Item 8.01. Other Events

On July 20, 2007, Hewlett-Packard Company ("HP") entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger (the "Merger Agreement") by and among HP, Orca Acquisition Corporation, a wholly-owned subsidiary of HP, and Opsware Inc. ("Opsware") pursuant to which HP will acquire Opsware, a leading data center automation software company, for $14.25 per share, or approximately $1.6 billion.

The acquisition will be conducted by means of a tender offer for all of the outstanding shares of Opsware, followed by a merger of Orca Acquisition Corporation with and into Opsware that will result in Opsware becoming an HP subsidiary. HP expects to commence the tender offer promptly, and the merger is expected to be completed before the end of HP's fourth fiscal quarter of 2007.

The acceptance of the shares tendered in connection with the tender offer is subject to customary conditions, including, among others, the expiration of the waiting period under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act and the receipt of any antitrust, competition or merger control approvals required under the laws of China and Germany. In addition, HP's acceptance of the tendered shares is subject to HP's ownership, following such acceptance, of at least a majority of the outstanding shares of Opsware common stock, on a fully diluted basis.

The closing of the merger is subject to customary closing conditions, and, depending on the number of shares held by HP after the acceptance of the shares properly tendered in connection with the offer, approval of the merger by the holders of Opsware's outstanding shares remaining after the completion of the tender offer also may be required.

Directors and executive officers of Opsware have agreed to tender their shares in connection with the tender offer, including any shares acquired upon exercise of stock options prior to the closing of the acquisition. Those directors and executive officers currently hold shares representing approximately 15.8% of Opsware's outstanding shares, which percentage may increase prior to the closing depending upon the number of shares, if any, acquired by those persons upon exercise of stock options as well as other factors.

HP's press release announcing the transaction is attached hereto as Exhibit 99.1. A copy of the Merger Agreement is attached hereto as Exhibit 99.2.
