May 2006 Order Comments:

Order growth continued at a double-digit pace for the three months ended in May as underlying business conditions remained supportive of strong growth. Favorable currency exchange rates increased orders by approximately 1 percentage point.

Process Management orders remained strong as this segment continued to combine market leading technologies with robust end market conditions to drive above market growth rates. Orders were also aided by the weaker dollar.

Orders for Industrial Automation remained strong driven by a favorable global capital spending environment. The growth for this segment was led by the power generating alternator and the electrical distribution businesses.

Network Power order growth remained at high levels driven by strong demand from the computing and telecommunications end-markets. The growth continued to be driven by the power systems, embedded power and inbound power businesses.

Climate Technologies order growth reflected easier comparisons and continued solid growth from the compressor and flow controls businesses.

Appliance and Tools had solid growth from the tools and storage business with strength led by the launch of a premium disposer product line. The motors and appliance components businesses also generated solid growth.
