NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

BLAIR CORPORATION AND SUBSIDIARIES

(Unaudited)

June 30, 2006

NOTE A BASIS OF PRESENTATION

The accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements of Blair Corporation (the Company or Blair) and its wholly-owned subsidiaries have been prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles for interim financial information and with the instructions to Form 10-Q and Article 10 of Regulation S-X. Accordingly, they do not include all of the information and footnotes required by U.S. generally accepted accounting principles for complete financial statements. All adjustments that were considered necessary for a fair presentation have been included. These adjustments were of a normal recurring nature. Operating results for the six months ended June 30, 2006 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the year ending December 31, 2006. For further information refer to the financial statements and footnotes included in the Company's annual report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2005.

NOTE B REVENUE RECOGNITION

Sales are recorded when the merchandise is shipped to the customer, in accordance with the provisions of Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 101, Revenue Recognition in Financial Statements and Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 104, Revenue Recognition, as issued by the United States Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC).

NOTE C COSTS AND EXPENSES

Cost of goods sold consists of merchandise costs, including sourcing, importing and inbound freight costs. In addition, cost of goods sold includes writedowns, shipping cartons, shipping supplies, merchandise samples and internally incurred shipping costs.

NOTE D USE OF ESTIMATES

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

NOTE E RETURNS

The provision for returns charged against income for the three months and six months ended June 30, 2006 amounted to $16,953,141 and $31,403,283, respectively. The provision for returns charged against income for the three months and six months ended June 30, 2005 amounted to $17,318,185 and $33,229,297 respectively. Management believes these provisions are adequate based upon the relevant information presently available. However, changes in facts or circumstances could result in an additional adjustment to the Company's provisions.

NOTE F INVENTORIES

Inventories are valued at the lower of cost or market. Cost of merchandise inventories is determined principally on the last-in, first-out (LIFO) method. An actual valuation of inventory under the LIFO method can be made only at the end of each year. However, an interim analysis is performed based on management's estimates of expected year-end inventory levels and costs. If the FIFO method had been used, merchandise inventories would have increased by approximately $1,001,000 at June 30, 2006 and $1,160,000 at December 31, 2005.

NOTE G STOCK COMPENSATION

On December 16, 2004, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 123 (R) (revised 2004), Share-Based Payment, which is a revision of SFAS No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation. SFAS No. 123(R) supersedes Accounting Principles Board (APB) Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees (Opinion No. 25) and amends SFAS No. 95, Statement of Cash Flows.

Generally, the approach in SFAS No. 123(R) is similar to the approach described in SFAS No. 123. However, SFAS No. 123(R) requires all share-based payments to employees, including grants of employee stock options, to be recognized on the income statement as an expense based on fair values. Pro forma disclosure is no longer an alternative. The Company adopted SFAS No. 123(R) on January 1, 2006 using the modified-prospective method. As allowed under the modified-prospective method, the financial results for prior periods have not been restated.

Prior to January 1, 2006, the Company accounted for its share-based payments to employees using Opinion No. 25's intrinsic value method and, as such, generally recognized no compensation cost for employee stock options, as permitted by SFAS No. 123. Prior to the adoption of SFAS No. 123(R), the Company presented all tax benefits resulting from the exercise of stock options as operating cash inflows in the consolidated statements of cash flows, in accordance with the provisions of the Emerging Issues Task Force (EITF) Issue No. 00-15, Classification in the Statement of Cash Flows of the Income Tax Benefit Received by a Company upon Exercise of a Non-qualified Employee Stock Option. SFAS No. 123(R) requires the benefits of tax deductions in excess of the recognized compensation cost recognized for those options to be classified as financing cash inflows rather than operating cash inflows, on a prospective basis. This excess amount was $158,000 and $50,000 in the six months ended June 30, 2006 and 2005, respectively, and is shown as Tax benefit on exercise of non-qualified stock options in the consolidated statement of cash flows.

Stock activity in 2006 generally includes transactions pertaining to stock awarded to non-employee directors as well as stock awarded and forfeited via the Company's Omnibus Stock and Employee Stock Purchase Plans. Activity is accounted for by comparing the market value of the awards, as required by the Plans, to the cost of the treasury shares used for these transactions. The difference is booked to additional paid-in capital. The following table presents the pro forma net earnings and net earnings per share for the three months and six months ended June 30, 2005, as if the Company had applied the provisions of SFAS No. 123(R) during that period:

The fair value for these options was estimated at the date of grant using a Black-Scholes option pricing model with the following weighted-average assumptions:

Risk-free interest rate	3.49%
Dividend yields	2.54%
Volatility	.540
Weighted-average expected life	7 years
Per share fair value	$10.63

The Company has not issued any options since 2003.

NOTE H RECLASSIFICATIONS

Certain amounts in the prior year Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows have been reclassified to conform with the current year presentation.

NOTE I CONTINGENCIES

The Company is involved in certain items of litigation, arising in the normal course of business. While it cannot be predicted with certainty, management believes that the outcome of such litigation will not have a material effect on the Company's financial condition or results of operations.

NOTE J ACCRUED EXPENSES

Accrued expenses consist primarily of employee compensation and benefit related items.

NOTE L INCOME TAXES

The liability method is used in accounting for income taxes. Under this method, deferred tax assets and liabilities are determined based on the difference between the financial statement and tax basis of assets and liabilities using the enacted tax rate(s) expected to apply to taxable income in the periods in which the deferred tax liability or asset is expected to be settled or realized.

The $2.5 million tax benefit for the six months ended June 30, 2006 was generated as a result of the net loss before income taxes and consists primarily of amounts available from a Federal Net Operating Loss carryback. This benefit is reflected on the balance sheet as a reduction to the current liability labeled accrued federal and state taxes.

NOTE M BUSINESS SEGMENT AND CONCENTRATION OF BUSINESS RISK

The Company operates as one segment in the business of selling women's and men's fashion apparel and accessories and home furnishing items. Specifically, the segment includes the Womenswear, Menswear, Home and Stores product lines.

The Company's segment reporting is consistent with the presentation made to the Company's chief operating decision-maker. The Company's customer base is comprised of individuals throughout the United States and is diverse in both geographic and demographic terms. Advertising is done mainly by means of catalogs, direct mail letters and the internet, which offer the Company's merchandise.

NOTE N SEPARATION PROGRAMS

In the first quarter of 2001, the Company accrued and charged to expense $2.5 million in separation costs. The costs were charged to General and Administrative Expense in the income statement. The $2.5 million charge represents severance pay, related payroll taxes and medical benefits due to 56 eligible employees who accepted a voluntary separation program rather than relocate or accept other positions in the Company. The program was offered to eligible employees of the Blair Mailing Center from which the merchandise returns operations have been relocated and the mailing operations have been outsourced. As of the end of the second quarter of 2006, all of the $2.5 million has been paid. This liability is considered satisfied.

In 2005, the Company accrued and charged to expense $933,000 in separation costs. The costs were charged against the gain on the sale of the credit portfolio in the income statement. The $933,000 charge represents severance pay and related payroll taxes for personnel whose services were no longer required after the sale of the credit portfolio. As of June 30, 2006, $285,000 of the $933,000 remains unpaid and recognized as an accrued liability.

In 2005, in addition to the $933,000 of separation costs related to the sale of the credit portfolio, the Company accrued and charged to expense an additional $2.6 million in separation costs. These charges are in connection with the previously announced changes to the Company's organizational structure and leadership team. Going forward, the Company's business operations will consist of three principal groups: Merchandising and Design, Merchandise Procurement and Marketing Services. For more than a year, the Company has been refocusing its energies on its core businesses in an effort to better position itself for long-term growth and to increase shareholder value. In the first six months of 2006, the Company accrued and charged to expense $3.5 million in separation costs. The costs were charged to General and Administrative Expense in the income statement. The aggregate $6.1 million charge represents severance pay, related payroll taxes and medical benefits due to former employees who have separated from the Company. As of June 30, 2006, $4.2 million of the $6.1 million remains unpaid and recognized as an accrued liability.

(Unaudited)

June 30, 2006

Comparison of Second Quarter 2006 and Second Quarter 2005

Overview

During the second quarter of 2006, the Company continued to incur costs, make investments and adjust its business model in support of its strategy to focus on its core customers and enhance shareholder value.

Net sales for the second quarter ended June 30, 2006 were $115.0 million, a decrease of 4.8%, compared to $120.8 million reported for the second quarter ended June 30, 2005. The Company reported net income for the second quarter ended June 30, 2006 of $233,271 or $0.06 per basic and diluted share, compared to net income of $6.1 million or $0.74 per basic and $0.73 per diluted share, reported for the second quarter of 2005.

The per share results for 2006 reflect the reduction of weighted-average shares outstanding resulting from Blair's tender offer for the repurchase of 4.4 million outstanding shares on August 16, 2005. The Company had 3.9 million shares of common stock outstanding at June 30, 2006, compared to 8.2 million shares June 30, 2005. Without the reduction in outstanding shares for the second quarter of 2006, basic and diluted net income per share results would have been $0.03.

The decrease in net sales for the second quarter of 2006 is primarily attributable to higher unit sales volume being more than offset by lower average selling prices, which occurred as a result of ongoing price point repositioning. Management continues to monitor its merchandise and pricing strategy to maximize results.

In 2005, Blair sold its credit portfolio to a third party provider. Net income and earnings per share results for the second quarter and first six months of 2006 reflect the impact of the transition from the Company managing its proprietary credit program to having a third party administer the new Blair credit program (Blair Credit). As a result of the sale of the credit portfolio, the Company no longer receives finance charge revenue, does not incur bad debts and has lower general and administrative costs associated with the administration of the credit portfolio. The Company continues to work closely with its credit partner to develop and define marketing initiatives that will provide additional customer benefits and improve Blair Credit usage when buying its products. During the second quarter of 2006 the Company began to see improved acceptance for the new Blair Credit. The Company anticipates a return over time of Blair Credit activity to approach historical proprietary credit program levels.

Excluding the net results generated by the credit portfolio in the second quarter of 2005, Blair would have realized net income of $4.4 million or $0.54 per basic share and $.53 per diluted share compared to the reported net income of $6.1 million, or $0.74 per basic share and $0.73 per diluted share for the second quarter of 2005.

Also adversely affecting results for the second quarter of 2006 were the inflationary impact of the January 2006 postage and paper rate increases, increased catalog circulation and higher customer acquisitions costs. These variables reduced advertising efficiency and adversely impacted pre-tax earnings by $5.1 million or $0.83 per basic share and $0.81 per diluted share.

Throughout 2005 and into 2006, the Company has been reevaluating its business practices in light of changes in the marketplace and its business model. During the second quarter of 2006, the Company incurred general and administrative expenses associated with reconfiguring its operations. The reported results for the second quarter include a pre-tax severance charge of $2.0 million or $0.33 per basic share and $0.32 per diluted share associated with continuing restructuring efforts. However, the second quarter severance charge was more than offset by the elimination of the previously discussed costs associated with the Company's in-house credit program as well as adjustments to several compensation plans that are based on reported results.

The Company continued to realize favorable improvements in the product procurement area. Cost of goods sold as a percentage of net sales for the second quarter of 2006 was 44.4%, a significant improvement from 45.3% for the second quarter of 2005. This improvement is the result of continued efforts to reduce the cost of merchandise due to increased direct sourcing by the Company, continued partnering with all vendors and lower inventory liquidation costs.

Results of Operations

Net income for the three months ended June 30, 2006 was $233,271 or $0.06 per basic and diluted share, compared to net income of $6.1 million or $.74 per basic share and $.73 per diluted share, for the three months ended June 30, 2005.

Net sales for the second quarter of 2006 totaled $115.0 million and were 4.8% lower ($5.8 million) than net sales for the second quarter of 2005. In addition to the internal and external factors discussed in the overview, second quarter 2005 net sales included $1.3 million from the Crossing Pointe catalog and the Allegheny Trail business which were closed in 2005. Gross sales revenue generated per advertising dollar decreased almost 18% in the second quarter of 2006 compared to the second quarter of 2005. The primary reasons for the reduction in advertising efficiency include January 2006 postage and paper rate increases, increased catalog circulation and increased customer acquisition efforts. Although the total number of orders shipped increased approximately 1%, the average order dollar value decreased approximately 4% in the second quarter of 2006 as compared to the second quarter of 2005. The Company has reduced average selling prices in key product areas as part of a price-point repositioning strategy.

Other revenue decreased 85.3% from $10.9 million to $1.6 million in the second quarter of 2006 versus the second quarter of 2005 primarily due to the elimination of finance charge revenues. The elimination of finance charges resulted from the sale of the Company's proprietary credit portfolio in November 2005. As a result of the sale, the Company no longer realizes finance charge revenue, maintains provisions for doubtful accounts or incurs general and administrative expenses associated with supporting the proprietary credit program.

Cost of goods sold decreased $3.7 million (6.8%) to $51.0 million in the second quarter of 2006 as compared to the second quarter of 2005. Cost of goods sold as a percentage of net sales for the second quarter of 2006 was 44.4%, a significant improvement from 45.3% for the second quarter of 2005. The improvement in cost of goods sold as a percentage of net sales reflects an increase in direct sourcing, which significantly lowered merchandise acquisition costs. The Company plans to continue to expand internal product development and direct sourcing as part of its strategic initiatives to further reduce cost of goods and increase profitability. The Company's direct sourcing offices, located in Hong Kong, Taiwan, Singapore, New Delhi, Shanghai and Pakistan, the Company's only foreign operations, directly sourced more than 37% of the Company's merchandise from foreign suppliers in the second quarter of 2006 as compared to approximately 29% in the second quarter of 2005. The existence of these offices serves to lower the Company's cost of acquiring merchandise. Other factors that contributed to improvement in the above percentage include continued partnering with all vendors, internal efforts to reduce shipping costs and initiatives to lower overall inventory liquidation costs.

Advertising expenses in the second quarter of 2006 increased $5.1 million (17.1%) over the second quarter of 2005 to $34.9 million. The total number of catalog mailings released in the second quarter of 2006 was 3.7 million or 7.5% greater than the second quarter of 2005. The increase in catalog circulation reflects the Company's transitioning to catalogs from traditional letter style mailings and increased customer acquisition efforts. The total number of prospect catalog mailings increased 2.1 million or 17.9% in the second quarter of 2006 as compared to the second quarter of 2005. The increase in prospect circulation is the result of increased customer acquisition efforts.

The total number of letter mailings released in the second quarter of 2006 increased by 10.6% (827,000) as compared to the second quarter of 2005. The increase in letter mailings is a matter of timing between the first and second quarters of 2006. Circulation of letter mailings for the first half of 2006 was down 16% or 2.8 million in recognition of continued soft response to this channel of the Company's marketing programs. The Company is replacing these traditional letter mailings with a newly designed, item focused catalog featuring a collection of best selling products. The new catalog's first mailing occurred in July 2006.

Total circulation of the co-op and media advertising programs increased 20.2% (35.8 million pieces) in the second quarter of 2006 as compared to the second quarter of 2005 as part of the Company's expanded customer acquisition efforts in the first half of the year.

The Company maintains one e-commerce site, www.blair.com. In the second quarter of 2006, the Company generated $27.0 million in e-commerce net sales as compared to $22.8 million in the second quarter of 2005, an 18.4% increase. The year-over-year increase reflects the impact of internal initiatives designed to encourage customers to purchase online and continued customer interest in migrating to the Company's websites. Improved site search and enhanced navigation capabilities were also implemented during the second quarter of 2006. During the quarter, web site traffic increased 22% over 2005 levels and the revenue resulting from advertising investments in search engine marketing increased 84%.

General and administrative expenses decreased 11.3% ($3.9 million) in the second quarter of 2006 as compared to the second quarter of 2005. As a percent of net sales, general and administrative expenses were 26.5% for the quarter ended June 30, 2006 compared to 28.5% for the quarter ended June 30, 2005. Reduced variable employee costs associated with the sale of the Company's proprietary credit portfolio on November 2005 were offset by increases in customer service calls and talk time per call primarily associated with helping customers make the transition to the third party credit provider.

In addition, the Company has experienced an increase in telephone orders as a percent of total orders placed. Although they are more cost effective than telephone orders, mail orders have become a smaller portion of total order mix (phone, mail and web) due to the declining sales volume associated with the Company's traditional letter style mailings. Orders in response to the traditional letter style mailings were primarily placed via the mail order channel. The Company is replacing these traditional letter mailings with a newly designed, item focused catalog featuring a collection of best selling products. The new catalog's first mailing occurred in July 2006.

Elimination of costs associated with the Company's in-house credit program ($2.2 million), adjustments to several compensation plans that were based on reported results ($2.1 million) and reduced professional services ($423,000) all contributed to the decline in general and administrative expenses from 2005. The reduction in professional fees primarily relates to the net impact of two components. In 2005, the Company incurred professional fees in connection with an evaluation of its business practices in light of changes in the marketplace and its business model. These services were substantially completed at December 31, 2005. Serving to offset the reduction in professional fees in the second quarter of 2006 were professional fees incurred as part of an extensive consumer and brand strategy study for the Company's Home business. Offsetting the above factors was a $2.0 million severance charge in the second quarter of 2006, an increase of $1.1 million over the amount of severance related charges in the second quarter of 2005. The severance costs relate to the Company's ongoing evaluation of its business practices in light of changes in the marketplace and its business model.

The provision for doubtful accounts decreased approximately $3.4 million to $32,445 or 99.1% in the second quarter of 2006 as compared to the second quarter of 2005. The 2005 amount represents provisions for doubtful accounts prior to the sale of the Company's proprietary credit portfolio to World Financial Capital Bank on November 4, 2005.

Net interest (income) expense, decreased by $7,176 in the second quarter of 2006 compared to the second quarter of 2005. Interest income decreased due to lower cash balances. Subsequent to the sale of the Company's proprietary credit portfolio in 2005, the Company utilized a portion of the proceeds from the sale to pay off its outstanding debt. Interest expense decreased as a result of no borrowings outstanding during the second quarter of 2006.

Net other expense (income), increased by $128,271 in the second quarter of 2006 compared to the second quarter of 2005. The change is attributable to losses on disposal of assets and foreign currency transactions.

Income taxes (benefit) provision as a percentage of income before income taxes was 36.7% in the second quarter of 2006 as compared to 37.1% in the second quarter of 2005. The federal income tax rate was 35% in both years.

Comparison of Six Month Periods ended June 30, 2006 and June 30, 2005

Overview

During the six months ended June 30, 2006, the Company incurred costs, made investments and adjusted its business model in support of its strategy to focus on its core customers and enhance shareholder value.

Net sales for the six months ended June 30, 2006 were $217.7 million, a decrease of 4.7%, compared to $228.4 million reported for the six months ended June 30, 2005. The Company reported a net loss for the six months ended June 30, 2006 of $4.6 million or $1.17 per basic and diluted share, compared to net income of $6.7 million or $0.82 per basic and $0.81 per diluted share, reported for the six months ended June 30, 2005.

The per share results for 2006 reflect the reduction of weighted-average shares outstanding resulting from Blair's tender offer for the repurchase of 4.4 million outstanding shares on August 16, 2005. The Company had 3.9 million shares of common stock outstanding at June 30, 2006, compared to 8.2 million shares June 30, 2005. Without the reduction in outstanding shares for the six months ended June 30, 2006, basic per share results would have been a loss of $0.55.

The decrease in net sales for the six months ended June 30, 2006 is primarily attributable to higher unit sales volume being more than offset by lower average selling prices, which occurred as a result of ongoing price point repositioning. Management continues to monitor merchandise and pricing programs to maximize results. Also contributing to the decline was softness in response rates to the traditional letter mailings channel of the Company's direct marketing programs. The Company is replacing these traditional letter mailings with a newly designed, item focused catalog featuring a collection of best selling products. The new catalog's first mailing occurred in July 2006. Higher energy related costs, which generally reduced consumer discretionary income and a recognition by management that there was an initial hesitancy on the part of the Company's credit reliant customers to purchase using the new Blair credit card (Blair Credit) also contributed to the decline in sales. Blair Credit is granted by a third party as part of a long-term marketing and servicing alliance under a Private Label Credit Program Agreement (the Program Agreement) having a term of ten (10) years. During the second quarter, the Company realized improved acceptance for the new Blair Credit.

Edgar Filing: BLAIR CORP - Form 10-Q

In 2005, Blair sold its credit portfolio to a third party provider. Net income and earnings per share results for the second quarter and first six months of 2006 reflect the impact of the transition from the Company managing its proprietary credit program to having a third party administer the Blair Credit. As a result of the sale of the credit portfolio, the Company no longer receives finance charge revenue, does not incur bad debts and has lower general and administrative costs associated with the administration of the credit portfolio. The Company continues to work closely with its credit partner to develop and define marketing initiatives that will provide additional customer benefits and improve Blair Credit usage when buying its products. During the second quarter of 2006 the Company began to see improved acceptance for the new Blair Credit. The Company anticipates a return over time of Blair Credit activity to approach historical proprietary credit program levels.

Results for the six month period ending June 2005, excluding the impact of credit would have shown net income of $2.7 million or $0.33 per basic share and $0.32 per diluted share compared to the reported net income of $6.7 million or $0.82 per basic share and $0.81 per diluted share.

During the six months ended June 30, 2006, Blair Credit sales as a payment method were not yet comparable to prior levels of its proprietary credit program. The Company continues to work closely with its credit partner to develop and refine marketing initiatives that will provide additional customer benefits and improve Blair Credit usage when buying products. The Company anticipates that over time Blair Credit activity levels will approach historical proprietary credit program levels.

Several additional factors adversely affected results for the six months ended June 30, 2006. The inflationary impact of the January 2006 postage and paper rate increases, increased catalog circulation, higher customer acquisitions costs and the soft response to the Company's traditional letter mailings all reduced advertising efficiency and adversely impacted pre-tax earnings by $7.2 million or $1.18 per basic share.

Throughout 2005 and into 2006, the Company has been reevaluating its business practices in light of changes in the marketplace and its business model. During the first six months of 2006, the Company incurred general and administrative expenses associated with reconfiguring its operations. The reported results for the six months ended June 30, 2006 include a pre-tax severance charge of $3.5 million or $0.58 per basic share associated with continuing restructuring efforts. However, the year to date severance charge was more than offset by the elimination of the previously discussed costs associated with the Company's in-house credit program as well as adjustments to several compensation plans that are based on reported results.

The Company continued to realize favorable improvements in the product procurement area. Cost of goods sold as a percentage of net sales for the six months ended June 30, 2006 was 45.4%, a significant improvement from 47.1% for the six months ended June 30, 2005. This improvement is the result of continued efforts to reduce the cost of merchandise due to increased direct sourcing by the Company, continued partnering with all vendors and lower inventory liquidation costs.

Results of Operations

Net loss for the six months ended June 30, 2006 was $4.6 million or $1.17 per basic share, compared to net income of $6.7 million or $.82 per basic share and $.81 per diluted share, for the six months ended June 30, 2005.

Net sales for the six months ended June 30, 2006 totaled $217.7 million and were 4.7% lower ($10.7 million) than net sales for the six months ended June 30, 2005. In addition to the internal and external factors discussed in the overview, six month 2005 net sales included $1.9 million from the Crossing Pointe catalog and the Allegheny Trail business which were closed in 2005. Gross sales revenue generated per advertising dollar decreased approximately 14% for the six months ended June 30, 2006 compared to the six months ended June 30, 2005. The primary reasons for the reduction in advertising efficiency include January 2006 postage and paper rate increases, increased catalog circulation, reduced response to the Company's traditional letter mailings channel of its direct marketing programs and increased customer acquisition efforts.

Edgar Filing: BLAIR CORP - Form 10-Q

Although the total number of orders shipped increased approximately 1%, the average order size decreased approximately 4% for the six months ended June 30, 2006 as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2005. The Company has reduced average selling prices in key product areas as part of a price-point repositioning strategy. The provision for returned merchandise as a percentage of gross sales decreased 160 basis points for the six months ended June 30, 2006 as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2005. Management attributes this favorable change to continued emphasis on improved product quality and fit.

Other revenue decreased 85.4% from $21.6 million to $3.1 million for the six months ended June 30, 2006 versus the six months ended June 30, 2005 primarily due to the elimination of finance charge revenues. The elimination of finance charges resulted from the sale of the Company's proprietary credit portfolio in November 2005. As a result of the sale, the Company no longer realizes finance charge revenue, maintains provisions for doubtful accounts or incurs general and administrative expenses associated with supporting the proprietary credit program.

Cost of goods sold decreased $8.5 million (7.9%) to $98.9 million for the six months ended June 30, 2006 as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2005. Cost of goods sold as a percentage of net sales for the six months ended June 30, 2006 was 45.4%, a significant improvement from 47.1% for the six months ended June 30, 2005. The improvement in cost of goods sold as a percentage of net sales reflects an increase in direct sourcing, which significantly lowered merchandise acquisition costs. The Company plans to continue to expand internal product development and direct sourcing as part of its strategic initiatives to further reduce cost of goods and increase profitability. The Company's direct sourcing offices, located in Hong Kong, Taiwan, Singapore, New Delhi, Shanghai and Pakistan, the Company's only foreign operations, directly sourced approximately 36% of the Company's merchandise from foreign suppliers for the six months ended June 30, 2006 as compared to approximately 27% for the six months ended June 30, 2005. The existence of these offices serves to lower the Company's cost of acquiring merchandise. Other factors that contributed to improvement in the above percentage include continued partnering with all vendors, a reduction in customer returns reflecting ongoing programs to improve merchandise quality, internal efforts to reduce shipping costs and initiatives to lower overall inventory liquidation costs.

Advertising expenses for the six months ended June 30, 2006 increased $7.2 million (12.1%) to $66.4 million from the six months ended June 30, 2005. The total number of catalog mailings released for the six months ended June 30, 2006 was 6.5 million or 6.9% greater than for the six months ended June 30, 2005. The increase in catalog circulation reflects the Company's transitioning to catalogs from traditional letter style mailing and increased customer acquisition efforts. The total number of prospect catalog mailings increased 2.4 million or 12.6% for the six months ended June 30, 2006 as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2005. The increase in prospect circulation is the result of increased customer acquisition efforts.

The total number of letter mailings released for the six months ended June 30, 2006 decreased by 16.1% (2.9 million) as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2005. The decrease in letter mailings was in recognition of continued soft response to this channel of the Company's marketing programs. Total circulation of the co-op and media advertising programs increased 14.7% (69.3 million pieces) for the six months ended June 30, 2006 as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2005 as part of the Company's expanded customer acquisition efforts in the first half of the year.

The Company maintains one e-commerce site, www.blair.com. For the six months ended June 30, 2006, the Company generated $53.5 million in e-commerce net sales as compared to $46.0 million for the six months ended June 30, 2005, a 16.3% increase. The year-over-year increase reflects continued customer interest in migrating to the Company's websites and the impact of internal initiatives designed to encourage customers to purchase online. Improved site search and enhanced navigation capabilities were also implemented during the second quarter of 2006.

General and administrative expenses decreased 5.1% ($3.4 million) for the six months ended June 30, 2006 as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2005. As a percent of net sales, general and administrative expenses were 28.9% for the six months ended June 30, 2006 compared to 29.0% for the six months ended June 30, 2005. Elimination of costs associated with the Company's in-house credit program ($4.1 million) and adjustments to several compensation plans that are based on reported results ($2.3 million) contributed to the decline in general and administrative expenses from 2005. Offsetting the above factors was a $3.5 million severance charge in the first six months of 2006, an increase of $2.6 million over the amount of severance related charges in the first six months of 2005. The severance costs relate to the Company's ongoing evaluation of its business practices in light of changes in the marketplace and its business model. In addition, reduced variable employee costs associated with the sale of the Company's proprietary credit portfolio in November 2005 were more than offset by increases in customer service calls and talk time per call primarily associated with helping customers make the transition to the third party credit provider. In addition, the Company has experienced an increase in telephone orders as percent of total orders placed. Although they are more cost effective than telephone orders, mail orders have become a smaller portion of total order mix (phone, mail and web) due to the declining sales volume associated with the Company's traditional letter style mailings. Orders in response to the traditional letter style mailings were primarily placed via the mail order channel. The Company is replacing these traditional letter mailings with a newly designed, item focused catalog featuring a collection of best selling products. The new catalog's first mailing occurred in July 2006.

The provision for doubtful accounts decreased approximately $6.8 million to $83,322 or 98.8% for the six months ended June 30, 2006 as compared to the six months ended June 30, 2005. The 2005 amount represents provisions for doubtful accounts prior to the sale of the Company's proprietary credit portfolio to World Financial Capital Bank on November 4, 2005.

Net interest (income) expense, improved by $183,756 for six months ended June 30, 2006 compared to the six months ended June 30, 2005. Interest income decreased due to lower cash balances. Subsequent to the sale of the Company's proprietary credit portfolio in 2005, the Company utilized a portion of the proceeds from the sale to pay off its outstanding indebtedness. Interest expense decreased as a result of no borrowings outstanding during the first six months of 2006.

Net other expense (income), decreased by $385,386 for the six months ended June 30, 2006 compared to the six months ended June 30, 2005. In connection with the discontinuance of the Crossing Pointe catalog title, on March 30, 2005, the Company sold all open Crossing Pointe credit accounts receivable to a third party at a discount. After comparing the proceeds of the sale to the net carrying value of this asset, the Company realized a gain of approximately $500,000, which was recorded on this financial statement line item in 2005.

Income taxes (benefit) provision as a percentage of income before income taxes was 35.8% for the six months ended June 30, 2006 as compared to 37.0% for the six months ended June 30, 2005. The federal income tax rate was 35% in both years.

Liquidity and Sources of Capital

At June 30, 2006, the Company had no borrowings outstanding under its $75 million credit facility. The Company had letters of credit totaling $22.6 million outstanding, which reduces the amount of borrowings available under the credit facility. Outstanding letters of credit totaled $19.6 million at December 31, 2005 and $18.1 million at June 30, 2005. Letters of credit are comprised mainly of two categories. One such category is comprised of commercial letters of credit used for the purpose of purchasing goods from non-U.S. suppliers. The other category is comprised of performance guarantees for a consolidated subsidiary and insurance bonding purposes. All letters of credit have a term of one year or less.

The Company was in compliance with all debt covenants as of June 30, 2006. The Company believes it has adequate financial resources to support anticipated short-term and long-term capital needs and commitments.

The following table and narrative highlight significant changes in cash and cash equivalents for the six months ended June 30, 2006 and 2005.

Edgar Filing: BLAIR CORP - Form 10-Q

	Six Months Ended June 30		Increase/ (Decrease)
	2006	2005
Net cash (used in)
provided by operating activities	$(17,199,761)	$36,591,776	$(53,791,537)
Net cash used in investing activities	(3,999,669)	(2,873,364)	(1,126,305)
Net cash used in financing activities	(4,743,181)	(2,112,792)	(2,630,389)
Effect of exchange rate changes on cash	27,813	(4,128)	31,941
Net decrease in cash and cash equivalents	$(25,914,798)	$31,601,492	$(57,516,290)

The $57.5 million decrease in cash and cash equivalents is primarily due to unfavorable cash flow from operating activities. Net cash used in operating activities was $17.2 million for the six months ended June 30, 2006, a $53.8 million decrease compared to the same period in fiscal 2005. This decrease is primarily attributable to reduced earnings of $11.3 million and unfavorable changes in several components of working capital. The primary factors are unfavorable changes to accounts receivable of $7.3 million, inventories of $8.2 million, federal and state taxes of $5.1 million, trade accounts payable and accrued expenses of $13.6 million and provisions for doubtful accounts of $6.8 million.

Anticipated cash requirements during 2006 are primarily to fund capital expenditures, fund historical variations in working capital required throughout the year and pay dividends. The Company expects to fund 2006 cash requirements with cash provided from operations, cash on hand and borrowings as needed under the current credit facility.

The Company operates as one business segment consisting of the Womenswear, Menswear, Home and Stores product lines. An operating segment is identified as a component of an enterprise for which separate financial information is available for evaluation by the chief decision-maker, or decision-making group, in deciding on how to allocate resources and assess performance.

The following table illustrates net sales and the percent of net sales that each product line represents.

Product Line	6/30/06	Percent of Total Net Sales	6/30/05	Percent of Total Net Sales
	Net Sales (in millions)		Net Sales (in millions)
Womenswear	$145.7	66.9%	$146.5	64.1%
Menswear	42.2	19.4%	43.9	19.2%
Home	28.5	13.1%	34.8	15.2%
Crossing Pointe	0.0	0.0%	0.3	0.2%
Stores	1.3	0.6%	1.3	0.6%
Allegheny Trail	0.0	0.0%	1.6	0.7%
Total	$217.7	100.0%	$228.4	100.0%

The Company has added new facilities, modernized its existing facilities and acquired new cost-saving equipment during the last several years. Capital expenditures for property, plant and equipment totaled $4.0 million during the first six months of 2006, compared to $3.4 million during the first six months of 2005. Most of the $4.0 million of capital expenditures in the first six months of 2006 were attributable to improving the Company's information services capabilities as they support the order fulfillment, merchandise procurement, customer services and the outsourced credit origination functions.

It is anticipated that future cash needs beyond 2006 will be financed by cash flow from operations, available cash on hand, existing borrowing arrangements and, if needed, other financing arrangements that may be available to the Company. However, the Company's current projection of future cash requirements may be affected by numerous factors, including changes in sales volume, operating cost fluctuations and revised capital spending activities.

Critical Accounting Policies

Preparation of the Company's financial statements requires the application of a number of accounting policies, which are described in Note 1, Significant Accounting Policies in the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements in the Company's 2005 10-K. The critical accounting policies, which if interpreted differently under different conditions or circumstances could result in material changes to the reported results, deal with properly valuing accounts receivable (in 2005) and inventory, and the Company's policy with regard to the timing of recording expenses for direct advertising costs. Properly valuing accounts receivable and inventory requires the establishment of proper reserve and allowance levels, specifically an allowance for doubtful accounts and returns and a reserve for inventory obsolescence. The Company's senior financial management and auditors review the critical accounting policies and estimates with the Audit Committee of the board of directors.

The Company's revenue recognition policy is as follows: sales are recorded when the merchandise is shipped to the customer in accordance with the provisions of Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 104, Revenue Recognition.

The Company's advertising expense policy is as follows: advertising and shipping supply inventories include printed advertising material and related mailing supplies for promotional mailings, which are generally scheduled to occur within two months. These direct-response advertising costs are then expensed over the period of expected future benefit, generally nine weeks.

The Company issues promotional gift cards as part of a marketing strategy to encourage the establishment of new credit accounts and as an incentive for customer purchases to exceed certain thresholds. The Company establishes an allowance for outstanding cards when they are issued, based on an estimated redemption rate, which is reflected on the balance sheet. Expense is recognized monthly based on the change in allowance account. As of June 30, 2006, the Company no longer uses this promotional program.

At June 30, 2006, the Company had total net current deferred tax assets of $3,185,000. These assets relate principally to asset valuation reserves including returns and inventory obsolescence. Based on recent historical earnings performance and current projections, management believes that a valuation allowance is not required against these deferred tax assets, except for the valuation allowances against state net operating losses. The state net operating loss valuation allowance was provided due to its uncertainty of realization based upon the state's net operating loss carryforward rules.

Accounting Pronouncements

On December 16, 2004, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 123 (revised 2004), Share-Based Payment, which is a revision of SFAS No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation. SFAS No. 123(R) supersedes Accounting Principles Board (APB) Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees (Opinion No. 25), and amends SFAS No. 95, Statement of Cash Flows. Generally, the approach in SFAS No. 123(R) is similar to the approach described in SFAS No. 123. However, SFAS No. 123(R) requires all share-based payments to employees, including grants of employee stock options, to be recognized as expenses in the income statement based on fair values. Pro forma disclosure is no longer an alternative.

SFAS No. 123(R) also requires the benefits of tax deductions in excess of recognized compensation cost to be reported as a financing cash flow, rather than as an operating cash flow, which historically had been the accepted practice. This requirement reduces net operating cash flows and increases net financing cash flows in periods after adoption. The Company has not completed its estimate of what those amounts will be in the future (because they depend on, among other things, when employees exercise stock options), but expects them to be immaterial to its financial position.

In June 2006, the FASB issued FASB Interpretation No. 48, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes - an interpretation of FASB Statement No. 109 (FIN 48), which becomes effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2006. FIN 48 clarifies the accounting and reporting for uncertainties in the income tax law. This interpretation prescribes a recognition threshold and measurement attribute for the financial statement recognition, measurement and presentation of uncertain tax positions taken or expected to be taken in an income tax return. The Company will commence evaluation of the impact of FIN 48 going forward, but believes the adoption of FIN 48 will not have a material impact on its consolidated financial statements or disclosure requirements.

Future Considerations

The Company is faced with the ever-present challenge of maintaining and expanding its customer file. This involves the acquisition of new customers (prospects), the conversion of new customers to established customers (active repeat buyers) and the retention and/or reactivation of established customers.

These actions are vital in growing the business but are being negatively impacted by increased operating costs, a declining labor pool, increased competition in the retail sector, high levels of consumer debt, varying consumer response rates, increasing energy costs and an uncertain economy. The preceding factors can also negatively impact the Company's ability to properly value inventories by making it more difficult to establish proper allowance and reserve levels, specifically, the allowances for returns and the reserve for inventory obsolescence.

The Company's marketing strategy includes targeting customers in the 40 to 75, low-to-moderate income market. Success of the Company's marketing strategy requires investment in database management, digital asset management, campaign management, financial and operating systems, prospecting programs, catalog marketing, telephone call centers, e-commerce and fulfillment operations. Management believes that these investments should improve the Company's position in new and existing markets and provide opportunities for future earnings growth.

Requirements adopted by the SEC in response to the passage of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 require an ongoing review and evaluation of our internal control systems and attestation of these systems by our independent auditors. We will review our internal control procedures and consider further documentation of such procedures that may be necessary in the future on an ongoing basis. While we currently believe we have identified and committed the appropriate resources to meet all of the requirements, there is always a risk inherent in any control system that not all errors or misstatements will be detected. Any improvements in our internal control systems or in documentation of such control systems could be costly to prepare or implement, could divert attention of management of our finance staff and may cause our operating expenses to increase over the ensuing year.
