ITEM 4 PURPOSE OF TRANSACTION

The Reporting Persons purchased the shares of Common Stock of the Issuer in the ordinary course of business. The Reporting Persons expect to acquire or dispose of additional shares of Common Stock via open-market transactions from time to time. However, there is no timetable or pre-arranged plan related to the purchase or sale of additional shares of Common Stock. Such decisions will be made based on trading activity and the relative value of the shares of Common Stock, as defined by market conditions.

The Reporting Persons have been a shareholder in AIXD for 15 months and recently significantly increased our position due to the rapid, and the Reporting Persons believe, overdone reduction in its share price. As the unquestioned leader in the transition from analog to digital cinema, AIXD has built an innovative and valuable business model producing high teens returns on invested capital and substantial growth opportunities. The Reporting Persons believe the cash flows produced by AIXD's current theater installations (which are contractually committed through 2015-2017) have a net present value based upon the 7.3% interest rate of the Company's existing GECC debt of in excess of $5 per share. This analysis includes no value from (i) the planned 10,000 screen Phase 2 deployment; (ii) the further development of AIXD's satellite movie distribution arm, (iii) its software licensing unit; (iv) its on-screen theater advertising unit; and (v) its alternative content unit which are collectively growing rapidly and approaching cash flow breakeven.

The movie exhibition industry is one of the few remaining entertainment areas not to have fully embraced digital technology. This must change - the economics are too compelling as studios can reduce film production and distribution costs over 50%, exhibitors can lower operating costs and new programming (3-D) and alternative content can be shown in theaters. The movie industry appear to be at that tipping point as Hollywood ramps up its production of digital and 3-D films, as Dreamworks SKG publicly states all future releases will be in digital 3-D, as leading directors such as James Cameron will only distribute releases digitally and as alternative content providers like ESPN and the Metropolitan Opera broadcast live events to sold out theaters across the country.

AIXD is at the center of this process with 3,723 theaters installed in its Phase 1 deployment of a total of approximately 5,200 total digital screens nationally. AIXD incurred substantial capital costs in advance of revenues and EBITDA emergence. These theaters are now all installed and in the most recent

Edgar Filing: ACCESS INTEGRATED TECHNOLOGIES INC - Form SC 13D

March 2008 fiscal quarter, which is also a seasonally slow quarter for movie releases, produced in excess of $11M of EBITDA according to the recent earnings call transcript. As a result, on an annualized basis, adjusting for seasonality, the AIXD digital cinemas should be producing in excess of $45M of annual EBITDA - this is a 16-18% return on its $275M of invested capital relative to a 7.3% current cost of debt. $45M of EBITDA is 3.0x the approximately $15.3M of interest on the approximately $213M of debt used to fund these theater installations. AIXD also must amortize $15M of this debt in Fiscal 2009 from its remaining $30M of free cash flow. This is not a Company that is going bankrupt.

AIXD is also the only company to date to have an agreement with the major movie studios for its 10,000 screen Phase 2 deployment. This when combined with its installed theater base and its installation and service expertise is a meaningful competitive advantage. The Company must raise an additional $600-$650 million of financing to support this 3 year rollout plan. The Reporting Persons support the Company's plans to pursue this goal utilizing only debt and a reinvestment of a portion of the $75M of equity AIXD invested in its Phase 1 deployment. The Reporting Persons agree with the Company's repeated public statements to issue no new equity for the Phase 2 deployment plan. The Reporting Persons strongly encourage the Company to maintain this commitment. As it seeks to securitize a diversified cash flow stream of 6+ Hollywood studios through its proven operating model, AIXD should not need equity. If given the current tumultuous capital markets, Phase 2 would require equity, the Reporting Persons encourage AIXD to delay its roll out, seek alternative sources of debt financing from various digital projector companies (like Christie has already provided) or seek greater contributions from theater exhibitors or studios. This is critical to rebuilding shareholder confidence and ultimately, the share price.

Finally, the Reporting Persons believe AIXD must balance its efforts to develop its emerging satellite distribution, advertising and alternative content businesses with the current market fiscal realities. The Company has the opportunity to establish strong market positions in each of these areas, in particular in satellite distribution and alternative content. However, each requires meaningful investment and management focus at a point in time in which the capital markets are experiencing an unprecedented credit and liquidity crisis. Fortunately, AIXD faces no near term financial pressures. With $30M of cash on its most recent balance sheet, ample near term cash flow from its digital cinemas to support its interest and amortization, AIXD's next financial pressure point, if nothing else changes, would be in February, 2011 when its mezzanine debt comes due. The Reporting Persons would be surprised if AIXD has not refinanced its Phase 1 debt, substantially rolled out Phase 2 theaters and leveraged the "network effect" of a satellite enabled, digital cinema world. The Company must prudently navigate the current financial shoals and creatively monetize its existing cash flows and assets to maximize shareholder value. It must assure the market there will not be significant dilution to fund growth. As one of the Company's largest holders, the Reporting Persons intend to maintain communication with management on these topics and express our views of necessary steps to support the stock returning to more appropriate valuation levels.

ITEM 5 INTEREST IN SECURITIES OF THE ISSUER

(a)-(b) The Reporting Persons may be deemed, for purposes of Rule 13d-3 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, to be the beneficial owners of an aggregate of 1,687,828 shares of Common Stock as of July 17, 2008, which represent 6.28% of the Issuer's outstanding shares of Common Stock.

Edgar Filing: ACCESS INTEGRATED TECHNOLOGIES INC - Form SC 13D

The percentage calculation was based on 26,871,202 shares outstanding which is the total number of shares outstanding as of March 31, 2008 as reported by the Issuer on the Form 10-K as filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.
