NFJ Dividend, Interest & Premium Strategy Fund Letter to Shareholders

March 9, 2007

Dear Shareholder:

We are pleased to provide you with the annual report of the NFJ Dividend, Interest & Premium Strategy Fund (the "Fund") for the fiscal year ended January 31, 2007.

U.S. equities generally advanced as economic activity remained healthy, corporate profits exceeded expectations, energy prices eased and the Federal Reserve stopped raising interest rates. In the U.S. equity markets, all industries produced positive returns for the year.

In this environment, value stocks generally outperformed growth stocks. For example, large-cap value stocks, as represented by the Russell 1000 Value index, returned 19.15% for the reporting period while large-cap growth stocks, as measured by the Russell 1000 Growth Index, returned 9.96%.

Please refer to the following pages for specific Fund information. If you have any questions regarding the information provided, we encourage you to contact your financial advisor or call the Fund's shareholder servicing agent at (800) 331-1710. NFJ Dividend, Interest & Premium Strategy Fund Performance & Statistics

January 31, 2007 (unaudited)

- For the fiscal year ended January 31, 2007 the Fund returned 15.92% on net asset value and 27.15% on market price, outperforming the S&P 500, which returned 14.51%.
- Within the equity portion of the portfolio, overweight allocations to the telecomm, energy and consumer staples sectors aided performance. Additionally, stock selection within the consumer discretionary, consumer staples and health care sectors contributed positively. Specifically in these sectors that posted strong results during the period included ConAgra Foods, SuperValu, Reynolds American, Merck & Co., VF Corp. and Mattel.
- Detracting from performance within the equity portion of the portfolio was an overweighting in materials sector and stock selection within the financials and industrials sectors. Detractors within these sectors included Freddie Mac, KeyCorp, Allstate and Masco Corp. Other detractors from performance included Anadarko Petroleum and Occidental Petroleum from the energy sector and Dow Chemical from the materials sector.
- The Fund's equity index option strategy enhanced overall performance, despite the fact that volatility was generally low or declining during much of the reporting period. However, the strategy benefited from relatively high volatility during May, June, and July.
- In the convertibles portion of the portfolio, consumer discretionary companies, which rallied in response to better-than-expected corporate profits and impressive outlooks, benefited performance. Media companies which generally advanced on healthy third quarter earnings, strong cable demand and continued positive guidance were also positive for Fund performance.
- Detracting from Fund performance within the convertibles portion were healthcare companies, which moved lower on profit taking as investors rotated into higher beta industries. Technology issuers, despite positive performance for the year, pulled back significantly in the fourth quarter, which proved a drag on performance.

Investment Allocation (as a percentage of total investments
before call options written)

(1) Past performance is no guarantee of future results. Total return is calculated by subtracting the value of an investment in the Fund at the beginning of the specified period from the value at the end of the period and dividing the remainder by the value of the investment at the beginning of the period and expressing the result as a percentage. The calculation assumes that all income dividends and capital gain distributions have been reinvested at prices obtained under the Fund's dividend reinvestment plan. Total return does not reflect broker commissions or sales charges. Total return for a period of less than one year is not annualized. Total return for a period of more than one year represents the average annual return.

An investment in the Fund involves risk, including the loss of principal. Total return, price, yield and net asset value will fluctuate with changes in market conditions. This data is provided for information only and is not intended for trading purposes. Closed-end funds, unlike open-end funds, are not continuously offered. There is a one-time public offering and once issued, shares of closed-end funds are sold in the open market through a stock exchange. Net asset value is total assets less total liabilities divided by the number of common shares outstanding. Holdings are subject to change daily.

Edgar Filing: NFJ DIVIDEND, INTEREST & PREMIUM STRATEGY FUND - Form N-CSR

(2) Market Price Yield is determined by dividing the annualized current quarterly per share dividend to shareholders by the market price per common share at January 31, 2007.

NFJ Dividend, Interest & Premium Strategy Fund Notes to Financial Statements

January 31, 2007

1. Organization and Significant Accounting Policies

NFJ Dividend, Interest & Premium Strategy Fund (the "Fund") was organized as a Massachusetts business trust on August 20, 2003. Prior to commencing operations on February 28, 2005, the Fund had no operations other than matters relating to its organization and registration as a diversified, closed-end management investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 and the rules and regulations there under, as amended, and the sale and issuance of 4,189 shares of beneficial interest at an aggregate par of $100,012 to Allianz Global Investors of America L.P. ("Allianz Global"). Allianz Global Investors Fund Management LLC (the "Investment Manager"), is an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Allianz Global. Allianz Global is an indirect, majority-owned subsidiary of Allianz SE, a publicly traded insurance and financial services company. The Fund has an unlimited amount of $0.00001 par value common stock authorized.

The Fund issued 86,100,000 shares of common stock in its initial public offering. An additional 7,500,000 shares were issued in connection with the underwriter's over-allotment option. These shares were all issued at $25.00 per share before an underwriting discount of $1.125 per share. Offering costs of $2,412,896 (representing $0.02578 per share) were offset against the proceeds of the offering and over-allotment option and have been charged to paid-in capital in excess of par.

The Fund's primary investment objective is to seek current income and gains, with a secondary objective of long-term capital appreciation. The Fund will pursue its investment objectives by investing in a diversified portfolio of dividend-paying common stocks and income-producing convertible securities. The Fund will also employ a strategy of writing (selling) call options on equity indexes in an attempt to generate gains from option premiums.

The preparation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

In the normal course of business, the Fund enters into contracts that contain a variety of representations which provide general indemnifications. The Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund that have not yet been asserted. However, the Fund expects the risk of any loss to be remote.

In July 2006, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Interpretation No. 48, "Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes - an Interpretation of FASB Statement No. 109" (the "Interpretation"). The Interpretation establishes for all entities, including pass-through entities such as the Fund, a minimum threshold for financial statement recognition of the benefit of positions taken in filing tax returns (including whether an entity is taxable in a particular jurisdiction), and requires certain expanded tax disclosures. The Interpretation is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2006, and is to be applied to all open tax years as of the date of effectiveness. Fund management has recently begun to evaluate the application of the Interpretation, and is not in a position at this time to estimate the significance of its impact, if any, on the Fund's financial statements. On December 22, 2006, the Securities & Exchange Commission announced that it would not object if a fund implements the Interpretation in its NAV calculation as late as its last NAV calculation in the first required financial statement reporting period for its fiscal year beginning after December 15, 2006. Consequently, the Fund will be required to comply with the Interpretation by July 31, 2007.

In September 2006, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") 157, Fair Value Measurements, which clarifies the definition of fair value and requires companies to expand their disclosure about the use of fair value to measure assets and liabilities in interim and annual periods subsequent to initial recognition. Adoption of SFAS 157 requires the use of the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. SFAS 157 is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007, and interim periods within those fiscal years. At this time, the Fund is in the process of reviewing the SFAS 157 against its current valuation policies to determine future applicability.

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies followed by the Fund:

NFJ Dividend, Interest & Premium Strategy Fund Notes to Financial Statements

January 31, 2007

1. Organization and Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

(a) Valuation of Investments

Portfolio securities and other financial instruments for which market quotations are readily available are stated at market value. Portfolio securities and other financial instruments for which market quotations are not readily available or if a development/event occurs that may significantly impact the value of a security, are fair-valued, in good faith, pursuant to guidelines established by the Board of Trustees. The Fund's investments, including over-the-counter options, are valued daily using prices supplied by an independent pricing service or dealer quotations, or the last sale price on the exchange that is the primary market for such securities, or the mean between the last quoted bid and ask price for those securities for which the over-the-counter market is the primary market or for listed securities in which there were no sales. Independent pricing services use information provided by market makers or estimates of market values obtained from yield data relating to investments or securities with similar characteristics. Exchange traded options are valued at the settlement price determined by the relevant exchange. Short-term securities maturing in 60 days or less are valued at amortized cost, if their original term to maturity was 60 days less, or by amortizing their value on the 61st day prior to maturity, if the original term to maturity exceeded 60 days. The prices used by the Fund to value securities may differ from the value that would be realized if the securities were sold and the differences could be material to the financial statements. The Fund's net asset value is determined daily as of the close of regular trading (normally, 4:00 p.m. Eastern time) on the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE) on each day the NYSE is open for business.

(b) Investment Transactions and Investment Income

Investment transactions are accounted for on the trade date. Realized gains and losses on investments are determined on the identified cost basis. Interest income is recorded on an accrual basis. Discounts or premiums on debt securities purchased are accreted or amortized to interest income over the lives of the respective securities using the effective interest method. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date.

(c) Federal Income Taxes

The Fund intends to distribute all of its taxable income and to comply with the other requirements of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, applicable to regulated investment companies. Accordingly, no provision for U.S. federal income taxes is required. In addition, by distributing substantially all of its ordinary income and long-term capital gains, if any, during each calendar year the Fund intends not to be subject to U.S. federal excise tax.

(d) Dividends and Distributions

The Fund declares quarterly dividends and distributions from net investment income and gains from index option premiums and the sale of portfolio securities. The Fund records dividends and distributions to shareholders on the ex-dividend date. The amount of dividends and distributions from net investment income and net realized capital gains are determined in accordance with federal income tax regulations, which may differ from generally accepted accounting principles. These book-tax differences are considered either temporary or permanent in nature. To the extent these differences are permanent in nature, such amounts are reclassified within the capital accounts based on their income tax treatment; temporary differences do not require reclassification. To the extent dividends and/or distributions exceed current and accumulated earnings and profits for federal income tax purposes, they are reported as dividends and/or distributions of paid-in capital in excess of par.

(e) Call Option Transactions

The Fund employs a strategy of writing (selling) call options on equity indexes in an attempt to generate gains from option premiums. When an option is written, the premium received is recorded as an asset with an equal liability, which is subsequently adjusted to the current market value of the option. Premiums received from writing options, which expire unexercised, are recorded on the expiration date as a realized gain. The difference between the premium received and the amount paid on effecting a closing purchase transaction, including brokerage commissions, is also treated as a realized gain, or if the premium is less than the amount paid for the closing purchase transactions, as a realized loss. If a call option is exercised, the premium is added to the proceeds from the sale of the underlying security or index option in determining whether there has been a realized gain or loss.

The Fund, as writer of a call option, may have no control over whether the underlying securities or index option may be sold (called). As a result, the Fund bears the market risk of an unfavorable change in the price of the security or index underlying the written call option.

The use of derivative transactions may involve elements of both market and credit risk in excess of the amounts reflected on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

NFJ Dividend, Interest & Premium Strategy Fund Notes to Financial Statements

January 31, 2007

1. Organization and Significant Accounting Policies (continued)(f) Short Sales

The Fund may enter into short sales of securities as a method of hedging potential price declines in similar securities owned. Securities sold in short sale transactions and interest and dividends payable on such securities, if any, is reflected as a liability in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. The Fund is obligated to deliver securities at market price at the time the short position is closed. Possible losses from short sales may be unlimited, whereas losses from purchases cannot exceed the total amount invested.

(g) Concentration of Risk

It is the Fund's policy to invest a portion of its assets in convertible securities. Although convertible securities do derive part of their value from that of the securities into which they are convertible, they are not considered derivative financial instruments. However, certain of the Fund's investments include features which render them more sensitive to price changes in their underlying securities. Consequently, the Fund is exposed to greater downside risk than traditional debt securities, but still less than that of the underlying common stock.

2. Investment Manager/Sub-Advisers

The Fund has entered into an Investment Management Agreement (the "Agreement") with the Investment Manager. Subject to the supervision of the Fund's Board of Trustees, the Investment Manager is responsible for managing, either directly or through others selected by it, the Fund's investment activities, business affairs and administrative matters. Pursuant to the Agreement, the Fund pays the Investment Manager an annual fee, payable monthly, at the annual rate of 0.90% of the Fund's average daily total managed assets. Total managed assets refer to the total assets of the Fund (including assets attributable to borrowings) minus accrued liabilities (other than liabilities representing borrowings). The Investment Manager has retained its affiliates, NFJ Investment Group L.P., Nicholas-Applegate Capital Management LLC, and Oppenheimer Capital LLC ("OCC") (the "Sub-Advisers"), to manage the Fund's equity component, convertible component and index option strategy, respectively. Effective November 1, 2006, OCC replaced PEA Capital as sub-adviser implementing the index option strategy. The change results from a consolidation of PEA Capital's business under OCC and was approved by the Fund's Board of Trustees. Subject to the supervision of the Investment Manager, the Sub-Advisers make all of the Fund's investment decisions in connection with their respective components of the Fund's investments. For their services, pursuant to Sub-Advisory agreements, the Investment Manager and not the Fund, pays the Sub-Advisers a monthly fee.

3. Investment in Securities

For the year ended January 31, 2007, purchases and sales of investments, other than short-term securities, were $1,497,304,266 and $1,602,455,010.

(a) Transactions in call options written for the year ended January 31, 2007 were:

	Contracts	Premiums
Options outstanding, January 31, 2006	52,800	$ 22,554,436
Options written	288,160	133,732,669

Options expired	(114,825)	(50,088,924)

4. Income Tax Information

The tax character of dividends and distributions paid were:

	Year Ended January 31, 2007	For the Period February 28, 2005* through January 31, 2006
Ordinary Income	$198,444,832	$155,482,065
Long-term Capital Gains	56,252	□

*Commencement of operations.

NFJ Dividend, Interest & Premium Strategy Fund Notes to Financial Statements

January 31, 2007

4. Income Tax Information (continued)

At January 31, 2007, the tax character of distributable earnings of $47,080,158 was comprised entirely of ordinary income.

For the year ended January 31, 2007, permanent "book-tax" differences are primarily attributable to the differing treatment of convertible preferred securities. These adjustments were to increase undistributed net investment income and decrease net realized gains by $2,678,615.

The cost basis of portfolio securities for federal income tax purposes is $2,313,089,096. Aggregated gross unrealized appreciation for securities in which there is an excess value over tax cost is $178,892,942; aggregated gross unrealized depreciation for securities in which there is an excess of tax cost over value is $33,450,949; net unrealized appreciation for federal income tax purposes is $145,441,993. The difference between book and tax basis unrealized appreciation is primarily attributable to wash sales and the differing treatment of convertible securities.

5. Legal Proceedings

In June and September 2004, the Investment Manager, certain of its affiliates (including Allianz Global Investors Distributors LLC and PEA Capital LLC) and Allianz Global, agreed to settle, without admitting or denying the allegations, claims brought by the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission"), the New Jersey Attorney General and the California Attorney General alleging violations of federal and state securities laws with respect to certain open-end funds for which the Investment Manager serves as investment adviser. Two settlements (with the Commission and New Jersey) related to an alleged "market timing" arrangement in certain open-end funds sub-advised by PEA Capital LLC. Two settlements (with the Commission and California) related to the alleged use of cash and fund portfolio commissions to finance "shelf-space" arrangements with broker-dealers for open-end funds. The Investment Manager and its affiliates agreed to pay a total of $68 million to settle the claims related to market timing and $20.6 million to settle the claims related to shelf space. In addition to monetary payments, the settling parties agreed to undertake certain corporate governance, compliance and disclosure reforms related to market timing, brokerage commissions, revenue sharing and shelf-space arrangements, and consented to cease and desist orders and censures. None of the settlements allege that any inappropriate activity took place with respect to the Fund.

Since February 2004, the Investment Manager and certain of its affiliates and their employees have been named as defendants in a number of pending lawsuits concerning "market timing" and "revenue sharing/shelf-space/directed brokerage," which allege the same or similar conduct underlying the regulatory settlements discussed above. The market timing lawsuits have been consolidated in a multi-district litigation proceeding in the United States District Court for the District of Maryland, and the revenue sharing/shelf-space/directed brokerage lawsuits have been consolidated in the United States District Court for the District of Connecticut. Any potential resolution of these matters may include, but not be limited to, judgments or settlements for damages against the Investment Manager or their affiliates or related injunctions.

The Investment Manager and the Sub-Adviser believe that these matters are not likely to have a material adverse effect on the Fund or on their ability to perform their respective investment advisory activities relating to the Fund.

The foregoing speaks only as of the date hereof.

NFJ Dividend, Interest & Premium Strategy Fund Matters Relating to the Trustees Consideration of the Investment Management & Portfolio Management Agreements (unaudited)

The Investment Company Act of 1940 requires that both the full Board of Trustees (the "Trustees") and a majority of the non-interested ("Independent") Trustees, voting separately, approve the Fund's Management Agreement (the "Advisory Agreement") with the Investment Manager and the Portfolio Management Agreements (the "Sub-Advisory Agreements"), and together with the Advisory Agreement, the "Agreements" between the Investment Manager and the Sub-Advisers. The Trustees met on December 12 and 13, 2006 (the "contract review meeting") for the specific purpose of considering whether to approve the Advisory Agreement and the Sub-Advisory Agreements. The Independent Trustees were assisted in their evaluation of the Agreements by independent legal counsel, from whom they received separate legal advice and with whom they met separately from Fund management during the contract review meeting.

Based on their evaluation of factors that they deemed to be material, including those factors described below, the Board of Trustees, including a majority of the Independent Trustees, concluded that the Fund's Advisory Agreement and the Sub-Advisory Agreements should be approved for an interim period until July 1, 2007 in order to align the renewal of the Agreements with the other funds in the AGI Fund Complex, which were under the supervision of the same individuals that serve as Trustees on the Board of NFJ.

In connection with their deliberations regarding the continuation of the Agreements, the Trustees, including the Independent Trustees, considered such information and factors as they believed, in light of the legal advice furnished to them and their own business judgment, to be relevant. As described below, the Trustees considered the nature, quality, and extent of the various investment management, administrative and other services performed by the Investment Manager and the Sub-Advisers under the Agreements.

In connection with their contract review meeting, the Trustees received and relied upon materials provided by the Investment Manager which included, among other items: (i) information provided by Lipper Analytical Services Inc. ("Lipper Inc.") on the total return investment performance (based on net assets) of the Fund for various time periods and the investment performance of a group of funds with substantially similar investment classifications/objectives identified by Lipper Inc., (ii) information provided by Lipper Inc. on the Fund's management fees and other expenses and the management fees and other expenses of comparable funds identified by Lipper Inc., (iii) information regarding the investment performance and management fees of comparable portfolios of other clients of the Sub-Advisers, including institutional separate accounts and other clients, (iv) the profitability to the Investment Manager from its relationship with the Fund for the twelve months ended September 30, 2006, (v) descriptions of various functions performed by the Investment Manager and the Sub-Advisers for the Fund, such as portfolio management, compliance monitoring and portfolio trading practices, and (vi) information regarding the overall organization of the Investment Manager and the Sub-Advisers, including information regarding senior management, portfolio managers and other personnel providing investment management, administrative and other services to the Fund.

The Trustees' conclusions as to the continuation of the Agreements were based on a comprehensive consideration of all information provided to the Trustees and not the result of any single factor. Some of the factors that figured particularly in the Trustees' deliberations are described below, although individual Trustees may have evaluated the information presented differently from one another, giving different weights to various factors.

As part of their review, the Trustees examined the Investment Manager's and the Sub-Advisers' abilities to provide high quality investment management and other services to the Fund. The Trustees considered the investment philosophy and research and decision-making processes of the Sub-Advisers; the experience of key advisory personnel of the Sub-Advisers responsible for portfolio management of the Fund; the ability of the Investment Manager and the Sub-Advisers to attract and retain capable personnel; the capability and integrity of the senior management and staff of the Investment Manager and the Sub-Advisers; and the level of skill required to manage the Fund. In addition, the Trustees reviewed the quality of the Investment Manager's and the Sub-Advisers' services with respect to regulatory compliance and compliance with the investment policies of the Fund; the nature and quality of certain administrative services the Investment Manager is responsible for providing to the Fund; and conditions that might affect the Investment Manager's or the Sub-Advisers' ability to provide high quality services to the Fund in the future under the Agreements, including each organization's respective business reputation, financial condition and operational stability. Based on the foregoing, the Trustees concluded that the Sub-Advisers' investment process, research capabilities and philosophy were well suited to the Fund given their investment objectives and policies, and that the Investment Manager and the Sub-Advisers would be able to continue to meet any reasonably foreseeable obligations under the Agreements.

the Investment Management
& Portfolio Management
Agreements (unaudited)

Based on information provided by Lipper Inc., the Trustees also reviewed the Fund's total return investment performance as well as the performance of comparable funds identified by Lipper Inc. In the course of their deliberations, the Trustees took into account information provided by the Investment Manager in connection with the contract review meeting, as well as during investment review meetings conducted with portfolio management personnel during the course of the year regarding the Fund's performance.

In assessing the reasonableness of the Fund's fees under the Agreements, the Trustees considered, among other information, the Fund's management fee and the total expense ratio as a percentage of average net assets attributable to common shares and the management fee and total expense ratios of comparable funds identified by Lipper Inc.

For the Fund, the Trustees specifically took note of how the Fund compared to its Lipper Inc. peers as to performance and management fee expenses. The Trustees noted that while the Fund was not charged a separate administration fee, some of the peer funds in the Lipper Inc. categories were charged such a fee by their investment managers. The Trustees also noted that the Lipper Inc. categories also detailed the non-management fee and it was not clear what that fee entailed. Thus the Trustees, at the recommendation of the Investment Manager, considered the total expenses of the Fund compared to the total expenses of the peer funds, recognizing that the fees for management, administrative services and non-management fee would be subsumed within the total expense ratio.

After reviewing these and related factors, the Trustees concluded, within the context of their overall conclusions regarding the Agreements, that they were satisfied with the Investment Manager's and the Sub-Advisers' responses and efforts relating to investment performance and the comparative positioning of the Fund with respect to the management fee paid to the Investment Manager.

The Trustees noted that the Fund had outperformed its peer median and average group for the one-year and the year-to-date periods ended October 31, 2006. The Trustees noted that in the one-year total return period, the Fund was ranked fifth in its Lipper category for its asset class. The Trustees also noted that the Fund's expense ratio was ranked as the lowest expense ratio among its peer group and was below the median and average for its peer group.

The Trustees also considered the management fees charged by the Sub-Advisers to other clients, including institutional separate accounts with investment strategies similar to those of the Fund. Regarding the institutional separate accounts, they noted that the management fees paid by the Fund was generally higher than the fees paid by other clients of the Sub-Adviser, but were advised that the administrative burden for the Investment Manager and the Sub-Adviser with respect to the Fund is also relatively higher, due in part to the more extensive regulatory regime to which the Fund was subject in comparison to institutional separate accounts. The Trustees noted that the management fees paid by the Fund was generally higher than the fees paid by the open-end funds but were advised that there were additional portfolio management challenges in managing the Fund, such as the use of leverage and meeting a regular dividend.

Based on a profitability analysis provided by the Investment Manager, the Trustees also considered the profitability of the Investment Manager from its relationship with the Fund and determined that such profitability was not excessive.

The Trustees also took into account that, a closed-end investment company, the Fund does not currently intend to raise additional assets, so the assets of the Fund will grow (if at all) only through the investment performance of the Fund. Therefore, the Trustees did not consider potential economies of scale as a principal factor in assessing the fee rates payable under the Agreements.

Additionally, the Trustees considered so-called "fall-out benefits" to the Investment Manager and the Sub-Adviser, such as reputational value derived from serving as Investment Manager and Sub-Adviser to the Fund.

After reviewing these and other factors described herein, the Trustees concluded, within the context of their overall conclusions regarding the Agreements, that the fees payable under the Agreements represent reasonable compensation in light of the nature and quality of the services being provided by the Investment Manager and Sub-Adviser to the Fund.

NFJ Dividend, Interest & Premium Strategy Fund Tax Information/Corporate Changes (unaudited)

Tax Information:

Subchapter M of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, requires the Fund to advise shareholders within 60 days of the Fund's tax year ended January 31, 2007 as to the federal tax status of dividends and distributions received by shareholders during such tax year. Per share dividends for the tax year ended January 31, 2007 were as follows:

Dividends from ordinary income	$2.0994
Distributions from long-term gains	$0.0006

Pursuant to the Jobs and Growth Tax Relief Reconciliation Act of 2003, the Fund designates qualified dividend income of 28%, or the maximum amount allowable.

The percentage of ordinary dividends paid by the Fund during the period ended January 31, 2007 which qualified for the Dividends Received Deduction available to corporate shareholders was 28%.

Since the Fund's tax year is not the calendar year, another notification will be sent with respect to calendar year 2007. In January 2008, shareholders will be advised on IRS Form 1099 DIV as to the federal tax status of dividends and distributions received during calendar 2007. The amount that will be reported will be the amount to use on your 2007 federal income tax return and may differ from the amount which must be reported in connection with the Fund's tax year ended January 31, 2007. Shareholders are advised to consult their tax advisers as to the federal, state and local tax status of the dividend income received from the Fund.

Corporate Changes:

On September 12, 2006, the Fund's Board of Trustees appointed William B. Ogden IV as a Class I Trustee. On October 10, 2006, David C. Flattum, an interested Trustee, resigned. On December 12, 2006, the Fund's Board of Trustees appointed John C. Maney, as Class III (interested) Trustee, and appointed Hans W. Kertess as Chairman of the Board of Trustees, effective January 1, 2007.

NFJ Dividend, Interest & Premium Strategy Fund Dividend Reinvestment Plan (unaudited)

Pursuant to the Fund's Dividend Reinvestment Plan (the "Plan"), all Common Shareholders whose shares are registered in their own names will have all dividends, including any capital gain dividends, reinvested automatically in additional Common Shares by PFPC Inc., as agent for the Common Shareholders (the "Plan Agent"), unless the shareholder elects to receive cash. An election to receive cash may be revoked or reinstated at the option of the shareholder. In the case of record shareholders such as banks, brokers or other nominees that hold Common Shares for others who are the beneficial owners, the Plan Agent will administer the Plan on the basis of the number of Common Shares certified from time to time by the record shareholder as representing the total amount registered in such shareholder's name and held for the account of beneficial owners who are to participate in the Plan. Shareholders whose shares are held in the name of a bank, broker or nominee should contact the bank, broker or nominee for details. All distributions to investors who elect not to participate in the Plan (or whose broker or nominee elects not to participate on the investor's behalf), will be paid cash by check mailed, in the case of direct shareholder, to the record holder by PFPC Inc., as the Fund's dividend disbursement agent.

Unless you (or your broker or nominee) elects not to participate in the Plan, the number of Common Shares you will receive will be determined as follows:

- (1) If on the payment date the net asset value of the Common Shares is equal to or less than the market price per Common Share plus estimated brokerage commissions that would be incurred upon the purchase of Common Shares on the open market, the Fund will issue new shares at the greater of (i) the net asset value per Common Share on the payment date or (ii) 95% of the market price per Common Share on the payment date; or
- (2) If on the payment date the net asset value of the Common Shares is greater than the market price per Common Share plus estimated brokerage commissions that would be incurred upon the purchase of Common Shares on the open market, the Plan Agent will receive the dividend or distribution in cash and will purchase Common Shares in the open market, on the New York Stock Exchange or elsewhere, for the participants' accounts. It is possible that the market price for the Common Shares may increase before the Plan Agent has completed its purchases. Therefore, the average purchase price per share paid by the Plan Agent may exceed the market price on the payment date, resulting in the purchase of fewer shares than if the dividend or distribution had been paid in Common Shares issued by the Fund. The Plan Agent will use all dividends and distributions received in cash to purchase Common Shares in the open market on or shortly after the payment date, but in no event later than the ex-dividend date for the next distribution. Interest will not be paid on any uninvested cash payments.

You may withdraw from the Plan at any time by giving notice to the Plan Agent. If you withdraw or the Plan is terminated, you will receive a certificate for each whole share in your account under the Plan and you will receive a cash payment for any fraction of a share in your account. If you wish, the Plan Agent will sell your shares and send you the proceeds, minus brokerage commissions.

The Plan Agent maintains all shareholders' accounts in the Plan and gives written confirmation of all transactions in the accounts, including information you may need for tax records. The Plan Agent will also furnish each person who buys Common Shares with written instructions detailing the procedures for electing not to participate in the Plan and to instead receive distributions in cash. Common Shares in your account will be held by the Plan Agent in non-certificated form. Any proxy you receive will include all Common Shares you have received under the Plan.

There is no brokerage charge for reinvestment of your dividends or distributions in Common Shares. However, all participants will pay a pro rata share of brokerage commissions incurred by the Plan Agent when it makes open market purchases.

Automatically reinvested dividends and distributions are taxed in the same manner as cash dividends and distributions.

The Fund and the Plan Agent reserve the right to amend or terminate the Plan. There is no direct service charge to participants in the Plan; however, the Fund reserves the right to amend the Plan to include a service charge payable by the participants. Additional information about the Plan may be obtained from the Fund's transfer agent, PFPC Inc., P.O. Box 43027, Providence, RI 02940-3027, telephone number (800) 331-1710.

Nicholas-Applegate Capital Management LLC ("NACM")

Description of Proxy Voting Policy and Procedures

NACM votes proxies on behalf of its clients pursuant to its written Proxy Policy Guidelines and Procedures (the "Proxy Guidelines"), unless a client requests otherwise. The Proxy Guidelines are designed to honor NACM's fiduciary duties to its clients and protect and enhance its clients' economic welfare and rights.

The Proxy Guidelines are established by a Proxy Committee consisting of executive, investment, sales, marketing, compliance and operations personnel. The Proxy Guidelines reflect NACM's normal voting positions on specific corporate actions, including but not limited to those relating to social and corporate responsibility issues, stock option plans and other management compensation issues, changes to a portfolio company's capital structure and corporate governance. For example, NACM generally votes for proposals to declassify boards and generally supports proposals that remove restrictions on shareholders' ability to call special meetings independently of management. Some issues will require a case-by-case analysis.

The Proxy Guidelines largely follow the recommendations of Glass, Lewis & Co. LLC ("Glass Lewis"), an investment research and proxy advisory firm. The Proxy Guidelines may not apply to every situation and NACM may vote differently than specified by the Proxy Guidelines and/or contrary to Glass Lewis' recommendation if NACM reasonably determines that to do so is in its clients' best interest. Any variance from the Proxy Guidelines is documented.

In the case of a potential conflict of interest, NACM's Proxy Committee will be responsible for reviewing the potential conflict and will have the final decision as to how the relevant proxy should be voted.

Under certain circumstances, NACM may in its reasonable discretion refrain from voting clients' proxies due to cost or other factors.

NFJ Investment Group ("NFJ")

Description of Proxy Voting Policy and Procedures

NFJ typically votes proxies as part of its discretionary authority to manage accounts, unless the client has explicitly reserved the authority for itself. When voting proxies, NFJ's primary objective is to make voting decisions solely in the best economic interests of its clients. NFJ will act in a manner that it deems prudent and diligent and which is intended to enhance the economic value of the underlying portfolio securities held in its clients' accounts.

B-1

Edgar Filing: NFJ DIVIDEND, INTEREST & PREMIUM STRATEGY FUND - Form N-CSR

NFJ has adopted written Proxy Voting Policies and Procedures (the Proxy Guidelines) that are reasonably designed to ensure that it is voting in the best interest of its clients. The Proxy Guidelines reflect NFJ's general voting positions on specific corporate actions, including but not limited to those relating to social and corporate responsibility issues, stock option plans and other management compensation issues, changes to a portfolio company's capital structure and corporate governance. For example, NFJ generally votes for proposals to declassify boards and generally opposes proposals to institute supermajority voting requirements relating to business combinations. In addition, because Proxy Guidelines cannot anticipate all situations and the surrounding facts of each proxy issue, some proxy issues may require a case-by-case analysis (whether or not required by the Proxy Guidelines) and may result in a vote being cast that will deviate from the Proxy Guidelines.

In accordance with the Proxy Guidelines, NFJ may review additional criteria associated with voting proxies and evaluate the expected benefit to its clients when making an overall determination on how or whether to vote the proxy. NFJ may vote proxies individually for an account or aggregate and record votes across a group of accounts, strategy or product. In addition, NFJ may refrain from voting a proxy on behalf of its clients' accounts in certain circumstances, for example, due to de-minimis holdings, impact on the portfolio, items relating to foreign issuers (including ADRs), timing issues related to the opening/closing of accounts and contractual arrangements with clients and/or their authorized delegate. For example, NFJ may refrain from voting a proxy of a foreign issuer due to logistical considerations that may have a detrimental effect on NFJ's ability to vote the proxy. These issues may include, but are not limited to: (i) proxy statements and ballots being written in a foreign language, (ii) untimely notice of a shareholder meeting, (iii) requirements to vote proxies in person, (iv) restrictions on a foreigner's ability to exercise votes, (v) restrictions on the sale of securities for a period of time in proximity to the shareholder meeting, or (vi) requirements to provide local agents with power of attorney to facilitate the voting instructions. Such proxies are voted on a best-efforts basis. Upon a client's request, NFJ may vote proxies for that client's account contrary to the Proxy Guidelines.

To assist in the proxy voting process, NFJ may retain an independent third party service provider to assist in providing research, analysis and voting recommendations on corporate governance issues and corporate actions as well as assist in the administrative process. The services provided offer a variety of proxy-related services to assist in NFJ's handling of proxy voting responsibilities.

Conflicts of Interest. NFJ may have conflicts of interest that can affect how it votes its clients' proxies. For example, NFJ or an affiliate may manage a pension plan whose management is sponsoring a proxy proposal. The Proxy Guidelines are designed to prevent material conflicts of interest from affecting the manner in which NFJ votes its clients' proxies. In order to ensure that all material conflicts of interest are handled appropriately while carrying out its obligation to vote proxies, NFJ's Proxy Committee has established procedures addressing how NFJ identifies and resolves any material conflicts of interest with its clients.

Oppenheimer Capital LLC ("Oppenheimer Capital")

Description of Proxy Voting Policy and Procedures

Oppenheimer Capital typically votes proxies of the securities held in its client portfolios, unless the client has reserved voting authority for itself. To ensure that the proxies are voted in the best interests of its clients, Oppenheimer Capital has adopted detailed proxy voting procedures and has guidelines for voting proxies on specific types of issues. When voting proxies, Oppenheimer Capital's primary objective is to make voting decisions solely in the best economic interests of its clients. Oppenheimer Capital will act in a manner which is intended to enhance the economic value of the underlying portfolio securities held in its clients' accounts.

Oppenheimer Capital has adopted written Proxy Voting Policies and Procedures (the "Proxy Guidelines") that are reasonably designed to ensure that the firm is voting in the best interest of its clients. The Proxy Guidelines reflect Oppenheimer Capital's general voting positions on specific corporate actions, including but not limited to those relating to social and corporate responsibility issues, stock option plans and other management compensation issues, changes to a portfolio company's capital structure and corporate governance. For example, Oppenheimer Capital generally votes for proposals to declassify boards and to require majority votes in director elections. Some issues require a case-by-case analysis, such as mergers and corporate restructurings.

Oppenheimer Capital has retained an independent third party service provider (the "Proxy Provider") to assist in the proxy voting process by implementing the votes in accordance with the Proxy Guidelines as well as assisting in the administrative process. The Proxy Provider provides a variety of proxy-related services to assist in Oppenheimer Capital's handling of proxy voting responsibilities.

Oppenheimer Capital's Proxy Guidelines also provide for oversight of the proxy voting process by a Proxy Committee. The Proxy Committee meets at a minimum on a quarterly basis and when necessary to address potential conflicts of interest. Oppenheimer Capital may have conflicts of interest that can affect how it votes its client's proxies. For example, Oppenheimer Capital may manage a pension plan whose management is sponsoring a proxy proposal. In order to ensure that all material conflicts of interest are addressed appropriately while carrying out Oppenheimer Capital's obligation to vote proxies, the Proxy Committee is responsible for developing a process to identify proxy voting issues that may raise conflicts of interest between Oppenheimer Capital and its clients and to resolve such issues, which may include reviewing the vote to confirm that the voting decision was not affected by the conflict.

Oppenheimer Capital's Proxy Committee's duties also include monitoring the outsourcing of voting obligations to the Proxy Provider and Oppenheimer Capital's proxy voting recordkeeping practices; developing a process for resolution of voting issues that require a case-by-case analysis; and, to the extent the Proxy Guidelines do not cover potential proxy voting issues, determining a process for voting such issues. Oppenheimer Capital's Proxy Committee will review, at least annually, the services provided by the Proxy Provider and all proxy voting processes and procedures and will update or revise them as necessary.

In accordance with the Proxy Guidelines, Oppenheimer Capital may review additional criteria associated with voting proxies and evaluate the expected benefit to its clients when making an overall determination on how or whether to vote a proxy. Upon receipt of a client's written request, Oppenheimer Capital may also vote proxies for that client's account in a particular manner that may differ from the Proxy Guidelines. In addition, Oppenheimer Capital may refrain from voting a proxy on behalf of its clients' accounts in certain circumstances, for example, due to de-minimis holdings, immaterial impact on the portfolio, items relating to foreign issuers (such as those described below), timing issues related to the opening/closing of accounts and contractual arrangements with clients and/or their authorized delegate. For example, Oppenheimer Capital may refrain from voting a proxy of a foreign issuer due to logistical considerations that may have a detrimental effect on Oppenheimer Capital's ability to vote the proxy. These issues may include, but are not limited to: (i) proxy statements and ballots being written in a foreign language, (ii) untimely notice of a shareholder meeting, (iii) requirements to vote proxies in person, (iv) restrictions on a foreigner's ability to exercise votes, (v) restrictions on the sale of securities for a period of time in proximity to the shareholder meeting, or (vi) requirements to provide local agents with power of attorney to facilitate the voting instructions. Such proxies are voted on a best-efforts basis.

NACM

Like other investment professionals with multiple clients, a Portfolio Manager for a Fund may face certain potential conflicts of interest in connection with managing both the Fund and other accounts at the same time. The paragraphs below describe some of these potential conflicts, which the Investment Adviser believes are faced by investment professionals at most major financial firms.

The Investment Adviser and the Trustees have adopted compliance policies and procedures that attempt to address certain of these potential conflicts. The management of accounts with different advisory fee rates and/or fee structures, including accounts that pay advisory fees based on account performance (performance fee accounts), may raise potential conflicts of interest by creating an incentive to favor higher-fee accounts. These potential conflicts may include, among others:

The most attractive investments could be allocated to higher-fee accounts or performance fee accounts.

The trading of higher-fee accounts could be favored as to timing and/or execution price. For example, higher-fee accounts could be permitted to sell securities earlier than other accounts when a prompt sale is desirable or to buy securities at an earlier and more opportune time.

The investment management team could focus their time and efforts primarily on higher-fee accounts due to a personal stake in compensation.

Edgar Filing: NFJ DIVIDEND, INTEREST & PREMIUM STRATEGY FUND - Form N-CSR

A potential conflict of interest may arise when a Fund and other accounts purchase or sell the same securities. On occasions when a Portfolio Manager considers the purchase or sale of a security to be in the best interests of a Fund as well as other accounts, the Investment Adviser's trading desk may, to the extent permitted by applicable laws and regulations, aggregate the securities to be sold or purchased in order to obtain the best execution and lower brokerage commissions, if any. Aggregation of trades may create the potential for unfairness to a Fund or another account if one account is favored over another in allocating the securities purchased or sold for example, by allocating a disproportionate amount of a security that is likely to increase in value to a favored account.

Cross trades, in which one Investment Adviser account sells a particular security to another account (potentially saving transaction costs for both accounts), may also pose a potential conflict of interest. Cross trades may be seen to involve a potential conflict of interest if, for example, one account is permitted to sell a security to another account at a higher price than an independent third party would pay. The Investment Adviser and the Board of Trustees have adopted compliance procedures that provide that any transactions between the Funds and another Investment Adviser-advised account are to be made at an independent current market price, as required by law.

Another potential conflict of interest may arise based on the different investment objectives and strategies of a Fund and other accounts. For example, another account may have a shorter-term investment horizon or different investment objectives, policies or restrictions than a Fund. Depending on another account's objectives or other factors, a Portfolio Manager may give advice and make decisions that may differ from advice given, or the timing or nature of decisions made, with respect to a Fund. In addition, investment decisions are the product of many factors to basic suitability for the particular account involved. Thus, a particular security may be bought or sold for certain accounts even though it could have been bought or sold for other accounts at the same time. More rarely, a particular security may be bought for one or more accounts managed by a Portfolio Manager when one or more other accounts are selling the security (including short sales). There may be circumstances when purchases or sales of portfolio securities for one or more accounts may have an adverse effect on other accounts.

A Fund's Portfolio Manager who is responsible for managing multiple funds and/or accounts may devote unequal time and attention to the management of those funds and/or accounts. As a result, the Portfolio Manager may not be able to formulate as complete a strategy or identify equally attractive investment opportunities for each of those accounts as might be the case if he or she were to devote substantially more attention to the management of a single fund. The effects of this potential conflict may be more pronounced where funds and/or accounts overseen by a particular Portfolio Manager have different investment strategies. A Fund's Portfolio Manager(s) may be able to select or influence the selection of the brokers and dealers that are used to execute securities transactions for the Funds. In addition to executing trades, some brokers and dealers provide Portfolio Managers with brokerage and research services (as those terms are defined in Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934), which may result in the payment of higher brokerage fees than might have otherwise be available. These services may be more beneficial to certain funds or accounts than to others. Although the payment of brokerage commissions is subject to the requirement that the Portfolio Manager determine in good faith that the commissions are reasonable in relation to the value of the brokerage and research services provided to the Fund, a Portfolio Manager's decision as to the selection of brokers and dealers could yield disproportionate costs and benefits among the Funds and/or accounts that he or she manages. See Portfolio Transactions and Brokerage .

A Fund's Portfolio Manager(s) may also face other potential conflicts of interest in managing a Fund, and the description above is not a complete description of every conflict that could be deemed to exist in managing both the Funds and other accounts. In addition, a Fund's Portfolio Manager may also manage other accounts (including their personal assets or the assets of family members) in their personal capacity. The management of these accounts may also involve certain of the potential conflicts described above. The Investment Adviser's investment personnel, including each Fund's Portfolio Manager, are subject to restrictions on engaging in personal securities transactions pursuant to the Codes of Ethics adopted by the Investment Adviser and the Funds, which contain provisions and requirements designed to identify and address certain conflicts of interest between personal investment activities and the interests of the Funds.

NFJ

Being an investment manager with multiple clients, there could be the potential conflict of interest while managing both the fund and other accounts at the same time. Listed below are potential conflicts that an investment professional could face. NFJ Investment Group has implemented compliance policies and procedures to attempt to address these potential issues.

There is the potential conflict that a more attractive investment could be allocated to a higher fee paying account. A conflict could also arise if a disproportionate share amount of a security that is likely to increase in value is allocated to a favored account. NFJ Investment Group has established Allocation procedures to address fair and equitable allocation of all trades.

Another potential conflict could involve personal trading of the portfolio managers. Front-running could exist if a portfolio manager transacted in his own personal account prior to placing an order for the fund or other clients knowing its effect on the security. NFJ Investment Group has implemented a set of policies and procedures through its Code of Ethics to address this potential conflict.

OpCap

When a portfolio manager has responsibility for managing more than one account, potential conflicts of interest may arise. Those conflicts could include preferential treatment of one account over others in terms of allocation of resources or of investment opportunities. While the portfolio managers of OpCap are subject to a written Code of Ethics that is designed to ensure that the personal securities transactions of covered persons will not interfere with making decisions in the best interest of advisory clients, the portfolio managers may, from time to time, acquire, possess, manage and dispose of securities or other investment assets for their own accounts, for the accounts of their families, for the account of any entity in which they have a beneficial interest or for the accounts of others for whom they provide investment advisory services (collectively, "Managed Accounts"), in transactions which may or may not correspond with transactions effected or positions held in the Funds. When OpCap determines that it would be appropriate for a particular Fund and one or more Managed Accounts to participate in an investment opportunity, OpCap will seek to execute orders for a Fund and for such Managed Accounts on a basis which it considers equitable, but that equality of treatment of a Fund and one or more other Managed Accounts is not assured. In such situations, OpCap may (but is not required to) place orders for a Fund and each other Managed Account simultaneously and if all such orders are not filled at the same price, OpCap may cause a Fund and each Managed Account to pay or receive the average of the prices at which the orders were filled. If all such orders cannot be fully executed under prevailing market conditions, OpCap may allocate the securities traded among a Fund and other Managed Accounts, pursuant to policies and procedures adopted to address these potential conflicts of interest, in a manner which it considers equitable, taking into account the size of the order placed for a Fund and each other Managed Account as well as any other factors which it deems relevant.

OpCap advises one or more accounts that are charged an advisory fee that is based entirely or partially on performance. Performance fee arrangements may create a conflict of interest for the portfolio manager in that the portfolio manager may have an incentive to allocate the investment opportunities that he or she believes might be the most profitable to such other accounts instead of allocating them to a Fund or an account without a performance-based fee. OpCap has adopted policies and procedures that are reasonably designed to allocate investment opportunities between such other accounts and Funds and accounts without a performance-based fee on a fair and equitable basis over time.

3) NACM

As of January 31, 2007, the following explains the compensation structure of each individual (as listed in the Prospectus) that shares primary responsibility for day-to-day portfolio management of the Funds (for the purposes of this section, Portfolio Managers):

Base Salary. Each Portfolio Manager is paid a fixed base salary set at a competitive level, taking into consideration the Portfolio Manager's experience and responsibilities, as determined by the Investment Adviser.

Annual Bonus and Profit Sharing Opportunity. Each Portfolio Manager's compensation is directly affected by the performance, on a pre-tax basis, of the individual portfolios he or she manages, including each Fund; as well as the performance of the individual's portfolio management team and the overall success of the firm.

Edgar Filing: NFJ DIVIDEND, INTEREST & PREMIUM STRATEGY FUND - Form N-CSR

Approximately 75% of each Portfolio Manager's bonus is based on one- and three-year annualized performance of client accounts under his or her management, with greater weight placed on three-year performance. This takes into account relative performance of the accounts to each account's individual benchmark (which includes the CSFB Convertible Index, the Merrill Lynch All Convertible All Quality Index, and the Merrill Lynch High Yield Master II Index) (representing approximately one half of the calculation) and the accounts' peer rankings in institutional consultant universes (representing the other half). In the case of each Fund, the benchmark against which the performance of the Fund's portfolio will be compared for these purposes is indicated in the Past Performance sections of the prospectus. The remaining 25% of the bonus is based on a qualitative review and overall firm profitability. The qualitative review evaluates each NACM Portfolio Manager based on the individual's contribution to the implementation of the investment process of his or her accounts, including the Fund. The lead portfolio manager indicated for each Fund evaluates the other members of the portfolio management team. The Chief Investment Officer (Mr. Valeiras) evaluates the lead portfolio managers.

Each NACM investment team has a profit-sharing plan. Each team receives a pool which is based on EBITDA (i.e., earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization) of the accounts managed by the team and is distributed subjectively. All team members are eligible. The Chief Investment Officer and lead portfolio manager determine allocations among the team. The profits to be allocated increase with the profitability of the applicable accounts. The Portfolio Managers are also eligible to participate in a non-qualified deferred compensation plan, which affords participating employees the tax benefits of deferring the receipt of a portion of their cash compensation until such time as designated under the plan.

NFJ

The following information is provided as of January 31, 2007. Contractual agreements provide the founders with competitive salaries and all benefits provided to the senior executives of Allianz. The founders/managing directors have a separate business entity contract and employment contract, including a profit sharing agreement. All other managing directors are eligible for profit sharing pool participation. Compensation is tied to successful job performance and growth in assets under management. All managing directors have available to them a Deferred Compensation Plan that is 100% voluntary on the part of the individual.

Our compensation levels are on par with other industry firms. Employees are provided very competitive compensation packages with incentives, including annual bonuses, a benefits package, vacation, sick leave, etc.. Compensation is fixed and is not based on the fund's performance or the assets held in the fund's portfolio. All NFJ employees at the same level are compensated in the same way. There is no difference between the structure and method used to compensate the portfolio manager assigned to the fund's account and other portfolio managers in the Company.

OpCap

The following information is provided as of January 31, 2007 and March 31, 2007, as applicable. OpCap believes that its compensation program is competitively positioned to attract and retain high-caliber investment professionals. As more fully described below, portfolio managers receive a base salary, a variable bonus opportunity, and participation in a Long Term Incentive Plan and group retirement plans. Total cash compensation, as described below, is set for each portfolio manager relative to his or her performance and the market. Portfolio manager compensation is reviewed and modified each year as appropriate to reflect changes in the market, as well as to adjust drivers of compensation to promote good sustained fund performance. OpCap attempts to keep its compensation levels at or above the median for similar positions in the local area.

Each portfolio manager's compensation consists of the following elements:

Base salary. Each portfolio manager is paid a fixed base salary which is set at a level determined by OpCap. In setting the base salary, the firm's intentions are to be competitive in light of the particular portfolio manager's experience and responsibilities. Firm management evaluates competitive market compensation by reviewing compensation survey results conducted by an independent third party of investment industry compensation.

Annual bonus and Long Term Incentive Plan. The portfolio manager is eligible for an annual bonus in addition to base salary. The bonus typically forms the majority of the individual's annual cash compensation and is based in part on pre-tax performance against the Fund's relevant benchmark over one and three year periods, with some consideration for longer periods. Allianz Global Investors of America L.P. (AGI) has established a Long Term Incentive Plan for certain employees. The plan provides awards that are based on operating earnings growth of OpCap and the collective earnings growth of all the asset management companies of AGI.

Participation in group retirement plans. Portfolio managers are eligible to participate in a non-qualified deferred compensation plan, which affords participating employees the tax benefits of deferring the receipt of a portion of their cash compensation until such time as designated under the plan.
