What are some of the key risks to investing in RBS ETNs?

The applicable pricing supplement and prospectus for your RBS ETNs will desc investment in RBS ETNs. These risks include the following:

[] Credit risk of the issuer. All payments on RBS ETNs will depend on the ability of the relevant Issuer to pay its obligations when due. RBS ETNs issued by RBS N. V. and RBS plc are also fully and unconditionally guaranteed by RBS Holdings and RBS Group, respectively. As such, if the relevant Issuer fails to make any required payments on the ETNs, your receipt of such payments will depend on the ability of the applicable guarantor to pay its obligations. RBS ETNs do not guarantee any return to you of the principal invested. RBS ETNs are not FDIC insured.

[] Market Risk. The return on an RBS ETN will depend on the performance of the underlying market measure(s) which it tracks. The underlying market measure(s) may perform poorly, resulting in a negative impact on the RBS ETN and may result in a loss to the investor.

[] Investor Fee. The amount payable at maturity or upon early repurchase or redemption of your ETNs is reduced by the aggregate investor fee applicable to your ETNs. As a result, the level of the underlying market measure(s) to which your ETNs are linked must increase by an amount sufficient to offset such in order for you to receive at least the face amount of your investment at maturity or upon early repurchase or redemption. If the level of the underlying market measure(s) decreases or does not increase sufficiently, you will receive less, and possibly significantly less, than the face amount of your investment at maturity or upon early repurchase or redemption.

[] Liquidity risk. Even though RBS ETNs are expected to be listed on a U. S. securities exchange, there is no guarantee that the listing will be maintained or that a secondary market will develop. The relevant Issuer is not required to maintain any listing of RBS ETNs on any securities exchange.

[] Restrictions. on your ability to offer RBS ETNs for repurchase by the issuer. Through your broker, you may offer RBS ETNs for repurchase by the relevant Issuer only if minimum amounts are offered and certain procedures described in the applicable pricing supplement are followed.

Call risk. The relevant Issuer also has the right to redeem your ETNs at its option. If the relevant Issuer elects to repurchase your ETNs at its option, you may not be able to reinvest the proceeds that you receive in another investment comparable to the RBS ETNs.

Uncertain tax treatment Significant aspects of the U. S. federal income tax treatment of the ETNs are uncertain, and the Internal Revenue Service or a court might not agree with the tax consequences described in the applicable pricing supplement.

What else should I consider?

What is the redemption value of an RBS ETN?

The redemption value of an RBS ETN means the amount that would be payable by the relevant Issuer to the investor if the ETN were to be repurchased or redeemed by such Issuer either prior to or on the maturity date. The redemption value for an RBS ETN on any given day will depend on the performance of the underlying market measure(s) which the ETN tracks, less the applicable investor fee and repurchase fee. The applicable pricing supplement and prospectus describe how this amount is determined for the relevant RBS ETNs. The daily redemption value for each outstanding RBS ETN will be published on www.rbs.com/etnUS. The RBS US Mid Cap Trendpilot(TM) ETNs are designed for investors who seek Trendpilot(TM) Index (USD) (the "Index"). The Index utilizes a systematic trend-following strategy to track the return on the MidCap 400[R] Total Return Index (the "Benchmark Index") or the yield on a hypothetical notional investment (the "Cash Rate"), depending on the relative performance of the Benchmark Index on a simple moving average of the level of the Benchmark Index. If the Benchmark Index is at or above its historical 200-Index business day simple moving average (i.e., a "positive trend" is established), the Index will track the return on the Benchmark Index until a negative trend occurs. Conversely, if the level of the Benchmark Index is below such a simple moving average (i.e., a "negative trend" is established), then the Index will track the Cash Rate until the next positive trend.

CERTAIN RISK CONSIDERATIONS: The RBS ETNs involve risks not associated with an investment in conventional debt securities, including a possible loss of some or all of your investment. The level of the Index must increase by an amount sufficient to offset the aggregate investor fee applicable to the RBS ETNs in order for you to receive at least the principal amount of your investment back at maturity or upon early repurchase or redemption. The Index may underperform the Benchmark Index, and is expected to perform poorly in volatile markets. Liquidity of the market for RBS ETNs may vary over time. The RBS ETNs do not pay interest. Any payment on the RBS ETNs is subject to ability of The Royal Bank of Scotland N.V. (RBS NV), as the issuer, and RBS Holdings N.V., as the guarantor, to pay their respective obligations when they become due. You should carefully consider whether the RBS ETNs are suited to your particular circumstances before you decide to purchase them. We urge you to consult with your investment, legal, accounting, tax and other advisors with respect to any investment in the RBS ETNs.

The RBS ETNs are not suitable for all investors. You should carefully read the relevant pricing supplement and prospectus, including the more detailed explanation of the risks involved in any investment in the RBS ETNs as described in the "Risk Factors" section of the pricing supplement, before investing.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION: The Royal Bank of Scotland N.V. (RBS NV) and RBS Holdings N.V. (RBS Holdings) have filed a registration statement (including a prospectus) with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) for the offering of RBS ETNs to which this communication relates. Learn About RBS ETNs

The RBS US Large Cap Trendpilot(TM) ETNs are designed for investors who seek to track the return of the RBS US Large Cap Trendpilot(TM) Index (USD) (the "Index"). The Index utilizes a systematic trend-following strategy that tracks the S and P 500[R] Total Return Index (the "Benchmark Index") or the yield on a hypothetical notional investment in US government Treasury bills (the "Cash Rate"), depending on the relative performance of the Benchmark Index on a simple moving average basis. If the level of the Benchmark Index is at or above its historical 200-Index business day simple moving average (i.e., a "positive trend" is established), the Index will track the return on the Benchmark Index until a negative trend occurs. Conversely, if the level of the Benchmark Index is below such a simple moving average (i.e., a "negative trend" is established), then the Index will track the Cash Rate until the next positive trend.

The RBS Oil Trendpilot(TM) ETNs are designed for investors who seek exposure to the return of the RBS Oil Trendpilot Index (USD) (the "Index"). The Index utilizes a systematic trend-following strategy to provide exposure to the return of the RBS Oil Trendpilot Index (USD) (the "Benchmark Index", as described below) or the yield on a hypothetical notional investment in a series of Treasury bills (the "Cash Rate"), depending on the relative performance of the Benchmark Index on a systematic basis. If the closing level of the Benchmark Index is at or above its historical 100-Index business day systematic consecutive Index business days (i.e., a "positive trend" is established), the Index will track the return of the Cash Rate until two Index business days after a negative trend occurs. Conversely, if the Benchmark Index is below such average for five consecutive Index business days (i.e., a "negative trend" is established), the Index will have no exposure to the Benchmark Index until two Index business days after the next rebalancing. The Benchmark Index utilizes a rules-based methodology to provide exposure to the return of an investment in a series of twelve (12) light sweet crude oil (WTI) futures contracts that are traded on the NYMEX ("NYMEX"). The twelve (12) futures contracts comprising the Benchmark Index on any given day will be the twelve (12) futures contracts scheduled to expire in the immediately following calendar month and futures contracts scheduled to expire in each of the twelve (12) following calendar months. The Benchmark Index is rebalanced on a monthly basis so that each of the twelve (12) futures contracts comprising the Benchmark Index is rebalancing.

CERTAIN RISK CONSIDERATIONS: The RBS ETNs involve risks not associated with an investment in conventional debt securities, including a possible loss of some or all of your investment. The level of the Index must increase by an amount sufficient to offset the aggregate investor fee applicable to the RBS ETNs in order for you to receive at least the principal amount of your investment back at maturity or upon early repurchase or redemption. The Index may underperform the Benchmark Index, and is expected to perform poorly in volatile markets. Liquidity of the market for RBS ETNs may vary over time. The RBS ETNs are not principal protected and do not pay interest. Any payment on the RBS ETNs is subject to the ability of The Royal Bank of Scotland plc, as the issuer, and The Royal Bank of Scotland Group plc, as the guarantor, to pay their respective obligations when they become due. You should carefully consider whether the RBS ETNs are suited to your particular circumstances before you decide to purchase them. We urge you to consult with your investment, legal, accounting, tax and other advisors with respect to any investment in the RBS ETNs.

The RBS ETNs are not suitable for all investors. You should carefully read the relevant pricing supplement and prospectus, including the more detailed explanation of the risks involved in any investment in the RBS ETNs as described in the "Risk Factors" section of the pricing supplement, before investing.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION: The Royal Bank of Scotland plc (RBS plc) and The Royal Bank of Scotland Group plc (RBS Group) have filed a registration statement (including a prospectus) with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) for the offering of RBS ETNs to which this communication relates. Before you invest in any RBS ETNs, you should read the prospectus in that registration statement and other documents that have been filed by RBS plc and RBS Group with the SEC for more complete information about RBS plc and RBS Group, and the offering. (RBSSI) or any dealer participating in the offering will arrange to send you the prospectus and the pricing supplement at no charge if you request it by calling 1-855-RBS-ETPS (toll free).

The RBS Gold Trendpilot(TM) ETNs are designed for investors who seek exposure to the return on the Price of Gold Bullion (the "Index") (USD) (the "Index").

About Us The Index utilizes a systematic trend-following strategy to provide exposure to the return on the Price of Gold Bullion (as defined below) or the yield on a hypothetical notional investment in 3-month U.S. Treasury bills relative to the return on the Price of Gold Bullion (as defined below) or the relative performance of the Price of Gold Bullion on a simple historical moving average basis. If the Price of Gold Bullion is above such average for five consecutive index business days (the "Uptrend"), the Index will track its historical 200-day simple moving average for five consecutive Index business days (the "Downtrend"). If the Price of Gold Bullion is below such average for five consecutive index business days (the "Downtrend"), the Index will track the return on the Price of Gold Bullion, and will have no exposure to the return on the Price of Gold Bullion until the next occurs. Conversely, if the Price of Gold Bullion is below such average for five consecutive index business days (the "Downtrend"), then the Index will track the Cash Rate instead of the return on the Price of Gold Bullion and will have no exposure to the return on the Price of Gold Bullion until the next positive trend. The "Price of Gold Bullion" on any given day means the spot price of physical gold (the "Price of Gold Bullion") on any given day means the spot price of physical afternoon gold fixing price (also known as the London Gold P.M. Fixing Price) per troy ounce of gold for delivery to the London Bullion and published by the LBMA, on such day. The Price of Gold Bullion is also published by the LBMA, on such day. The Price of Gold Bullion is also published by the LBMA, on such day. The Price of Gold Bullion is also published by the LBMA, on such day.

Market Association ("LBMA") authorized to effect such delivery, stated in the London Gold Market Fixing Ltd.

"GOLDLNPM Index." For the purposes of the Product Facts below, the Price of Gold Bullion is also published by the LBMA, on such day. The Price of Gold Bullion is also published by the LBMA, on such day. The Price of Gold Bullion is also published by the LBMA, on such day.

The RBS China Trendpilot[] ETNs are designed for investors who seek exposure to the RBS China Trendpilot[] Index (USD) (the "Index"). The Index utilizes a systematic trend-following strategy to provide exposure to the RBS China Select ADR Total Return Index[] (the "Benchmark Index") or the yield on a hypothetical notional amount of Treasury bills as of the most recent weekly auction (the "Cash Rate"), depending on the performance of the Index relative to its historical moving average. If the closing level of the Benchmark Index is at or above its historical moving average for three consecutive Index business days (i.e., a "positive trend" is established), the Index will track the Benchmark Index, and will have no exposure to the Cash Rate until a negative trend occurs. Conversely, if the Benchmark Index is below its historical 100-Index business day simple moving average for three consecutive Index business days (i.e., a "negative trend" is established), the Index will track the Cash Rate instead of the return on the Benchmark Index until the next positive trend occurs.
