Notes to Condensed Financial Statements

The condensed financial statements in this report have been prepared by Integral Vision, Inc. (the “Company”) without audit, pursuant to the rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission for quarterly reports on Form 10-Q and do not include all of the information and note disclosures required by accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America for annual financial statements. These statements should be read in conjunction with the financial statements and notes for the year ended December 31, 2011, included in our Form 10-K filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”) on April 16, 2012.

The condensed financial statements in this report include all adjustments, consisting of only normal, recurring adjustments, that, in the opinion of management, are necessary for the fair presentation of results for these interim periods and in order to make the condensed financial statements not misleading.

The results of operations for the three-month period ended March 31, 2012 are not necessarily indicative of the results to be expected for the entire year ending December 31, 2012.

Note A – Nature of Business

Integral Vision, Inc. develops, manufactures, and markets flat panel display inspection systems to ensure product quality in the display manufacturing process. We primarily inspect Microdisplays and small flat panel displays, though the technology used is scalable to allow inspection of full screen displays and components. Our customers and potential customers are primarily large companies with significant investment in the manufacture of displays. Nearly all of our sales originate in the United States, Asia, or Europe. We have a branch office in Taiwan to provide local sales, service, and engineering support to our customers in that region. Our products are generally sold as capital goods. Depending on the application, display inspection systems have an indefinite life and are more likely to require replacement due to possible technological obsolescence than from physical wear.

Note B - Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States requires us to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements. Estimates also affect the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting year. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of first-in, first-out (“FIFO”) cost or market. Cost is computed using currently adjusted standards which approximates actual costs on a FIFO basis. We assess the recoverability of all inventory to determine whether adjustments for impairment are required. At March 31, 2012 and December 31, 2011, inventories consisted of the following amounts (there was no obsolescence allowance at March 31, 2012 or at December 31, 2011):

	2012	2011
	(in thousands)
Raw materials	$ 177	$23
Work in process	112	147
Finished goods	-	33
	$ 289	$203

We periodically perform an analysis of our inventory to determine if its cost exceeds estimated net realizable value. Over the last several years, given the market conditions and the direction of the Company, we discontinued certain product lines and attempted to liquidate the remaining inventory related to those product lines.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are stated on the basis of cost. Inventory transferred to engineering equipment and/or marketing and demonstration equipment is transferred at historical cost. Expenditures for normal repairs and maintenance are charged to operations as incurred.

Depreciation is computed by the straight-line method based on the estimated useful lives of the assets (building improvements: over 5 years; production and engineering equipment: over 3 to 10 years; furniture and fixtures: over 5 to 10 years; computer equipment: over 3 to 10 years; and marketing and demonstration equipment: over 3 to 5 years).

Stockholder's Equity

As of March 31, 2012, we have 90,000,000 authorized shares of common stock of which 35,675,409 shares are issued and outstanding. 23,621,511 shares of common stock are committed to the holders of outstanding warrants, 23,233,132 shares of common stock are committed to the holders of Class 3 Convertible Notes, and 12,548,000 shares of common stock are committed to the holders of stock options. We also have commitments to issue warrants that can be exercised for a combined total of 13,627,393 of our common shares. We have not issued these warrants and will not issue them until the shareholders authorize sufficient shares to cover their potential exercise. Our total commitment for common stock is 108,705,445 shares as of March 31, 2012. Based on the foregoing, we are in default of our commitment to some of the holders of warrants earned against their Class 2 Notes to reserve adequate authorized shares of common stock for our outstanding commitments and would be in default of our commitment to deliver warrants on request if the holders requested their earned but unissued warrants before sufficient shares were authorized. The Board of Directors has authorized proposing a reverse stock split to the shareholders which, if approved, would resolve this issue .

Deferred Revenue

Deferred revenue represents amounts periodically invoiced for sales orders in excess of amounts recognized as revenues. We did not have any deferred revenue at March 31, 2012. We did have deferred revenue of $53,000 at December 31, 2011.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

Our financial instruments are cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, accounts payable, notes payable, and long-term debt. The recorded values of cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, and accounts payable approximate their fair values based on their short-term nature. The recorded values of notes payable and long-term debt approximate their fair values, as interest approximates market rates.

Revenue Recognition

We recognize revenue in accordance with ASC 605 “Revenue Recognition”, Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 101 (“SAB 101”), and Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 104 (“SAB 104”) “Revenue Recognition in Financial Statements”. Revenue is recognized when persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists, delivery has occurred or services have been rendered, the selling price is fixed or determinable and collectibility is reasonably assured.

We recognize revenue at the time of shipment for product sales where the customer’s acceptance criteria can be demonstrated as met prior to shipment and where title transfers on shipment. We recognize revenue at the time of final acceptance at the customer site when title does not transfer on shipment or if acceptance criteria at the customer site are substantially different than acceptance criteria for shipment. We recognize revenue for product sales with no specific customer acceptance criteria, including spare parts, on shipment. Revenue from service contracts is recognized over the term of the contract. Revenue is reported net of sales commissions which were $22,068 and $1,000 for the three-month periods ended March 31, 2012 and 2011, respectively.

Common Stock Options

We account for our share-based compensation plans according to the provisions of ASC Topic 718 “Stock Compensation”. Accordingly, compensation costs attributable to stock options or similar equity instruments granted are measured at the fair value at the grant date, and expensed over the expected vesting period. ASC Topic 718 “Stock Compensation” requires excess tax benefits be reported as a financing cash inflow rather than as a reduction of taxes paid.

Reclassifications

Certain amounts have been reclassified in prior periods’ statements to conform to the current period’s presentation.

Contingencies and Litigation

We make an assessment of the probability of an adverse judgment resulting from current and threatened litigation. We accrue the cost of an adverse judgment if, in our estimation, an adverse settlement is probable and management can reasonably estimate the ultimate cost of such litigation. We had no such accruals at March 31, 2012 and December 31, 2011.

Recently Adopted Accounting Standards

None of the new accounting pronouncements affect Integral Vision, Inc.

Note C - Long-Term Debt and Other Financing Arrangements

2012 Activity (Values for warrants are determined using the Black Scholes Option Pricing Model)

As of January 1, 2012, we had $5,179,878 of outstanding Class 2 Notes and 13,627,393 unissued warrants valued at $23,251. These Class 2 Notes are working capital notes secured by accounts receivable, inventory, and intellectual property and have been issued primarily to certain shareholders that are directors or beneficial owners of more than five percent of the outstanding shares of common stock of the Company (see Note D – Related Party Transactions). The Notes bear interest at 10%, payable at maturity of the note and earn warrants at the rate of five warrants per year per dollar invested. The warrants have an exercise price ranging from $0.10 to $0.25 per share of our common stock. The holder can elect to forgo warrants and earn an additional 2% interest.

During the quarter ended March 31, 2012, we issued $529,000 of Class 2 Notes. We also repaid $9,928 of principal and $247 of interest related to that principal. $359,000 of these notes bear interest at the rate of 10% and earn warrants at the rate of five warrants per year per dollar invested and are due March 23, 2012. These Class 2 Notes were not extended and are currently in default because we did not have sufficient operating cash to pay the notes when due. The warrants have an exercise price of $0.10 per share of our common stock. $170,000 of these notes earn interest at the rate of 12% and are due $100,000 on April 13, 2012 and $70,000 on May 23, 2012. We had 13,627,393 accrued warrants that were earned but not issued as of March 31, 2012, valued at $23,251. These warrants are revalued each quarter using the Black Scholes Option Pricing Model and changes in value are reflected in interest expense. During the quarter, we also paid $3,000 of interest to Michael Kiely, a related party. (see Note D – Related Party Transactions).

As of January 1, 2012, we had $4,953,633 of outstanding Class 3 Notes. Of these, $3,671,642 bear interest at 8% and $1,281,989 bear interest at 12%, payable January 1st and July 1st of each year. The Notes are secured by our intellectual property and have been issued primarily to certain shareholders that are directors or beneficial owners of more than five percent of the outstanding shares of common stock of the Company (see Note D – Related Party Transactions). Also, $3,671,642 of the Notes are convertible into the Company's common stock at $0.25 per share, and $1,281,989 of the Notes are convertible into the Company's stock at $0.15 per share. No new Class 3 Notes were issued during the three-month period ended March 31, 2012. As of March 31, 2012, all of the Class 3 Notes are in default and are earning default interest which is 4% above the original interest rate.

The Company is in default under the terms of the Fifth Amended and Restated Note and Warrant Purchase Agreement (the "Agreement"), because as of March 31, 2012, it failed to make full payment of principal and interest on $1,234,072 of Class 2 Notes and $4,953,632 of Class 3 Notes that were past their maturity dates. As of March 31, 2012, the outstanding unpaid interest on the defaulted Class 2 Notes and Class 3 Notes was $104,126 and $1,382,357, respectively.

As of March 31, 2012, $37,500 of the Class 2 Notes were earning 10% interest and accruing warrants, $569,072 of the Class 2 Notes were earning default interest of 14% and accruing warrants, $665,000 of Class 2 Notes earning default interest of 16%, and $3,908,306 of the Class 2 Notes were earning interest at 12% and do not earn warrants.

As of March 31, 2012, $1,234,072 of the Class 2 Notes were past due and in default. $100,000 of Class 2 Notes were due April 13, 2012, $70,000 of Class 2 Notes are due May 23, 2012, and $3,775,806 of Class 2 Notes are due July 1, 2013. See Note K – Subsequent Events for recent activity associated with the maturity of Class 2 Notes.

The Company is in discussions with the note holders about restructuring of current positions to allow for new capital to be raised. Existing note holders have continued to fund operations while their notes are in default, but the limited basis of the funding is causing us to fall further behind with vendors not essential to daily operations or production and we are no longer able to meet our needs. Taking into account the delay we are experiencing in delivering existing and receiving anticipated orders, we expect that we may need to raise an additional $1,500,000 of operating capital to bridge the gap and then ramp up production and support over the next 12 months. If the anticipated orders do not materialize as expected, we may need to raise up to $2,500,000 to fund operations through the second quarter of 2013. These levels of required capital are beyond the means of existing noteholders and have caused us to seek new investors which will result in a restructuring of current positions. See Note K – Subsequent Events of our financial statements for information on note activity since March 31, 2012.

The following table summarizes Class 2 Note activity for the quarter ended March 31, 2012:

Interest expense for the period ended March 31, 2011 was $333,000, of which $263,823 and $18,784 were for shareholders that beneficially own more than 5% of the outstanding stock of the Company and directors, respectively.

Related Party Transaction Detail

The Company did not have sufficient cash to meet its obligations in January of 2012 and sold Class 2 Notes to a related party to help meet its obligations. On January 25, 2012, John R. Kiely, III purchased $104,000 of Class 2 Notes maturing on March 23, 2012, earning interest at 10%, and earning warrants at the rate of five warrants per dollar of outstanding note per year. Per the terms of the note agreement, we agreed to issue warrants for the first 30 days (42,470 warrants) and any additional warrants earned by this note upon shareholder approval of an increase in the authorized shares of the Company's common stock that is sufficient to accommodate this commitment. Each of the warrants is exercisable for one share of the Company's common stock at $0.10 per share through January 25, 2016. Mr. Kiely elected in advance to cease warrant accrual on March 23, 2012 and increase the interest rate to 12%. This note is secured by substantially all payments received by the Company after January 26, 2012 for the design, sale or service of display inspection systems.

The Company did not have sufficient cash to meet its obligations in February of 2012 and sold Class 2 Notes to a related party to help meet its obligations. On February 6, 2012, John R. Kiely, III purchased $90,000 of Class 2 Notes maturing on March 23, 2012, earning interest at 10%, and earning warrants at the rate of five warrants per dollar of outstanding note per year. Per the terms of the note agreement, we agreed to issue warrants for the first 30 days (36,986 warrants) and any additional warrants earned by this note upon shareholder approval of an increase in the authorized shares of the Company's common stock that is sufficient to accommodate this commitment. Each of the warrants is exercisable for one share of the Company's common stock at $0.10 per share through February 6, 2016. Mr. Kiely elected in advance to cease warrant accrual on March 23, 2012 and increase the interest rate to 12%. This note is secured by substantially all payments received by the Company after February 6, 2012 for the design, sale or service of display inspection systems, but is subordinate to the Class 2 Note issued to Mr. Kiely on January 26, 2012.

On February 23, 2012, Mr. Kiely purchased $165,000 of Class 2 Notes maturing on May 23, 2012, earning interest at 10%, and earning warrants at the rate of five warrants per dollar of outstanding note per year. Per the terms of the note agreement, we agreed to issue warrants for the first 30 days (67,808 warrants) and any additional warrants earned by this note upon shareholder approval of an increase in the authorized shares of the Company's common stock that is sufficient to accommodate this commitment. Each of the warrants is exercisable for one share of the Company's common stock at $0.10 per share through February 23, 2016. Mr. Kiely elected in advance to cease warrant accrual on May 23, 2012 and increase the interest rate to 12%. This note is secured by substantially all payments received by the Company after February 23, 2012 for the design, sale or service of display inspection systems, but is subordinate to the notes issued to Mr. Kiely on January 26, 2012, and February 6, 2012.

The Company did not have sufficient cash to meet its obligations in March of 2012. On March 5, 2012, Mr. Kiely purchased $70,000 of Class 2 Notes maturing on May 23, 2012, earning interest at 12%. This note is secured by substantially all payments received by the Company after March 5, 2012, for the design, sale or service of display inspection systems but is subordinate to the notes issued to Mr. Kiely on January 26, 2012, February 6, 2012, and February 23, 2012.

On March 23, 2012, $849,072 of Class 2 Notes went into default status because we did not have operating cash to pay these Notes. The interest rate on these Notes increased 4% due to the default.

On March 28, 2012, Mr. Kiely elected to cease warrant accrual on the Class 2 Note purchased February 23, 2012 for $165,000. The interest rate for this note was therefore increased to 12% per the terms of the 5th Amended and Restated Note and Warrant Purchase Agreement.

On April 2, 2012, Mr. Kiely released his interest in approximately $270,000 of specified payments subject to the conditions that Integral Vision repay $100,000 plus interest on receipt of funds for a specific invoice and that the Company pays $5,000 to the Klonoff Company which will be used for certain legal fees.

On April 24, 2012, Mr. Kiely released his interest in $53,400 of specified payments and purchased $154,000 of Class 2 Notes maturing June 30, 2012, and earning interest at 12%. This note is secured by substantially all payments received by the Company after April 24, 2012.

Note E - Income Taxes

Income Taxes

In accordance with ASC Topic 740 “Income Taxes,” we assess our uncertain tax positions for tax years that are still open for examination. Because of our historical significant net operating losses, we have not been subject to income tax since 1995. There were no unrecognized tax benefits during all of the periods presented. We classify all interest and penalties as income tax expense. We did not have any accrued interest and penalties related to uncertain tax positions as of December 31, 2011. We file income tax returns in the United States federal jurisdiction and various state jurisdictions. The tax years 2009 through 2011 remain open to examination by taxing jurisdictions to which we are subject. As of March 31, 2012, we did not have any tax examinations in process.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured based on differences between the financial reporting and tax bases of assets and liabilities using enacted tax rates and laws that will be in effect when differences are expected to reverse. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period that includes the enactment date. A valuation allowance is provided for deferred tax assets if it is more likely than not that these items will either expire before we are able to realize their benefit, or future deductibility is uncertain. All deferred tax assets are fully offset by a valuation allowance because of our history of losses.

Warrants and options outstanding were not included in the computation of diluted earnings per share because the inclusion of these instruments would have an anti-dilutive effect. For additional disclosures regarding stock options and warrants, see Note G – Share-Based Compensation.

Note G – Share-Based Compensation

We currently have two active stock option plans: the 2004 Employee Stock Option Plan (“2004 Plan”) and the 2008 Integral Vision, Inc. Equity Incentive Plan (“2008 Plan”) (collectively the “Plans”). The purpose of the Plans generally is to retain and attract persons of appropriate education, experience and ability to serve as our employees, to encourage a sense of proprietorship of such persons, and to stimulate an active interest in our development and financial success.

The 2004 Plan is designed to promote the interests of the Company and its shareholders by providing a means by which the Company can grant equity-based incentives to eligible employees of the Company or any Subsidiary as well as non-employee directors, consultants, or advisors who are in a position to contribute materially to the Company’s success. The Plan permits the Compensation Committee of the Company’s Board of Directors to grant Incentive Stock Options and Non-Qualified Stock Options. The maximum number of shares cumulatively available is 1,000,000 shares.

The 2008 Plan is designed to promote the interests of the Company and its shareholders by providing a means by which the Company can grant equity-based incentives to eligible employees of the Company or any Subsidiary as well as non-employee directors, consultants, or advisors who are in a position to contribute materially to the Company’s success. The Plan permits the Compensation Committee of the Company’s Board of Directors to grant Incentive Stock Options, Non-Qualified Stock Options, Restricted Stock, and Shares. The maximum number of shares cumulatively available is 14,000,000 plus (i) any shares that are forfeited or remain unpurchased or undistributed upon termination or expiration of the awards from the Plan or options from the 2004 Plan and (ii) any shares exchanged as full or partial payment for the exercise price of any award under the 2008 Plan.

On March 24, 2009, on the recommendation of the Compensation Committee, the Board of Directors approved amending and restating the 2008 Integral Vision, Inc. Equity Compensation Plan to provide for an additional 2,500,000 shares for awards under the Plan of which an additional 1,500,000 may be awarded over the two year period beginning March 24, 2009 to the Company’s Chief Executive Officer. The shareholders approved the amendment and restatement at the annual shareholders meeting held May 20, 2009.

Effective April 19, 2010, and pending shareholder approval, the Board increased the maximum number of cumulative shares available to 14,000,000 plus (i) any shares that are forfeited or remain unpurchased or undistributed upon termination or expiration of the awards from the 2008 Plan or options from the 2004 Plan and (ii) any shares exchanged as full or partial payment for the exercise price of any award under the 2008 Plan. As of March 31, 2012, and assuming shareholder ratification of the Board’s action, 100,000 shares remain which can be issued under the 2008 Plan.

The Plans are administered by the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors (the “Committee”). The Committee determines which eligible employees will receive awards, the timing and manner of the grant of such option awards, the exercise price of the stock options (which may not be less than market value on the date of grant) and the number of shares. We may at any time amend or terminate the Plans; however, no amendment that would impair the rights of any participant with respect to outstanding grants can be made without the participant’s prior consent.

The Committee did not grant any options or shares to employees during the three months ended March 31, 2012.

As of March 31, 2012, we had no unrecognized expense related to un-vested share-options.

See Note K – Subsequent Events for further activity regarding the Equity Compensation Plans

The fair value of each option award is estimated on the date of grant using the Black-Scholes option valuation model with the weighted average assumptions noted in the following table. The fair value of all awards is amortized on a straight-line basis over the requisite service periods. The expected life of all awards granted represents the period of time that they are expected to be outstanding. The expected life is determined using historical and other information available at the time of grant. Expected volatilities are based on historical volatility of our common stock, and other factors. The risk-free rate for periods within the contractual life of the option is based on the U.S. Treasury yield curve in effect at the time of grant. We use historical data to estimate pre-vesting option forfeitures.

	(in thousands)
Expected Life (in years)	5.0	5.0
Expected volatility	98.9%	92.3%

Note H – Taiwan Branch Operations

On January 1, 2012, we opened a branch office in Taiwan to provide local sales, service, and engineering support to our customers in that region. The branch office is staffed by three local engineers and is managed by our Vice President of Marketing and Sales who has moved to Taiwan for the assignment. There were no sales recorded for the branch during the three-month period ended March 31, 2012. Expenses for the three-month period ending March 31, 2012, were approximately $23,000 of which approximately $4,000 was for marketing, approximately $2,000 was for G&A, approximately $7,000 was for Engineering and approximately $10,000 was for service. The branch has no long term lease commitments.

Note I – Contingencies and Litigation

Product Warranties

We provide standard warranty coverage for most of our products, generally for one year from the date of customer acceptance. We record a liability for estimated warranty claims based on historical claims and other factors. We review these estimates on a regular basis and adjust the warranty reserves as actual experience differs from historical estimates or other information becomes available. This warranty liability primarily includes the anticipated cost of materials, labor and travel, and shipping necessary to repair and service the equipment.

The following table illustrates the changes in our warranty liability for the three-month period ended March 31, 2012 and 2011:

Note J – Going Concern Matters

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis, which contemplates the realization of assets and the satisfaction of liabilities in the normal course of business. As shown in the financial statements, we incurred losses in the first three months of 2012 and 2011 of $567,000 and $854,000, respectively. Additionally, we incurred losses from operations in the years of 2011 and 2010 of $3.1 million and $2.4 million, respectively. The continuing losses raise substantial doubt about our ability to continue operating as a going concern.

We are currently working with a number of large customers who are using our technologies to evaluate their microdisplay production or are evaluating our technology for the inspection of LCD displays and components. We expect that additional sales orders will be placed by these customers in 2012, provided that markets for these products continue to grow and the customers continue to have interest in our technology-assisted inspection systems. Ultimately, our ability to continue as a going concern will be dependent on these large companies getting their emerging display technology products into high volume production and placing sales orders with us for inspection products to support that production. However, there can be no assurance that we will be successful in securing sales orders sufficient to continue operating as a going concern.

From November 2006 through May 10, 2012, we have used $10,187,510 of Class 2 and Class 3 Notes to fund operations. $4,953,632 are Class 3 Notes, all of which are in default as of May 10, 2012. $5,233,878 are Class 2 Notes, $1,234,071 of which are in default as of May 10, 2012. We continue to need to negotiate forbearance or a cure of the defaults and continue to need to raise additional funds for operations in the next three quarters of 2012 and possibly into the first two quarters of 2013. Certain note holders have continued to fund operations while their notes are in default, but the limited basis of the funding is causing us to fall behind with vendors not essential to our daily operations or production. We have $368,834 in accounts payable over 90 days as of May 10, 2012.

In October 2011, we received $2,236,300 of orders from one customer that we expected to deliver in the first 6 months of 2012. $1,835,800 of this equipment has been delivered or is scheduled for delivery by mid-May 2012. The remaining $400,500 has been put on hold pending a revised delivery schedule from our customer. Providing the inspection equipment delivered to the customer performs as expected, management continues to believe there will be repeat orders and additional opportunities with this customer for a similar volume for the second half of 2012 and first half of 2013.

We will need to negotiate with the Note Holders to allow us to use substantially all of the proceeds from sales orders over the next 12 months in order to ramp up production and support for the new sales orders. We have already raised approximately $529,000 in operating capital in the first quarter and expect to continue to need to raise additional funds in the second and third quarters. If the anticipated orders do not materialize, we will need to raise up to $2,500,000 to fund operations through the first quarter of 2013 and continue to defer interest and principle payments on existing debt to continue to fund operations. In anticipation of the potential need, on November 9, 2011, the Board of Directors authorized an increase in the debt ceiling to $11,000,000 to assure the Company has sufficient operating capital available. These levels of required capital may be beyond the means of existing noteholders and would cause us to seek new investors. We have begun discussions with certain note holders regarding restructuring of current positions to be able to attract new investors.

For further information regarding our obligations, see Note C – Long Term Debt and Other Financing Arrangements and Note K – Subsequent Events.

The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might be necessary should we be unable to continue as a going concern.

Note K – Subsequent Events

On April 2, 2012, John R. Kiely, III, released his interest in approximately $270,000 of specified payments subject to the following conditions which were met:

1. Integral Vision repays $100,000 of principal and associated interest on a specified note when a specified invoice is paid.
2. Integral Vision pays The Klonoff Company, Inc. $5,000 to be used for legal fees when a specified invoice is received.

On April 3, 2012, we granted 100,000 Incentive Stock Options at $0.022 per share subject to shareholder approval of the Amendment and Restatement of the Integral Vision, Inc. 2008 Equity Incentive Plan to a key employee. The shares vest immediately but are not exercisable until shareholders approve sufficient shares to cover the options and other outstanding commitments including the conditions specified in the amendment to the 5th Amended Note and Warrant Purchase Agreement dated December 5, 2011. This award will not be recorded as compensation expense until shareholders approve the required admendments.

On April 24, 2012, John R. Kiely, III, released his interest in $53,400 of payments received so they could be used by the Company for general purposes.

On April 24, 2012, we sold an additional $154,000 of Class 2 Notes to a related party. These Class 2 Notes mature on June 30, 2012, earn interest at 12%, and are secured by substantially all payments received by the Company for the design, sale, or service of display inspection systems except certain engineering and service contracts.

Overview

Integral Vision, Inc., a Michigan corporation (the "Company"), was incorporated in 1978. We develop, manufacture and market flat panel display inspection systems to ensure product quality in the display manufacturing process. We primarily inspect microdisplays and small flat panel displays, though the technology used is scalable to allow inspection of full screen displays and components. Our products primarily use machine vision to evaluate operating displays for cosmetic and functional defects, but can also provide electrical testing if required for a given application. Our customers and potential customers are primarily large companies with significant investments in the manufacture of displays. Nearly all of our sales originate in the United States, Asia, or Europe. Our products are generally sold as capital goods. Depending on the application, display inspection systems have an indefinite life and are more likely to require replacement due to possible technological obsolescence than from physical wear.

Automated inspection has become a necessity for manufacturers who need to continually improve production efficiency to meet the increasing demand for high quality products. Our automatic inspection systems can inspect parts at a lower cycle time and with greater repeatability than is possible with human inspectors. While we have several large companies as customers, these customers are working with emerging display technologies. Our success will be substantially dependant on these customers getting their emerging display technologies into high volume production.

Integral Vision, Inc. opened a branch office in Taiwan effective in January 2012. The office provides sales, service and engineering support for our customer base in Taiwan and other Asian countries.

Products

Our products are generally sold under the trade name SharpEye™. SharpEye™ systems provide Flat Panel Display (“FPD”) inspection for reflective, emissive and transmissive display technologies. SharpEye is designed for the detection of functional and cosmetic defects in Liquid Crystal Display (LCD) displays as well as Liquid Crystal on Silicon (LCoS), OLED, Microelectromechanical systems (MEMS), 3LCD/High Temperature Poly-Silicon (HTPS), e-paper and other emerging display technologies. These technologies are applied to consumer products including a broad range of hand held devices, e-books, computer monitors, digital still cameras, HDTV, projectors, and video headsets. The core technology of SharpEye™ inspection algorithms is the ability to quantize data to the level of a single display pixel. SharpEye™ can be configured for production inspection or for display evaluation in a laboratory based on the equipment configuration selected.

Results of Operations

Three Months Ended March 31, 2012 Compared with Three Months Ended March 31, 2011

Net revenues increased $785,000 (891.7%) to $792,000 in the first quarter of 2012 from $7,000 in the first quarter of 2011. The increase in net revenue was primarily attributable to a increase in revenue from sales of our flat panel display inspection products which resulted from orders booked in the fourth quarter of 2011. Costs of sales increased $475,000 to $482,000 (60.86% of sales) in the first quarter of 2012 compared to $7,000 (100.0% of sales) in the first quarter of 2011. This was primarily due to a increase in material costs of $447,000 as a result of the higher sales of flat panel display inspection systems and an increase in warranty expense of $31,000.

Marketing costs decreased $6,000 (8.0%) to $82,000 in the first quarter of 2012 compared to $88,000 in the first quarter of 2011. This decrease was attributable to reduced travel expenses.

General and administrative (“G&A”) costs increased $37,000 (13.7%) to $306,000 in the first quarter of 2012 compared to $269,000 in the first quarter of 2011. The increase was a result of increases in personnel costs of $15,400 and increases in professional fees of $21,600.

Engineering and development expenditures increased $30,000 (20.1%) to $194,000 in the first quarter of 2012 compared to $164,000 in the first quarter of 2011. The increase was primarily a result of increases in personnel costs.

There was no other income for the three months ended March 31, 2012 or for the three months ended March 31, 2011.

Interest expense decreased $38,000 to $295,000 for the quarter ended March 31, 2012 compared to $334,000 for the quarter ended March 31, 2011. The decrease is primarily attributable to the reduction of Class 2 and Class 3 Notes earning default interest.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Net cash used in operating activities was $602,000 for the three-month period ended March 31, 2012, compared to $455,000 for the first three months of 2011. Operating cash flow for both periods primarily reflected net losses of $567,000 for 2012 and $854,000 for 2011 adjusted for non-cash charges and changes in working capital. Working capital changes in the first three months of 2012 primarily reflected an increase in accounts receivable as a result of sales recognized, an increase in accounts receivable - employees (as a result of loans made to employees), an increase in inventory as a result of increases in finished goods because of sales orders in process and recognition of deferred revenue, partially offset by a decrease in other current assets as a result of timing of expense recognition. We realized an increase in accounts payable and other current liabilities as a result of insufficient cash to make payments and sales orders in process. Accrued interest increased as a result of the issuance of additional debt and the default interest rate in effect on the defaulted Class 2 and Class 3 Notes. Customer deposits increased as a result of sales orders received. Deferred revenue decreased as a result of shipped systems that had received acceptance by the end of the period.

Our investing activities for the three-month period ended March 31, 2012 included an increase equipment of $7,000 an increase in patents of $4,000. We did not have investing activities for the three-month period ended March 31, 2011.

The Company does not have any commitments for capital expenditures as of March 31, 2012.

Financing activities for the three-month period ended March 31, 2012 included proceeds of $529,000 from the issuance of Class 2 Notes and payments of Class 2 Notes of $10,000. Our financing activities for the three-month period ended March 31, 2011 included proceeds of $420,000 from the issuance of Class 2 Notes, $20,000 from loans payable. We paid interest of $3,247 on Class 2 Notes during the three-month period ended March 31, 2012. We did not pay any interest during the three-month period ended March 31, 2011

In October 2011, we received $2,236,300 of orders from one customer for equipment that we expected to deliver in the first six months of 2012. $1,835,800 of this equipment has been delivered or is scheduled for delivery by mid-May 2012. The remaining $400,500 of the equipment has been put on hold pending a revised delivery schedule from our customer. See Note J - Going Concern Matters for more information on their expected affect on cash flow.

The Company is in default under the terms of the Fifth Amended and Restated Note and Warrant Purchase Agreement (the "Agreement"), because it failed to make full payment of principal and interest on certain Class 2 and Class 3 Notes on their respective maturity dates. The defaulted Class 2 and Class 3 Notes are accruing interest at their default interest rates, which is equal to their respective interest rates plus an additional 4%. The Class 2 and Class 3 Notes are secured by the Company's intellectual property pursuant to a Collateral Assignment of Proprietary Rights and Security Agreement (the "Collateral Assignment"), and the Class 2 Notes are also secured by the Company's accounts receivable and inventory pursuant to a Security Agreement (the "Security Agreement"). Pursuant to the Collateral Assignment and the Security Agreement, the Class 2 and Class 3 Note holders (or the collateral agent acting on their behalf) have the right to foreclose on the collateral covered by such agreements, and exercise any of several remedies provided in such agreements, including taking possession of such collateral and selling such collateral. The Company's default under the terms of the Agreement may result in the Company's liquidity decreasing in a material way. In order to remedy any potential decrease in liquidity, if the existing note holders do not continue to purchase new notes to provide additional funding for operations and if we are unable to obtain acceptable terms for curing or waiving the default and obtaining new financing, we may not have sufficient cash to operate. See Note K – Subsequent Events for information on note activity since March 31, 2012. For further discussion regarding our obligations, see Note C – Long Term Debt and Other Financing Arrangements, Note D – Related Party Transactions, Note J – Going Concern Matters, and Note K – Subsequent Events in the notes to condensed financial statements.

Management's Discussion of Critical Accounting Policies

Our condensed financial statements are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States. The preparation of these financial statements requires management to make estimates and judgments that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. The accounting policies discussed below are considered by management to be the most important to an understanding of our financial statements, because their application places the most significant demands on management's judgment and estimates about the effect of matters that are inherently uncertain. Our assumptions and estimates were based on the facts and circumstances known at March 31, 2012; future events rarely develop exactly as forecast, and the best estimates routinely require adjustment. These policies are also described in Note B of the Condensed Financial Statements included in this Form 10-Q.

Revenue Recognition

We recognize revenue in accordance with ASC 605 “Revenue Recognition”, Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 101 (“SAB 101”), and Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 104 (“SAB 104”) Revenue Recognition in Financial Statements. Revenue is recognized when persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists, delivery has occurred or services have been rendered, the selling price is fixed or determinable and collectability is reasonably assured.

We recognize revenue at the time of shipment for product sales where the customer’s acceptance criteria can be demonstrated as met prior to shipment and where title transfers on shipment. We recognize revenue at the time of final acceptance at the customer site when title does not transfer on shipment or if acceptance criteria at the customer site are substantially different than acceptance criteria for shipment. We recognize revenue for product sales with no specific customer acceptance criteria, including spare parts, on shipment. Revenue from service contracts is recognized over the term of the contract. Revenue is reported net of sales commissions.

Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of standard cost, which approximates actual cost determined on a first-in, first-out basis, or market. Inventories are recorded net of allowances for unsalable or obsolete raw materials, work-in-process and finished goods. We evaluate on a quarterly basis the status of our inventory to ensure the amount recorded in our financial statements reflects the lower of our cost or the value we expect to receive when we sell the inventory. This estimate is based on several factors, including the condition and salability of our inventory and the forecasted demand for the particular products incorporating these components. Based on current backlog and expected orders, we forecast the upcoming usage of current stock. We record reserves for obsolete and slow-moving parts ranging from 0% for active parts with sufficient forecasted demand up to 100% for excess parts with insufficient demand or obsolete parts. Amounts in work-in-process and finished goods inventory typically relate to firm orders and, therefore, are not subject to obsolescence risk.

Impairment of Long-lived Assets

We review our long-lived assets, including property, equipment and intangibles, for impairment whenever events or changes in business circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of the assets may not be fully recoverable. An impairment loss would be recognized when estimated undiscounted future cash flows expected to result from the use of the asset and its eventual disposition are less than the carrying amount of the asset.

Share Based Compensation

We account for our share based compensation plans according to the provisions of ASC 718 “Stock Based Compensation”. Accordingly, compensation costs attributable to stock options or similar equity instruments granted are measured at the fair value at the grant date and expensed over the expected vesting period.

The fair value of each option award is estimated on the date of grant using the Black-Scholes option valuation model. The fair value of all awards is amortized on a straight-line basis over the requisite service periods. The expected life of all awards granted represents the period of time that they are expected to be outstanding. The expected life is determined using historical and other information available at the time of grant. Expected volatilities are based on historical volatility of our common stock, and other factors. The risk-free rate for periods within the contractual life of the option is based on the U.S. Treasury yield curve in effect at the time of grant. We use historical data to estimate pre-vesting option forfeitures.

Contingencies and Litigation

We make an assessment of the probability of an adverse judgment resulting from current and threatened litigation. We accrue the cost of an adverse judgment if, in management's estimation, an adverse settlement is probable and management can reasonably estimate the ultimate cost of such litigation. We have made no such accruals as of March 31, 2012 and 2011.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

This Item 3 is not applicable to us as, pursuant to Item 305(e) of Regulation S-K, a smaller reporting company is not required to provide the information required by Item 305 of Regulation S-K.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

The Company's chief executive officer and chief financial officer have each reviewed and evaluated the effectiveness of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Exchange Act Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e)) as of the end of the period covered by this report as required by Exchange Act Rules 13a-15(b) and 15d-15(b). Based on that evaluation, on March 31, 2012, the chief executive officer and chief financial officer each concluded that the Company's current disclosure controls and procedures are effective. Disclosure controls and procedures include, without limitation, controls and procedures designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by an issuer in the reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is accumulated and communicated to the issuer's management, including its principal executive and principal financial officers, or persons performing similar functions, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

Changes in Internal Controls Over Financial Reporting

There have been no changes in the Company's internal controls over financial reporting that occurred during the Company's first three months of the fiscal year 2012 that materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, the Company's internal controls over financial reporting.
