Item 3.02. Unregistered Sale of Equity Securities.

On December 10, 2004, Lucent Technologies Inc. issued 200 million warrants as part of its global settlement approved by the U.S District Court in Newark, New Jersey on December 12, 2003 of what were 54 separate lawsuits, including the consolidated shareowner securities class action lawsuits and related ERISA, bondholder, derivative and state securities cases. Each warrant entitles the holder to purchase one share of the company's common stock at an exercise price of $2.75 and has an expiration date of December 10, 2007. The warrants were not registered under the Securities Act of 1933 pursuant to an exemption under Section 3(a)(10) of that Act.

The company issued the warrants to the Depository Trust Company (DTC), which is acting as a clearinghouse for banks and brokerage firms that are receiving warrants on behalf of claimants as part of the settlement. The settlement required claimants to identify a brokerage account to be eligible to receive the warrants. Claimants whose recognized claim was valued at $3,000 or less and claimants who did not identify a brokerage account will receive a cash payout in lieu of receiving warrants. The claims administrator accepted approximately 522,000 claimants into the settlement, with about 200,000 of those claimants receiving warrants. The distribution of the warrants is being made pursuant to the plaintiffs' plan of distribution, which was approved by the U.S. District Court on November 9, 2004.

The warrants are governed by the terms of a Warrant Agreement, dated as of December 10, 2004, between the company and The Bank of New York, as warrant agent.
