diluted share, in the prior year second quarter. For the first six months, the net loss was $130.8 million, or $5.90 per diluted share, compared with a net loss of $0.8 million, or $.04 per diluted share, in the prior year. Excluding the cumulative effect of an accounting change of $134.3 million, or $6.05 per diluted share, net earnings for the first six months of this year were $3.4 million, or $.15 per diluted share. Excluding last year's first quarter special charge of $2.8 million, net after taxes, or $.13 per diluted share, net earnings for last year's first six months were $2.0 million, or $.09 per diluted share.

NEW ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENTS

Effective May 1, 2001, the Company adopted Statement of Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 133, "Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities," as amended. The statement requires that all derivative instruments be recorded on the balance sheet as either an asset or liability measured at fair value and that changes in fair value be recognized currently in earnings, unless specific hedge accounting criteria are met. See discussion in Note 5 of the "Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements" of this quarterly report for a further discussion of the impact of this statement on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

In July 2001, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued SFAS No. 141, "Business Combinations," which addresses financial reporting and accounting for business combinations and supersedes Accounting Principles Board (APB) Opinion No. 16, "Business Combinations," and SFAS Statement No. 38, "Accounting for Preacquisition Contingencies of Purchased Enterprises." SFAS No. 141 requires that all business combinations initiated after June 30, 2001 be accounted for using the purchase method of accounting. The Company adopted SFAS No. 141 in the first quarter of fiscal 2002 and this adoption had no material impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

Effective May 1, 2001, the Company adopted SFAS No. 142, "Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets," which establishes financial accounting and reporting for acquired goodwill and other intangible assets and supersedes APB Opinion No. 17, "Intangible Assets." SFAS No. 142 requires that goodwill and intangible assets that have indefinite useful lives not be amortized but, instead, tested at least annually for impairment. See Note 4 of the "Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements" of this quarterly report for a further discussion of the impact of this statement on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

In July 2001, the FASB issued SFAS No. 143, "Accounting for Obligations Associated with the Retirement of Long-Lived Assets." SFAS No. 143 establishes accounting standards for the recognition and measurement of an asset retirement obligation and its associated asset retirement cost. The Company believes that the adoption of SFAS No. 143 will not have any material impact on its consolidated financial statements.

In August 2001, the FASB issued SFAS No. 144, "Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets," which is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2001. SFAS No. 144 addresses financial accounting and reporting for the impairment or disposal of long-lived assets. This statement supersedes SFAS No. 121, "Accounting for the Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and for Long-Lived Assets to be Disposed of," and establishes a single accounting method, based on the framework established in SFAS No. 121, for long-lived assets to be disposed of by sale. The Company is currently assessing the impact of SFAS No. 144 and does not anticipate that adoption will have a material effect on its consolidated financial statements.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This report contains statements which, to the extent they are not statements of historical or present fact, constitute "forward-looking statements" under the securities laws. From time to time, oral or written forward-looking statements may also be included in other materials released to the public. These forward-looking statements are intended to provide management's current expectations or plans for the future operating and financial performance of the Company, based on assumptions currently believed to be valid. Forward-looking statements can be identified by the use of words such as "believe," "expect," "plans," "strategy," "prospects," "estimate," "project," "anticipate," and other words of similar meaning in connection with a discussion of future operating or financial performance. These include, among others, statements relating to:

- future earnings and other measurements of financial performance,
- future cash flow and uses of cash,
- the effect of economic downturns or growth in particular regions,
- the effect of changes in the level of activity in particular industries or markets,
- the scope or nature of acquisition activity,
- prospective product developments and new business opportunities,
- restructuring and cost savings,
- the outcome of contingencies, and
- the transition to the use of the euro as a currency.

All forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties that may cause actual results to differ materially from those expressed or implied in the forward-looking statements. Management wishes to caution the reader that the following important business risks and factors could cause the Company's actual results to differ materially from those stated in the forward looking statements.

Impact of the Slowing Economy

The overall economy is in the midst of a sharp slowdown that could have a significant impact on the Company's near-term financial results as the Company's customers buy fewer products and services from the Company.

Uncertainty of Current Economic Conditions

Current conditions in the domestic and global economies are extremely uncertain. As a result, it is difficult to estimate the level of growth for the economy as a whole. It is even more difficult to estimate growth in various parts of the economy, including markets in which the Company participates. Because all the components of the Company's budgeting and forecasting are dependent on estimates of growth in the markets it serves, the prevailing economic uncertainty renders estimates of future revenues and expenditures even more difficult than usual to make. The future direction of the overall domestic and international economies will have a significant impact on the Company's overall performance.

Impact of Cost-Reduction Efforts

In fiscal 2001, the Company implemented plans to reduce worldwide employment, discontinue product lines, and consolidate facilities as part of its overall strategic initiative to reduce costs. The impact of these cost-reduction efforts on the Company's profitability will be influenced by:

- ◆ The Company's ability to successfully complete its ongoing efforts.
- ◆ The possibility that these efforts may not generate the level of cost savings the Company expects or enable the Company to effectively compete and return to profitability.

Since these cost-reduction efforts involve many aspects of the Company's business, they could adversely impact productivity to an extent the Company does not anticipate. Even if the Company successfully completes its efforts and generates the anticipated cost savings, there may be other factors that adversely impact the Company's profitability.

Financial Flexibility

The Company expects that its current multi-currency credit facility may be replaced with short- or long-term borrowings in fiscal 2002. Although the Company believes it can continue to access the capital markets in 2002, its flexibility with regard to long-term financial activity could be limited by the Company's credit rating. In addition, many of the factors that affect the Company's ability to access capital markets, such as liquidity of the overall capital markets and the current state of the economy, are outside the Company's control. There can be no assurances that the Company will continue to have access to the capital markets on favorable terms.

Ability to Draw Under Credit Facility

The Company views its existing multi-currency revolving credit facility as a source of available liquidity. This facility contains various conditions, covenants, and representations with which the Company must be in compliance to borrow funds. There can be no assurance that the Company will be in compliance with these conditions, covenants, and representations at such time as it may desire to borrow under this facility or renew it.

Technological Change

The Company's success is expected to depend on the timely and successful introduction of new products and upgrades of current products to address competing technological and product development carried out by the Company's competitors. The development of new, technologically advanced products is a complex and uncertain process requiring high levels of innovation, as well as the accurate anticipation of technological and market trends.

Impact of Foreign Currency Fluctuations

A significant change in the value of the U.S. dollar against the currency of one or more countries where the Company sells products to local customers may adversely affect the Company's results. The Company attempts to mitigate such effects through use of foreign currency forward exchange contracts, but there is no assurance that such attempts will be successful.

Economic Conditions in Parts of Asia, Including China

During fiscal 2001, 11.9 percent of the Company's sales were in Asia-Pacific (including China). An economic downturn in these economies could adversely impact the Company.

For additional information identifying factors that may cause actual results to vary materially from those stated in the forward-looking statements, see the Company's reports on Forms 10-K, 10-Q, and 8-K filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission from time to time. Form 10-K for fiscal 2001 includes important information as to risk factors in the "Business" section under the headings "Operating Segments" and "Other Matters Relating to the Company's Business as a Whole."

ITEM 3. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

No material changes have occurred in the quantitative and qualitative market risk disclosures for the Company from those presented in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended April 30, 2001.

ITEM 4. SUBMISSION OF MATTERS TO A VOTE OF SECURITY HOLDERS

On September 25, 2001, the Company held its annual meeting of shareholders. The holders of 90 percent of the shares of common stock entitled to vote at this meeting were present either in person or by proxy. The following were the voting results for the meeting:

- The shareholders elected Directors to hold office until the annual meeting to be held in the year 2004 with the following votes:

	For	Withheld
Donald P. Aiken	19,763,606	137,355
George M. Gentile	19,567,184	333,777
David J. Gerber	17,150,889	2,750,072

The terms of office of other Directors, Michael J. Cheshire, Edward E. Hood, Jr., David J. Logan, Carole F. St. Mark, A. Robert Towbin, and William J. Vereen, continued after the meeting.

ITEM 5. OTHER INFORMATION

On November 30, 2001, the Company issued a press release and filed a report on Form 8-K reporting the appointments of George M. Gentile as Chairman of the Board of Gerber Scientific, Inc.; Marc T. Giles as President and Chief Executive Officer and Director of Gerber Scientific, Inc.; and Shawn M. Harrington as Chief Financial Officer, Gerber Scientific, Inc. Also reported was the resignation of Michael J. Cheshire, former Chairman of the Board, Chief Executive Officer, and President of Gerber Scientific, Inc.

On December 10, 2001, the Company issued a press release reporting two senior management appointments: John R. Hancock as President, Gerber Coburn Optical, Inc., and Senior Vice President of Gerber Scientific, Inc.; and Bernard J. Demko as Senior Vice President, Gerber Scientific, Inc.

PART II - OTHER INFORMATION

ITEM 6. EXHIBITS AND REPORTS ON FORM 8-K

(a) Exhibits

- (10.1)* Michael J. Cheshire salary reduction agreement.
- (10.2)* David J. Gerber salary reduction agreement.
- (15)* Letter regarding unaudited interim financial information.
- (99)* Supplemental Segment Information.

(b) Reports on Form 8-K

Two Form 8-K's were filed in the second quarter of fiscal year 2002. The first 8-K, dated August 14, 2001, contained a press release announcing the sale-leaseback of three Connecticut properties of the Company. The second 8-K, dated August 23, 2001, contained a press release announcing the Company's financial results for the quarter ended July 31, 2001.
