Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On May 17, 2010, a wholly-owned subsidiary (the Subsidiary ) of Terreno Realty Corporation (the Company ) entered into an agreement (the Agreement ) with a third-party seller (the Seller ) to acquire an industrial property located in Northern New Jersey consisting of 19 buildings, aggregating approximately 584,000 square feet (the Property ) for a purchase price of approximately $28.2 million. As part of this acquisition, the Company expects that the Subsidiary will assume a mortgage loan with a total principal amount as of the closing of the acquisition of approximately $15.7 million with a fixed annual interest rate of 4.91%. The mortgage loan requires equal payments of interest and principal payable based on a 25-year amortization schedule with a maturity date of December 15, 2015. The Company expects to utilize cash on hand to fund the acquisition, net of the assumed mortgage loan.

The Company made an approximately $280,000 deposit upon entering into the Agreement, which may be refunded to the Company if it elects to terminate the transaction following a 45-day due diligence period. Upon the expiration of the due diligence period, if the Company elects to proceed with the transaction, the Company will make an additional $220,000 deposit, and the entire $500,000 deposit will be non-refundable, except in the case of a Seller default or failure to satisfy closing conditions. The acquisition is scheduled to close 10 business days after the expiration of the due diligence period, subject to certain extension rights of the parties as set forth in the Agreement, and subject to the satisfaction of customary closing conditions, the parties' ability to obtain the lender's consent to the Subsidiary's assumption of the mortgage loan on terms satisfactory to the Company, and Seller's compliance with requirements under New Jersey's environmental regulations that are triggered by the sale.

There are no material relationships between the Company or its affiliates and the Seller, other than in respect of the Agreement. There is no assurance that the Company will acquire the Property because the proposed acquisition is subject to a variety of factors, including the satisfaction of customary closing conditions, the lender's consent and Seller's compliance with New Jersey's environmental regulations.
