Dear Fellow Shareholder:

During the stock market's ongoing volatility, higher-rated bonds clearly have been major beneficiaries of investors' flight to safety. However, the lower-rated higher-yielding securities in which Putnam Managed High Yield Trust invests faced quite a different environment, battling the negative effects of the stock market's instability as well as high default rates throughout most of the semiannual period that ended on November 30, 2002. Despite this challenging environment, high-yield bonds outperformed equities by a significant margin, proving their value in a diversified investment program.

Your fund sustained a loss for the period, but outperformed the average for its Lipper category. The fund underperformed its benchmark index, primarily because of differences in composition between the two. In addition, the decline in interest rates over the past several years necessitated reductions in the fund's dividend. On the following pages, the fund's management team discusses fund performance during the semiannual period and provides an outlook for the months ahead.

As the fund enters the fiscal year's second half, the economic recovery continues to exhibit signs that it is alive, if not as robust as some investors might desire. Productivity continues to improve, interest rates remain low, and inflation is still virtually nonexistent. In the final months of the period, investors began to recognize these attributes and respond accordingly. As investor psychology turns more positive, high-yield bonds should benefit.

Respectfully yours,

/S/ JOHN A. HILL

REPORT FROM FUND MANAGEMENT

This fund is managed by the
Putnam Core Fixed-Income
High-Yield Team

Edgar Filing: PUTNAM MANAGED HIGH YIELD TRUST - Form N-30D

During the first six months of Putnam Managed High Yield Trust's fiscal year, the high-yield market was affected by changes in the economic outlook, concerns over terrorist threats, and a wave of corporate scandals. In addition, the market continued to be plagued by high-profile defaults and credit problems among several issuers. Your fund's management team kept the portfolio well diversified and Putnam's research staff added value in a difficult credit environment by carefully monitoring individual holdings and scrutinizing new issues that came to market. As a result, although your fund's performance was disappointing in absolute terms, it was ahead of its Lipper category average for the semiannual period ending November 30, 2002 (see page 7 for details). The fund underperformed its benchmark, the CSFB High Yield Index, because the fund tends to own bonds issued by larger, better-known companies. The fund's benchmark index, by contrast, has many more bonds issued by smaller companies. While these smaller-company bonds outperformed larger-company bonds over this fiscal year, we typically do not purchase these types of securities for the fund because many are illiquid (cannot be easily sold) and therefore may carry increased risk.

Total return for 6 months ended 11/30/02

NAV	Market price
-3.31%	-5.77%

Past performance does not indicate future results. Performance based on market prices for the shares will vary from performance based on the portfolio's net asset value. Performance information for longer periods begins on page 7.

The fund's market price reflects the relative performance of the underlying portfolio as well as changes in investor sentiment and market trends. These include increases or decreases in demand for the types of securities in which the fund invests. The fund's return at market price was lower than its return at net asset value in large part because of two dividend reductions that occurred during the period. The reasons for these reductions are discussed on page four of this report. In addition to the dividend, the fund's return at market price was lower because of reduced demand during the period for high-yield securities, as investors seeking relative safety favored higher-quality bond sectors.

* PERIOD PROVED VOLATILE FOR HIGH-YIELD BONDS

After several strong months early in the year, during which investor confidence was buoyed by a strengthening economy and rising equity prices, the high-yield market hit a peak in early May 2002. In April, the media had reported allegations of fraud at Adelphia, a large cable company and significant high-yield issuer. A month later, the high-yield market felt the effects of this scandal and began to decline. The fund owned some Adelphia bonds, and the scandal's effect on these holdings detracted from performance.

June brought no reprieve for investor confidence, as the stock market and corporate-bond market were rocked by accounting scandals at WorldCom and Tyco. In addition to reports of significant economic weakness, this corporate malfeasance caused both the high-yield and equity markets to continue declining through the middle of October. In response, investors flocked to high-quality investments, such as U.S. Treasuries. The yield on the 10-year U.S. Treasury bond, which moves in the opposite direction of its price, declined to near-record lows of approximately 3.60% by the end of September -- a level not seen since the 1950s. Finally, default rates, which are measured by the number of companies failing to meet payment obligations for their bonds, peaked in January 2002, according to Moody's. However, this default rate remained elevated for much of the year, and has just begun to show more meaningful improvement.

* THE FUND'S DEFENSIVE STRATEGY WAS ON TARGET

Despite the strong performance of high-yield bonds and the economy's improvement in early 2002, we remained wary of how well the economic recovery would hold up and were concerned about the effect that the developing corporate scandals and continued geopolitical turmoil would have on the high-yield market. We were also concerned about the continued high level of defaults in the market. As a result, we kept the portfolio diversified across a wide range of industry sectors and individual holdings. Moreover, our staff of research analysts helped the fund avoid a number of credit problems with individual holdings. A good example was Tesoro Petroleum, a refining company that brought a new bond issue to market in April 2002. Our analysts felt that these bonds carried too much risk because of the volatility associated with the refining industry and recommended against the purchase. Their analysis proved correct -- the bonds declined in value by nearly 50% after coming to market.

Footnote reads:

These holdings represented approximately 9.7% of the fund's net assets as of 11/30/02. Portfolio holdings will vary over time.

In September, our view on the high-yield market became more positive. While we believed that third quarter earnings would be lackluster, we thought that the market was poised for a rally that would occur after third quarter earnings were released in mid-October. This view was based on the attractive valuations in the market, the prospects for an easing by the Fed, and the fact that November has historically marked a seasonally strong period for the high-yield market. As such, we began to position the fund slightly more aggressively to better capture a rallying market. In fact, the high-yield market bottomed on October 10 and posted a total return of over 6% from that date through the end of November.

* SECTOR AND SECURITY SELECTION ALSO HELPED RELATIVE PERFORMANCE

While we did not significantly overweight specific sectors during the period, many of the sectors in which the fund was invested made positive contributions to performance. Examples include television broadcasting, which has benefited from increased advertising expenditures, and gaming and lodging, which has benefited from people taking vacations closer to home and within the United States. We have kept the portfolio underweighted in technology, which continues to struggle from a reluctance of corporations to increase capital spending.

In the wireless industry, the fund owns Nextel, one of the largest holdings in the fund and a strong performer. Nextel stands out in its industry for a number of reasons. The company offers a service that allows customers to reach each other with a push-to-talk feature (similar to a walkie-talkie), in addition to traditional cellular transmission. These "flexible calling groups" are convenient and highly popular for a variety of uses, including construction, limousines, trucking, sales management, and emergency services (which have increased significantly after 9/11). The company is planning to expand the service nationwide and globally. We believe that Nextel is well managed and were pleased to see that the firm recently retired $2 billion in debt and preferred stocks.

Fund Profile

Putnam Managed High Yield Trust seeks high current income and the potential for capital appreciation by investing in corporate high-yield bonds. The fund is designed for investors seeking high income and capital appreciation, and who are willing to take on the added risk of investing in below-investment-grade securities.

* DIVIDEND CUTS REFLECT DECLINE IN MARKET YIELDS OVER PAST SEVERAL YEARS

As a result of lower interest rates available in the marketplace, your fund's managers reduced the fund's dividend twice during the last 12 months -- in December 2001 and April 2002. Yields on bonds in all fixed-income sectors have been declining for the past several years, due to slowing economic growth, Federal Reserve Board interest-rate cuts, and strong inflows of funds into fixed-income securities which have pushed bond prices up and yields down. (In the high-yield market, prices have also fallen because of high default levels and increased credit stress.) Despite these dividend reductions, your fund's distribution rate remains in line with other mutual funds that invest in high-yield bonds and well above those found in other fixed-income sectors.

* OUTLOOK REMAINS POSITIVE DESPITE SHORT-TERM CAVEATS

While high-yield bonds have underperformed other bond sectors year-to-date, this sector historically has outperformed equities during other periods. We remain confident in the potential of high-yield bonds for 2003 due to a number of positive trends: yield spreads relative to Treasuries are wide; default rates, having peaked earlier in the year, are improving; and demand for these bonds is growing. Yields are high -- often exceeding 10% -- and there is potential for price appreciation. We believe that overall credit quality is improving as companies are working to improve their balance sheets. Also, many large companies have entered the high-yield universe, having been recently downgraded from investment-grade status. Many of these "fallen angels" have strong cash flows and manageable amounts of debt and offer attractive yields relative to their credit-risk profile. The economy is growing, and we do not expect a double-dip recession in 2003. Finally, we have seen an increase in demand, in part due to the fact that other fixed-income alternatives offer much lower yields. In October, with the rally in the stock market and a decline in Treasury performance, high-yield bonds outperformed Treasuries. These trends characterize an environment in which high-yield bonds have the potential to outperform other bond sectors.

There are risks, of course, that may affect high-yield bond performance in the short term. Default rates remain elevated, despite improvement, and geopolitical turmoil, including the possibility of war with Iraq, could also have a negative effect on the market. Moreover, companies remain reluctant to increase capital spending, and until they do so, the economy's growth will probably remain slow to moderate. As always, we will keep a close eye on market and economic developments, maintain diversification in the portfolio, and make adjustments as events and conditions warrant.

They are not meant as investment advice. Although the described holdings were viewed favorably as of 11/30/02, there is no guarantee the fund will continue to hold these securities in the future. Lower-rated bonds may offer higher yields in return for more risk.

TERMS AND DEFINITIONS

Total return shows how the value of the fund's shares changed over time, assuming you held the shares through the entire period and reinvested all distributions in the fund.

Net asset value (NAV) is the value of all your fund's assets, minus any liabilities, divided by the number of outstanding common shares.

Market price is the current trading price of one share of the fund. Market prices are set by transactions between buyers and sellers on the New York Stock Exchange.

COMPARATIVE BENCHMARKS

Credit Suisse First Boston (CSFB) High Yield Index is an unmanaged index of high-yield debt securities. The index assumes reinvestment of all distributions and does not account for fees. Securities and performance of a fund and an index will differ. You cannot invest directly in an index.

Consumer price index (CPI) is a commonly used measure of inflation; it does not represent an investment return.

Lipper Inc. is a third-party industry ranking entity that ranks funds (without sales charges) with similar current investment styles or objectives as determined by Lipper.

A GUIDE TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

These sections of the report, as well as the accompanying Notes, constitute the fund's financial statements.

The fund's portfolio lists all the fund's investments and their values as of the last day of the reporting period. Holdings are organized by asset type and industry sector, country, or state to show areas of concentration and diversification.

Statement of assets and liabilities shows how the fund's net assets and share price are determined. All investment and noninvestment assets are added together. Any unpaid expenses and other liabilities are subtracted from this total. The result is divided by the number of shares to determine the net asset value per share, which is calculated separately for each class of shares. (For funds with preferred shares, the amount subtracted from total assets includes the net assets allocated to remarketed preferred shares.)

Statement of operations shows the fund's net investment gain or loss. This is done by first adding up all the fund's earnings -- from dividends and interest income -- and subtracting its operating expenses to determine net investment income (or loss). Then, any net gain or loss the fund realized on the sales of its holdings -- as well as any unrealized gains or losses over the period -- is added to or subtracted from the net investment result to determine the fund's net gain or loss for the fiscal period.

Statement of changes in net assets shows how the fund's net assets were affected by distributions to shareholders and by changes in the number of the fund's shares. It lists distributions and their sources (net investment income or realized capital gains) over the current reporting period and the most recent fiscal year-end. The distributions listed here may not match the sources listed in the Statement of operations because the distributions are determined on a tax basis and may be paid in a different period from the one in which they were earned.

Financial highlights provide an overview of the fund's investment results, per-share distributions, expense ratios, net investment income ratios, and portfolio turnover in one summary table, reflecting the five most recent reporting periods. In a semiannual report, the highlight table also includes the current reporting period. For open-end funds, a separate table is provided for each share class.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS November 30, 2002 (Unaudited)

Note 1

Significant accounting policies

Putnam Managed High Yield Trust (the "fund") is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, as a non-diversified, closed-end management investment company. The fund's investment objective is to seek high current income. The fund intends to achieve its objective by investing in high yielding income securities.

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies consistently followed by the fund in the preparation of its financial statements. The preparation of financial statements is in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and the reported amounts of increases and decreases in net assets from operations during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

A) Security valuation Market quotations are not considered to be readily available for certain debt obligations; such investments are stated at fair value on the basis of valuations furnished by an independent pricing service or dealers, approved by the Trustees, which determine valuations for normal institutional-size trading units of such securities using methods based on market transactions for comparable securities and variable relationships, generally recognized by institutional traders, between securities. For foreign investments, if trading or events occurring in other markets after the close of the principal exchange in which the securities are traded are expected to materially affect the value of the investments, then those investments are valued, taking into consideration these events, at their fair value following procedures approved by the Trustees. Investments for which market quotations are readily available are stated at market value, which is determined using the last reported sales price on its principal exchange, or if no sales are reported -- as in the case of some securities traded over-the-counter -- the last reported bid price. Securities quoted in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollars at the current exchange rate. Short-term investments having remaining maturities of 60 days or less are stated at amortized cost, which approximates market value. Other investments, including restricted securities, are stated at fair value following procedures approved by the Trustees.

B) Joint trading account The fund may transfer uninvested cash balances, including cash collateral received under security lending arrangements, into a joint trading account along with the cash of other registered investment companies and certain other accounts managed by Putnam Investment Management, LLC ("Putnam Management"), the fund's manager, an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Putnam, LLC. These balances may be invested in issuers of high-grade short-term investments having maturities of up to 397 days for collateral received under security lending arrangements and up to 90 days for other cash investments.

C) Repurchase agreements The fund, or any joint trading account, through its custodian, receives delivery of the underlying securities, the market value of which at the time of purchase is required to be in an amount at least equal to the resale price, including accrued interest. Collateral for certain tri-party repurchase agreements is held at the counterparty's custodian in a segregated account for the benefit of the fund and the counterparty. Putnam Management is responsible for determining that the value of these underlying securities is at all times at least equal to the resale price, including accrued interest.

D) Security transactions and related investment income Security transactions are accounted for on the trade date (date the order to buy or sell is executed). Gains or losses on securities sold are determined on the identified cost basis.

Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date except that certain dividends from foreign securities are recorded as soon as the fund is informed of the ex-dividend date. Non-cash dividends, if any, are recorded at the fair market value of the securities received. All premiums/discounts are amortized/ accreted on a yield-to-maturity basis.

E) Foreign currency translation The accounting records of the fund are maintained in U.S. dollars. The market value of foreign securities, currency holdings, and other assets and liabilities are recorded in the books and records of the fund after translation to U.S. dollars based on the exchange rates on that day. The cost of each security is determined using historical exchange rates. Income and withholding taxes are translated at prevailing exchange rates when accrued or incurred. The fund does not isolate that portion of realized or unrealized gains or losses resulting from changes in the foreign exchange rate on investments from fluctuations arising from changes in the market prices of the securities. Such gains and losses are included with the net realized and unrealized gain or loss on investments. Net realized gains and losses on foreign currency transactions represent net realized exchange gains or losses on closed forward currency contracts, disposition of foreign currencies, currency gains and losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions and the difference between the amount of investment income and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the fund's books and the U.S. dollar equivalent amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized appreciation and depreciation of assets and liabilities in foreign currencies arise from changes in the value of open forward currency contracts and assets and liabilities other than investments at the period end, resulting from changes in the exchange rate. Investments in foreign securities involve certain risks, including those related to economic instability, unfavorable political developments, and currency fluctuations, not present with domestic investments.

F) Futures and options contracts The fund may use futures and options contracts to hedge against changes in the values of securities the fund owns or expects to purchase. The fund may also write options on securities it owns or in which it may invest to increase its current returns.

The potential risk to the fund is that the change in value of futures and options contracts may not correspond to the change in value of the hedged instruments. In addition, losses may arise from changes in the value of the underlying instruments, if there is an illiquid secondary market for the contracts, or if the counterparty to the contract is unable to perform. When the contract is closed, the fund records a realized gain or loss equal to the difference between the value of the contract at the time it was opened and the value at the time it was closed. Realized gains and losses on purchased options are included in realized gains and losses on investment securities.

Futures contracts are valued at the quoted daily settlement prices established by the exchange on which they trade. The fund agrees to receive from or pay to the broker an amount of cash equal to the daily fluctuation in the value of the futures contract. Such receipts or payments are known as "variation margin." Exchange traded options are valued at the last sale price, or if no sales are reported, the last bid price for purchased options and the last ask price for written options. Options traded over-the-counter are valued using prices supplied by dealers.

G) Credit default contracts The fund may engage in credit default contracts where one party, the protection buyer, makes an upfront payment to a counter party, the protection seller, in exchange for the right to receive a contingent payment as a result of a credit event related to a specified security or index. The upfront payment received by the fund, as the protection seller, is recorded as a liability on the funds books. The credit default contracts are marked-to-market daily based upon quotations from market makers and the change, if any, is recorded as unrealized gain or loss. Payments received or made as a result of a credit event or termination of the contract are recorded, net of a proportional amount of the upfront payment, as realized gains or losses. In addition to bearing the risk that the credit event will occur, the fund could be exposed to market risk due to unfavorable changes in interest rates or in the price of the underlying security or index, the possibility that the fund may be unable to close out its position at the same time or at the same price as if it had purchased comparable publicly traded securities or that the counter party may default on its obligation to perform.

H) Security lending The fund may lend securities, through its agent Citibank N.A., to qualified borrowers in order to earn additional income. The loans are collateralized by cash and/or securities in an amount at least equal to the market value of the securities loaned. The market value of securities loaned is determined daily and any additional required collateral is allocated to the fund on the next business day. The risk of borrower default will be borne by Citibank N.A., the fund will bear the risk of loss with respect to the investment of the cash collateral. Income from securities lending is included in investment income on the Statement of operations. At November 30, 2002, the value of securities loaned amounted to $62. The fund received cash collateral of $91 which is pooled with collateral of other Putnam funds into 31 issuers of high-grade short-term investments.

Edgar Filing: PUTNAM MANAGED HIGH YIELD TRUST - Form N-30D

I) Federal taxes It is the policy of the fund to distribute all of its taxable income within the prescribed time and otherwise comply with the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code applicable to regulated investment companies. It is also the intention of the fund to distribute an amount sufficient to avoid imposition of any excise tax under Section 4982 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended. Therefore, no provision has been made for federal taxes on income, capital gains or unrealized appreciation on securities held nor for excise tax on income and capital gains.

At May 31, 2002, the fund had a capital loss carryover of approximately $18,916,000 available to the extent allowed by tax law to offset future capital gains, if any. The amount of the carryover and the expiration dates are:

Loss Carryover	Expiration
-----	-----
$2,584,000	May 31, 2007
4,168,000	May 31, 2008
3,778,000	May 31, 2009
8,386,000	May 31, 2010

The aggregate identified cost on a tax basis is $73,562,477, resulting in gross unrealized appreciation and depreciation of $2,207,729 and $17,015,872, respectively, or net unrealized depreciation of $14,808,143.

Pursuant to federal income tax regulations applicable to regulated investment companies, the fund has elected to defer to its fiscal year ending May 31, 2003 approximately $6,290,000 of losses recognized during the period November 1, 2001 to May 31, 2002.

J) Distributions to shareholders Distributions to shareholders from net investment income are recorded by the fund on the ex-dividend date. Distributions from capital gains, if any, are recorded on the ex-dividend date and paid at least annually. The amount and character of income and gains to be distributed are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, which may differ from generally accepted accounting principles. Reclassifications are made to the fund's capital accounts to reflect income and gains available for distribution (or available capital loss carryovers) under income tax regulations.

Management fee, administrative services and other transactions

Compensation of Putnam Management, for management and investment advisory services is paid quarterly based on the average net assets of the fund. Such fee is based on the following annual rates: 0.75% of the first $500 million of the average weekly net assets, 0.65% of the next $500 million, 0.60% of the next $500 million and 0.55% thereafter.

The fund reimburses Putnam Management an allocated amount for the compensation and related expenses of certain officers of the fund and their staff who provide administrative services to the fund. The aggregate amount of all such reimbursements is determined annually by the Trustees.

Custodial functions for the fund's assets are provided by Putnam Fiduciary Trust Company (PFTC), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Putnam, LLC. Investor servicing agent functions are provided by Putnam Investor Services, a division of PFTC.

The fund has entered into an arrangement with PFTC whereby credits realized as a result of uninvested cash balances are used to reduce a portion of the fund's expenses. For the six months ended November 30, 2002, the fund's expenses were reduced by $2,822 under these arrangements.

Each independent Trustee of the fund receives an annual Trustee fee, of which $537 has been allocated to the fund, and an additional fee for each Trustees meeting attended. Trustees receive additional fees for attendance at certain committee meetings.

The fund has adopted a Trustee Fee Deferral Plan (the "Deferral Plan") which allows the Trustees to defer the receipt of all or a portion of Trustees Fees payable on or after July 1, 1995. The deferred fees remain invested in certain Putnam funds until distribution in accordance with the Deferral Plan.

The fund has adopted an unfunded noncontributory defined benefit pension plan (the "Pension Plan") covering all Trustees of the fund who have served as a Trustee for at least five years. Benefits under the Pension Plan are equal to 50% of the Trustee's average total retainer and meeting fees for the three years preceding retirement. Pension expense for the fund is included in Compensation of Trustees in the Statement of operations. Accrued pension liability is included in Payable for compensation of Trustees in the Statement of assets and liabilities.

Purchases and sales of securities

During the six months ended November 30, 2002, cost of purchases and proceeds from sales of investment securities other than short-term investments aggregated $17,963,949 and $17,685,600, respectively. There were no purchases and sales of U.S. government obligations.
