Item 1,01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement

On December 31, 2004, the Board of Directors of First Albany Companies Inc. (the "Company") approved the adoption of the First Albany Companies Inc. 2005 Deferred Compensation Plan for Key Employees (the "2005 Plan") and froze the existing deferred compensation plan, the First Albany Companies Inc. Deferred Compensation Plan for Key Employees (the "Predecessor Plan"), in each case, effective as of January 1, 2005, in order to satisfy the requirements of the new Internal Revenue Code Section 409A enacted as part of the American Jobs Creation Act of 2004.

Like the Predecessor Plan, the 2005 Plan is an unfunded, non-qualified deferred compensation plan that provides management or highly compensated employees selected by the administering committee with the opportunity to defer specified percentages of their cash compensation derived from base salary, bonus awards and other specified compensation and to receive a matching contribution or discretionary allocation from the Company, determined by the Company in its sole discretion. These amounts will be credited to the participants' notional accounts under the 2005 Plan and may be subject to vesting requirements established by the administering committee. The value of each participant's notional accounts will be notionally adjusted for gain or loss based on investment benchmarks selected by the participant from among the investment benchmarks made available by the administering committee. Participants may elect to receive distribution from their accounts in either a lump sum occurring no later than the April 15th after the tenth (10th) year following the year in respect of which the deferral election was made or in substantially equal annual installments ending no later than the April 15th after the tenth (10th) year following the year in respect of which the deferral election was made.

Provisions in the 2005 Plan not included in the Predecessor Plan include (i) restrictions on the time when deferral elections are permitted to be made; and (ii) a requirement that changes in distribution elections will not be effective for twelve (12) months and that the new distribution date selected must be at least five (5) years after the distribution date originally selected.

Amounts deferred prior to January 1, 2005 and the related notional accounts will continue to be governed by the terms and conditions of the Predecessor Plan.
