On May 2, 2014, the Chairman, President and CEO of Pepco Holdings, Inc., Joseph M. Rigby, sent the following email to all employees.

Dear Fellow Employee,

In light of the agreement to combine PHI with Exelon, we will be temporarily suspending all Energize Results training activity through May as we analyze the impact of the transaction on our cultural initiative as well as related PAS and Balanced Scorecard goals. In the meantime, I ask that Energize Results training coordinators retain their materials until more information on next steps becomes available.

I have discussed our respective corporate cultures with Chris Crane, Exelon's President and CEO, and we both are excited by how well they are aligned. In the coming weeks, we will be exploring in more detail the cultural vision for the combined company and the best path forward. I will keep you informed as they develop.

I have stated that driving PHI's performance through cultural change is one of my top priorities. It still is. Our journey may well be reshaped as we continue our conversations with Exelon, but the end-game is still the same: a culture of greater accountability and higher performance.

I appreciate the enthusiasm and support you have shown for Energize Results. Already it has made a noticeable difference in our interactions and elevated our focus on our Key Business Results.

Although we are holding off on further training sessions, you are encouraged to continue the spirit of Energize Results by being accountable, living our values and modeling the cultural beliefs. Once again, thank you for your hard work and support.

Sincerely,

Joe

Joseph M. Rigby

Chairman, President and CEO

Cautionary Statements Regarding Forward-Looking Information

Except for the historical information contained herein, certain of the matters discussed in this communication constitute forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Securities Act of 1933 and the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, both as amended by the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Words such as may, might, will, should, could, anticipate, estimate, expect, predict, project, future, potential, intend, see, believe, target, forecast, goal, objective, continue or the negative of such terms or other variations thereof and terms of similar substance used in connection with any discussion of future plans, actions, or events identify forward-looking statements. These forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to, statements regarding benefits of the proposed merger, integration plans and expected synergies, the expected timing of completion of the transaction, anticipated future financial and operating performance and results, including estimates for growth. These statements are based on the current expectations of management of PHI and its utility subsidiaries. There are a number of risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from the forward-looking statements included in this communication.

For example, (1) PHI may be unable to obtain shareholder approval required for the merger; (2) PHI or Exelon may be unable to obtain regulatory approvals required for the merger, or required regulatory approvals may delay the merger or cause the companies to abandon the merger; (3) conditions to the closing of the merger may not be satisfied; (4) an unsolicited offer of another company to acquire assets or capital stock of PHI could interfere with the merger; (5) problems may arise in successfully integrating the businesses of the companies, which may result in the combined company not operating as effectively and efficiently as expected; (6) the combined company may be unable to achieve cost-cutting synergies or it may take longer than expected to achieve those synergies; (7) the merger may involve unexpected costs, unexpected liabilities or unexpected delays, or the effects of purchase accounting may be different from the companies' expectations; (8) the credit ratings of the combined company or its subsidiaries may be different from what the companies expect; (9) the businesses of PHI and its utility subsidiaries may suffer as a result of uncertainty surrounding the merger; (10) PHI and its utility subsidiaries may not realize the values expected to be obtained for properties expected or required to be sold; (11) the industry may be subject to future regulatory or legislative actions that could adversely affect PHI and its utility subsidiaries; and (12) PHI and its utility subsidiaries may be adversely affected by other economic, business, and/or competitive factors. Other unknown or unpredictable factors could also have material adverse effects on future results, performance or achievements of the combined company. Therefore, forward-looking statements are not guarantees or assurances of future performance, and actual results could differ materially from those indicated by the forward-looking statements. Discussions of some of these other important factors and assumptions are contained in PHI's filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), and available at the SEC's website at www.sec.gov, including PHI's 2013 Annual Report on Form 10-K in (a) ITEM 1A. Risk Factors, (b) ITEM 7. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations and (c) ITEM 8. Financial Statements and Supplementary Data. These risks as well as other risks associated with the proposed merger will be more fully discussed in the proxy statement that PHI intends to file with the SEC and mail to its stockholders in connection with the proposed merger. In light of these risks, uncertainties, assumptions and factors, the forward-looking events discussed in this communication may not occur. Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date of this communication. PHI does not undertake any obligation to publicly release any revision to its forward-looking statements to reflect events or circumstances after the date of this communication. New factors emerge from time to time, and it is not possible for PHI to predict all such factors. Furthermore, it may not be possible to assess the impact of any such factor on PHI's or its utility subsidiaries' businesses (either individually or collectively) or the extent to which any factor, or combination of factors, may cause results to differ materially from those contained in any forward-looking statement. Any specific factors that may be provided should not be construed as exhaustive.
