Table of ContentsEbix, Inc. and Subsidiaries*Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited)*Note 1: Description of Business and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Description of Business Ebix, Inc. and subsidiaries (Ebix or the Company) provides a series of on -demand software products and e-commerce services for the insurance industry ranging from carrier systems, agency systems and exchanges to custom software development for carriers, brokers, and agents involved in the insurance and financial industries. The Company has its headquarters in Atlanta, Georgia and also operates in five other countries including Australia, New Zealand, Singapore, UK and India. International revenue accounted for 25.4% and 41.2% of the Company s total revenue for the six months ended June 30, 2009 and 2008 respectively.

The Company s revenues are derived from four product/service groups. The Company s revenue in local currency terms for each of the four groups grew in the second quarter of 2009 and the six-month period ending June 30, 2009 as compared to the same period in 2008. The strengthening of the U.S. $ year over year, resulted in the broker division revenue (primarily coming from international divisions) for 2009 decreasing significantly in US$ terms. Presented in the table below is the breakout of our revenue streams for each of those product/service groups for the three and six months ended June 30, 2009 and 2008.

Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, and the effect of inter-company balances and transactions has been eliminated. In the opinion of management, the accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements contain all adjustments (consisting only of normal recurring items) necessary to present fairly the consolidated financial position of the Company and its consolidated results of operations and cash flows. These interim financial statements should be read in conjunction with the financial statements and accompanying notes included in the Company s Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31,2008.

Reclassification Beginning in 2008 and for all subsequent periods reported, the Company has reclassified and separately presented in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets and statements of cash flows its investments in and cash flows associated with short-term investments in certificates of deposit placed with its commercial bank in India. These certificates of deposit have maturities in ranging from 12 to 120 months. The aggregate amount of these short-term investments was $3.2 million and $1.5 million at June 30, 2009 and December 31, 2008, respectively, and the net cash inflows (outflows) arising from these investments was ($1.6) million and ($655) thousand for the six months ended June 30 2009 and 2008, respectively.

Short-term Investments The Company s short-term investments consist of certificates of deposits with established commercial banking institutions with readily determinable fair values. These certificates of deposit have maturities periods ranging from 12 to 120 months, with a weighted average maturity period of approximately 12 months at June 30, 2009. Ebix accounts for investments that are reasonably expected to be realized in cash, sold or consumed during the year as short-term investments that are available-for-sale. The carrying amount of investments in marketable securities approximates fair value at June 30, 2009 and December 31, 2008. The carrying value of our short-term investments was $3.2 million and $1.5 million at June 30, 2009 and December 31, 2008, respectively.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments The Company believes the carrying amount of cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, accounts payable, accrued expenses, accrued payroll and related benefits, and our line of credit is a reasonable estimate of their fair value due to the short maturity of these items and/or their fluctuating interest rates.

Revenue Recognition and Deferred Revenue The Company derives its revenues from professional and support services, which includes revenue generated from software development projects and associated fees for consulting, implementation, training, and project management provided to customers with installed systems, subscription and transaction fees related to services delivered over our exchanges or on an application service provider (ASP) basis, fees for hosting software, fees for software license maintenance and registration, business process outsourcing revenue, and the licensing of proprietary and third-party software. Sales and value-added taxes are not included in revenues, but rather are recorded as a liability until the taxes assessed are remitted to the respective taxing authorities. The Company considers revenue earned and realizable when: (a) persuasive evidence of the sales arrangement exists, provided that the arrangement fee is fixed or determinable, (b) delivery or performance has occurred, (c) customer acceptance has been received, if contractually required, and (d) collectability of the arrangement fee is probable. The Company uses signed contractual agreements as persuasive evidence of a sales arrangement. Revenue is recorded net of sales tax, as these taxes are recognized as a liability upon billing.

We apply the provisions of Statement of Position 97-2, Software Revenue Recognition (SOP 97-2), as amended by Statement of Position 98-9, Modification of SOP 97-2, Software Revenue Recognition, With Respect to Certain Transactions, (SOP 98-9) to all transactions involving the license of software where the software deliverables are considered more than inconsequential to the other elements in the arrangement. For contracts that contain multiple deliverables, we analyze the revenue arrangements in accordance with Emerging Issues Task Force Issue No. 00-21, Revenue Arrangements with Multiple Deliverables (EITF 00-21), which provides criteria governing how to determine whether goods or services that are delivered separately in a bundled sales arrangement should be considered as separate units of accounting for the purpose of revenue recognition. Deliverables are accounted for separately if they meet all of the following criteria: a) the delivered items has value to the customer on a stand-alone basis; b) there is objective and reliable evidence of the fair value of the undelivered items; and c) if the arrangement includes a general right of return relative to the delivered items, the delivery or performance of the undelivered items is probable and substantially controlled by the seller. To the extent arrangements contain multiple deliverables, the Company performs an analysis of the nature of the deliverables to determine to what extent the deliverables of the arrangement are governed by any higher level literature (as defined in EITF 00-21). EITF 00-21 recognizes arrangements that qualify for treatment under SOP 97-2 and certain arrangements that qualify for contract accounting (i.e. SOP 81-1) as falling under the definition of higher level literature. In regards to arrangements containing multiple performance elements, revenue recognition on delivered elements is predicated upon the establishment of vendor-specific objective evidence (VSOE) of the fair value for the undelivered elements and applying the residual method of SOP 98-9 if necessary. Fair value is determined for each undelivered element based on the price the Company charges when the item is sold separately.

Data exchange processing and ASP transaction services fee revenue is recognized as the transactions occur and generally billed in arrears. Service fees for hosting arrangements are recognized over the requisite service period. Software development arrangements involving significant customization, modification or production are accounted for in accordance with Statement of Position 81-1, Accounting for Performance on Construction-Type and Certain Production-Type Contracts, (SOP 81-1) using the percentage-of-completion method. The Company recognizes revenue using periodic reported actual hours worked as a percentage of total expected hours required to complete the project arrangement and applies the percentage to the total arrangement fee.

The Company begins to recognize revenue from license fees for its software products upon delivery and the customer's acceptance of the software implementation and customizations if applicable. Revenue from third party software is derived from the licensing of third party software products in connection with sales of the Company's software licenses and is recognized upon delivery together with the Company's licensed software products. Training, data conversion, installation, and consulting services fees are recognized as revenue when the services are performed. Revenue for maintenance and support services is recognized ratably over the term of the support agreement.

For business process outsourcing agreements, which include call center services, services are primarily performed on a time and material basis. Revenue is recognized when the service is performed.

In contracts that contain first year maintenance bundled with software fees, unbundling of maintenance is based on the price charged for renewal maintenance. Revenue for maintenance and support service is recognized ratably over the term of the support agreement. Revenues derived from initial setup or registration fees are recognized ratably over the term of the agreement in accordance with SEC Staff Accounting Bulletin (SAB) 104, Revenue Recognition.

Deferred revenue includes maintenance and support payments or billings that have been received or recorded prior to performance and, in certain cases, cash collections; initial setup or registration fees under hosting agreements; and amounts received under multi-element arrangements in which the VSOE for the undelivered elements does not exist. In these instances revenue is recognized when the VSOE for the undelivered elements is established or when all contractual elements have been completed and delivered.

Allowance for Doubtful Accounts Receivable Accounts receivable is stated at invoice billed amounts net of the estimated allowance for doubtful accounts receivable. Management specifically analyzes accounts receivable and historical bad debts, write-offs, customer concentrations, customer credit-worthiness, current economic trends and changes in our customer payment terms when evaluating the adequacy of the allowance for doubtful accounts. Bad debt expense was $90 thousand and $90 thousand for the three and six months ended June 30, 2009, respectively, and $150 thousand and $180 thousand for the three and six months ended June 30 2008, respectively. Accounts receivable are written off against the allowance account when the Company has exhausted all reasonable collection efforts. No accounts were written off as uncollectible during the six months ending June 30, 2009 and 2008 respectively.

Goodwill and Other Indefinite-Lived Intangible Assets Goodwill represents the cost in excess of the fair value of the net assets of acquired businesses. In accordance with SFAS No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets , or SFAS 142, goodwill is not amortized. We are required to test goodwill for impairment at the reporting unit level on an annual basis or on an interim basis if an event occurs or circumstances change that would reduce the fair value of a reporting unit below its carrying value. We perform our annual goodwill impairment test as of September 30 each year. In analyzing goodwill for potential impairment, we use projections of future discounted cash flows from our reporting units to determine whether the reporting unit s estimated fair value exceeds its carrying value. Our estimates of fair value for each reporting unit are corroborated by market multiple comparables. If the fair value of a reporting unit exceeds its carrying value, then no further testing is required. However, if a reporting unit s fair value were to be less than its carrying value, we would then determine the amount of the impairment charge, if any, which would be the amount that the carrying value of the reporting unit s goodwill exceeded its implied value. The Company performed the annual impairment assessment, as required by SFAS No. 142 as of September 30, 2008 and it was determined that the recorded goodwill was not impaired. No impairment of goodwill was indicated based on the updated analysis.

During the six months ended June 30, 2009 the Company recorded $8.7 million of additional goodwill in connection with the previous acquisitions of Telstra, Acclamation, Periculum, and ConfirmNet, and its most recent acquisition of Facts Services, Inc (Facts) which was effective on May 1, 2009.

Changes in the carrying amount of goodwill for the six months ended June 30, 2009 are as follows:

Beginning Balance at December 31,2008	$ 88,488

The Company's indefinite-lived asset is associated with the estimated fair value of the contractual/territorial relationships existing with the property and casualty insurance carriers in Australia. These contractual/territorial rights are perpetual in nature and, therefore, the useful lives are considered indefinite. Indefinite-lived intangible assets are not amortized, but rather are tested for impairment annually. In accordance with SFAS 142, we are required to test indefinite-lived intangible assets for impairment annually or whenever events and circumstances indicate that there may be an impairment of the asset value. Our annual impairment test date is September 30. We perform the impairment test for our indefinite-lived intangible assets by comparing the asset's fair value to its carrying value. We estimate the fair value based on projected discounted future cash flows. An impairment charge is recognized if the asset's estimated fair value is less than its carrying value. In connection with the acquisition of Telstra an indefinite-lived asset in the amount of $14.7 million was recorded as of January 2, 2008.

Finite-lived Intangible Assets Purchased intangible assets represent the estimated acquisition date fair value of customer relationships, developed technology, and trademarks acquired through synergistic combination of the business that we acquire in the U.S. and foreign countries in which operate. We amortize these intangible assets on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives, as follows:

Category	Life (yrs)
Customer relationships	4-20
Developed technology	3-7
Trademarks	5-10

Amortization expense recognized in connection with acquired intangible assets was $482 thousand and $594 thousand respectively for the three months ended June 30, 2009 and 2008, and $951 thousand and $1.2 million respectively for the six months ended June 30, 2009 and 2008.

Income Taxes The Company follows the asset and liability method of accounting for income taxes pursuant to Financial Accounting Standard No. 109, Accounting for Income Taxes (SFAS 109). Deferred income taxes are recorded to reflect the tax consequences on future years of differences between the tax basis of assets and liabilities, and operating loss and tax credit carry forwards and their financial reporting amounts in each period using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. In assessing the realizability of the deferred tax assets, management considers whether it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. A valuation allowance is recorded for the portion of the deferred tax assets that are not expected to be realized based on the levels of historical taxable income and projections for future taxable income over the periods in which the temporary differences will be deductible.

Effective January of 2007 the Company adopted the Financial Accounting Interpretation No. 48, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes (FIN 48). FIN 48 clarifies the accounting for uncertainty in income taxes by prescribing the minimum recognition threshold a tax position is required to meet before being recognized in the financial statements.

Foreign Currency Translation The functional currency of the Company's foreign subsidiaries is the local currency of the country in which the subsidiary operates. The assets and liabilities of foreign subsidiaries are translated into U.S. Dollars at the rates of exchange at the balance sheet dates. Income and expense accounts are translated at the average exchange rates in effect during the period. Gains and losses resulting from translation adjustments are included as a component of other comprehensive income in the accompanying consolidated financial statements. Foreign exchange transaction gains and losses that are derived from transactions denominated in other than the subsidiary's functional currency are included in the determination of net income.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements In December 2007, the FASB issued SFAS No. 141R, Business Combinations (SFAS 141R). SFAS 141R replaces SFAS No. 141, Business Combinations, and improves the relevance, representational faithfulness, and comparability of the information that a reporting entity provides in its financial reports about a business combination and its effects. SFAS 141R is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2008. The Company adopted SFAS 141R during the first quarter of 2009 and applied this accounting standard to the recording of its acquisition of Facts which was completed as of May 1, 2009.

In September 2006, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued SFAS No. 157, Fair Value Measurement (SFAS 157), SFAS 157 defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and expands disclosures about fair value measurements. SFAS 157 is effective for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007. In February 2008, the FASB issued FSP FAS 157-2, Effective Date of FASB Statement No. 157 which delayed the implementation of the provisions of FAS No. 157 with regard to non-financial assets and liabilities that are not carried at fair value on a recurring basis in financial statements. In April 2009, FASB issued FSP SFAS No. 157-4, Determining Fair Value When the Volume and Level of Activity for the Asset or Liability Have Significantly Decreased and Identifying Transactions That Are Not Orderly. FSP SFAS No. 157-4 provides guidelines for making fair value measurements more consistent with the principles presented in SFAS No. 157, Fair Value Measurements. This FSP relates to determining fair values when there is no active market or where the price inputs being used represent distressed sales. It reaffirms what SFAS No. 157 states regarding the objective of fair value measurement to reflect how much an asset would be sold for in an orderly transaction (as opposed to a distressed or forced transaction) at the date of the financial statements under current market conditions. Specifically, it reaffirms the need to use judgment to ascertain if a formerly active market has become inactive and in determining fair values when markets have become inactive. The FSP is effective for the Company's annual reporting for the fiscal year 2009. The Company has adopted SFAS 157, FSP FAS 157-2, and FSP SFAS No. 157-4, and the adoption of these standards did not have material impact on the our consolidated financial position and results of operations.

In April 2009, FASB issued FSP FAS 107-1 and APB 28-1, Interim Disclosures about Fair Value of Financial Instruments, which amends SFAS No. 107, Disclosures about Fair Value of Financial Instruments, to require disclosures about fair value of financial instruments in interim as well as annual financial statements. This standard is effective for periods ending after June 15, 2009. Accordingly, the Company adopted the provisions of FSP FAS 107-1 and APB 28-1 on June 30, 2009. The adoption of this guidance did not have a material impact on our consolidated financial position, results of operations or cash flows. However, the provisions of FSP FAS 107-1 and APB 28-1 did result in additional disclosures with respect to the fair value of the Company's financial instruments. See Note 14, Financial Instruments, for these additional disclosures.

In May 2009, the FASB issued SFAS No. 165, Subsequent Events (SFAS No. 165), which provides guidance to establish general standards of accounting for, and disclosures of, events that occur after the balance sheet date but before financial statements are issued or are available to be issued. SFAS 165 is effective for interim or fiscal periods ending after June 15, 2009. Accordingly, the Company adopted the provisions of SFAS No. 165 on June 30, 2009. The adoption of this guidance did not have a material impact on our consolidated financial position, results of operations or cash flows. The provisions of SFAS No. 165 result in additional disclosures with respect to subsequent events.

Note 2: Earnings per Share

The basic and diluted earnings per share (EPS), and the basic and diluted weighted average shares outstanding for all periods presented on the consolidated statements of income have been adjusted to reflect the retroactive effect of the Company's 3-for-1 stock split dated October 9, 2008 (see Note 3 for further explanation). Basic EPS is equal to net income divided by the weighted average number of shares of common stock outstanding for the period. Diluted EPS takes into consideration common stock equivalents which for the Company consist of stock options, restricted stock, and convertible debt. With respect to stock options, diluted EPS is calculated as if the Company had additional common stock outstanding from the beginning of the year or the date of grant or issuance, net of assumed repurchased shares using the treasury stock method. With respect to convertible debt, diluted EPS is calculated as if the debt instrument had been converted at the beginning of the reporting period or the date of issuance, whichever is later. Diluted EPS is equal to net income plus interest expense on convertible debt, divided by the combined sum of the weighted average number of shares outstanding and common stock equivalents. At June 30, 2009 and 2008 there were 361,872 and 361,392, respectively, shares potentially issuable with respect to stock options which could dilute EPS in the future but which was excluded from the diluted EPS calculation because presently their effect is anti-dilutive.

To calculate diluted earnings per share, interest expense related to convertible debt of $135 thousand and $125 thousand for the three months ended June, 2009 and 2008, and $298 thousand and $250 thousand for the six months ended June, 2009 and 2008, respectively was added back to net income.

Note 3: Stock Split

On July 29, 2008 the Board of Directors approved and declared a 3-for-1 stock split on shares of its common stock (the Stock Split) effective October 9, 2008 (the Split Date) outstanding as of the close of business on September 29, 2008. As a result of the Stock Split, every share of the Company s common stock was converted into three shares of the common stock. Each stockholder s percentage ownership in the Company and proportional voting power remained unchanged after the Stock Split. Furthermore, as a result of the Stock Split approximately 6.5 million additional shares of common stock were issued and the Company s issued and outstanding common stock was increased to approximately 9.8 million shares. Shares reserved for issuance under the Company s 1996 Stock Option Plan, the 1998 Director Option Plan, the 2006 Incentive Compensation Program, and for the Company s 2.5% convertible promissory notes were similarly adjusted. Information presented in these consolidated financial statements, the accompanying notes, and the MD&A have been adjusted for all periods presented to reflect the retroactive effect of the stock split.

Note 4: Business Acquisitions

The Company s business acquisitions are accounted for under the purchase method of accounting in accordance with SFAS No. 141, Business Combinations, as amended by SFAS No. 141R, Business Combinations issued in December 2007 and which is effective for acquisitions completed after December 15, 2008. Accordingly, the consideration paid by the Company for the businesses it purchases is allocated to the assets and liabilities acquired based upon their estimated fair values as of the date of the acquisition. The excess of the purchase price over the estimated fair values of assets acquired and liabilities assumed is recorded as goodwill. Certain acquisitions included contingent consideration in the form of earn-out provisions which are recorded as a component of goodwill at its estimated fair value.

2009 Acquisition

Facts Services, Inc. Effective May 1, 2009, Ebix, Inc. acquired Facts, a leading provider of fully automated software solutions for healthcare payers specializing in claims processing, employee benefits, and managed care. Facts products are available in either an ASP or self-hosted model. The Company paid the Facts shareholders $6.5 million for all of Facts stock. The Company is combining Facts operations with its Pittsburgh health services division operating under the name of EbixHealth, which included operating results of Facts starting in the second quarter of 2009. Ebix financed this acquisition with internal resources using available cash reserves. The purchase price allocation for the Facts acquisition is not complete because the Company is in the process of developing a valuation of the respective acquired identifiable intangible and tangible assets. The Company has tentatively recognized $5.9 million of goodwill and $595 thousand of intangible assets in connection with the acquisition of Facts. The recognized goodwill pertains to the value of the expected synergies to be derived from combining the operations of Facts with Ebix, and the value of the acquired workforce.

As a result, the Company recognized an indefinite-life intangible and associated estimated fair value with respect to the contractual/territorial relationships existing with the property and casualty insurance carriers in Australia. These contractual/territorial rights are perpetual in nature and, therefore, the useful lives are considered indefinite. Table of ContentsEbix, Inc. and Subsidiaries*Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited)*Note 9: Commitments and Contingencies

Lease Commitments The Company leases office space under non-cancelable operating leases with expiration dates ranging through 2015, with various renewal options. Capital leases range from three to five years and are primarily for computer equipment. There were multiple assets under various individual capital leases at June 30, 2009 and 2008. Rental expense for office facilities and certain equipment subject to operating leases for the six months ended June 30, 2009 and 2008 was $1.1 million and $1.2 million, respectively. Sublease income was $69 thousand and $37 thousand, respectively for the six months ended June 30, 2009 and 2008.

Contingencies The Company is not involved in any significant legal action or claim, that in the opinion of management can have a material adverse effect on the Company's consolidated financial position, results of operations or liquidity.

Self Insurance For most of the Company's U.S. employees the Company is currently self-insured for its health insurance and has a stop loss policy that limits the individual liability to $100 thousand per person and the aggregate liability to 125% of the expected claims based upon the number of participants and historical claims. As of June 30, 2009, the amount accrued on the Company's consolidated balance sheet for the self-insured component of the Company's employee health insurance was $103 thousand. The maximum potential estimated cumulative liability for the annual contract period, which ends in September 2009, is $1.2 million.

Note 10: Income Taxes

Effective Tax Rate Our effective tax rate reflects the tax benefits from having significant operations outside the United States, which are taxed at rates lower than the U.S. statutory rate of 35%. The effective income tax for the six months ended June 30, 2009 rate was 4.81%, as compared to 5.70% for the same period in 2008. The effective tax rate for 2009 has decreased due to the change in the mix of taxable income amongst the various domestic and foreign countries, including certain low tax rate foreign jurisdictions, in which the Company conducts operations. The Company's interim period income tax provisions are based on our current estimate of the effective income tax rates applicable to the related annual twelve month period, after considering discrete items unique to the respective interim reporting period.

In the United States the Company's effective federal income tax rate is reduced because of the use of available net operating loss (NOL) carry-forwards used to partially offset taxable income. At June 30, 2009, the Company has remaining available domestic net operating loss (NOL) carry-forwards of approximately $34 million (net of approximately $8.8 million utilized to reduce the taxable income for the six months ending June 30, 2009), which are available to offset future federal and certain state income taxes. A portion of these NOLs will expire during each of the years 2009 through 2020. A full valuation allowance currently exists against the Company's accumulated domestic net operating loss carryforwards because of uncertainty as to the expectation of future taxable income in the United States and the pending execution of available tax planning strategies. Changes in the valuation allowance could have a material impact on the Company's future effective tax rate.

Currently, the Company's local taxable income in India, other than passive interest and rental income, is subject to a tax holiday. The tax holiday is scheduled to expire in 2011. The Company's operations in India are also subject to the 11.33% Minimum Alternative Tax (MAT). For the three month and six periods ended June 30, 2009 the Company's MAT liability was $343 thousand and $739 thousand respectively. The tax paid under the MAT provisions is carried forward for a period of seven years to be used as an offset against future tax liabilities computed under the regular corporate income tax provisions, for which the current income tax rate is 33.99%. Accordingly, the Company's consolidated balance sheet at June 30, 2009 includes a long-term deferred tax asset in the amount of $2.1 million.

FIN 48 Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes The Company adopted the provisions of FASB Interpretation No. 48, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes, on January 1, 2007 FIN 48. As of June 30, 2009 the Company's consolidated balance sheet includes a liability of $763 thousand for unrecognized tax benefits. A reconciliation of the beginning and ending amount of unrecognized tax benefits is as follows:

	(in thousands)
Balance at January 1, 2009	$ 914
Additions for tax positions related to current year	98
Additions for tax positions of prior years
Reductions for tax position of prior years	(249)
Balance at June 30, 2009	$ 763

It is expected that the amount of unrecognized tax benefits may change in the next twelve months; however, we presently do not expect the change to have a significant impact on our consolidated statement of income or consolidated balance sheet. At this time, an estimate of the range of the reasonably possible outcomes cannot be made.

Note 11: Financial Instruments

SFAS No. 157, Fair Value Measurements (SFAS 157), as amended by FASB Staff Position FAS 157-2, Effective Date of FASB Statement No. 157, defines fair value as the exchange price that would be received for an asset or paid to transfer a liability (an exit price) in the principal or most advantageous market for the asset or liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. SFAS 157 establishes a three-level fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs used to measure fair value. This hierarchy requires entities to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs. The three levels of inputs used to measure fair value are as follows:

- Level 1 Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2 Observable inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1, such as quoted prices for similar assets and liabilities in active markets; or quoted prices for identical or similar assets and liabilities in markets that are not active.
- Level 3 Unobservable inputs that are supported by little or no market activity and that are significant to the fair value of the assets or liabilities. This includes certain pricing models, discounted cash flow methodologies and similar techniques that use significant unobservable inputs.

The Company has classified its financial instruments, being the foreign exchange forward contracts discussed in Note 12, which are measured at fair value on a recurring basis, into the most appropriate level within the fair value hierarchy based on the inputs used to determine the fair value at the measurement date in the table below.

As at June 30, 2009

Note 12: Derivative Instruments

The Company uses derivative instruments that are not designated as hedges under SFAS No. 133, to hedge the fluctuations in foreign exchange rates for recognized balance sheet items such as intercompany receivables. During the three months ended June 30, 2009 the Company entered into a series of twelve month foreign currency forward contracts maturing June 10, 2010 and totaling $8.0 million. The intended purpose of these hedging instruments is to offset the income statement impact of recorded foreign exchange transaction gains and losses resulting from U.S. dollar denominated invoices issued by our Indian subsidiary whose functional currency is the Indian rupee. The changes in the fair value of these derivatives is recorded in foreign exchange gains (losses), in the consolidated statements of income and were $144 thousand for the three and six months ended June 30, 2009.

The following table presents the aggregate notional principal amounts of the outstanding derivative financial instruments together with the related balance sheet exposure:

	As at June 30, 2009

Foreign exchange forward contracts denominated in:

(a) Notional amounts are key elements of derivative financial instrument agreements, but do not represent the amount exchanged by counterparties and do not measure the Company's exposure to credit or market risks, or derivative financial instruments agreements.

- (b) Balance sheet exposure is denominated in U.S. Dollars and denotes the mark-to-market impact of the derivative financial instruments on the reporting date.

The price was $20.00 per share, for an aggregate purchase price of $24.0 million. Although, the significant year over year strengthening of the US dollar, resulted in the exchange and broker division revenues (primarily coming from our international operations) for second quarter of 2009 decreasing by $1.1 million in U.S.$ terms. This increase is attributable to additional personnel and facility costs primarily associated with our acquisitions of Periculum, ConfirmNet and Acclamation. (Heart) (acquired in July 2004), and the reclassification of a portion of the purchase price of Telstra (acquired in January 2008) associated with the existing contractual/territorial relationships with the property and casualty insurance carriers in Australia to an indefinite life intangible asset which reduced amortization expense by $42 thousand.

Reported income tax expense for the six months ended June 30, 2009 are also lower due to a $249 reduction in the provision for uncertain tax positions.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Our ability to generate significant cash flows from operating activities is one of our fundamental financial strengths. Our principal sources of liquidity are the cash flows provided by our operating activities, our revolving credit facility, and cash and cash equivalents on hand. Due to the effect of temporary or timing differences resulting from the differing treatment of items for tax and accounting purposes and minimum alternative tax obligations in India, future cash outlays for income taxes are expected to substantially exceed current income tax expense but will not adversely impact the Company's liquidity position. We intend to utilize cash flows generated by our ongoing operating activities, in combination with renewing our revolving credit facility and the possible issuance of additional equity securities to fund capital expenditures and organic growth initiatives, to make acquisitions, and to retire outstanding indebtedness. We believe that anticipated cash flows provided by our operating activities, together with current cash and cash equivalent balances and access to our credit facilities and the capital markets, if required and available, will be sufficient to meet our projected cash requirements for the next twelve months, and the foreseeable future thereafter, although any projections of future cash needs, cash flows, and the condition of the capital markets in general, as to the availability of debt and equity financing, are subject to substantial uncertainty. In the event additional liquidity needs arise, we may raise funds from a combination of sources, including the potential issuance of debt or equity securities. Our revolving line of credit, which has a current balance of $24.9 million, will mature in August 2009, and the $20 million December 18, 2007 convertible note with Whitebox which has current balance of $5.3 million, will mature in December 2009. As to the to our revolving line of credit, during the third and fourth quarters of 2009 we expect to do either of the following: (a) secure a short-term extension under reasonable terms acceptable to the Company; (b) renew the existing facility with Bank of America Corporation at favorable market terms; (c) execute an agreement for new revolving credit facility with a major commercial bank at acceptable market terms; and/or (d) raise equity capital in order to fully pay the balance on the existing line of credit. In light of the current market value of the Company's common stock we anticipate that Whitebox will convert the remaining principal balance on the December 18, 2007 convertible note and a significant portion of the $15 million July 11, 2008 Whitebox convertible note into shares of our common stock over the forthcoming months.

Our cash and cash equivalents were $11.9 million and $9.5 million at June 30, 2009 and December 31, 2008, respectively. Our cash and cash equivalents balance increased during the quarter primarily as a result of the cash generated from our operating activities.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

For information about new accounting pronouncements and the potential impact on our Consolidated Financial Statements, see Note 1 of the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements in this Form 10-Q and Note 1 of the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements in our 2008 Form 10-K.

Application of Critical Accounting Policies

The preparation of our Consolidated Financial Statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses. We believe the most complex and sensitive judgments, because of their significance to the Consolidated Financial Statements, result primarily from the need to make estimates and assumptions about the effects of matters that are inherently uncertain. The Summary of Significant Accounting Policies sections of Note 1 to this Form 10-Q and the Consolidated Financial Statements, in our 2008 Form 10-K describe the pertinent accounting estimates and policies used in preparation of the Consolidated Financial Statements. Actual results in these areas could differ materially from our estimates. We have considered how the acquisition of Telstra and Acclamation has affected our critical accounting policies and concluded that it has not had a significant impact on our critical accounting policies.

Revenue Recognition

The Company recognizes revenue in accordance with SEC Staff Accounting Bulletin (SAB) 104 Revenue Recognition and therefore we consider revenue earned and realizable when (a) persuasive evidence of the sales arrangement exists, provided that the arrangement fee is fixed or determinable, (b) delivery or performance has occurred, (c) customer acceptance has been received, if contractually required, and, (d) collectability of the arrangement fee is probable. The Company typically uses signed contractual agreements as persuasive evidence of a sales arrangement. Sales and value-added taxes are not included in revenues, but rather are recorded as a liability until the taxes assessed are remitted to the respective taxing authorities.

We apply the provisions of Statement of Position 97-2, Software Revenue Recognition (SOP 97-2), as amended by SOP 98-9, Modification of SOP 97-2, Software Revenue Recognition, With Respect to Certain Transactions to all transactions involving the license of software where the software deliverables are considered more than inconsequential to the other elements in the arrangement. For contracts that contain multiple deliverables, we analyze the revenue arrangements in accordance with Emerging Issues Task Force Issue No. 00-21, Revenue Arrangements with Multiple Deliverables (EITF 00-21), individual contractual deliverables are accounted for separately if (a) the delivered items has value to the customer on a stand-alone basis;(b) there is vendor-specific objective and reliable evidence (VSOE) of the fair value of the undelivered items; and, (c) if the arrangement includes a general right of return relative to the delivered items, the delivery or performance of the undelivered items is probable and substantially in our control. Software development arrangements involving significant customization, modification or production are accounted for in accordance with Statement of Position 81-1, Accounting for Performance on Construction-Type and Certain Production-Type Contracts, (SOP 81-1) using the percentage-of-completion method. The Company recognizes revenue using periodic reported actual hours worked as a percentage of total expected hours required to complete the project arrangement and applies the percentage to the total arrangement fee.

Table of Contents

The Company begins to recognize revenue from license fees for its application software products upon delivery and the customer's acceptance of the software implementation and customizations if applicable. Revenue from third party software is derived from the licensing of third party software products in connection with sales of the Company's software licenses and is recognized upon delivery together with the Company's licensed software products. Training, data conversion, installation, and consulting services fees are recognized as revenue when the services are performed. Revenue for maintenance and support services is recognized ratably over the term of the support agreement. Revenues derived from initial setup or registration fees are recognized ratably over the term of the agreement in accordance with SAB 104. ASP transaction services fee revenue is recognized as the transactions occur and generally billed in arrears. Service fees for hosting arrangements are recognized over the requisite service period.

Deferred revenue includes maintenance and support payments or billings that have been received or recorded prior to performance and, in certain cases, cash collections; initial setup or registration fees under hosting agreements; software license fees received in advance of delivery, acceptance, and/or completion of the earnings process; and amounts received under multi-element arrangements in which the VSOE for the undelivered elements does not exist. In these instances revenue is recognized when the VSOE for the undelivered elements is established or when all contractual elements have been completed and delivered.

Allowance for Doubtful Accounts Receivable

Management specifically analyzes accounts receivable and historical bad debts, write-offs, customer concentrations, customer credit-worthiness, current economic trends and changes in our customer payment terms when evaluating the adequacy of the allowance for doubtful accounts.

Valuation of Goodwill

The Company applies the provisions of Financial Accounting Statement No. 142 Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets (SFAS 142) which addresses how goodwill and other acquired intangible assets should be accounted for in financial statements. In this regard we test these intangible assets for impairment annually or more frequently if indicators of potential impairment are present. These events or circumstances would include a significant change in the business climate, legal factors, operating performance indicators, competition, sale or disposition of a significant portion of the business or other factors. The testing involves comparing the reporting unit and asset carrying values to their respective fair values; we determine fair value by using the present value of future estimated net cash flows.

In analyzing goodwill for potential impairment, we use projections of future discounted cash flows to determine each reporting unit's fair value. These projections of cash flows are based on our views of growth rates, anticipated future economic conditions and the appropriate discount rates relative to risk and estimates of residual values. We believe that our estimates are consistent with assumptions that marketplace participants would use in their estimates of fair value. Our estimates of fair value for each reporting unit are corroborated by market multiple comparables. The use of different estimates or assumptions within our projected discounted cash flows (e.g., growth rates, future economic conditions, discount rates and estimates of terminal values) when determining the fair value of our reporting units could result in different values and may result in a goodwill impairment charge. During the twelve months ended December 31, 2008, 2007 and 2006, we had no impairment of our reporting unit goodwill balances. For additional information concerning our recorded goodwill balances, see Note 1 of the Condensed Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements in this Form 10-Q and Note 1 to Consolidated Financial Statements for the year ended December 31, 2008 in our 2008 annual report on Form 10-K.

Table of ContentsIncome Taxes

We account for income taxes in accordance with SFAS No. 109, Accounting for Income Taxes (SFAS 109). As part of the process of preparing our Consolidated Financial Statements, we estimate our income taxes in each of the jurisdictions in which we operate. This process involves us estimating our current tax exposure together with assessing temporary differences resulting from differing treatment of items for tax and accounting purposes. These differences result in deferred tax assets and liabilities, which are included in our Consolidated Balance Sheets. We then assess the likelihood that our net deferred tax assets will be recovered from future taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled, and, to the extent we believe that recovery is not likely, we must establish a valuation allowance. The Company has not provided deferred U.S. taxes on its unremitted foreign earnings because it considers them to be permanently re-invested.

We currently maintain a full valuation allowance against the deferred tax asset associated with the Company's accumulated domestic net operating loss carryforwards because management believes it is more likely than not that this deferred tax asset may not be realizable due to uncertainties as to the generation of future taxable income in the United States and the lack of available tax-planning strategies.

Effective January of 2007 the Company adopted the Financial Accounting Interpretation No. 48, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes (FIN 48). FIN 48 clarifies the accounting for uncertainty in income taxes by prescribing the minimum recognition threshold a tax position is required to meet before being recognized in the financial statements.

Foreign Currency Translation

Our reporting currency is the U.S. dollar. The functional currency of the Company's foreign subsidiaries is generally the local currency of the country in which the subsidiary operates. The assets and liabilities of foreign subsidiaries are translated into U.S. Dollars at the rates of exchange at the balance sheet dates. Income and expense accounts are translated at the average exchange rates in effect during the period. Gains and losses resulting from translation adjustments are included as a component of other comprehensive income in the accompanying consolidated financial statements. Foreign exchange transaction gains and losses that are derived from transactions denominated in other than the subsidiary's functional currency are included in the determination of net income.

Item 3. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

The Company is subject to certain market risks, including foreign currency exchange rates and interest rates. The Company's exposure to foreign currency exchange rates risk is related to our foreign-based operations where transactions are denominated in foreign currencies and are subject to market risk with respect to fluctuations in the relative value of currencies. The majority of the Company's operations are based in the U.S. and, accordingly, the majority of our transactions are denominated in U.S. dollars, however, the Company also has significant operations in Australia, New Zealand, Singapore, and India, and we conduct transactions in the local currencies of each location. There can be no assurance that fluctuations in the value of foreign currencies will not have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, operating results, revenues or financial condition. Net changes in the cumulative foreign currency translation account, which is a component comprehensive income with stockholders equity, were unrealized gains (losses) of $7.7 million and $6.5 million respectfully during the three and six months ended June 30, 2009, and $1.7 million and $3.6 million respectfully for the three and six months ended June 30, 2008. The Company considered the historical trends in currency exchange rate and determined that it was reasonably possible that adverse changes in our respective foreign currency exchange rates of 20% could be experienced in the near term. Such an adverse change in currency exchange rates would have resulted in reduction to pre-tax income of approximately $728 thousand and $1.4 million for the three and six months ended June 30, 2009, respectively and approximately $1.9 million and $2.3 million for the three and six months ended June 30, 2008, respectively.

Table of Contents

During the quarter ended June 30, 2009, we entered into a series of one-year forward foreign exchange contracts to hedge the intercompany receivables originated by our Indian subsidiary that are denominated in United States dollars. These U.S dollars / Indian rupee hedges are intended to partially offset the impact of movement of exchange rates on future operating costs, and to reduce the risk that our earnings and cash flows will be adversely affected by changes in foreign currency exchange rates. As of June 30, 2009, the notional value of these contracts which are scheduled to mature in eleven months is $8 million. Changes in the fair value of these derivative instruments are recognized in our consolidated income statement. We use these instruments as economic hedges, intended to mitigate the effects of changes in foreign exchange rates, and not for speculative purposes. These derivative instruments do not subject us to material balance sheet risk due to exchange rate movements because gains and losses on these derivatives are intended to offset gains and losses on the intercompany receivables being hedged. For the six months ended June 30, 2009, we recognized an unrealized gain of $144 thousand included in Foreign exchange gain (loss) in the consolidated statements of income. Based upon a sensitivity analysis performed against our forward foreign exchange contracts at June 30, 2009, which measures the hypothetical change in the fair value of the contracts resulting from 20% shift in the value of exchange rates of the Indian rupee relative to the U.S. dollar, a 20% appreciation in the U.S. dollar against the Indian rupee (and a corresponding increase in the value of the hedged assets) would lead to a decrease in the fair value of our forward foreign exchange contracts by $1.3 million. Conversely, a 20% depreciation in the U.S. dollar against the Indian rupee would lead to an increase in the fair value of our forward foreign exchange contracts by $1.9 million. We regularly review our hedging strategies and may in the future, as a part of this review, determine the need to change our hedging activities.

The Company's exposure to interest rate risk relates to its interest expense on outstanding debt obligations and to its interest income on existing cash balances. As of June 30, 2009 the Company had $45.2 million of outstanding debt obligations which consisted of a $24.9 million balance on our revolving line of credit, and $5.3 million and $15.0 million respectively on the remaining balances on the December 17, 2007 and July 1, 2008 convertible promissory notes with Whitebox. The interest rate on Whitebox convertible notes is fixed at 2.5% therefore these instruments present no risk as to exposures to financial market fluctuations. The Company's revolving line of credit bears interest at the rate of LIBOR + 1.3%, and interest rate stood at 1.62% at June 30, 2009. The Company is exposed to market risk in regards to the line of credit as to the potential increase to interest expense arising from adverse changes in interest rates. This interest rate risk is estimated as the potential decrease in earnings resulting from a hypothetical 30% increase in the LIBOR rate. Such an adverse change in the LIBOR rate would have resulted in a reduction to pre-tax income of approximately $7 thousand and $16 thousand for the six months ending June 30, 2009 and 2008 respectively. The Company's average cash balances during the six months of 2009 was $10.8 million and its existing cash balances as of June 30, 2009 was $11.9 million. The Company is exposed to market risk in relation to these cash balances in regards to the potential loss of interest income arising from adverse changes in interest rates. This interest rate risk is estimated as the potential decrease in earnings resulting from a hypothetical 20% decrease in interest rates earned on deposited funds. Such an adverse change in these interest rates would have resulted in a reduction to pre-tax income of approximately $18 thousand and $14 thousand for the six months ending June 30, 2009 and 2008, respectively.
