The annual base rent is $3,500,000 subject to adjustment each year based on the percentage increase in the Consumer Price Index (CPI-U). Dunellen’s affiliate, Capital Terminal Company, will operate the facility for Sprague’s account. All product stored in the facility will be owned by Sprague. Dunellen is entitled to receive an additional $0.15 for each barrel of throughput at the terminal in excess of 3,500,000 barrels in any contract year (May 1 – April 30). The Agreement includes the right to use Dunellen’s related deep water pier facility. Sprague has the right to extend the Agreement for two additional terms of five years each provided that it gives at least twelve (12) months’ notice prior to the expiration of the initial or the extension term, as applicable. Commencing on April 1, 2016 and on each April 1 thereafter during the term, either party during the following thirty (30) days has the right to terminate the Agreement as of April 30 of the year next following the year in which notice of termination is given. Additionally, Sprague has the right to terminate the Agreement on six (6) months’ notice if Rhode Island adopts any law or regulation prohibiting the storage of non-conforming distillates unless the effectiveness of such law or regulation is enjoined or the law or regulation is repealed or rescinded during the notice period. Rhode Island is considering amending its existing air quality regulations to prohibit the storage and sale of high sulfur content distillates. The Company has proposed to Rhode Island that the storage of non-conforming distillates by storage facilities of greater than 100,000 barrels be permitted upon notice to the State and periodic testing of the products actually distributed to assure that non-conforming product is not sold in Rhode Island by any such facility.
