Item 3. Source and Amount of Funds or Other Consideration.

With respect to all Reporting Persons, the source of funds used in making the purchases was the working capital of Persistency.

The total cost for the Notes, which are convertible into the Common Shares reported by the Reporting Persons was the $10.0 million.

Item 4. Purpose of Transaction.

The Reporting Persons purchased the Notes, which may be converted into shares of the Issuer's Common Stock, based on the Reporting Persons' belief that the Notes, when purchased, represented an attractive investment opportunity. The number of shares of Common Stock reported on this report reflect the aggregate number of shares of Common Stock into which the Notes may be converted as a result of an adjustment to the conversion ratio set forth in the Note Agreement resulting from the issuance of additional shares of Common Stock by the Company on December 5, 2008.

The Reporting Persons believe that notwithstanding the number of shares of Common Stock reported on this Schedule 13D, the actual number of shares of Common Stock into which the Notes are convertible may be greater than those reported herein because the Issuer is contractually obligated to use its commercially reasonable efforts to seek to obtain shareholder approval to remove a restriction contained in the Note purchase agreement that prevents the Reporting Persons from acquiring in excess of 19.9% of the outstanding Common Stock of the Issuer, including upon conversion of the Notes. In addition, the terms of the Notes provide that the conversion price of the Notes will be adjusted to account for any discounts, fees, costs and expenses incurred in connection with certain issuances of equity securities by the Issuer.

The Reporting Persons may communicate with the management and board of directors of the Issuer regarding the Issuer's business and other strategic and financial considerations, and may recommend or propose certain actions to the Issuer. In addition, in connection with their investment in the Issuer, the Reporting Persons may engage in communications with members of management and the board of directors of the Issuer with respect to the types of corporate action that may be covered in paragraphs (a) through (j) of Item 4 of Schedule 13D. The Reporting Persons intend to review their investment in the Issuer on a continuing basis. Depending on various factors including, without limitation, the Issuer's financial position, conditions in the industry sector in which the Company operates and general economic and industry conditions, the Reporting Persons may in the future take such actions with respect to their investment in the Issuer as they deem appropriate including, without limitation, making proposals to the Issuer concerning changes to the capitalization, ownership structure or operations of the Issuer, selling some or all of the issuers assets, or changing their intention with respect to any and all matters referred to in this Item 4.

The Reporting Persons reserve the right to effect transactions that would change the number of shares they may be deemed to beneficially own.
